Mr. Hamilton is at present in the city, and to a representative of the Globe, he said last night that work would, he expected, be begun on the plant of the Tube Works during next summer. Of course, no plans had yet been prepared, nor had a site been selected, but it was probable that it would be located at Sault Ste. Marie, on land to the west of the present establishment. The plant would be used for the manufacture of metallic tubes on the Perrin patent, the right for which for the United States and Canada had been acquired by the Clergue Syndicate. The tubes on this patent were now being made in Great Britain, but Mr. Hamilton understood that they had not yet been manufactured on this continent. It was intended to utilize to a very large extent the material which will have passed through several of the other plants of the Syndicate at the Soo, notably the iron-working establishments, and it was but another step of the evolution of the raw materials with which Algoma abounds.

How to get up an Appetite.

Distaste for food often follows Grippe, and fevers, and is associated with a general weakness of the system. To impart a real zest for food, and give power to the stomach to digest and assimilate, no remedy can equal Ferrozone. This is a new and startling discovery. It strikes at the root of disease and by removing the cause, cures quickly and permanently. Ferrozone will quickly enable you to eat and digest anything. Ormond & Walsh, druggists, can tell you a great deal more about Ferrozone, how it cures and why it cures. Call to-day and see them.

The Opening of Parliament.

London, Dec. 30.—Arrangements for the opening of Parliament by the King on January 16th are making rapid progress.

The King has decided that it will not be necessary for the peeresses to wear mouring on January 16. The Queen and ladies of the court will therefore appear in colors, and they will be enabled to add lustre to the scene by wearing jewels in the gilded chamber. Everything points to a brilliant pageant.

A Sin Against Nature

when you neglect a cough you must pay the penalty nature inflicts, viz., congestion and pneumonia, and perhaps consumption. Anyway, coughing weakens lungs and makes the voice husky. FOR A UNITED EMPIRE

The Speech of Premier Ross at the Plunkett Banquet.

CANADA'S ATTITUDE TO IRELAND

Canadian People Opposed to the Separation of Ireland From the United Kingdom—How He Would Make Not a United Kingdom Only but a United Empire—Confederation a Success.

Toronto, Dec. 30. — Right Hon. Horace Plunkett, ex-M.P., who was defeated by "Col." Lynch of pro-Boer fame in the celebrated Galway elections, arrived in Toronto Saturday morning. Mr. Plunkett came to Toronto at the invitation of the National Club, before whom he delivered an interesting address the same evening, on the social and economic affairs of Ireland.

In response to the toast, "Imperial Unity," Hon. G. W. Ross and Col. Denison both spoke in strong fashion in support of this idea.

Canada's Attitude.

Hon. G. W. Ross closed a great speech with these ringing, forceful words: "There is this to be said in connection with the problem. In Canada the universal feeling is, and I think I voice the opinion of the people, that no form of home rule that involves directly, in fact or by implication, the separation of Ireland from the United Kingdom would be tolerated in this country. (Applause.) In Canada we think that not only should the union between them be a political union, but that it should also be a union of heart and sympathy. Yet I think it is in the minds of a great many that it should be within the wit of man, to use Mr. Gladstone's expression, to devise some means whereby Ireland may be reconciled to her present position. Am I right in saying that Ireland would accept nothing but complete separation? If that be the ultimatum of the Irish people, then I would say Ireland can never have it." (Applause.)

A United Empire.

Referring again directly to the Irish question, he said: "Looking at it from this distance, what if they restored to old Scotland her parliament, with local powers; to Ireland per parliament, and gave to England what she never had before, a local parliament, and Wales, too, for that matter? Then, what if they devised, for surely they have the genius—English statesmanship is highest in rank and character in the world—a central government, in which also all the colonies of the empire would be represented, and, therefore throw on the canvas not a united kingdom alone but a united empire?" Lord Rosebery in a recent speech, he continued, had said that confederation of the empire would come as surely as anything under the sun. Canadians agreed to that so long as it came to them in such a way that their liberties would not be abridged or their constitutional rights curtailed. Ireland would then have the control of her own local affairs, Canada and the other colonies would not lose any of their constitutional privileges. All would look to the empire not as governing them, but they governing themselves through that great Imperial Parliament, and thus preserving the dearest right of all English-speaking peoples, the right of self-government. (Applause.)

Confederation a Success.

Canadians had found confederation a success. He did not say that without that confederation England would fail. He did feel sure, however, that the true solution of the Imperial problem, if England was to keep in the van of nations, would be found when she reached out her hands to the colonies and said she was no longer England isolated, but a worldwide power connected vitally in every latitude and meridian with her people, and every kindred and race under the sun. In concluding he said that Canada wanted population of the right material and the capital of the old land. He referred to the Hon. Mr. Chamberlain as the best Colonial Secretary Britain ever had, a man who more than any other thoroughly appreciated the idea of Imperial unity, and had done all in his power to foster it, and asked Mr. Plunkett to assure him that in whatever emergency might arise, Canadians could be depended upon to do their duty to the empire and maintain its honor at any price. (Loud and long-continued applause.)

Since his arrival in America, during the early part of the month, he has been looking after his business interests in Nebraska and Wyoming. He intends sailing again for Liverpool on Tuesday.

Heart Disease.

Real organic heart trouble is incurable, but scarcely one case in a hundred is organic.

The action of the heart and stomach are both controlled by the same great nerves, the sympathetic and pneumogastric, and when the stomach fails to properly digest the food and it lies in the stomach fermenting, gases are formed which distend the organ causing pressure on the heart and lungs causing palpitation, irregularity and shortness of breath.

The danger from this condition is that, the continued disturbance of the heart sooner or later may cause real organic heart trouble and in fact frequently does so.

Furthermore, poor digestion makes the blood thin and watery and deficient in red corpuscles, and this further irritates and weakens the heart.

The most sensible thing to do for heart trouble is to insure the digestion and assimilation of the food.

This can be done by the regular use after meals of some safe, pleasant and effective digestive preparation, like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets which may be found at most drug stores and which contain the necessary digestive elements in a pleasant, convenient form.

Thousands of people keep well and vigorous by keeping their digestion perfect by observing the rule of taking one or two of these tablets after each meal, or at least after each hearty meal.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain U.S.P. pepsin, diastase from malt and other natural digestives which act only on the food, digesting it perfectly and preventing acidity, gases, and the many diseased conditions which accompany a weak stomach.

When Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are used you may know you are not taking into the system any strong medicine or powerful drug but simply the natural digestive elements which every weak stomach lacks.

So widely known and popular have these tablets become that they are now sold by every druggist in the United States, Canada and Great Britain.

ON FRIDAY NEXT.

Not For Koch.

London, Dec. 30.—An interim report of the Royal Commission on Tuberculosis is expected to be issued shortly. It appears that the laboratory researches of members of the commission do not tend to modify the accepted theory on the question of communication of tuberculosis, which was undisturbed until Professor Koch made his startling statement at the Queen's Hall Congress.

Unprecedented Land Sales.

Winnipeg, Man., Dec. 28.— The C. P.R. land sales during the past year have been unprecedented in their volume. The employes of the Land Department are now busy with their annual statements. In an interview yesterday Mr. F. T. Griffin, the land commissioner, when questioned as to the sales, said: "We estimate that the sales for 1901 will be about 340,000 acres for the sum of $2,750,000. Canada and Northwest Land Companies' sales have also been exceptionally large. The annual statement will show that this company has sold in the neighborhood of 105,000 acres of land for the sum of $585,000." Mr. Griffin said these sales had been nearly all to farmers or intending settlers.

Tube Works in Ontario.

Toronto, Dec. 30.—An order-in-council has been passed by the Ontario Government incorporating the Algoma Tube Works, Limited, with an authorized capital of $50,000,000. This is the largest company ever organized in Ontario. It is one of the F. W. H. Clergue enterprises. The new works will give employment to several thousand men. The works will manufacture metallic tubes on the Perrin patent. The plant will be located at Sault Ste. Marie.

Could Not Accept Alt.

Washington, Dec. 30.—Advices received by Senator Infante, the Chilian Charge, yesterday, confirmed the news that the Argentine Minister at Santiago had informed the Chilian Minister of Foreign Affairs that Argentina could not accept all the terms of the protocol heretofore signed for the settlement of the dispute.

Peach Crop Ruined.

St. Joseph, Mich., Dec. 28.— The peach crop of Southwest Michigan, except in the St. Joseph, Lake Huron and Fair Plain districts, has been ruined by the cold wave. This affects 15,000 acres with a yield of 300,000 bushels. Commission men from Chicago have made an investigation and find the reports true.

CAUGHT CAMP ASLEEP

Detailed Story of Dewet's Christmas Raid on Firman's.

6 OFFICERS AND 50 MEN KILLED

Boers Climbed Precipitous Cliff and Suddenly Attacked the Pickets on the Summit in Superior Numbers—Officers Were Shot While Fighting, and All Did Their Best—Dewet Escaped Pursuit.

London, Dec. 30.—In a despatch to the War Office Lord Kitchener gives further details of the action at Tweefontein, on Dec. 24, when General Dewet rushed the camp of Colonel Firman, who commanded four companies of Imperial Yeomanry. He says:

"The column was encamped on a solitary kopje, whose southern side was almost precipitous. The outposts on the northern side were well pushed out. The position, which was naturally a strong one, had also been entrenched. The night was moonlit, but cloudy. Details have not been received, but it is stated, that the Boers climbed the precipitous southern side and collected near the top.

"At 2 o'clock in the morning, the Boers suddenly attacked the pickets on the summit, in superior numbers. Before the men in camp were able to get clear of the tents, the Boers rushed through, shooting them as they were coming out. The officers were shot while trying to stem the tide. Lieut. Harwich, who worked the pompom, was shot through the heart. There was no panic among our men. All did their best.

"Including the casualties, half the column is now at Elands River Bridge. The remainder are prisoners. Two wagon loads of dead and wounded Boers were removed from the scene of the action. The Boers numbered 1,200, and were under command of Dewet, who behaved well, leaving men to attend to the wounded.

"The Imperial Light Horse, which was 14 miles distant, arrived at 6.40 a.m., and pursued the Boers, but without effect."

The War Office prints a list of the casualties in the fight at Tweefontein. These include: Killed, 6 officers, 11 non-commissioned officers and 40 privates; severely wounded, 8 officers, and, missing, 5 officers.

Successful British Raid.

Simultaneously with the above, the War Office gave out a despatch from Lord Kitchener, chronicling a big success of the South African Constabulary, who made a raid on Bothaville and captured 86 Boers.

Prisoners Released.

London, Dec. 30.—The War Office has received a despatch from Lord Kitchener, dated Johannesburg, saying that the British prisoners, captured when the Boers successfully rushed Col. Firman's camp at Tweefontein, Dec. 24, have been liberated.

Schoepers in His Own Defence.

Graaff Reinet, Cape Colony, Dec. 29.—Commandant Schoepers, who is probably the most hated of all the prisoners now in the hands of the British, and whose trial was recently suspended, owing to his physical collapse, to-day testified in his own behalf. He made a vigorous defence, and denied six of the seven murders with which he was charged. He declared that, in the other case the man killed was a native spy, who had been tried regularly and convicted. Schoepers admitted whipping natives who had been found guilty of conveying information to the enemy, so-called unarmed native scouts being, in his opinion, simply native spies. He said he had them whipped frequently and justified their shooting. He declared that the looting and burning of government buildings were reprisals, in accordance with Dewet's proclamation. Schoepers asserted that he always fed and treated his prisoners as well as he was able.

Fighters From the West.

Winnipeg, Dec. 30.—There were stirring scenes at the C.P.R. depot Saturday afternoon when the British Columbia and Northwest Territories men recruited for the Canadian Mounted Rifles departed for Halifax. There were also 19 from Winnipeg, 6 from Brandon, 7 from Virden and 7 from Portage La Prairie.

Jumped From Brooklyn Bridge.

New York, Dec. 30.—John Pingree, a young wholesale liquor dealer of Middletown, N.Y., yesterday jumped from the Brooklyn Bridge. He is still alive at the hospital, where the physicians say it is impossible to tell whether his injuries will be fatal or not.

Fatal Texas Fire.

Dallas, Texas, Dec. 30.—News of a disastrous fire at Calvert, Texas, reached Dallas late Saturday by long distance telephone. Two lives were lost and two men were seriously injured by falling walls. The property loss will reach $150,000.

EIGHT CONVINCING REASONS . . .

WHY YOU SHOULD INSURE IN

THE IMPERIAL LIFE ASSURANCE CO'Y OF CANADA.

1. It is a purely Canadian Company, having all its funds invested in Canadian securities, and transacting business only in Canada.

2. It maintains the largest Government Deposit of any Canadian Life Insurance Company.

3. It maintains relatively the strongest policy reserves of any Canadian Life Insurance Company.

4. Its past record — the greatest guarantee of the future — has been unparalleled in Canadian life insurance.

5. Its policy contract is one of the most liberal issued, consistent with safety and equity.

6. It has a Capital of $1,000,000, which makes policy-holders' security unquestionable. At the same time, the assured is practically in the same position regarding profits as if he held a policy in a mutual company, the Imperial's charter providing that at least 90 per cent. of all profits shall be divided amongst policy-holders.

7. For every $100 of liability to policy-holders it holds $160 of securely invested assets. These assets are all of the highest order, and will bear the utmost scrutiny.

8. An Imperial policy never depreciates in value, but, on the contrary, is constantly becoming more valuable. It is the most valuable estate you can leave behind you.

DEATH OF MRS. E. A. SANDERSON

After Many Years of Suffering She Passed Away Yesterday.

The demise took place yesterday at the Nicholls' Hospital, of Adeline Blewett, aged 33 years, daughter of Mr. Milson Blewett, of Smith, and wife of Mr. Edward A. Sanderson, who resides on the Chemong Road in the same township. The deceased had been a sufferer from inward troubles for many years, and was operated upon on December 18th at the Nicholls Hospital. Great hopes of her recovery were entertained until she began to sink last week. She rallied however until Saturday, when her condition became so much worse that all anticipation of her recovery had to be given up.

The true Christian character of the deceased, and the fortitude which she exhibited in bearing up under her trials, made her much beloved in the community.

The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2.30 from the family residence, Chemong Road, to the Little Lake Cemetery.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

There will be a hockey practice this evening.

The Gym. will be theirs, members or non-members, as long as they are ruly. Light refreshments will be served them during the morning.

Then the next step. In the afternoon at four o'clock, the Seniors will give some apparatus work and the game of Volley Ball will be introduced as well. This is a new game, and should prove interesting to both spectators and participants.

In the evening the public are invited to witness a Basket Ball Tournament of two matches, commencing at 7.45. The first game will be between the Brownies and the Crescents, and the second game will be between the Harriers and the Pen-Pushers. CHURCH CHIMES.

ALL SAINTS' CHURCH.

Special Christmas music was rendered at both services yesterday and was much appreciated by the large congregation in attendance. In the evening Rev. Dr. Symonds, preached an excellent sermon on St. Matt., v, 20—"Except your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no case enter into the Kingdom of Heaven."

Rev. Arthur Murphy, M.A., formerly Rector of Ingersoll, but now under the direction of the Parochial Mission Society of the Church of England, will begin a ten days mission next Sunday, preaching morning and evening, and addressing a mens meeting at 4.15 p.m. He will hold daily services at 4.15 and 8 p.m. afterwards. The object of the mission is to quicken the careless and deepen spiritual life.

The annual Sunday school entertainment will be held on Friday evening.

The Girls Guild will meet to-night at 8 o'clock.

The Advisory Board will meet at 8 o'clock to-night. The men of the congregation are also asked to attend this meeting.

There will be a watchnight service on Tuesday night at 11.30 p.m.

The choir will practice Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

ST. JOHN'S.

The bright services in St. John's yesterday were the continuation of the Christmas festival. A leading feature was the appropriate and excellently rendered music which was of a character to deepen the devotional tone of the services. In the morning Concone's "Gloria" was given with magnificent effect.

In the evening there was a very large congregation and the service was interesting throughout. The processional hymn, "Come all ye Faithful," led by the full choir, organ and orchestra, and joined in by the congregation very heartily, resulted in a glorious volume of pious exultation. The other hymns were sung with equally fine effect.

The sermon by Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, a former curate, now of New York, was eloquent, logical and practical. Before beginning his sermon, Rev. Mr. Stevenson, who was, when in Peterborough, conspicuous for work among men, spoke in warm terms of the interest taken in the labour movement by the church, whose special duty it was, for the only safe, sure and lasting solution of the labour problem must come through the religion of our Lord Jesus Christ.

The Christmas festival music, apart from the hymns were Torer's "Magnificat" and the offertory anthem, "Gloria in Excelsis Deo," by Perglesi. The inherent beauties of this piece, with its rich harmonies, splendid orchestration and jubilant spirit were splendidly brought out by the choir, with a beauty of shading, nicety of attack and finish, and devotional spirit, leaving little to be desired except more of the same kind of elevating music. The recessional composition by the orchestra and organ made the congregation slow to leave the church.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.

The music at St. Andrew's church last night was of a special nature. Miss Nellie Davies rendered a solo entitled "Come Unto Me," which was a pleasing feature of the evening service.

ST. PAUL'S.

Mr. Galletly sang at St. Paul's church yesterday morning a solo entitled "Flee as a Bird."

In the evening at St. Paul's Mr. J. Dawson sang "Glory to God." The anthem was "Hark! What Mean Those Holy Voices?" The solo, "Glory to God," proved to be a very popular selection, and suited Mr. Dawson's excellent voice splendidly. It was composed by Mr. T. W. McLean of Brantford, brother of Mr. A. P. McLean of town.

ABOUT THE WALNUTS.

To the Editor of the Examiner;

Dear Sir,—Having had the pleasure of receiving orders from several of the leading grocers of Peterborough for their Christmas stock of Grenoble Walnuts, and the quality of same showing very inferior for this grade of nuts, the impression has been formed that the goods we supplied was old stock, and sold at a sacrifice in order to be retailed cheaply. Such is not the case, as when placing our order we placed them for the highest grade procurable, which was the grade sent to Peterborough, and the reason for the poor quality this year is accounted for by a very backward season, and the nuts being picked before they were fully ripe; this accounts for their lack of uniformity in quality. Nuts were sold this year very cheaply in Peterborough by the grocers, but the quality would have been as poor if the price charged were twice as much. Thanking you for the space,

Your Obedient Servant,
JOHN A. CAMERON,
Representing Messrs. Perkins, Ince & Company, Toronto.

Medical Science Advances.

It is not more than half a century ago that physicians considered a surgical operation with its risk, expense and pain as the only cure for piles. To-day it is only the out of date doctors that think of such treatment. It is cruel and extravagant to operate for a disease which is far more certainly cured by the application of Dr. Chase's Ointment. You may be skeptical, but for proof you are referred to tens of thousands of cases that have been cured by this famous preparation.

THE MAYORALTY.

The Examiner congratulates Mr. Denne upon his re-election to the honourable position of Mayor of the Town of Peterborough, by acclamation. His course as presiding officer of the Council, and as Mayor of the town, has apparently been so satisfactory to the people that they have practically said that, as had been his past services, his services as Mayor for another year would be in the interests of the town.

When the Examiner a year ago advocated Mr. Denne's claims to the popular confidence, we felt that he would make a careful, painstaking, and industrious Mayor, and it is gratifying to know that his career has so adequately justified such advocacy. Mr. Denne is an energetic and successful business man, a native of the town, and he has reason to be proud of the confidence of the people which he has earned, and justified in the year past, and which he will no doubt further justify in his discharge of the duties of the office of Mayor for the coming year.

T. H. G. DENNE FOR MAYOR.

He is Returned to the Office Again by Acclamation.

THE RATEPAYERS ADDRESSED

Many Aldermanic Candidates in the Field—Present Members who Will run Again.

The fact of it being nomination day attracted a large number of ratepayers to the council chamber this morning, the Federation of Labour being well represented in the audience. Thomas Henry Gerald Denne's name was placed in nomination for the mayoralty by Messrs. H. C. Winch and T. F. Matthews. There being no other nominations His Worship Mayor Denne was declared elected.

Mr. Winch in addressing those present stated that a year ago when Mr. Denne was nominated by him for the mayor's chair, a great many remarks were made concerning his youth, but he thought all would now bear him out in saying that Mr. Denne had shown that he possessed the brains to run the town's affairs, which was the great requirement in a mayor. He had, during the year, proven that he was the friend of the working man and had taken a stand in regard to the encouragement of manufactures, which had meant much to the municipality.

Mr. T. F. Matthews, who seconded the nomination, stated that he was much gratified to see that Mayor Denne was to get his second term without opposition. He had seconded Mr. Denne's nomination, last year, and felt at the time that the best man was being picked from the council to fill the mayor's chair. All who had followed Mr. Denne's course as mayor had done so with approval. While, of course, it was impossible for a man to satisfy every one, still he was sure that Mayor Denne in the various stands which he had taken had done so to the satisfaction of the ratepayers.

The Mayor then addressed those present as follows:

Gentlemen, — I desire to thank my proposer and seconder for their kindness in nominating me for the office of Mayor of my native town for another year, and also to thank most heartily the ratepayers of Peterborough, for this marked expression of their renewed confidence in me by this election by acclamation to the highest office in their gift.

In speaking to you of the work of the Council during the year that is almost closed, the first year of the new century, I could not refrain from, in the first place, complimenting the Aldermen for the prompt manner in which the business was transacted. Everyone appeared to be animated by one object, namely, to advance the interests of the town, and when any project was brought before the members they took it up in a prompt, quiet and business-like manner, and the discussions were simply efforts to arrive at a conclusion as to what course was most in the interests of the municipality. Consequently, although we have had a very busy year, and much time has been taken to attend to the business of the Council, it has been a year of pleasant associations.

History has been made in connection with the municipality during the past twelve months, and the town has taken a long step in advance. Foremost amongst this matter of importance is the commencement of the construction of the American Cereal Co's immense mills and elevator. This great industry will give employment to a large number, and in addition, which will be of equal, or greater importance, it will require such an immense quantity of grain, that Peterborough will become one of the great grain centres of the Provonce.

Another important addition to our manufacturing industries is that of the Canadian Cordage and Manufacturing Co, and one has only to see the large buildings this company is erecting to recognise that a successful industry of the size that it will be, cannot fail to have a considerable effect upon the advancement of the town.

The Wm. Hamilton Mfg. Co., one of our oldest and best, industries, has also found it necessary to make an addition to its buildings, and the Canadian General Electric Co., has again enlarged, while the Central Milling Co. has its buildings nearly completed. While new industries are being established, the older ones are prosperous, and the year has been one of progress.

The development of electric power is another factor in the progress of the town that it seems to me some do not fully appreciate. The Canadian General Electric Co. are pushing the work of developing the Nassau power and the Otonabee Power Co. will soon have its lines for the transmission of power erected on the streets. There was a time only a few years ago, when in order to take advantage of the water power of the river, the factory had to be found a site on the river bank, and close to the dam, but we now have large industries in the south supplied with power from the above dam and soon machinery in the first ward will be driven with power from dams miles up the river. If these factories had to take their power direct from the dam it would either have meant that the power would not have been developed or that the factories would have formed a thin line from here to Lakefield, while now the factories are erected in the town, and are important factors in adding to the population. The development of the dams on the river will have a tendancy to reduce the price of power, and this will be an attraction for other industries.

Watchmen have during the year been placed on the Charlotte and Simcoe street crossings of the Grand Trunk Railway. Although this matter was brought before the authorities last year, we had considerable trouble this year before we got the order from the Dominion authorities that gates must be placed at these crossings. The gates are not there yet although a measure of protection has been given, and this will be a matter for attention next year. The Canadian Pacific Railway has also been approached with respect to proper protection at their crossing on George street, and the company is considering the matter. We hope that the company will see the reasonableness of the request and comply with it without it being necessary to make application to the Dominion authorities.

Twelve months ago I said I was in favour of purchasing the Water Works, and I have not changed my mind. We have made the best bargain we could for the town, and it remains for the ratepayers to pronounce upon the question. One of three courses must be taken. The town can wait for two years and take over the Water Works by arbitration it can let the company continue to own and operate them, or it can purchase them under the arrangment now before the people. I am of the opinion that the town should own the Water Works. In principle, I believe that policy to be right, and the experience of other municipalities have demonstrated that it can be made to pay, and I cannot see that the town could hope to gain enough by arbitration to make it a wise policy to resort to that costly and risky method of purchase. I do not think there is a "snap" in the bargain we have made, but I do not think the price named in the bylaw excessive, and with judicious management the works should not only float themselves without adding to the taxes, but the commissioners should be able, if the debentures are sold as well as we have reason to hope they will be, to make a reasonable reduction in the rates before long. I do hope that the ratepayers will not be misled by incorrect reports such as some that have been afloat, but will carefully enquire into the matter and vote intelligently as they believe to be in the best interests of the town.

During the seven years that I have been a member of the council the sewerage system has been constructed and the granolithic walks now on our streets, have been built. Some have expressed the opinion that these walks have been expensive but while we would gladly reduce the cost if we could with safety, we have succeeded in having excellent walks constructed, and with granolithic walks, as with other things, the cheapest are not always the least expensive.

In this connection I would like to explain that sewers and granolithic walks can only be constructed where the property owners wish them and it would be a wise thing for the property owners who desire either sewers or sidewalks to present their petitions for them early in the year. By so doing they will save expense and may also save the council from some criticism.

The good work that the steam roller is capable of doing is beginning to be seen, and I hope that next year this will be further apparent. The council with this view is now having stone drawn to the corporation yard.

The large questions of the year has thrown into the shade several matters of municipal importance, such as the obliteration of the bridge on Reid street, at the Wm. Hamilton works, and the straightening of the stream across McDonel street, and the building of a new concrete culvert. This as well as the work on George street and other streets has been done out of this year's income, while a new bridge has been constructed on Smith street over the creek for which debentures will be issued.

The prospects for Peterborough are excellent. The new industries now being established will have a permanent effect on the business of the town, and we are not without hopes of securing other new industries during the coming year. We have made efforts to secure a beet sugar factory, and we will not miss any opportunity in this direction. At the same time, I am not in favour of the town crippling itself financially, or burdening itself by giving a large bonus for such a factory.

With the advantages we can offer it should not be necessary to do that, and we will endeavour to secure a sugar factory by giving such reasonable encouragement as the people would approve.

It would be injudicious to make public all that is being done to secure new industries. Much work is done in that direction that is not made known, but I may, without betraying the town's interests, say that we are now in correspondence with more than one large manufacturing concern, and hope that during 1902 one or more of them will be established here. "There is many a slip between the cup and the lip," but we have confidence in the town, and its excellent natural and acquired advantages, and I will spare no effort on my part to advance the material prosperity of the town, and I have no doubt at all that the men you will select to fill the aldermanic seats will do the same.

Again, permit me to thank you for the honour you have again conferred upon me. I fully appreciate the honour of filling the Mayor's chair in the town in which I was born, and have spent all my life, especially, when it is the largest, most prosperous and best town in the Dominion, and I appreciate highly the confidence you have shown in me to-day, and it will be my earnest endeavour to show that that confidence has not been misplaced.

Gentlemen, I wish you and all the ratepayers of Peterborough, and their families, a happy new year.

AN OTONABEE WEDDING.

Mr. George Buck Formerly of Norwood Married to Miss Annie J. Howson.

A charming house wedding was celebrated at Maple Grove, the home of Mr. E. C. Howson, Otonabee, on Wednesday, Dec. 25th, when his third daughter, Annie J., was married to Mr. George Buck, of Coldwater, formerly of Norwood.

The ceremony was performed at 11 o'clock, a.m., by the Rev. Mr. Soccombe, of Keene, in the presence of about 80 relatives and friends. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Ella Howson, and by her two small sisters, Myrle and Lola, as maids of honour, while Mr. Stewart of Hastings, supported the groom. Miss Helen Laing, of Keene, played Mendelsohn's wedding march, as the bridal party entered the room, the bride leaning on the arm of her father. The bride wore a gown of white silk with the usual bridal veil, and a crown of orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid, and maids of honour were attired in white Organdie, trimmed with Valenciennes lace, and also carried bouquets of lilies of the valley.

After the ceremony the guests sat down to a sumptuous wedding dinner.

The popularity of the bride and groom was attested by the abundance of beautiful gifts, among which was a handsome silver tray, presented by the bride's Sunday School class, a beautiful gold watch and chain from her mother, and a pretty tea set from the groomsman.

A notable event, was the presence of Mr. and Mrs. William Howson, grand-parents of the bride, who came to the home where the wedding was held, as bride and groom, 03 years ago, and who have resided at the same place ever since.

After receiving the congratulations of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Buck, left on the 5.30 train for Coldwater.

THE WATER WORKS PURCHASE.

To the Editor of the Examiner,—

Dear Sir, — In the course of a few days the people will be called on to decide their course in reference to the largest municipal deal that has ever been submitted to them—one that is worthy of their most careful consideration. It is doubtful if they have before them all the information they should have to enable them to come to a correct decision.

Speaking generally, it may be said that Municipal ownership of water works in the Old Country, in the United States and in Canada has been uniformly a success.

A Joint Stock Company may perhaps manage economically, but such a company aims at big dividends for the stock holders, and they will make no extensions which in themselves will not prove profitable, whereas, a municipality to serve all the people must have some lean with their fat.

Then it is said a Municipality can get its money cheaper than a private concern, and so, though making smaller net profit, can afford a more extended and cheaper service—this is no doubt true.

There is no real reason why a Municipality can not work such a concern efficiently and economically, but such is hardly expected. This much is certain—if common councillors, for the most part not representing our best business ability, men elected every year, fond of having control, subject to all kind of influences, yielding a little here and a little there, men wholly unfamiliar with the work to be done; if such men are given control, only the most miserable result may be expected. But if the management is entrusted to a special commission of able and honourable men, composed of a fair representation from the council, and a couple or three citizens, including one from the old water works directors, there is no reason why the management should not be successful.

We have every confidence in the gentleman who for so many years has had the actual engineering control of the work, and we know that they are designed on a liberal scale, with pipes larger than in most towns, and well and systematically constructed. This in itself is very satisfactory.

No doubt Mr. Henderson, under a commission, would be just as efficient as he has been in the past. The first difficulty would be to resist pressure for all kinds of situations, extensions, etc. A good commission with backbone can face this difficulty.

The price to be paid I know nothing of. As the works are well built a fair price should be paid, and I assume that Mr. Kennedy's figures are about right. The town wants to do what is right, and there is no use in throwing away a pot of money on arbitration.

The rates charged by the present Co. are altogether too high—more than people should pay for God's gift—the water. The raw material costs nothing. There should be from such works a profit beyond the amount required to pay interest and running expenses, and in time, a very long time, to pay for capital expenditure.

If the present rates were charged water works would be of little benefit to the people, and if it is attempted to charge such rates in order to pay for the works in 30 years, this generation will get little benefit from the purchase. Why should we pay for water works for the benefit of those who come after us? I suggest that the rates be constantly reduced, as the income will justify. A reduced rate will lead to larger consumption and a larger income. I see no reason why manufacturers should not pay for their water as they pay other disbursements. If they get free water and then get rid of ordinary taxes, it is just loading up the rank and file with burdens that the capital invested in manufactures should help to bear.

Let the water works be run distinct and by itself as a commercial concern, paying its own way — and not as a means of putting greater burdens on the people. Personally, I believe this can be done. There is no reason why it should not. We must have cheaper water, and I believe we can get it. I will vote for the by-law, trusting that the Council will do right, and, beyond that, trusting to the people to make them do right, if they incline the other way. I am sir,

Your Obedient Servant,
D. W. DUMBLE.

MARCONI'S MOVEMENTS.

Wireless Telegraphy Wizard Will Soon Be in Ottawa to Confer With the Government About the Future.

Montreal, Que., Dec. 30.—Signor Marconi arrived from Cape Breton last night. He was accompanied by an attendant, and by Mr. Smith, secretary of the Canadian Postoffice Department. Marconi will remain in Montreal to-day, when he will be the guest at a luncheon, tendered him by the Elder-Dempster Company. Mr. Marconi said last night that he had not come to Canada to interest Canadian capitalists, as he had all the financial backing he required. He will leave for Ottawa this evening to confer with the Canadian Government.

COMPANY MADE OFFER.

Marconi Says It Asked Him to Join Forces in Communication.

Halifax, Dec. 30.—Talking of his plans here yesterday, Mr. Marconi said that a cable company had asked him to instal his system on Sable Island, and giving them connection with it at Canso. This may be done, he added, after his return to Nova Scotia, two months hence, when he will be here to see about building a station at Louisburg or other Cape Breton point. The inventor says he has no doubt that he can keep up regular communication between Cornwall and Nova Scotia. Should through tests, however, demonstrate this to be impossible, he will erect a station on the Azores, accepting an offer from the King of Portugal.

Mr. Marconi has been forced to decline a second invitation from Alexander Graham Bell to go to his estate at Baddock and conduct experiments there.

Millions in His Grasp.

Halifax, Dec. 30.—Marconi has received an offer of $1,000 a lecture for 12 lectures to be delivered by him in the United States. He declined. Marconi's hopes and ambitions soar beyond lecturing at $1,000 a night. He is neglecting the immediate development of short distance wireless telegraphy, in which, he says, money can be made at once, in order to demonstrate the possibilities of trans-Atlantic work, and he says that he has no inclination to stand on the lecture platform while such a great matter engages his attention.

NO QUARTER WAS GIVEN.

Colon, Colombia, Dec. 30.—Barranquilla papers, dated Dec. 24, which reached here yesterday morning, contain further details of the battle fought near Honda.

In the evening the insurgents, on arriving at Caraoli, near Mariquita, awaited the Government troops in two wings. It was there that bayonets and machetes were freely used, as the insurgents' ammunition was exhausted. The vanguard being surrounded, the Government troops, with the aid of the rear guard, succeeded in breaking the line and utterly routing the enemy. On the following morning, when four hundred were found to have been killed, the insurgents retreated by way of Guayaquil, taking their wounded with them.

The fighting in this engagement has been characterized as uncivilized. The Liberal colors bore the device, "I neither ask for nor give quarter."

TAPS FROM THE WIRES.

The Belleville Sun suspended publication Saturday.

John Lang, a well-known journalist, formerly publisher of The Sun, The Plaindealer and The Kincardine Review, died at Owen Sound on Saturday at the age of 60.

C.P.R. Earnings.

Montreal, Dec. 30.—The C. P.R. issues the following report: Nov., 1901, gross earnings, $3,583,383; working expenses, $2,142,505; net profits, $1,440,878.

In November, 1900, net profits were $1,065,548, and for two months ended Nov. 30, figures are as follows: Gross earnings, $16,899,817; working expenses, $9,737,669; net profits, $6,662,148.

For five months ended Nov. 30, 1900, there was a net profit of $5,141,272.

The increase in net profits over the same period last year is, therefore, for November, $375,330, and from July 1 to Nov. 30 there was an increase of $1,520,876.

GROWING MORE SERIOUS.

Venezuela Has suspended Traffic on a German Railroad.

Willemstad, Island of Curacoa, Dec. 30.—Reports received here from Caracas yesterday say the relations between Germany and Venezuela are more strained every day.

The Venezuelan Government suspended traffic on the German railroad because the company, in view of the threats of the insurgents, refused to transport troops unless the Government guaranteed it against losses which might be sustained by the destruction of its road and equipment. The stations are occupied by troops.

How a Sprain Does Hurt!

But it isn't the pain alone that is dreaded, just think of the loss of time and wages. Sprains without number have been cured by rubbing Polson's Nerviline well into the pores of the skin surrounding the joint. No matter whether it is a sprained wrist, ankle, knee or back, just try Nerviline on it, and see how quickly it will cure. There is only one liniment that can be depended upon to cure sprains, strains and swellings, and that is Polson's Nerviline. Large bottle 25 cents.

Death of Mr. A. Boultbee, Ex-M.P.

Toronto, Dec. 30.—Alfred Boultbee, ex-M.P. for East York, died suddenly yesterday afternoon at his late residence, 35 Crescent Road. For several years past Mr. Boultbee had not been in the best of health, but his condition at no time was considered serious. Death was due to heart failure. At one time Mr. Boultbee was one of Toronto's best known citizens. He was a native of Newmarket, and was 76 years of age. For several years he represented North York in the local legislature, and retired from this riding in 1878 to contest East York for the Dominion Parliament. He was successful, and sat for one term. In 1882 he again sought the office, but was defeated by the late Hon. Alexander Mackenzie. Shortly afterwards he was appointed Inspector of Customs at Toronto, a position he occupied until the time of his death. He is survived by four sons.

Open Weather in Canada.

Port Arthur, Dec. 30.—Navigation is still open at Port Arthur. Thunder Bay is clear of ice up to the elevator and breakwater and there is nothing to have prevented steamers from carrying out Manitoba wheat all this month. The question of prolonging the season will soon be a live issue if the Northwest continues to produce as much wheat as it did this year.

All Eyes on Venezuela.

Washington, Dec. 28.—The gathering of German warships in the vicinity of Venezuela and the presence in the same locality of many American, British, French and other foreign warships is directing attention to the imminence of the naval demonstration Germany is about to make against Venezuela. It is said to be probable that the first move by Germany will be the establishment of a blockade of Venezuelan ports so as to prevent the introduction of food products into Venezuela, and thus starve the besieged into submission.

Powder Mill Explosion.

Scranton, Pa., Dec. 28.—An explosion in the barrel mill of the Moosic Powder Co. at its Jermyn works yesterday blew the mill and some adjoining buildings to pieces, and broke windows for miles around. The shock was plainly felt in this city, a distance of 14 miles. Jacob Hiller, who was in the engine room in an adjoining building, was burned beyond recognition and cannot survive. Several others were badly injured.

Just a Cold in the Head!

But if it is followed by another cold, or some extra exposure, is liable to result in Nasal Catarrh. It cured me of catarrh of the head and throat, and I am pleased to recommend such a satisfactory remedy." Catarrhozone is a safeguard against Colds, Coughs, and Catarrh. It can be used while at work, in the church, theatre or street cars. Simply inhale Catarrhozone and it cures. Price $1; small size 25c. Sold by Ormond & Walsh, or will be supplied by N. C. A Woman's Narrow Escape.

Windsor, Dec. 28.—When Mrs. Henry Pacquette of Sandwich was awakened Thursday night by the crackling of fire, she opened her bedroom door in great haste, and the flames at once leaped into the room and caught her night dress. The frightened woman was burned, but not seriously. Her husband jumped out of the bed, extinguished the flames, and the two grabbed their three children, and managed to get out of the house just in time. The house and all its furniture was destroyed; loss about $1,000. The Pacquette farm is about five miles from Windsor.

RAGS AND THE RAGMAN

Changed Modern Conditions—Decline of the Family Rag Bag.

"The ragman goes about in the city's streets just the same as ever," said a man who has given some attention to the subject, "but he doesn't do the business that he once did. Things have changed.

"There are in these days not so many clippings and odds and ends of new cloth of one sort and another to go into the family rag bag as there once were to begin with, because of the new well nigh common custom in cities anyway of buying already made up many things that formerly were made in the home. Thousands of tons of clippings that formerly were gathered up in small lots by many ragmen are now baled in factories and sold to mills or to dealers in paper stock without any intermediate handling at all.

"Then, what with the lower price of rags nowadays, due to the substitution of other materials in paper making, it scarcely pays the householder to bother with the smaller quantity that now accumulates, with the result that rags are now often thrown away with other rubbish to be gathered by city collectors of refuse.

"Still not everybody by any means throws away or gives away his rags. There are still many people who continue to sell their rags for what they can get to the ragman, and it would not surprise me to learn that there are more ragmen now than ever, but the fact remains that under the new modern conditions the business of the man with the jingling bells is not what it once was.

"In old times in smaller cities and towns the householder, or, more strictly speaking, the housewife, sold her rags to the tin peddler. The tin peddler was an institution. He had a route which he traveled year in and year out. Many a tin peddler came to be personally known and respected by the people with whom he traded, to whom he was not the peddler or the tin peddler, but Mr. So-and-so, and they use to wait for Mr. So-and-so to come around and dispose of their rags to him.

"These rags were carefully sorted out. There were the rather small but valuable lot of white rags tied up in a white cloth and the bigger bundle of colored rags and one perhaps of woolen rags which the peddler weighed severally on the steelyards that he brought in for that purpose. How many times have I seen him, staid man of family, as I now realize him, and perhaps in spectacles, shifting the weight slowly on the beam until rags and weight balanced, and he made the announcement of the weight, which was almost invariably disappointingly small.

"He would pay cash, but he preferred that you should take it out in trade, and commonly the housewife did so. Many a dishpan and many a dipper and skimmer and I don't know how many handsome Britannia teapots and what else have come through the tin peddler out of the rag bag.

"But now the tin peddler—that is, the peddler who drove a horse to a typical peddler's wagon—has receded from these smaller cities as previously he had receded from the larger ones. He has moved on out into the country, over whose hilly, dusty roads he still pursues his way to the farmhouse door, where he dickers as before. But even there made up garments go now to greater or less extent, and for the rags that do accumulate the modern low prices govern. And so, here as everywhere, the family rag bag, once everywhere looked upon as a little mine of wealth, has fallen from its high estate."

Passing a Bargain.

"Perhaps you've had a man offer you a big bargain in a diamond ring?" queried the Boston drummer as he heaved a sigh and his face went cloudy.

"Yes, several times," laughed the Pullman conductor.

"I was in Pittsburg," continued the drummer, "and while standing on a street corner a chap came along and offered me a shiner as big as a bean for $50. He was a stranger, hard up and all that. It looked to be a ring worth $300."

"And you gave him $50?"

"No. He hung on for half an hour, but I turned him down. I'm no mug to be roped in that way."

"Then what—what"—

"Oh, another fellow bought the ring."

"And he was out his fifty?"

"He was in $300. That ring, sir, was O. K. and all serene, and a jeweler priced it at the figure named. The man was honest, and I was a fool, and you will please excuse me while I retire and kick myself for not knowing a piece of glass from a pure water sparkler."

The Horses and Saddle.

A man bought three horses and a saddle for $220. If he puts the saddle on the first horse, they cost as much as the other two horses; if he puts the saddle on the second horse, they cost two times as much as the first and third, and if he puts the saddle on the third horse they cost three times as much as the first and second. Find the cost of each.

Mr. Thomasson's Lesson.

"Yes," said Mr. Thomasson, "I went home intoxicated one night about ten years ago, and the lesson my wife taught me made a lasting impression on my brain."

"What did she say?"

"She didn't say anything. The lasting impression I refer to was made by a flatiron. See that bump?"

A man's labors must pass like the sunrises and sunsets of the world. The next thing, not the last, must be his care.

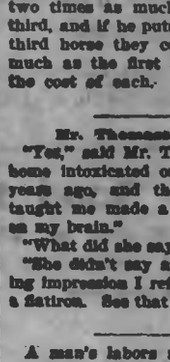
The Fad

Of the modern woman is health by exercise. It's an excellent fad, provided that it is always remembered that exercise cannot cure womanly diseases. Indeed, where such diseases exercise is apt to aggravate the condition rather than to help it.



The first step toward establishing the general health is to establish the local womanly health. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures womanly diseases which undermine the general health. It establishes regularity, dries enfeebling drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. When these are cured, backache, headache and nervousness are things of the past. The universal testimony of weak and sickly women, cured by "Favorite Prescription," is this: "It has made me feel like a new woman."

"My wife has used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Pellets' as a medicine, and I never saw such results," writes A. B. Hayes, Esq., of Aeneas, Lawrence Co., Mo. "It was wonderful in its work. We had used lots of medicine, also had one of the best physicians in Aurora, but was unable to get anything to help her until she began taking your 'Favorite Prescription.' She has now taken seven bottles and is well as ever. A friend handed me a copy of Dr. Pierce's book, the Common Sense Medical Adviser, and after reading the testimonials of Dr. Pierce's wonderful medicines, and learning that the cases described were similar to my wife's, I bought for her a bottle of Dr Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Before she had taken all of the medicine she was up and helping to do the work. She has taken three bottles and is now about well. Has better health than she has had for years."

TIME, NOT DISTANCE.

A Novel Feature of Railway Travel in Denmark.

Denmark was absolutely the pioneer in cheap railway fares. The fares were reduced all around, so that the longer the distance the greater the reduction, but at the same time the return ticket system was abolished for journeys within Denmark.

One of the greatest boons to business men and holiday makers is the so called fortnightly ticket. For third class it costs 22s. 3d. and for second class £1 15s. 6d. Such a ticket entitles the holder to travel all over Denmark for a term of 14 days. He can go wherever he cares to go and as many times over the same route as he may wish within the time paid for—namely, 14 days. A holiday maker may visit every place of interest in Denmark during that time, and if he found any pleasure in traveling from town to town night and day for the period he could do so. He pays the price, £1 2s. 3d., with a deposit of 5s. 6d. for the ticket, on which a photograph of the holder is pasted, and at the expiration of 14 days he returns the ticket and gets the 5s. 6d. deposit back.

He can also buy a ticket for a month which costs 50 per cent more, and the longer the time the greater the reduction. While a fortnightly ticket costs 22s. 3d., a 12 month ticket costs £10. If the passenger had to pay for a 12 month ticket at the rate of 22s. 3d. per fortnight, it would cost him £26 14s. Thus the reduction is over 150 per cent.

If instead of paying for a fortnightly ticket a traveler went from Esbjerg to Copenhagen and back as often as he could within 14 days and bought ordinary tickets for each trip, they would cost him over £6, and this amount would be doubled in a fortnight if he went sightseeing from one place to another, traveling all over Denmark in easy stages.

Season tickets can be also had for journeys between two towns. In this case the price for one month is, say, 5s.; 7s. 6d. for two months and £1 10s. for a whole year. Young people under the age of 16 travel for half price.

The Maori and the Witness.

Captain Hayes in his book, "Among Horses In South Africa," tells several amusing stories. A friend of his in New Zealand had been a government interpreter among the Maoris and had many stories to tell about these people. On one occasion a native chief, who was under cross examination in court, on being asked why he had not brought a certain man with him replied:

"I have brought him."

"But," said the barrister, looking in vain round the court, "I don't see him. Where is he?"

A Savage Bluejay.

A sportsman camping on one of the lakes of Sullivan county, N. Y., offered to bet $10 to $1 that nobody in his party could guess how he had received an injury to a finger which he held bleeding before the spectators. No one guessed, and the man went on to explain that while standing by the lake he had seen a bluejay flying over so close above his head that he instinctively threw up his hand to stop it. The bird neither stopped nor swerved, but instead dashed straight for the hand, striking it with such force that the bill penetrated to the bone and sent the blood spurting as though the man had been struck by a knife.

This sort of action is in line with the general conduct of the jay. It is one of the most aggressive birds on the continent, robbing the nests of other birds and sometimes even killing young squirrels. The chief good thing that can be said of it is that it often robs the nest of the English sparrow.

Ancestors of the Ostrich.

The ostrich is a descendant of a genus of bird which in prehistoric times attained an enormous size. In the alluvial deposits of Madagascar evidence has been found to show that ostriches fourteen and fifteen feet in height once lived on the island.

All Hands Smoking

Tobacco is in Tehuantepec a great industry. One evening some of our party of sixteen were kindly given a night's shelter, Mexican fashion, at a hacienda or farmhouse. Hotels, except in the large towns, are unknown. It was about 9 p. m. when we arrived. Sitting on the wide veranda to receive us we beheld the entire family. On the right of the door was the lady of the house in a white cotton gown, smoking a cigar. Below her were the daughters and handmaidens, also smoking. On the other side of the door was the rancher or master himself, with his sons and manservants. Every one was employed in rolling the tobacco leaf into cigars, and every one was smoking, including a little boy not quite three years old, who had a full sized cigar in his baby mouth, while in his left hand he held a banana from which he took bites between the puffs, occasionally stopping to play with a small puppy dog.

"Does he often smoke?" I asked in amazement.

"Si, senora. He smokes three or four cigars a day. All our children have done so at that age." Adaptability of temperament to climate!

The Cause Removed.

In curing disease it is only a waste of time to treat the symptoms. The medicine must reach the cause. Merrill's System Tonic does this. It purifies the blood, builds up the system, strengthens the nerves and is the only positive cure known for Constipation, Dyspepsia, Nerve Troubles, and Kidney Disease—all disappear when it is taken. Three weeks treatment for 50c. Sold at Ormond & Walsh's drug store.

His Tongue Was Safe.

A little three-year-old of Newton has frequently astonished his parents by rather witty remarks. One day recently his mother was busy preparing to go away, and Willie came into the house and made a great deal of noise running about with his heavy shoes. His mother told him she was so tired that she would like to have him go up stairs and take his shoes off and put his slippers on. Willie obeyed and, returning to the room where his mother was, talked incessantly. Several times she had to stop in the midst of her work to answer his questions. Finally her patience became exhausted, and she said: "Willie, will you stop talking? You have me crazy." He stopped a minute, then replied, "Well, you made me take my shoes off, but you can't make me take my tongue out, anyway."

Ancient Mustaches.

Men with enormous mustaches really have nothing to be proud of. Rather are they to be pitied. Those of high rank among the Gauls and Britons, according to Cæsar and Diodorus, shaved the chin, but wore immense forests of tangled hair on the upper lip. The mustaches of the inhabitants of Cornwall and the Scilly isles hung down upon their breasts like wings.

The Doctor and the Professor.

"I wouldn't say 'easy as A B C' if I were in your place, I think," said the professor.

"Can anything be easier than A B C?" asked the doctor, firing up.

"Certainly," rejoined the professor. "E Z R."

MISS ALICE ROGER WRITES EXAMINER

Of Her Life in the Mauritius Islands.

AN INTERESTING EPISTLE.

Many Amusing Facts Concerning the Manners and Customs of the Natives -She Will Write Again.

The Examiner has very much pleasure in presenting to its readers the second of Miss Alice H. Roger's letters giving an account of life in the Mauritius Islands. Miss Roger's host of friends here will be pleased to hear that she is enjoying life in her new home very much. She writes as follows:

"The Kiosk," Rose Hill,
Mauritius, Oct. 8th, 1901.

To the Editor of the Examiner,—

Dear Sir,—Having rashly promised in my last letter to your paper to send a later one giving an account of Mauritius, I am now going to try to fulfil my promise, though I fear my description of this beautiful Island will be very meagre and inadequate.

On examining a map of the world we find Mauritius is such a tiny speck of land, one would think that it could not be of much importance, but on the contrary the "star of the Indian Ocean" is of great strategic value to Great Britain, being the coaling station between India and the Cape, and possessing one of the finest harbours (Port Louis) in the world. Mauritians therefore would be greatly insulted if they had any idea that their island home was considered by any one, unimportant. The island is thirty-nine miles long and its greatest breadth is thirty-four miles, though in most places it is not as wide as that. It is of volcanic origin, as one can see at first glance by the many mountains, which add greatly to the beauty of the country. The most lofty point on the island is the Pieter Both Mountain, which reaches a height of 2,685 feet, and is almost inaccessible. A few daring people (among them one lady, a German) have risked their lives to climb to the top, and have been successful, but although I should dearly love the adventure I fear I lack the courage. There is one portion of the mountain, very near the top, called the "Saddle Back." It is only about two feet wide, and consists of decomposed granite. On either side is a fearful precipice, so that a false step, or the rolling away of a piece of the rock, means death to the venturesome climber. A friend in describing this place to me the other day said he has known several men who had climbed almost to the summit, but on reaching the "Saddle-back" had straddled it and burst into tears. Guides had to be sent up later on to bring the travellers down down again, "sadder and" (let us hope) "wiser men." Very near Pieter Both is another very high peak, from which one can get an almost equally fine view. It is in shape like a thumb, and is consequently named the "Ponce," and it is only twenty-five feet lower than Pieter Both. Ever since coming here it has been my desire to go on a mountain climbing expedition, and last Saturday I had my wish fulfilled, and started out at 6.30 a. m. for the "Ponce." We went by train to Moka, a station a few miles from here, and there we took carrioles to the having to drive about two miles. Carrioles are most convenient vehicles, but one has to hang on like grim death when turning corners. It reminds one very much of Jerome K. Jerome's description of a ride in a bath-chair for "there is more excitement than might appear to the casual observer" and "a sense of danger such as a mere outsider might not understand is ever present to the mind of the occupant." Our party consisted in all of nine, including three black men to carry the baskets, cameras, etc., and the first part of our climb was up a rather rocky, and quite wide path. In one place I noticed the rock looked as if it had been quarried and I was told that years ago, enormous sums of money had been spent by the Government in trying to make a road over the lower part of the mountain, and a short cut to Port Louis, but the plans was eventually given up. A little higher up the path got narrower, and after climbing for some time we came to an open space where there was no sign of a tree and the grass was long and thick, of course just as we reached this unsheltered spot, the rain began to fall. At first it was only sprinkle and we hoped it would pass off, but though it only proved to be a shower, it was a heavy one, and lasted long enough to thoroughly drench us. On we climbed, however, regardless. Our path next led through a shady wood, and when the rain was over and the sun again peeped through the trees, everything looked very beautiful and fresh. It was wonderful to notice how the vegetation varied as we ascended. In the first part of our climb there were no plants at all, but on the rocks grew a sort of lichen. Higher up, in the wood I have just mentioned, there were berry bushes, and further up still we found many beautiful ferns and orchids. The tree ferns were exquisite and we found many curious plants, among them being a cup-shaped fungus with a lining of green with spots of gold. At the shoulder of the mountain there was a stream, and a nice place for picnicing, so we decided to leave our edibles there and return later on for our breakfast. From the shoulder of the mountain we got a fine view of the harbour at Port Louis, and having taken some photographs we continued our march. We were again in a wood and the path was so winding that we did not realize at all to what a height we were climbing. On emerging from the wood I was much surprised to find we had almost reached the summit. The remainder of the way was real climbing, necessitating our going on hands and knees, and pulling ourselves up by the rocks. It was a scramble, but we should not in the least had the rain not come down again, this time in torrents. The view was entirely spoiled, so after remaining only a very short time we began the descent. On reaching the shoulders of the mountain we found that the servants had breakfast all prepared, and I can assure you we were all quite ready to do justice to it. About noon the weather had quite decided to behave agreeably, and it was a glorious day. So nothing daunted after our first disappointment we climbed once more to the top. Such a view! No words could give even a slight idea of it. We could see almost the entire island, the ocean, glittering in the sun, surrounding it on every side. To the west we saw Port Louis and the harbour. The houses looked like play-houses, and the many vessels in port, looked like so many toy ships. Above the city was the Champ de Mars, an immense field, which is used for the various races and sports, but which from such a distance and height looked more like a table cut out in the mountain. The different chains of mountains were clearly seen and the acres and acres of sugar cane looked only like well kept lawns; while the numerous rivers winding their way through the island could be distinguished only by the trees growing along their banks. These trees, however, looked only like small bushes from our vantage ground. The different villages showed up quite distinctly, and far down the south-east coast we viewed the Bay of Matebourg, where the chief port of the island was at the time when Mauritius was in possession of the French. Far out in the ocean (20 miles distant from the most northern point of the island) we saw Flat Island the quarantine station. The view was certainly superb, and I am very sorry, indeed, not to be possessed of better powers of description so that I might give a little of the pleasure I experienced to those who are brave enough to wade through this lengthy but most deficient account. We began the descent most reluctantly at 3.30 p.m., and in going down we realized most fully how steep our climb had been, as in many places we could not stand up at all, but had to descend by sliding and tumbling about in anything but a graceful manner. Needless to say, we had great fun, and though next day we all had sunburnt faces and stiff joints as a sequel to our expedition, we felt that the enjoyment quite over-balanced the disadvantages.

There are a great many villages and settlements in Mauritius, but only one "city," and it is scarcely deserving of the title, that of Port Louis. It is situated on the Northwestern part of the island, and at one time was rather a fine place; but what with plague, fever, hurricanes and fires, there are very few traces remaining to tell of its past greatness. In former years it was the chief residential part of the island, but is so unhealthy there now that very few excepting the very poorest classes, live there now. Business men go in every day by train, and have their homes "up country." There are some rather fine buildings, the theatre, museum and Government buildings being the most noticeable. The theatre is rather artistic externally and the interior is very pretty indeed. Every year a theatrical troupe comes out from France and remains for some months. Here nearly all the French people leave their homes in the country and take houses in Port Louis for "the season." I cannot imagine anyone wanting to spend even one night in the dirty place. The streets are nearly all narrow, and lepers and many other undesirable characters are to be met everywhere. At present the plague is very bad, there being sometimes as many as twenty new cases in one day.

The Government House is used only for business purposes, as the Governor has his residence at "Le Redint," a most beautiful spot up country.

The Post Office and Station are fine large buildings, and there are several large churches, and some quite picturesque mosques.

In the centre of the town is a large square, called "The Company's Gardens," laid out with palm trees and fountains, where the people congregate every Wednesday to listen to the music of one of the regimental bands. "The Place d'Armes" is also a nicely laid out square facing Government House, but notwithstanding these few pretty parts, Port Louis is by no means a pretty place, and when I am obliged to go in for a few hours I am always truly thankful to get out of it again. They have almost nothing in the shops, and whatever you want, is always

"EXPECTED BY NEXT STEAMER."

Taking train at Port Louis, and going in a south-easterly direction on a steep grade a passenger gets some beautiful glimpses of the island. Sometimes one gets a peep at the harbour, then as the train turns a curve, the sea is entirely hidden by mountains, and later on a broad stretch of the ocean is visible. In some places the land is quite wild, as it is impossible to get water, and tillage is therefore quite out of the question. In these uncultivated sections aloes grew abundantly. All along the railway route are quaint little huts, the homes of Indians.

Rose Hill, where we are living, is the first important station. It is midway between Port Louis and Cure Pipe, and is a busy railway centre. There are several churches, and shops, such as they are, galore. Here also we have the tennis, cricket and archery clubs' grounds, which are very fine, and to these clubs all the English and many French people belong. Members are allowed to play any day at the grounds and on Friday afternoons the scene is always a very gay one, as there is a grand re-union and the regimental band of either the Madras or Bengal Infantry makes the afternoon pass pleasantly.

Leaving Rose Hill, and going still towards the south, we come to Quatre Bornes, Phoenix, Vacoas, (where the troops are), and Cure Pipe. Cape Pipe is in fine weather, the most beautiful residential part of the island, and is the home of nearly all the most wealthy French people. There is a beautiful park there; and there are also quite extensive tea gardens. The one drawback to this part of the country is the climate, as it is the exception to the rule to have a fine day there. Even when it is clear the air is damp, and it is difficult to keep one's clothes from being destroyed by the mould.

The staple of the island is sugar, and the many acres of tall waving leaves look very much like our corn fields at home. Just now they are cutting the canes and taking them to the factories. It seems a pity in a country like this, where almost anything will grow, that no effort is made to cultivate anything but sugar, but as it means the most money, everything else must be sacrificed to it. Bamboo and ebony grow in great abundance, but no use whatever is made of them, and it has been truly said that that Mauritius is noted only for its "sugar canes and hurricanes."

represented. John Chinaman, with pigtail afoat, is everywhere in evidence, as is also the Malabar, Malagash, the Arab, the Sepoy, and many others. The number of languages spoken in Mauritius is therefore very large, but one can get along well if able to speak English, French, and a little Creole, which is really a corruption of French.

The costumes also vary according to the nationalities, and it is funny indeed to see so many different forms of clothing, from the Creole's costume, which is very often a grotesque caricature of English dress, to that of the native of Madras, which is notable for its scantiness. The best time to see the people in their holiday attire is on the last day of the races. Taking his family and also all his household goods, including pigs, goats, cats and dogs, each Indian starts out in his donkey cart at the break of day for Port Louis. Here everyone picnics at the Champ de Mars, and the scene is most gay, as each person clad in robes of brightest colours seems determined to outshine his or her neighbour in georgeousness of attire.

There are about one thousand English people in Mauritius, and they are pretty well scattered, but distances are not great, so that one is always meeting the same people. A few of the Englishmen are in the Civil Service, but most belong to the military. There are always two regiments of English infantry, under command of English officers, and a few artillery men. This makes the place quite gay for the English people, as there is always something going on. Every Monday there is polo; every Saturday, cricket. There are tennis parties every day, and very often regimental sports. Every year there is a man of war in port, for several months, during which time all manner of festivities are held. Just now there is not as much going on as usual for the hot weather has commenced. So far we have found the climate delightful, for no matter how hot the day is the evening is always cool. However, I do not think we will be so pleased with the climate a few months hence, especially when

THE HURRICANES BEGIN.

The palm trees of all sizes and descriptions are exceedingly numerous, and flowers and fruits are very abundant also. There are of course a great many kinds which are quite foreign to a temperate clime, and therefore quite new to us. We are at present enjoying the first mangoes of the season.

I am afraid I have made this a great deal too long, so must stop. We sometimes receive an Examiner out here and I can assure you it is always highly appreciated. I read even the advertisements for everything from home is of interest. The newspapers of Mauritius are very poor, as we are so cut off news is necessarily rather ancient. The mail service is erratic, as we get two or three mails within a week sometimes and after that have no mail for three or four weeks, which is decidedly trying.

I am, very truly yours,
ALICE H. ROGER.

A ONE-SIDED BATTLE.

If attacked by a wild beast a man would try and defend himself. If afflicted with rheumatism fight the disease. With Dr. Hall's Rheumatic Cure the battle is all one-sided. Thomas Todd, Lockmaster at Brewer's Mills, Ont., suffered for twelve years with rheumatism in his shoulder and at times could not work or dress himself. HAPPY NEW YEAR.

Time flies, and indifferent, perhaps, to the course of its flight, we hardly realise the truth of this till we find ourselves at the end of a new year. The first year of the Twentieth Century has passed away, and we are on the threshold of the year. At such a time it is natural to look back upon the past, in fond remembrance of what or whom has passed away forever. Never at the end of any year in her history has the Empire had to include in its retrospect a greater loss than it suffered in the death of Her Majesty, our beloved Queen, but we are cheered; as by a merciful dispensation of Providence comfort comes with every affliction, by the thought that she still lives in the hearts of millions, and the bright effulgence of her example still remains. We are comforted by the firm grasp of her relinquished sceptre by her successor, whose wisdom of rule so far suggests a reflection of the wisdom of his great mother. The war in South Africa still continues, and daily homes are darkened by the death of loved ones, yet this is but an incident in the perpetual warfare between mortality and life, in which homes are every hour bereft by disease and accident—it is part of the common lot, which can never be removed. Coming to our own dear Canada, the retrospect as well as the outlook is a pleasant one. We have been over-swept by a wave of prosperity; bountiful harvests have been reaped, and the sickle of commerce has gathered uncounted golden sheaves. General material prosperity has been with us, and we have not only cause for gratitude, but for a large hopefulness, for the indications are that this coming year with the Divine blessing, will also be one of great prosperity. As a town we have been specially favoured. Never, perhaps, has time closed the calendar of a more prosperous year—one marked by greater material advancement, and general well-being of all classes of citizens—as the year now waning to its close; and never has dawned a year with a brighter outlook for Peterborough than that which will break to-morrow. We can, therefore, in regard to material and commercial prosperity, as well as in all other respects, feel that we use no idle form of words, in wishing, as we do most fervently, to all our readers in town and country,

A HAPPY NEW YEAR!

WEDDING BELLS.

Miss Cruikshanks Becomes the Wife of Mr. James Ballantyne.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Cruikshanks, Fraserville, was the scene of a very interesting event on Tuesday, December 24th, when his daughter, Miss Annie, became the wife of Mr. James Ballantyne, of Ashburnham.

The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. Mr. Steele, in the presence of a number of friends and relatives. The bride was becomingly gowned in cream cashmere, trimmed with cream lace and ribbons. She was attended by Miss Lizzie Ballantyne, sister of the groom, and Miss M. Stewart of Port Hope, who were attired in pale blue cashmere, trimmed with white satin.

The groom was supported by Mr. John Cruikshanks, brother of the bride.

The bride and groom were the recipients of many very handsome presents, as well as the best wishes of their hosts of friends for a happy and prosperous future. They will take up their residence in Ashburnham.

Mr. Ballantyne is an employee of the McAllister Milling Company.

LINDSAY AFTER A BEET SUGAR FACTORY.

A Mass Meeting Held There on Friday —Peterborough Must Wake up.

Lindsay, Ont., Dec. 27.—An enthusiastic meeting was held here this afternoon to advance another stage the work of securing material and capital for a beet sugar factory. Last week a large and representative county committee was formed, and the meeting to-day was held under its auspices Several rousing addresses were made, and the meeting reached its climax when Mr. N. Hockin offered to be one of 25 men to subscribe $1,000 towards an issue of $250,000 bonds in case it was needed, and the municipalities refused to vote it.

It was decided to proceed vigorously and at once with the work of obtaining a guarantee of 5,000 acres of beets. This task was assigned to Messrs. Channon and Ellis, the late delegates to Michigan. A strong acting committee was appointed to cooperate with these gentlemen. The money to carry on the campaign has been provided by the County Council. It is believed that the acreage will be readily subscribed, that local stock can be secured, and that the prospects are very bright for producing the conditions favourable to the location of a beet sugar factory here.

HALL'S GLEN.

(From our own Correspondent.)

A very pleasant and interesting event took place here on Christmas evening, it being the occasion of the marriage of Miss Ida Carveth to Mr. Alex. Darling, both of this place. Early in the evening the many invited guests began to arrive at the home of Mr. Wm. Carveth, the bride's father.

As the appointed hour drew near the guests repaired to the church near by, where the ceremony was to be performed. The church was soon filled to its utmost capacity.

Promptly at six o'clock the melodious strains of the wedding march, rendered by Mrs. James Greystock, pealed forth from the church organ, and the groom, with his assistant, Mr. A. C. Carveth, brother of the bride, entered and took their respective positions in front of the altar. The bride followed immediately leaning on her father's arm. She was assisted by Miss Ethel Hunter, niece of the groom.

The bride was becomingly attired in a beautiful dress of cream serge, trimmed with silver applique and white silk, and wore a handsome bridal veil. The bridesmaid was dressed in white Roman satin, trimmed with cream applique and white silk ribbon. Both wore crysanthemums and forget-me-nots in their hair.

This being the first occasion upon which a wedding had taken place in the church immediately at the conclusion of the marriage ceremony the bride was presented with a beautiful large Bible. The pastor, Rev. Mr. H. McQuade, read the address and the presentation was made by Mr. D. Madill. The following is the address:

Miss A. Darling,—

We, the trustees of Zion Methodist church, on behalf of the members of the members and congregation of the same, whose personal esteem, sympathy and respect you have for so goodly a period merited by the faithful discharge of duty, not only the discharge of your official duties as organist of this church, but in the exercise of all those qualities and graces so characteristic of you as a young lady, desire to approach you on this the occasion of your marriage within the walls of this church, where you have so often led the congregation in sacred song, with some token of our esteem, which will serve you as a memento in after years.

And we believe nothing could be more fitting than a copy of the Sacred Book. Be pleased therefore to accept this Bible as a token of our appreciation and regard, and in perusing its sacred pages may you find therein contained those beautiful truths which shall assist you in moulding aright, in association with your companion, your future home.

May you continue in the future as in the past to imitate the injunction, "Carve your memory on hearts and not on marble," for those who love and remember you, because they were helped by you, shall continue to esteem you, when forget-me-nots are withered.

May your home be serene and happy and your way prosperous as you journey through life with him to whom you have this hour extended your heart and hand.

Signed on behalf of the trustees and congregation,

H. McQUADE,
Pastor.

The groom made a short, but suitable and touching reply. The happy couple then returned to the commodious residence of the bride's father, where they received the congratulations and best wishes of their many friends, after which all, about 175 in number, partook of a sumptuous wedding dinner. Everybody enjoyed themselves until a late hour in social intercourse, music and various games.

The bride was the recipient of an unusually large number of beautiful, useful and costly presents, which showed the high esteem in which she was held by her many relatives and friends.

We all unite in wishing them a long, happy, peaceful and prosperous married life.

BURLEIGH FALLS.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

A very enjoyable time was spent in the Lower School, No. 1, Burleigh, on the evening of the 29th of December, when an entertainment, consisting of songs, recitations, dialogues, club swinging and instrumental music, was given by the pupils in charge of Miss Maggie Kennedy. The school room was prettily decorated with Union Jacks and evergreens, and an impromptu platform had also been constructed for the occasion. Mr. J. C. Bates occupied the chair and did his duties in a very pleasing manner.

A pleasant feature of the evening was an address and presentation to Miss Kennedy, who is severing her connection with the school. A nicely worded address was read by Miss Vera Stone and at the appropriate moment Miss Annie Bates presented Miss Kennedy with a beautiful toilet set, in sterling silver mountings, enclosed in a very pretty case. The address was signed on behalf of the pupils by Vera Stone, Annie Bates, Maggie Winsor, Annie Buggan, Anna Paterson, Edith Bolton, Hazel Walsh, Ida Dunford, Norman Bolton.

Another surprise was in store for Miss Kennedy when Miss Bertha Tedford stepped forward and presented her with a beautiful photo album, the gift of Misses Isabella, Bertha, and Lavina, and Andrew Tedford.

Miss Kennedy was indeed surprised, but though unable to express her thanks, her emotions showed how deeply she appreciated the beautiful gifts, and the love of her pupils which prompted them.

Killed by a Freight.

Lyn, Ont., Dec. 31.—Guy Dine, a sectionman, while cleaning out a switch at the G.T.R. station here yesterday morning, was struck on the head by a passing freight train, and instantly killed. His companion called to him to get out of the way, but he seemed to pay no attention. Deceased leaves a wife and a large family of small children.

Wheat Blockade in the West.

Winnipeg, Man., Dec. 31.—"The wheat blockade in Manitoba and the Territories is now complete. Every available space in interior and lake port elevators is now gone," said General Superintendent Leonard of the C.P.R. to a Free Press reporter yesterday morning.

BERLIN'S SUGAR FACTORY.

Company Elects Directors and Officers.

Preparations for Building a 600 Ton Sugar Beet Factory.

A permanent organization of the Ontario Sugar Company, Limited, was effected at a meeting of the shareholders at the National Club, Toronto, Friday evening. The following were elected directors:—Messrs. Hugh Blain, S. H. Janes, Michael Mc Laughlin, John Flett, W. J. Gage and Robert Jaffray, Toronto; William Hendrie, Hamilton; C. K. Hagedorn, and S. J. Williams, Berlin. At a subsequent meeting of the directors, Mr. Hugh Blain was elected President; Mr. S. H. Janes, Vice-President, and Mr. S. J. Williams, Managing Director. Mr. N. B. Gash was appointed solicitor.

It was decided on recommendation of the Site Committee to build the company's first plant at Berlin, to have a capacity of 600 tons a day. Berlin has given a bonus of $25,000, and 5,000 acres of sugar beets have been contracted for by the farmers of the neighborhood for next summer. It is intended to have the plan completed in time for the fall "campaign" as the season's work in the factory is called, which begins about October 1 and lasts 120 days. It is calculated that 72,000 tons of beets will be used, making 15,000,000 pounds of sugar, which will mean a turn-over for that locality of probably a little over half a million dollars.

Medical Science Advances.

It is not more than half a century ago that physicians considered a surgical operation with its risk, expense and pain as the only cure for piles. To-day it is only the out of date doctors that think of such treatment. It is cruel and extravagant to operate for a disease which is far more certainly cured by the application of Dr. Chase's Ointment. You may be skeptical, but for proof you are referred to tens of thousands of cases that have been cured by this famous preparation.

OVER A HUNDRED MILLIONS.

Tremendous Production of Grain For 1901 in Western Canada.

Montreal, Dec. 31.—Western Canada's grain product for 1901 was over 100,000,000 bushels. The Manitoba Government's bulletin gave the output for that province at 85,179,858 bushels. Returns just received at the C.P.R. offices from the office of the Commissioner of Agriculture, Regina, show that there were 28,969,833 bushels of wheat, oats and barley grown in the Territories, and with the peas, flax and rye, the figures would be over the 24,000,000 mark.

Canadian Fattened Chickens.

Ottawa, Dec. 31.—Several large shipments of chickens, fattened especially for the British market, have been sold on the other side at good prices. The Agriculture Department has been so advised. One consignment of 54 cases, shipped to Liverpool from Hillside, P.E. Island, netted the owner 14 cents per pound, or about 52 cents per chicken.

LOST HIS BUSINESS!

Ill-health "puts the shutters up" in many an honest man's business, and there are thousands of cases on record where the only cunning power on earth to take them down again is South American Nervine.

"I was completely prostrated with Nervous Debility. I had to give up business—doctors only helped me temporarily. I was the most discouraged man alive when I started taking South American Nervine, but the splendid cures I had read gave me hope, and I had not taken half a bottle before I found relief. I took twelve bottles, but am cured."—E. Errett, Merrickville. a

AMERICAN REPUBLICS.

Their Position on Arbitration to the Mexico Congress Made Clear by Mr. Buchanan U.S.A. Representative

Washington, Dec. 31.—The State Department received despatches yesterday from Mexico City, making clear for the first time what is to be expected on the subject of arbitration, which has been the most important and the most difficult problem before the Congress of American Republics. The advice came from Mr. Buchanan, the American delegate, who was assigned to look after this particular question. He states that an agreement, on the lines of The Hague Conference, appears to be favored by a majority of the republics, and that this probably will be the basis of action to be taken by the congress. He also states that those republics which desire to go further than The Hague agreement very likely will sign an independent convention for compulsory arbitration.

The congress is rapidly drawing to a close, and another fortnight will probably bring a final adjournment.

The understanding is that the following countries are favorable to arbitration, according to The Hague plan, viz., the United States, Mexico, Chili, Colombia, Ecuador, Hayti, Nicaragua, Salvador, Costa Rica and Honduras. There is some doubt as to Brazil and Guatemala, but the latter is expected to join other Central American countries in favor of non-compulsory arbitration. The countries which may sign an independent convention for compulsory arbitration are Argentina, Venezuela, San Domingo, Peru, Bolivia, Uruguay and Paraguay. That Venezuela should favor compulsory arbitration, causes some surprise here, but it is said to be due to President Castro's desire to force the Colombian controversy to arbitration. The position of Santo Domingo grows out of her boundary difficulty with Hayti. This was referred to the Pope, but, as satisfactory progress has not been made, Santo Domingo now wants compulsory arbitration. In case The Hague Convention is accepted as the basis of agreement, it will provide a means and a moral influence for adjusting various differences by arbitration, and yet each country will be left free to determine whether arbitration shall be applied to any case in which it is concerned.

How to get up an Appetite.

Distaste for food often follows Grippe, and fevers, and is associated with a general weakness of the system. To impart a real zest for food, and give power to the stomach to digest and assimilate, no remedy can equal Ferrozone. This is a new and startling discovery. It strikes at the root of disease and by removing the cause, cures quickly and permanently. Ferrozone will quickly enable you to eat and digest anything. Ormond & Walsh, druggists, can tell you a great deal more about Ferrozone, how it cures and why it cures. Call to-day and see them.

Tried to End His Life.

Toronto, Dec. 31.—While in a despondent mood last night, Richard Eels, a waiter employed in the Queen's Hotel, attempted to end his life by stabbing himself with a pocket knife. He succeeded in inflicting two deep wounds in his breast but he will recover. This is the second time he has tried to do away with himself.

King and Queen.

London, Dec. 31.—King Edward and Queen Alexandra went to Sandringham yesterday afternoon. Owing to the recent illness of Her Majesty unusually large crowds lined the route to the railway station. The Queen looked alert and bright, and showed little trace of her sickness.

STRENGTHENS THE STATE.

Life Insurance is for the protection of those dependent on a man's life; their dependence makes it an unavoidable duty Those dependent we assume to protect by our contract, at his personal cost; our duty to them is to make that contract as large, as secure, and as certainly available to them as possible; thus every Policy written conserves the interest of the State. A man with a Life Insurance Policy is apt to be a good citizen. Anarchists have no use for Life Insurance, and the state has no use for anarchists. The State should encourage every citizen to carry insurance. This Strengthens the State, abolishes alms-houses, and creates property that can be taxed. Further, the income from Your labour ends with Your life. The cost of living to the family continues. Take measures to have the income continue also. The Life Insurance Policy Does It.

The most enterprising and progressive of all the Canadian Life Offices to-day is the Sun Life of Canada. Ten years ago the Company had Life Assurance in force to the extent of $16,759,355,92. On the 31st of December last, this amount had been increased to $57,980,634.68. The increase, therefore, of Life Assurance in force during the last ten years amounted to the tremendous sum of $41,221,278.76.

YORK, N.B., ELECTION.

Majority For Mr. Gibson (Liberal) About 900—A Tremendous Turnover in Mr. Foster's Old Constituency.

Fredericton, N.B., Dec. 30.— Mr. Alexander Gibson, jr., the Liberal candidate in Saturday's Federal bye-election in York, defeated Rev. Joseph McLeod, Conservative and prohibitionist, by a majority of nearly 900. The election was run on both sides with great care, without money or liquor, and McLeod was beaten in nearly every parish. Fredericton gave Mr. Gibson a majority of 260, and Marysville a lead of 235. Mr. Gibson's majority in the general election was only 70. Hon. Geo. E. Foster carried the constituency in 1896 by 1,500 majority, so that the change in York's political complexion in four years has been remarkable. Mr. Gibson and his friends celebrated Saturday's victory at night in great style. The victorious candidate was drawn by his admiring friends through the principal streets in a barouche, accompanied by a torchlight procession, amid great cheering, to the Liberal headquarters, where speeches were made rejoicing in the success of the day. During the evening Mr. Gibson received congratulatory telegrams from Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. A. G. Blair and other leaders of the party. The Liberals acknowledged the great service rendered on the stump by Mr. D. C. Fraser, M.P., and Mr E. M. MacDonald, M.P.P., of Pictou

Does Not Disappoint.

The New Discovery for Catarrh Seems to Possess Remarkable Merit.

A new catarrh cure has recently appeared, which so far as tested, has been remarkably successful in curing all forms of catarrh, whether in the head, throat, bronchial tubes, or in stomach and liver.

The remedy is in tablet form, pleasant and convenient to take, and no special secrecy is maintained as to what it contains, the tablet being a scientific combination of Blood root, Red gum, and other similar valuable and harmless antiseptics.

the name of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets.

Whether the catarrh is located in the nose, throat, bronchial tubes, or stomach, the tablets seem to act with equal success, removing the stuffy feeling in head and throat, clearing the mucous membrane of throat and trachea from catarrhal secretions, which cause the tickling, coughing, hawking and gagging so annoying to every catarrh sufferer.

Nasal catarrh generally leads to ulceration, in some cases to such an extent as to destroy the nose entirely and in many old cases of catarrh the bones of the head become diseased. Nasal catarrh gradually extends to the throat and bronchial tubes and very often to the stomach, causing that very obstinate trouble, catarrh of the stomach.

Catarrh is a systemic poison, inherent in the blood, and local washes, douches, salves, inhalers and sprays have no effect on the real cause of the disease. An internal remedy, which acts upon the blood is the only rational treatment and Stuart's Catarrh Tablets is the safest of all internal remedies, as well as the most convenient and satisfactory from a medical standpoint.

Dr. Eaton recently stated that he had successfully used Stuart's Catarrh Tablets in old chronic cases, even where ulceration had extended so far as to destroy the septum of the nose. He says, "I am pleasantly surprised almost every day by the excellent results from Stuart's Catarrh Tablets. It is remarkable how effectually they remove the excessive secretion and bring about a healthy condition of the mucous membranes of the nose, throat and stomach.

All druggists sell complete treatment of the Tablets at 50 cents and a little book, giving the symptoms and causes of the various forms of catarrh, will be mailed free by addressing F. A. Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

THE GUEST OF CANADA

Signor Marconi Has Arrived in the Dominion's Capital.

SPECIAL PRIVILEGES ACCORDED

Hoped That He Will Further the Interests of Canada in the British Pacific Cable by Some Understanding With the Dominion Ministers—Will Leave Ottawa Saturday For England.

Ottawa, Dec. 31.—Signor Marconi arrived last evening, the guest of the Dominion Government, and will have a conference to-day with Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. Mr. Fielding, Minister of Finance, who have promised him assistance in establishing wireless telegraph stations on the coast of Nova Scotia. Just what special privileges he seeks, the young inventor did not feel at liberty to discuss. It is learned, however, that he will be offered the free use of the Government's coast telegraph system, including the cables, which are under Federal control, and that the Government will also place at his disposal a suitable steamer for carrying on further tests of long-distance signalling. In addition to this, he will be granted entry free of customs duty for the apparatus to be used at the station in Cape Breton, which is to be erected during the present winter. As Canada is joint owner of the British Pacific cable, now in course of construction, Mr. Marconi will doubtless further the commercial interests of his company in this connection by some understanding with the Dominion Ministers.

The inventor's stay on this continent will not last much over a week. After leaving Ottawa next Saturday, he will proceed to New York, to remain there only until the first steamer sails for Liverpool. He says he is anxious to get back to England to see about increasing the power of his transmitting apparatus on the Cornwall coast, as it is his intention at once to begin experiments in the transmission of messages between the English station and South America and the Cape of Good Hope.

The date of Mr. Marconi's marriage to Miss Holman of New York has not as yet been definitely fixed.

LOCATION ON THIS SIDE.

Marconi Announces That Cape Breton Will Be the Spot.

Montreal, Dec. 31. — Marconi was the guest of Mr. D. W. Campbell, manager of the Elder-Dempster Company, at a luncheon at the St. James' Club. Amongst the guests present were representatives of the leading shipping companies.

In reply to the toast of his health, Marconi referred to the kind welcome and encouragement he had received in Canada, and also referred to the fact that the Elder-Dempster Co. was the first shipping company to avail itself of his system. Mr. Campbell referred to the great usefulness that the system would be to Canada and the St. Lawrence route. Marconi left after the luncheon for Ottawa.

Marconi made the following announcement yesterday: "I have definitely decided to locate the necessary plant on this side of the Atlantic for the transmission of wireless telegraphic messages across the ocean in Cape Breton, and not Newfoundland. The station will be built at either Sydney, Mira or Louisburg, and the work of construction will be commenced inside a month's time, and the plant will not take long to set up. Within a very short time after work is started we will be receiving and sending messages across the Atlantic."

FIVE CONVICTIONS.

Fruit Inspectors Working on Behalf of the Canadian Consumer.

Ottawa, Dec. 31.—The Dominion Fruit Inspectors appear to be doing work on behalf of the Canadian consumer, as well as for the export trade. They have recently secured five convictions against parties who put up apples so as to cover up inferior fruit with a layer or two of fine apples, top and bottom. There are some half-dozen other cases pending against packers in Western Ontario. In some cases, these "fraudulently-faced" barrels were either in warehouses or actually on cars, to be placed on board ship for export to the Old Country. In several centres, notably in Toronto, where Messrs. McNeil and Schultz are stationed, dealers are being posted in their rights under the law, and encouraged to assist in prosecuting fraudulent packers.

More Chinese Massacres.

London, Dec. 31.—The Shanghai correspondent of The Daily Express cables that a missionary and a number of Christian converts have been massacred at Shing Sha Tu, in Kan Sou Province, where Prince Tuan and General Tung Fuh Siang are residing. The correspondent says it is asserted that the troops of General Tung Fuh Siang are responsible for the massacre.

First Sydney Steel.

Halifax, Dec. 31.—The first steel was made in Sydney at 8 o'clock, open hearth furnace No. 10, at the works of the Dominion Iron and Steel Company, was lighted in the presence of a number of officials of the company, and the first cast of fifty tons was a decided success. An expert, who saw the steel, pronounced it to be of excellent quality.

Veterinary Inspectors.

Ottawa, Ont., Dec. 31.—The Dominion Government has appointed veterinary inspectors for shipping ports between United States and Canada under a recent agreement between both countries. The official veterinaries for testing in Great Britain are J. G. Rutherford for Canadian agency in Glasgow, and T. A. Geddes, United States consul's office, London, England.

HON. MR. HARTY NOMINATED.

Confidence Expressed in Liberal Success in Kingston.

Kingston, Dec. 31.—At the Liberal convention last evening Hon. William Harty was unanimously nominated for the vacant Federal seat. His name was proposed by Mr. E. J. B. Pense, seconded by Mr. John McKelvey, and endorsed by a number of Liberals. Mr. Harty was sent for and tendered the nomination, which he accepted.

Mr. Harty thanked the convention for the unanimous nomination. It augured his election, there was no doubt of that. This was the sixth time in ten years the Liberals had expressed their confidence in him; five times for the Ontario Legislature, in four of which elections he had been successful. He said that it was with feelings of regret that, by the acceptance of their nomination to-night, he was to sever his relations with the Ontario Legislature, and with a Government of whose superior he knew not. There had been close and firm friendships formed that would be broken, and it caused him much sorrow to sever them. He was, however, in the hands of his Liberal friends, and if they deemed him fit to represent them in the larger Canadian Parliament he cheerfully acquiesced, and in the House of Commons, with a Cabinet unsurpassed in the world, he hoped he would have scope for aiding his native land and the city he had lived in for over thirty years.

The Kidneys and Uric Acid.

Uric acid is the name given by medical men for the poisonous matter which the kidneys filter from the blood. When the kidneys are weak, inactive or diseased they fail to perform their functions as filters, and the uric acid poison remains in the blood to find lodgment in the weaker organs, and produce the most painful and fatal results.

The symptoms of kidney disease, such as backache, frequent and painful urination, deposits in the urine, pains in the sides and limbs, and headaches, are so familiar that it seems unnecessary for anyone to be ignorant of the approach of this dreaded malady. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are ever at hand as a thoroughly effective remedy, as they are for sale by nearly every dealer who pretends to keep any family medicines.

Not only the kidneys themselves become diseased, but the uric acid forms crystals in the joints and muscles, causing the most extreme pain, and what is known as rheumatism, a disease which can never be cured until the kidneys are made healthful and vigourous.

Another form of kidney disease is dropsy and heart failure. In such cases the uric acid turns the blood to water, and causes dropsical swellings, which, when in the region of the heart, produce heart failure.

In view of the frightful risks which you run in neglecting kidney derangements, and the undoubted efficiency of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills as a cure for weak, inactive, diseased kidneys, it remains as a duty for you to apply the remedy and be cured. You can be certain of beneficial results, for Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have stood the test of time, and proven their right to first place as a kidney medicine.

In every town, village and township of Canada there are people who can testify to the extraordinary merits of this great remedy. Ask your friends and neighbours about it, or, better still, try it for yourself, and join the ranks of Dr. Chase's admirers. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box. At all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Company, Toronto.

Haynes Exonerated.

St. Catharines, Dec. 30.—The coroner's inquest on the death of Albert Jackson exonerated his uncle, Haynes.

A VERY SEVERE TEST.

When the constitution is neglected, indigestion, sleeplessness and nervousness will surely follow. A tonic is then needed, and the proper medicine to take is "Climax" Iron Tonic Pills. They build up the system, improve the appetite and strengthen the nerves. Each box contains ten days' treatment. Price 25 cents, at all druggists, or mailed on receipt of price. A DEADLY WATER SPOUT.

Inundated Saffee, Morocco, For 12 Hours and Drowned 600.

Tangier, Dec. 30.—A water spout has burst over the town of Saffee, Morocco. It inundated the lower part of the town for the space of 12 hours, sweeping everything into the sea. Two hundred persons are reported to have been drowned. There are no Europeans among the dead. The damage to Saffee was enormous. Saffee is a fortified seaport town of Morocco. It has a population of 12,000, including about 9,000 Jews. It is enclosed by massive walls, and has a palace and a small fort.

Four Killed in a Landslide.

Lynchburg, Va., Dec. 30.—A landslide on the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad near Reusens Station, five miles south of Lynchburg, on the James River branch last evening caused a wreck in which the engineer, conductor, fireman and baggageman of a passenger train were killed and several other persons injured, but none of them seriously. The slide was caused by washouts, due to the heavy rains.

How a Sprain Does Hurt!

But it isn't the pain alone that is dreaded, just think of the loss of time and wages. Sprains without number have been cured by rubbing Polson's Nerviline well into the pores of the skin surrounding the joint. No matter whether it is a sprained wrist, ankle, knee or back, just try Nerviline on it, and see how quickly it will cure. There is only one liniment that can be depended upon to cure sprains, strains and swellings, and that is Polson's Nerviline. Large bottle 25 cents.

PETERBOROUGH BOWLING CLUB

Holds Its First Annual "At Home" in Opera House.

IT WAS A GRAND SUCCESS.

The Decorations Were Superb—Many Handsome Gowns Worn by the Ladies.

The Peterborough Lawn-Bowling Club was "at home" last evening to its friends in the Opera House, and the affair proved the most successful function of the kind which has ever been held in the town. The decorations were superb, and in this respect Mr. Robert Kerr, chairman of the Decoration Committee, is entitled to the greatest praise, as he laboured indefatigably, assisted by Mr. Dickson Davidson, in the work of finishing of Turner & Sons' most creditable display of flags and bunting. The arrangement of the draperies, rugs, palms, and cosy corners was a revelation to those accustomed to attending such affairs. The presence of large numbers of men from outside points, provided partners for the preponderence of the fair sex which attend such functions in Peterborough, and this was in a large measure responsible for the undoubted success of the evening. The visitors were more than charmed with Peterborough's fair women, and the prepossessing gowns which were worn, gave the outsiders an opinion of the taste and discrimination of our ladies which were never before afforded.

The patronesses of the ball were Mrs. (Hon.) J. R. Stratton, Mrs. R. P. Boucher, Mrs. E. C. Complin, Mrs. H. B. Dean, Mrs. A. H. Stratton, Mrs. T. J. Moher, Mrs. H. LeBrun, Mrs. R. E. Wood, and Mrs. Robert Kerr. The Board of Stewards was composed of Dr. Boucher, chairman, Mr. A. J. N. Terrill, Hon. Secretary; Mr. R. C. McHarrie, Mr. Robert Kerr, Mr. E. C. Complin, Mr. Peter Campbell, Mr. Dickson Davidson, Mr. Fred H. Dixon, Judge Weller, Mr. G. W. Hatton, Dr. Moher, Mr. H. LeBrun, Mr. W. D. Parker, Mr. Harry Rush, Mr. A. H. Stratton, Mr. R. E. Wood, and Mr. R. H. Ross.

MR. J. H. SMITH IS THE REEVE

Of Ashburnham for the Ensuing Year.

THE TOWNSHIP NOMINATIONS.

Many Councils are Re-elected by Acclamation—Speeches in the Village Last Night.

The old town hall, Ashburnham, was crowded to suffocation last evening, the occasion being the municipal nominations for the position of reeve, councillors and school trustees. It was one of the best gatherings of ratepayers that ever assembled at a nomination meeting in the village, and contrary to general expectation, there will be no contest for the different positions in the council and school board.

A glance at the nomination slate during the evening showed that the following gentlemen had been nominated for the different positions:

REEVE.

John H. Smith, proposed by F. Adams and R. B. Rogers.

Alex. Rutherford, proposed by Wm. Scott and Geo. Carruthers.

COUNCILLORS.

Robert Sheridan, proposed by F. Adams and Wm. Beattie.

Robert Pollock, proposed by F. Adams and A. Nesbitt.

Wm. Manteee, proposed by F. Adams and W. J. Gibbs.

W. J. Johnston, proposed by Robt. Sheridan and Chas. Crowe.

TRUSTEES.

Harry Morgan, proposed by Wm. Scott and J. H. Smith.

E. A. Peck, proposed by F. Adams and R. B. Rogers.

J. W. Garvin, proposed by R. B. Rogers and F. Adams.

Promptly at 8 o'clock Mr. John Wood, Village Clerk, called the meeting to order and announced the result of the nominations as follows:

REEVE.

Mr. J. H. Smith, (by acclamation.)

TRUSTEES.

THE SPEECHES.

Mr. John Wood was moved to the chair, and Reeve Adams was asked to address the meeting. One year ago, he said he made the statement, that after serving five years in the capacity of reeve, it was time for a man to retire. They need only to look about them to find a precedent for such a course. He felt he could not fill the position as creditably as he might have wished. The position required a man who was capable of addressing gatherings, and who was at all times capable to deal with great questions when they came up for consideration. However, he had done his best, and no more could be expected of him. During his term of office very few questions of importance were dealt with, with the exception, perhaps, of the water works. He felt confident, however, that in the near future matters of great importance would creep up. The village was on the eve of better times, and men were required in the council who would be able to successfully deal with these questions. In the course of a few years, he thought, the population of the village would be doubled. The operation of the Quaker Oats Co. would bring a great many families into the village, and they would all require dwellings. The village was in a better position to accommodate these families than was the town. The taxes were lower for one thing. He was sorry more interest was not taken in the sugar beet industry, not only by the village council, but by the adjoining councils as well. He had thought such an industry would be located here, but owing to the supineness of the townships the matter was allowed to drag. In referring to his retirement from the reeveship he stated that we were a democratic people, and believed that honours and public positions should be passed around. A great many ratepayers, he said, were anxious for him to retain the chair, even the newly-elected reeve had assured him that he would not be a candidate if he (Mr. Adams) consented to stand, but he had decided to retire, although he would devote his best efforts towards advancing the interests of the village as a councillor. In conclusion he thanked them all for the confidence they had reposed in him.

Reeve J. H. Smith was warmly received when he addressed the meeting. This was, he said, the first nomination that had ever been held in the evening in the history of the village. The law allowed them to make the change, and as a result the ratepayers had an opportunity to turn out and take a more active interest in the proceedings. He had been brought up from a boy in the municipality; had been elected a councillor for six terms, and had been defeated twice. He next proceeded to deal with matters affecting the village, and took up the question of street lighting. He was in favour of letting it out by contract. There was competition in the village now, and he believed the rates for lighting could be reduced 25 per cent. lower than what they were at present. The question of granolithic walks would have to be considered on account of the increase in the cost of lumber. In reference to the water works, he stated that the village at present had a first-class contract with the Water Co. If the bylaw carried in Peterborough regarding the town assuming control of the system, a new agreement with the town would have to be made. The question of the sugar beet industry he claimed required very careful consideration. He was opposed to bonusing such an industry. It only employed labour about two months in the year. He would, however, favour exempting the concern, and he felt confident such an industry would eventually locate here on account of our unrivalled advantages, especially in the case of the Trent Canel, whereby coal could be imported much more cheaply. A great many thought it would not amount to much, but in a recent conversation with the Mayor of Perth, he was informed that before the Tay Canal was opened a twenty-five per cent. rate was all that could be obtained on freight from Montreal, but since the completion of the canal the rate had dropped one-half. At present $1.25 was paid on every ton of coal coming into the village, and the reeve felt confident that when the canal was completed the rate would drop to fifty cents. The town of Peterborough at present had nearly all its available sites taken up with new industries, and as a result location would be sought for by manufacturers in the village. He claimed that the village excelled the town in the matter of sites, and Mayor Donne and his council could hand all the industries they could not accommodate over to the village, and first-class sites would be provided for them. In closing he thanked the electors for the honour conferred on him, and wished them all the compliments of the season.

Mr. Allan McCarthy—I move that Mr. Johnston takes the stand—bring him up, Mr. chairman. (Laughter.)

Council Johnston—Call them up in rotation.

Mr. McCarthy—The biggest men first.

Councillor Robert Sheridan then addressed the gathering. His motto he always said was to work for the interests of the village. He thanked them all for their confidence and wished them a happy New Year.

Councillor Pollock—I thought I would have a chance to retire tonight, but the gentlemen I nominated backed out and I was allowed to slide in. I will do my duty, and I wish you all a happy New Year.

Councillor Johnston expressed himself as disappointed over the proceedings of the evening. He thought there would be some fun on election day. It was a thankless job on that day running around and driving voters to the polls, as you really got nothing for it.

Mr. McCarthy—You got defeated. (Laughter.)

Mr. Johnston—Mr. McCarthy is speaking from experience. (Renewed laughter.)

Continuing, Mr. Johnston said he came to say a lot, but he could say but a little. He simply wished to thank them. True they had not the best men amongst the ratepayers on the Council Board, but they had the men who were at present willing to offer their services. He prophesied great things for the village in the next ten years, and in reference to the water works question he felt as if they were not going to find it as easy to deal with the town as with the Water Company. During the year if minor matters in which individual ratepayers were interested were not attended to, it would be because questions of greater interest were being grappled with. It was no snap, he assured them, in transacting the business of the village, and in returning thanks to the ratepayers Mr. Johnston said he could go home and rest his weary head on the pillow as a councillor for 1902.

Mr. J. W. Garvin was called on and in opening said it was an unusual position for him. It was his first time on a trustee board, although he had considerable to do on educational lines he would be happy to do his duty. He congratulated the council on their work during the year. It was a very unusual thing to see a council returned by acclamation. We, he said, have a good village. It was going to be better. He was a believer in municipal union with Peterborough. The subject would come up, and it required the consideration of the people. The village and town was going to be a great industrial centre. The present large manufacturers will bring others. As a trustee he would try and do his duty and advance the interests of education in the village.

Mr. A. E. Peck thanked the ratepayers briefly. He was first elected trustee 11 years ago, being elected by 23 votes. Greater interest, however, has been shown in school matters since then. We have a grand school, an excellent head master and splendid staff of lady teachers, as well as a first class kindergarten. He was glad to see all taking such an interest in the village. They could not realize what changes will take place in the near future. There was no reason why they should not be a good town. He was opposed to a union with Peterborough, and he believed they could manage their affairs better as an independent municipality.

There were shouts of "McCarthy!" "McCarthy!" And that gentleman addressed the meeting.

"The other gentlemen," he began, "have spoken for something—I have been nothing." (Loud laughter.) He related an incident about a clergyman who had been moved to a circuit, where resided a mother, who had been training her little boy in anticipation of the clergyman's visit to her home. She told the youth that in answer to the clergyman's enquiry regarding his name he was to be prompt and answer "Johnny," when his age was asked he was to answer "five years old," and when asked where bad boys go to, "they go to h—l." When the clergyman paid his pastoral visit he embraced the youth and promptly asked his name. The child replied:—"Johnny — five years old—go to h—l."

Mr. McCarthy—The councillors are prepared like the little boy, but I did not come prepared—I have been nothing. (Laughter.) I pay my taxes and pay my debts. I do not think last year's council did its best. We should have fire protection on scientific principles. There is no place to give an alarm. It is like a gun without a trigger. (Laughter.) If a fire broke out I would have to run around, jump on my horse—a thing I have not done for five years (laughter)—and go over town. It is shameful. I would like to say more about the councillors, but I might offend (Laughter.)

A voice—Give it to them, McCarthy.

Mr. McCarthy—I'll not say much more.

A voice—Go on, you're doing good.

Mr. McCarthy—I can't make the councillors mad. They are all so tickled to-night. (Laughter.)

Mr. B. B. Rogers was the last speaker. He was sorry his candidate for the reeveship declined to run. Not that he did not think Reeve Smith qualified for the position, but that he thought Mr. Adams, who had such an excellent record in the past, should give the village the benefit of his services as reeve for at least another year. Referring to his position as trustee, Mr. Rogers assured the gathering that he would do his duty.

NEW YEAR'S FLOWERS.

It is a pretty custom to decorate the house with flowers and plants during the first days of the New Year, and it is not a very expensive custom either if you come to the right place for your decorations. A visit to the West End Greenhouses will show you that we have every flower and plant you want. There are roses, carnations, violets, lilies of the valley, daffodils, hyacinths, and narcissus, vieing with each other in sweetness. And then among the plants you will see pretty azaleas, cyclamens, ferns, of all kinds, and palms. A. Blade, Manager. Phone, 21B.

To the Editor of the Examiner,—

Dear Sir, — Allow me to say that the explanation which appeared in last night's paper regarding Grenoble walnuts, doesn't apply to my stock, as they came from a different source, and all who have bought them have been well pleased with them. I can guarantee them to be first class. The price may be a little higher than elsewhere but the goods are worth it. Thanking you for the space, I am, yours truly,

UP IN "NEW ONTARIO"

Hon. E. J. Davis Drove Last Spike in Connecting Railway.

A GREAT DAY FOR PORT ARTHUR

A New Grain Route Opened—Messrs. MacKenzie and Mann Banqueted—Distinguished Guests at Antigogan—Outlet for Canada's Granaries Established—Hon. Mr. Davis Speech on Driving the Spike.

Port Arthur, Dec. 31.—"This has been a great day for new Ontario," was the exclamation of Hon. E. J. Davis when he rose to respond to the toast of "The Ontario Legislature" last night, and it aptly expressed the thoughts of every one of the solid business men who heard him. Yesterday in reality witnessed the dawn of a new era, the commencement of a new chapter in the history of the progress which has marked the development of the great west. Yesterday saw accomplished the dream of the people of the west—the opening of a new outlet for the life-giving stream of golden grain flowing from the prairies of the west to the busy marts of the world.

The last pike in the new line, connecting Manitoba and the Territories with the Great Lakes was driven yesterday afternoon, and the most interesting feature of the celebration in connection therewith was an announcement, practically made by Mackenzie & Mann, that the railway would be completed as a transcontinental system within seven years from this date.

The main line of the road constructed to date, from Erwood, in the Territories, to Port Arthur, is 810 miles in length, and the company possesses no less than 1,309 miles of track, of which 354 lie in Ontario, 50 in Minnesota, 883 in Manitoba and 22 in Saskatchewan.

Yesterday's celebration was inter-Provincial in character, among those from a distance here being William Mackenzie, president, and J. D. Mann, vice-president, of the C.P.R.; Hon. E. J. Davis, B. E. Walker, W. H. Moore, Lewis Lukes, Z. A. Lash, and Alex. Mackenzie, Toronto; J. J. Long, Collingwood; Hon. C. H. Campbell, Attorney-General, Manitoba; W. Georgeson, President Winnipeg Board of Trade; John Aird, Bank of Commerce, Winnipeg; D. B. Hanna and Hugh Sutherland of C.N.R.

Yesterday morning a special Canadian Northern train left Port Arthur, bearing the eastern contingent, and these men prominent locally: Mayor J. L. Matthews, George T. Marks, B. Clavet, H. A. Wiley, Geo. Hodder, Col. S. W. Ray, D. F. Burk, A. J. Gorrie, T. Woodside, T. S. White and D. Mills, Port Arthur; Mayor W. F. Hogarth, Peter McKellar and John T. Horne, Fort William.

A run of five hours over a remarkably smooth roadbed, brought the special to Antigogan Station, 143 miles along the line, where a train bearing the Winnipeg party, met it. Here, in the shadow of an iron range, twenty miles in length, Hon. Mr. Davis drove home a spike, made of silver from the Wiley Bros.' mine, near Port Arthur, and held, during the ceremony, by James Conmee, M.P.P., who has taken such active part in getting the road put through.

On the return to Port Arthur, at night, Mackenzie & Mann were royally banquetted by the town.

Hon. E. J. Davis.

Hon. E. J. Davis, after driving the last spike, and in response to the request of the audience, expressed the unusual pleasure it afforded him to be present and take part in the formal ceremonies in connection with the opening of the road. He recalled with satisfaction the part which he took, when a private member of the Legislature, in seconding the efforts of the deputation who came to Toronto to ask Government assistance towards building the Ontario & Rainy River Railway. He had then realized the vast extent of the country served by the road and its magnificent resources. The difficulty which the Government experienced in assisting such enterprises was that the representatives of central constituencies had not realized the importance of furnishing facilities of transportation to the newer portions of the Province, and many difficulties were experienced in convincing them of the necessity of expending public funds for that purpose. Mr. Davis referred to the large influx of settlers into the district through which the Ontario & Rainy River Railway passed, and the benefits following the construction of the railway from the development and opening up the rich mineral and forestal resources. He predicted that the large fertile area tapped by the Rainy River would be largely settled within the next three or four years. So far as the department over which he presides was concerned, plans were being laid for every possible effort being made to turn the tide of settlement into the Rainy River district. He was glad to be able to say a word in praise of the enterprise shown by Messrs. Mackenzie & Mann, who had given the good assurance that they would give to bona fide settlers perhaps the best and most favorable terms ever given by any railway company in Canada. He said the country owed much to Mackenzie & Mann, to whom he paid a tribute as Canadian boys, brought up in our own land, men who had to hew their own way in the world and had displayed great enterprise and public spirit. In conclusion Mr. Davis conveyed to the gathering a message of regret from Hon. Geo. W. Ross, who was prevented from being present by the pressure of business, preparatory to the session of the Legislature.

Suffered Agony.

Rodger Pilson Spent Hundreds of Dollars to Get Well of Eczema—Cured by Powley's Liquified Ozone.

The usual annoyance Eczema causes.

It is with much gratitude that I send you my testimonial for what Ozone has done for me. For eight years I have suffered with eczema in both legs and in the thigh. During this time I spent hundreds of dollars with doctors in the city of Toronto, and used every remedy that was recommended for this disease. At this time I was driving a wagon for the C. P. R., but owing to the seriousness of my trouble I was obliged to throw up my position.

In the Spring of 1901, a friend advised me to try Powley's Liquified Ozone, which I decided to do. I purchased a large bottle at W. H. Burgess' drug store on Yonge St., Toronto, and applied it locally and also took it internally. Before I had used three large bottles I was completely cured.

My wife has also used it for nervous prostration and is at present taking it with great results. I consider this preparation to be the best and will always keep it in the house for family use. I will be pleased to answer any inquiries in regard to this preparation or give any information that any sufferer may wish to know.

Wishing you every success, I am very truly yours,
(Sgd.) RODGER PILSON,
Lot 6, 4th Concession, West York, Downsview, P. O., Ont.

For eight years Mr. Pilson suffered with eczema. All these years he underwent the torture and humiliation of this dreadful scourge. He spent hundreds of dollars with physicians, and in the end a few bottles of Powley's Liquified Ozone made the cure. Its simple enough and yet how wonderful. If you are similarly afflicted, a few dollars will enable you to get a positive cure. Ozone—you apply it yourself; take it inwardly and are cured.

Powley's Liquified Ozone is oxygen in stable form. Nature's way of curing. It makes healthy flesh and blood, destroys the germs of disease. Ozone is life.

FOUR KILLED IN A WRECK.

A Passenger and a Freight Train Collide 60 Miles West of Chicago.

Chicago, Dec. 30.—Four persons were killed and 18 injured, several of them possibly fatally, in a collision on the Chicago & Northwestern Railway at Malta, Illinois, 60 miles west of Chicago. The trains in collision were the "Omaha Flyer," an eastbound passenger train, and an eastbound freight train. The wreck caught fire and two passenger coaches, one sleeping car and eight freight cars were burned, and another sleeping car was partly consumed.

Just a Cold in the Head!

But if it is followed by another cold, or some extra exposure, is liable to result in Nasal Catarrh. Unless a radical cure is obtained the Throat, Bronchial Tubes, and finally the lungs become affected. Nothing cures colds so quickly and pleasantly as Catarrhozone. The Inspector of Mines of Nova Scotia, Mr. Neville, says, "Catarrhozone is the best remedy I have ever used. It cured me of catarrh of the head and throat, and I am pleased to recommend such a satisfactory remedy." Catarrhozone is a safeguard against Colds, Coughs, and Catarrh. It can be used while at work, in the church, theatre or street cars. Simply inhale Catarrhozone and it cures. Price $1; small size 25c. Sold by Ormond & Walsh, or will be supplied by N. C. Polson, Kingston, Ont.

Wesleyan Methodists' Fund.

London, Dec. 30.—In response to an appeal for £1,000,000 for the extension of the work of the Wesleyan Methodist Church, the sum of £722,000 has been actually paid, while an additional £180,000 has been promised. Simultaneous collections were made yesterday in the 8,000 Wesleyan chapels and mission halls, and the 7,300 Sunday schools in Great Britain, with the object of securing the 100,000 guineas still required. The idea of the fund was originated four years ago by Mr. Robert W. Perks, who says there are still at least a million Methodists who have given nothing at all.

A Genuine Triumph

In the medical line is made by a Brantford druggist, called Merrill's System Tonic. It embodies an idea long thought of but just recently made chemically possible. When System Tonic is taken the old blood is purified and new rich blood is made, while all the principal organs of the body are toned, and new tissue constructed. The result is perfect health. Sold in 50c bottles at Ormond & Walsh's drug store.

THE LITTLE ONES ARE HIS.

A little hand that softly stole
Into my own that day,
When I needed the touch that I loved so much
To strengthen me on the way.

Softer it seemed than the softest down
On the breast of the gentlest dove;
But its timid press and its faint caress
Were strong in the strength of love!

It seemed to say, in a strange sweet way,
"I love you and understand,"
And calmed my fears as my hot heart-tears
Fell over that little hand.

Perhaps there are tenderer, sweeter things
Somewhere in the sun-bright land;
But I thank the Lord for his blessings
And the clasp of a little hand.

QUEEN TO WEAR KOHINOOR.

Famous Diamond Will Be Set in Crown of Prince Edward VII.'s Consort.

King Edward has decided to have the celebrated Kohinoor diamond mounted in the crown of Queen Alexandra for the coronation.

The celebrated diamond Kohinoor was the most valuable possession of Maharajah Runject Singh, chief of Lahore. When he died in 1839, his four wives and seven slave girls burned themselves on his funeral pyre while the rites of Juggernaut were carried out in all their cruelty. The Maharajah left the jewel, which had long been coveted by the princes of Asia, to be worn by the great idol of Juggernaut. It subsequently came into the possession of the East India Company, whose directors presented it to Queen Victoria in 1850. The history of the stone is known since 1304. It was treasured by Aurung-Zeb, who used it as one of the eyes of the peacock adorning his famous peacock throne.

On the conquest of Mohammed Shah by Nadir Shah in 1739 the great diamond was not found among the Delhi treasures. Mohammed had hidden it in his turban, but Nadir, learning of this, offered the Mogul emperor as a sign of reconciliation to exchange turbans.

The ruse succeeded, and when Nadir caught sight of the gem he exclaimed, "Kohinoor," or "Mountain of Light," the name which it has ever since borne. It now weighs 106 carats, but before it was recut was of 186 carat weight. According to some legends, it is believed to bring ill-luck to its possessor.

If you have been a victim of early sinful habits, remember the seed is sown, and sooner or later you will reap a harvest. If your blood has been diseased from any cause do not risk a return later on. Our New Method Treatment will positively cure you and you need never fear any return of the disease. We will give you a guarantee bond to that effect. Training Cats.

A showman in England has trained a number of cats to perform some rather remarkable tricks. One of them climbs a rope to the roof of the building in which the show is given and there takes hold of the handle of a parachute, by which it descends to the ground.

Another bit of training is even more wonderful. The average cat, you know, can find no daintier morsel than a mouse or a canary bird, and when it sees one it pounces on it as eagerly as the tiger in the jungle on its prey. But this showman has a cat that steps carefully and gingerly over a long line of mice and canaries, walking as if it were terribly afraid of hurting some of them.

The showman says that he has trained all sorts of animals—bears, lions, leopards and tigers—but the cat is the most difficult to handle. It is not that it lacks intelligence, for it has plenty of that, but that it is unwilling to allow any one to make it do what it does not wish to. He says it is impossible to depend on it; that it will perform when it happens to be in the humor to do so, but if it be not in the humor nothing will make it obedient. He has 30 cats in his "circus," but he takes 60 around with him, the extra 30 being "understudies," which take the place of those that refuse to perform.

It took him four years to train some of his cats. He says that kindness is absolutely necessary. If you strike a cat once, she will never perform again. The cat that walks over the line of mice and birds was brought up with them from kittenhood and thus made familiar with them.

Pig Kept in a Home.

Miss Emily Hampton of Nazeing London, was summoned the other day for keeping a pig in a manner dangerous to health. The nuisance inspector testified that he found the pig occupying the whole of one room in the house of the defendant. The animal was lying on clean sheets on a feather bed covered with white lace counterpane, with his head resting on a pillow. The room was furnished like the usual parlor and there were illuminated texts on the walls. The inspector said further that he found the defendant kneeling at the bedside and kissing the pig, and calling it a naughty boy because it had eaten a small portion of its pillow.

Miss Hampton pleaded that she had educated the pig as a Christian. She had reared it from infancy. When young it used to occupy the sofa. It had always asked to be let out when it wanted to take the fresh air. It never kicked the cloth off the bed, and was quiet and peaceable. Ladies and gentlemen came in carriages to see it. The magistrate gave Miss Hampton six weeks in which to find fresh lodgings.

Swallowing

A sword is a trick not conducive to health or longevity. But it is not more injurious than the hasty swallowing of half masticated food washed down by gulps of ice water in summer or cups of hot coffee in winter. Hasty eating is the foe of health. Sooner or later it must result in indigestion or some other form of stomach disease.

For the cure of the diseases of the stomach and allied organs of digestion and nutrition, there is no medicine so effective as Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It always helps. It almost always cures.

Mrs. Mary M. Lewis, of Tanner, Gilmer Co., W. Va., writes: "I will always recommend Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Pleasant Pellets,' for they saved me when doctors and other medicines failed. For fifteen years I suffered untold misery. When I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's medicines, I had given up all hope of ever getting well. I could not lie down to sleep, and everything I ate would almost cramp me to death. Was very nervous and could hardly walk across the room. I only weighed ninety pounds when I commenced taking these medicines six years ago; I now weigh one hundred and forty pounds, and am having better health than ever before. My friends all say they can hardly believe that I am the same person; after being sick so long. I have changed to be robust and rosy cheeked. I have taken fifteen bottles of the 'Discovery' fifteen of the 'Prescription' and fifteen of the 'Pellets.'"

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser, paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only, or if cloth binding is desired send 50 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

STONE SOUP.

The Dish That Was Concocted by a Traveler In Peru.

The natives of Peru are not always hospitable to the white traveler who finds his way into their villages, and he soon becomes familiar with the words, "Manan canchi," which mean in Quichua language, "There is none."

A certain explorer pressed by hunger and having some experience in the country stopped at the first hotel he came upon and asked its owner to sell him a chicken.

"There is none," was the sulky rejoinder.

To all his requests for anything in the shape of food the traveler received only a grunted "Manan canchi."

"Very well," he said finally. "I shall have to make a stone soup. You can at least procure for me the right kind of stone. I want a smooth, round one, and it must be washed very clean."

Curiosity and a desire to learn how to make this economical stone soup prompted the Indian to activity.

"Now," continued his visitor, "kindly put a pot of clean water on the fire and place this stone in it. I will then teach you how to make this most appetizing soup."

The host complied, and as soon as the water became hot he asked, "Is that all?"

"Nearly," replied the wily guest, "but it will be much improved if you throw in a little salt and red pepper, and if you happen to have an onion, why, it will do no harm."

Here at least was a beginning, for the desired articles were at once produced without a murmur of dissent, and the water continued bubbling. Presently the stranger remarked in a tone of indifference: "Sometimes I add a small quantity of lard and a handful of rice. You don't happen to have any?"

"Why, yes, I have," responded the interested Indian, and without delay these things also were added to the soup pot.

Just then the hungry visitor caught sight of some vegetables in a corner, and, without appearing to have seen these, he observed: "When you take this soup with me, you will like it, I know, although it is a pity we could not have a vegetable or two thrown in. They improve the flavor of stone soup."

In went the vegetables.

"There is only one thing lacking," finally commented the guest.

"And what is it?" asked the other.

"Well, if we had a little meat I would chop it up very fine and put it in with the rest. Then in about five minutes the whole thing would be just right, ready for us to enjoy."

Sure enough, even the meat came to light, and in compliance with the traveler's promise he and his host made a good supper on the stone soup.—Alice Le Plongeon.

Easy.

Theodore—It's all right, darling. I have met your father, and we took to one another at once. He even went so far as to borrow $10 from me. Surely he can't refuse me your hand after that.

Edith—Dory, I'm afraid you've made a mess of it. Pa told me about the $10 and said I'd better let you slide: that you were too easy.

Prejudiced.

"So you won't take my medicine?" said the doctor, who had been called in against the patient's wishes.

"I will not," replied the patient.

"I suppose you're one of those poor, deluded beings who believe in throwing physic to the dogs."

"Not indiscriminately. Some dogs are valuable."

Precocious Youth.

Uncle Rastus, who was seeking information concerning mushrooms, had been referred by a preternaturally solemn student to the professor of botany, and, with hat in hand, he was addressing that dignitary.

"Would yo' mind tellin' me, Mistah Mandrake," he said, "how to 'stinguish a musharoom f'm a toadstool?"

"Willingly," replied the professor. "In the first place, you must remember that the Amanita phalloides, or deadly agaric, closely resembles the Agaricus campestris, or edible fungus, which is our common variety and absolutely innocuous. Next, it will be necessary to fix firmly in your mind the distinguishing marks or characteristics of the Agaricus campestris, which are these: A pileus not covered with excrescence-like scales; gills of a brownish purple when mature; stalk solid and approximately cylindrical; ring near the middle of stalk; base not bulbous and not sheathed by membrane. The distinguishing characteristics of the Amanita phalloides, or deadly agaric, are these: Pileus destitute of distinct excrescences; white gills, hollow stalk; large ring and prominent bulb at base, with membranous upper margin. Bearing these points of differentiation fully in mind you will never be at a loss to determine which variety you encounter in any given case."

"Yes, suh," said Uncle Rastus, turning his hat round and round in his fingers. "I un'stan' dat all right, but how's I gwine to tell 'em apaht?"

The Cause Removed.

In curing disease it is only a waste of time to treat the symptoms. The medicine must reach the cause. Merrill's System Tonic does this. It purifies the blood, builds up the system, strengthens the nerves and is the only positive cure known for Constipation, Dyspepsia, Nerve Troubles, and Kidney Disease—all disappear when it is taken. Three weeks treatment for 50c. Sold at Ormond & Walsh's drug store.

The Spanish Language.

The Spanish alphabet is perfect save for a single silent letter, h. Each letter has only one sound and pronounced as spelled. The written language therefore is, with a single exception, free from redundant letters. The chief difficulty in the language to English speaking people is the inflection of its verbs. These move from one mood and tense to another by terminal changes, while English verbs move by auxiliaries. In inflection Spanish follows Latin, of which it is a beautiful and richly-endowed daughter, so much so that it adopts no word or phrase from other languages.

The Arctic Summer.

The arctic summer is brief, but for weeks together there is nothing to distinguish day and night. Once at Dvornik two naturalists had left their ship at different hours. When later they met, one said, "Good morning;" the other, "Good evening." Both agreed that the hour was 7, but while one traveler held that it was 7 tomorrow morning the other maintained that it was 7 o'clock last night. On returning to the ship they settled that it was last night, so they dined and went to bed again.

REGARDLESS OF COST!

This is our first Clearing Sale. We have been in business for nearly 29 years, and this is the only time we have announced a General Reduction Sale of such importance and it must be and will be a bona-fide one. The sale has been forced upon us because our present store has been sold and the building passed into other hands. For this reason we are compelled to begin preparations at once for moving into new premises. Our present stock on hand amounts to about $40,000, principally winter goods. We have, therefore, decided to re-mark every thing down to prices that ought to effect a general clearance and save moving the stock. On SATURDAY, JAN. 4th the Sale starts. Remember, everything in every department will share in this Red Letter Reduction Sale. We don't expect any profits. Nothing will be sold at regular prices. Buyers will reap the profits. What we say you know we mean. This will be a genuine sale—a sale that will be remembered in Peterborough for buying good goods cheap.

The Store will be closed on Friday, January 3rd, for the purpose of marking down the goods. The reduced prices will be all marked in red figures.

MARCONI'S NEW YEAR

Attended Lord Minto's Levee and Called on Mgr. Falconio

FIRST MEETING WITH PREMIER

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Welcomed the Distinguished Inventor to Canada—Project to Establish Station on Sable Island, to Warn Ocean Vessels Off This Dangerous Spot—Other Plans.

Ottawa, Jan. 2.—Signor Marconi spent New Year's in the capital, chiefly in fulfilling its social obligations. In the morning he attended the levee of his Excellency the Governor-General, and later in the day called upon his distinguished countryman, Mgr. Falconio, the papal delegate. Last evening he dined at Stadacona Hall, as the guest of the hospitable Minister of Militia, Hon. F. W. Borden.

SIR WILFRID'S WELCOME.

The Premier Welcomes Chevalier Marconi to Dominion of Canada.

Ottawa, Jan. 2.—Signor Marconi had his first meeting with the Premier of Canada at luncheon in the Rideau Club on Tuesday, when both were the guests of Hon. W. S. Fielding, Minister of Finance. Other Cabinet Ministers were present, also Sir Sandford Fleming, the pioneer of the Pacific cable, and Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, President of the Canadian Pacific Railroad. The Premier welcomed the inventor to Canada, and assured him of every assistance which it might be in the power of the Government to afford him.

Mr. Tarte, the Minister of Public Works, whose department has control of the coast telegraph system, consulted Mr. Marconi about the establishment of wireless stations on Prince Edward Island and the mainland of Nova Scotia or New Brunswick, so that communication may be maintained across the Northumberland Strait independently of the existing cable which is under control of the Anglo-American Company under a charter somewhat similar to the franchise which enabled the company to interfere with the wireless experiments in Newfoundland. Mr. Marconi is understood to have entered heartily into Mr. Tarte's scheme.

Meantime, Mr. Marconi is greatly impressed with the situation of Sable Island as a site for a station to communicate with his wireless establishment on the cost of Cornwall. At the Marine Department he talked with the deputy minister and chief engineer upon the subject, and the inventor was pleased to see by the great circle track which Col. Anderson plotted for him on a North Atlantic Admiralty chart that a direct line between Sable Island and the Cornwall coast passes well out to seaward of the Avalon peninsula of Newfoundland. He had been of the impression that no station could be had north of Cape Hatteras which would ensure perfect immunity from intercepting currents from Newfoundland.

Photographs of many places on the sandy islet, so long known as the "Graveyard of the Atlantic," were shown to Mr. Marconi by Col. Gourdeau, who visited the island last summer and was able to give the inventor much valuable information in regard to it. Mr. Marconi was anxious to know if there was any possibility of interference on the part of the vested interests on Sable Island.

The deputy minister reassured him on that point. "The Government," he said, "owns the island, and the only telegraph line on it, and allows nobody to land there without permission. It is in charge of a governor, but if you like we will make you king."

Mr. Marconi did not think that the distance of the island from the mainland, 85 miles, or the fact that it is not connected as yet by cable, were serious objections to its selection as a site for one more of his wireless installations. He said that communication could as well be made with the adjacent coast of Nova Scotia by the wireless system, and in any event it might be made a repeating station

LOCAL TRAVELLERS MEET

And Discuss Matters of Mutual Interest.

They Will Form an Association Most Likely Resolutions That Were Passed.

A very well attended meeting of the Commercial Travellers' Association of the town of Peterborough was held in the Oriental Hotel Monday night. The meeting was called for the purpose of discussing the advisability of forming a local Association and of talking over matters of interest pertaining to the welfare of the travellers.

Mr. W. H. Meldrum was, upon motion of Mr. John A. Cameron, seconded by Mr. R. McGill Hood, asked to take the chair, and Mr. J. C. Grant was appointed secretary of the meeting.

After some little informal discussion Mr. Cameron moved, seconded by Mr. Chas. S. Stapleton, that a deputation from the meeting consisting of Messrs. W. H. Meldrum and Charles S. Stapleton wait on the president of the Toronto Commercial Travellers' Association and urge upon that Board the importance of establishing a local Board at Peterborough and to take any other steps they may see fit to have the idea of the resolution carried out.

It was also decided that Mr. R. McGill Hood and J. C. Grant, be a deputation to call on the president or secretary of the Dominion Commercial Traveller's Association at Montreal, Quebec, and urge the importance of establishing a local Board in Peterborough, and to take any other steps that they may see fit to have this resolution carried into effect.

A resolution was also passed that the secretary of the Peterborough Association correspond with the various Commercial Traveller's Association with a view of obtaining the names of any of their members who reside in Peterborough.

The secretary was further instructed to write to the chief commander of the Knights of the Grip, Toronto, for the necessary information required

AT MICHIGAN SOO

A Wedding of Interest to Peterborough People Took Place on Wednesday.

The News-Record, of Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan, contains the following interesting item:—

"A marriage took place in the Michigan Soo on Wednesday evening that is of particular interest to the people of the Canadian Soo, in that both of the contracting parties are well known and very popular here. It was that of W. H. Shobbrook, manager of the Butterfield confectionery to Miss Jennie McElwain, of Peterborough, who has been a resident of the Soo for eight months. The home of Wm. Godfrey, uncle of the bride, on McKnight road, was prettily decorated for the occasion and the ceremony was performed, under an evergreen arch, at 6 o'clock, by Rev. Mr. Easterday, formerly pastor of the Presbyterian church in the Michigan Soo. The bridesmaid was Miss May E Godfrey, cousin of the bride, and Will Burnett assisted the groom. The bride was dressed in a fawn coloured travelling suit and wore a bunch of roses. The bridesmaid wore blue silk and carried a bouquet of carnations. The ceremony was followed by a wedding dinner, those sitting down to the table being a number of the relatives of the bride and groom, who were guests at the wedding. The presents were numerous and particularly pretty and valuable. Mrs. Shobbrook will spend the Christmas holidays at the home of her parents in Peterborough and on her return the young couple will take up housekeeping in the city."

FIRE IN CAVENDISH.

A Farmer Loses 12 Head of Cattle and a Span of Horses in the Conflagration.

Last Friday evening as Mr. Robert Beech, son of Mr. T. Beech, of Cavendish Township, was doing up the work about the stable, a horse kicked the lantern over and set fire to some straw, but Mr. Beech succeeded in quenching it as he thought.

He had gone to the house but a short time when he was aroused by a noise in the stable, and on looking out saw that it was in flames.

He immediately went to the barn and succeeded in rescuing 8 cows, but a span of horses and 12 head of young cattle unfortunately fell victims to the flames. A new buggy, a cutter, wagon, and sleighs, were also consumed, together with all the stables and barns and their contents.

Mr. Beech's loss will be very heavy, as the insurance is small.

A SOUTH AFRICAN LETTER.

Another Link Between "the Front" and Peterborough.

Sgt. Wm. Armour, son of Mr. John Armour, Harvey street, writes the following to his brother Alex. under date of Skinner's Court, Nov. 19th, 1901:

Skinner's Court, Nov. 19, 1901.

Dear brother,—I now take a few minutes to send you a few lines, and I hope they will find you and father and mother and all the rest in good health, as this leaves me O.K. Well Alex., I shall not be home till about the last of June, next, for I have to serve five months and eleven days yet to complete my year in the Canadian Scouts. I tried to get away the first of this month, but I could not manage it, for Major Ross, my Commanding Officer don't like to let me go, and he has promised to go home with us in the spring. There are only about 20 of us Canadians here now, that are going home, and the truth is there isn't more than 30 Canadians in the corps, the rest are nearly all Australians; but they are good men, and we get a good chance to try them, for we get plenty of fighting, for it is nearly an everyday occurrence to have some sniping or skirmishing as you might call it. And once in a while a good go-in, for we are all the time chasing the wily Boer. We don't give him much rest and he don't let us have much either. Well, dear brother, my time is up on the first of May, next, and I will be home by the first of July, for I expect to be in England for the coronation of our King, and then straight home. There are very few men in South Africa now that have seen as much active service as myself for I have been at it steady for two years now and I have been in the hottest places and even amongst the Boers for I have been a prisoner with them three times, and you bet it was hot for a while on two occasions, but the other one was a blunder on my part. I have been scratched or wounded three times, and none of them bad; once with a piece off a shell which was the sorest I had. I will try to tell you all about it when I get home, if I am spared. So now if you get this before Christmas, give mother a big kiss for me. Good bye for the present and write soon. I wish all a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Good bye, and God bless and keep you all.

I am your lost big brother
BILL.

Does Not Disappoint.

The New Discovery for Catarrh Seems to Possess Remarkable Merit.

A new catarrh cure has recently appeared, which so far as tested, has been remarkably successful in curing all forms of catarrh, whether in the head, throat, bronchial tubes, or in stomach and liver.

The remedy is in tablet form, pleasant and convenient to take, and no special secrecy is maintained as to what it contains, the tablet being a scientific combination of Blood root, Red gum, and other similar valuable and harmless antiseptics.

the name of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets.

Whether the catarrh is located in the nose, throat, bronchial tubes, or stomach, the tablets seem to act with equal success, removing the stuffy feeling in head and throat, clearing the mucous membrane of throat and trachea from catarrhal secretions, which cause the tickling, coughing, hawking and gagging so annoying to every catarrh sufferer.

Nasal catarrh generally leads to ulceration, in some cases to such an extent as to destroy the nose entirely and in many old cases of catarrh the bones of the head become diseased. Nasal catarrh gradually extends to the throat and bronchial tubes and very often to the stomach, causing that very obstinate trouble, catarrh of the stomach.

Catarrh is a systemic poison, inherent in the blood, and local washes, douches, salves, inhalers and sprays have no effect on the real cause of the disease. An internal remedy, which acts upon the blood is the only rational treatment and Stuart's Catarrh Tablets is the safest of all internal remedies, as well as the most convenient and satisfactory from a medical standpoint.

Dr. Eaton recently stated that he had successfully used Stuart's Catarrh Tablets in old chronic cases, even where ulceration had extended so far as to destroy the septum of the nose. He says, "I am pleasantly surprised almost every day by the excellent results from Stuart's Catarrh Tablets. It is remarkable how effectually they remove the excessive secretion and bring about a healthy condition of the mucous membranes of the nose, throat and stomach.

All druggists sell complete treatment of the Tablets at 50 cents and a little book, giving the symptoms and causes of the various forms of catarrh, will be mailed free by addressing F. A. Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

THEY ONLY REQUIRE JUSTICE.

Newfoundland Official States Colony's Case re. France.

"St. John's, Nfld., Jan. 1.— This Government has not considered the renewal of the modus vivendi and hopes there will be no occasion to consider the enactment of a measure so detrimental to the interests of the empire and the colony.

"The Government has not received any advice from the Imperial Government as to what has been done in reference to the negotiations with France, since the Newfoundland delegates left London last May. All the colony's representations to the Colonial Office have been unanswered, and no reply has been received regarding reciprocity with America, although the Imperial Government's desire respecting a discussion of that question between Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Sir Robert Bond (respectively the Premiers of Canada and Newfoundland), has been fully complied with, and the results have been represented to the Colonial Office. The successful management of the colony's affairs by the present administration is manifested by a financial condition unparalleled in its history. We only require justice at the hands of the Imperial Government, in the removal of the restrictions as to the treaty shore and trade relations with America to assure us a position of permanent prosperity."

The Anglo-French modus vivendi, covering the lobster question on the French shore of Newfoundland expired Tuesday, and, apparently, no arrangement with France is in sight.

A SOUVENIR

Lord Strathcona Rewards the Civil Service Ladies For Kindness to the Strathcona's Horse.

Ottawa, Jan. 2.—When Strathcona's Horse were concentrated at Ottawa previous to departure for South Africa, the ladies of the civil service presented the regiment with a number of guidons.

Lord Strathcona has sent to each of the young ladies who composed the committee which had charge of the presentation, a gold brooch, bearing the Strathcona coat of arms.

Miss Beatrice Barber, president of the committee, received the following from Lord Strathcona's private secretary: Montreal, Dec. 23, 1901.

"Dear Madame,—I am requested by Lord Strathcona to send you the accompanying gold brooch, cast from the dies which was used in the stamping of Lord Strathcona badges. He trusts you will accept it as a small memento of the force you so kindly presented guidons to on the eve of their departure for South Africa. It was Lord Strathcona's intention to write to you himself, but the great press of business while he was in Canada and his subsequent illness made it impossible and he has asked me to act for him in the matter. With kind regards I am sincerely yours, E. S. Clouston."

The brooches were sent addressed to the following ladies: Miss Beatrice Barber, Department of the Interior, president of committee; Miss Madeline Fitzgerald, Agriculture, secretary; Miss Miller, Postoffice, treasurer committee; Miss Maude Bell, Interior; Miss Ross, Agriculture; Miss Merrick, Postoffice; Mrs. Fitzgerald and Miss Hutchison, Finance; Miss Baldwin, Auditor-General's office; Miss Palmer, Secretary of State; Miss Ida Farrel, Miss Robertson, City Postoffice; Miss Shaw, Miss Robertson, Trade and Commerce; Miss Christie, Miss Dawes, Customs; Miss Wright, Miss Lawless, Inland Revenue; Miss Batt, Madame Gourlay, Railways and Canals; Miss Coyle, Mrs. Thomas, Marine and Fisheries; Mrs. Sparks, Geological Survey.

Since the presentation, the following ladies have been married: Miss Christie (now Mrs. Parmalee, wife of the Deputy Minister of Trade and Commerce), Miss Robertson (now wife of J. Tolmie, M.P. for Bruce). and Miss Ida Farrel (now Mrs. Gerald Fitzgerald).

Why He Could Not Join.

Windsor, Jan. 2.—Walter C. Potts, a Windsor boy, has returned home from South Africa, where he went for the purpose of joining the British forces. He shipped on an American vessel from New Orleans. Medical Science Advances.

It is not more than half a century ago that physicians considered a surgical operation with its risk, expense and pain as the only cure for piles. To-day it is only the out of date doctors that think of such treatment. It is cruel and extravagant to operate for a disease which is far more certainly cured by the application of Dr. Chase's Ointment. You may be skeptical, but for proof you are referred to tens of thousands of cases that have been cured by this famous preparation.

They Were 11,002 in Number, Involving $113,092,376 in Debts.

New York, Jan. 2.—Reports to R. G. Dun & Co. show that failures for the year 1901 were 11,002 in number, and $113,092,376 in amount of liabilities, while, of banking and other fiduciary institutions, there were 74 insolvencies, involving $18,018,774, a total of 11,076 defaults and $131,111,150 liabilities. These figures compare very favorably with the 10,883 failures in 1900, with liabilities of $174,113,236, of which 59 were banks, for $35,617,668. Manufacturing disasters in 1901 numbered 2,441, with an indebtedness of $44,960,983, compared with 2,409 in the previous year, owing $51,702,142; while there were 7,965 suspensions of traders for $52,060,640, against 7,844 in 1900, with liabilities of $50,415,593. The defaulted liabilities were 96 cents to each $1,000 of bank exchanges. A ratio to the number of firms in business shows that the entire amount of defaulted indebtedness averaged $94.33 for each concern. This amount compared with $119.63, in 1900; while, going back to 1893, the average was $290.65.

In many ways the prosperous conditions in the United States were shared across the border, for commercial failures in the Dominion of Canada were fewer in number and amount of liabilities than in five of the preceding seven years. As to banking insolvencies, the statement was even more favorable, no one of the earlier years making as good an exhibit. All commercial defaults numbered 1,341, with liabilities of $10,811,671, which compares with 1,355 in 1900, owing $11,613,208. In manufacturing, there were 289 failures, for $3,595,095, against 308 in the previous year, with liabilities of $3,201,665. Trading failures numbered 1,029, with a total indebtedness of $6,845,329, compared with 1,010 in the previous year, for $7,252,340.

TWO CENTS A MILE.

All Roads in Michigan Compelled to Reduce Their Rates.

Buffalo, Jan. 2.—All of the lines of Michigan became subject yesterday to the two-cent a mile fare bill which was passed by the legislature of that State last spring. This provides that all of the rates shall be two cents a mile, and that all basing rates shall be constructed upon that basis to the Michigan gateways. The Michigan Central Monday surrendered its old charter and took out a new one under the new conditions, thereby becoming voluntarily subject to the new order of things a number of years in advance of what it would have had to do under the old order. It saw, however, that with the other roads charging two cents a mile it could get no business at a higher rate. The capital of the new company is $18,038,000. The road will sue the State of Michigan shortly for damages because of the loss of revenue through the loss of the old charter.

A NATION OF WORKERS

With Good Health for Capital the Great Majority of Canadians Rely on Brain and Muscle for a Livelihood—With Ill-Health All is Lost.

Canada is a nation of workers. The few who have acquired positions of wealth and leisure, have done so through hard work, and the vast majority find it necessary to toil day after day, and year after year, to support themselves and those depending on them. Their capital is good health. So long as this lasts, they are happy and contented; but, alas! too many are robbed of this capital, and find themselves unable to keep up the struggle. With no earnings coming in, their small savings are soon exhausted, and want, as well as disease, stares them in the face.

Disease is humanity's most deadly foe. Silently, gradually, it steals upon one, until at last it closes its fangs on its victim and secretly robs him of energy, ambition and strength. In this age of keen competition, strenuous work, and ceaseless struggle, it is the nervous system that most readily feels the strain. Nights of sleeplessness, days of tired, languid feelings, depression, discouragement, and despondency, neuralgic pains, shattered nerves, weakness and irregularities of the bodily organs, These are some of the warnings of the approach of such serious and fatal diseases as nervous prostration, paralysis, locomotor ataxia and insanity.

Maintaining good health, is, to the majority of people the most vital question in the world, and nature affords no more efficient strengthener for the system and restorative for the nerves than Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Naturally, gradually, and certainly, it forms new, red corpuscles in the blood, creates new, healthy, nerve cells, and puts into the system the snap, energy and vitality that defy the disease.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is unlike any treatment you ever used. It does not act as a stimulant to whip up the tired nerves into exhausting action, nor, on the other hand, does it deaden and destroy the feeble nerve tissues, but by filling the shrivelled arteries with rich, red, life-sustaining blood, it repairs the waste and revitalizes and restores the body to health and strength. As a permanent cure for nervous headache, nervous dyspepsia, sleeplessness, irritability, and the weakness and irregularities which accompany an exhausted nervous system, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is unapproached; 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

A handsome and useful Christmas present for your mother or grandmother, is a copy of Dr. Chase's last and complete Receipt Book. Illustrated folder free.

Newfoundland Official States Colony's Case re. France.

"St. John's, Nfld., Jan. 1.— This Government has not considered the renewal of the modus vivendi and hopes there will be no occasion to consider the enactment of a measure so detrimental to the interests of the empire and the colony.

"The Government has not received any advice from the Imperial Government as to what has been done in reference to the negotiations with France, since the Newfoundland delegates left London last May. All the colony's representations to the Colonial Office have been unanswered, and no reply has been received regarding reciprocity with America, although the Imperial Government's desire respecting a discussion of that question between Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Sir Robert Bond (respectively the Premiers of Canada and Newfoundland), has been fully complied with, and the results have been represented to the Colonial Office. The successful management of the colony's affairs by the present administration is manifested by a financial condition unparalleled in its history. We only require justice at the hands of the Imperial Government, in the removal of the restrictions as to the treaty shore and trade relations with America to assure us a position of permanent prosperity."

The Anglo-French modus vivendi, covering the lobster question on the French shore of Newfoundland expired Tuesday, and, apparently, no arrangement with France is in sight.

TREACHEROUSLY SHOT

BOER LOSSES LAST YEAR 14,887

Lord Kitchener's Report of Boer Bag For Week Ending Dec. 26—Trooper Meyer Wounded After He Had Surrendered—Civil Service Ladies Presented with Strathcona Gift Brooches.

Pretoria, Jan. 1.—Two officers of the Intelligence Department, who were sent to parley with the Boers who desired to surrender near Warm Baths, were treacherously shot by concealed Boers.

Boer Loss for 1901

London, Jan. 2.—Official returns show that the Boer losses by killed and wounded and surrendered, during 1901, totalled 14,887 men.

The Weekly Boer Report.

London, Jan. 2.—Lord Kitchener, under date of Johannesburg, Dec. 30, sends a weekly budget showing that since Dec. 23 35 Boers have been killed, 5 wounded, 237 taken prisoners and 51 have surrendered. These, says the commander-in-chief, do not include Dewet's losses in his attacks on Bartnell and Firman, when, it is probably estimated, 50 were killed and 50 were wounded.

Dewet is still in the vicinity of Langberg. Col. Spence and Col. Plumer came in contact Dec. 28 with Britz's commando, and took 27 prisoners. General Bruce Hamilton came in touch with Grobelaar's commando near Marydale, Dec. 28. He killed four Boers and captured 27.

Trooper Meyer Wounded.

Carnarvon, Cape Colony, Dec. 31. Commandant Naude's commando, 100 strong, is encamped at Zeekoegat, 35 miles northeast of Carnarvon. The commando is moving slowly.

A farmer yesterday brought in Trooper Meyer, who was shot through the legs while commandeering donkeys and wagons. His companion, Corporal Dawson, was killed. It is stated that Meyer received his wound after he had surrendered.

A SOUVENIR

Lord Strathcona Rewards the Civil Service Ladies for Kindness to the Strathcona's Horse.

Ottawa, Jan. 2.—When Strathcona's Horse were concentrated at Ottawa previous to departure for South Africa, the ladies of the civil service presented the regiment with a set of guidons.

Lord Strathcona has sent to each of the young ladies who composed the committee which had charge of the presentation, a gold brooch, bearing the Strathcona coat of arms.

Miss Beatrice Barber, president of the committee, received the following from Lord Strathcona's private secretary: Montreal, Dec. 23, 1901: "Madame,—I am requested by Lord Strathcona to send you the accompanying gold brooch, cast from the die which was used in the stamping of the Strathcona badges. He trusts you will accept it as a small memento of the force you so kindly presented guidons to on the eve of their departure for South Africa. It was Lord Strathcona's intention to write you himself, but the great press of business while he was in Canada and his subsequent illness made it impossible, and he has asked me to act for him in the matter. With kind regards sincerely yours, E. S. Clouston."

The brooches were sent addressed to the following ladies: Miss Beatrice Barber, Department of the Interior, president of committee; Miss Geraldine Fitzgerald, Agriculture, secretary; Miss Miller, Postoffice, treasurer committee; Miss Maude Ida, Interior; Miss Ross, Agriculture; Miss Merrick, Postoffice; Mrs. Fitzgerald and Miss Hutchison, Finance; Miss Baldwin, Auditor-General's office; Miss Palmer, Secretary of State, Miss Ida Farrel, Miss Robertson, City Postoffice, Miss Shaw, Miss Robertson, Trade and Commerce; Miss Christie, Miss Dawes, Customs; Miss Wright, Miss Lawless, Inland Revenue; Miss Batt, Madame Barlay, Railways and Canals; Miss Kyle, Mrs. Thomas, Marine and Fisheries; Mrs. Sparks, Geological Survey.

Since the presentation, the following ladies have been married: Miss Christie (now Mrs. Parmalee, wife of the Deputy Minister of Trade and Commerce), Miss Robertson (now wife of J. Tolmie, M.P. for Bruce), and Miss Ida Farrel (now Mrs. Gerald Fitzgerald).

Why He Could Not Join.

Windsor, Jan. 2.—Walter C. Potts, a Windsor boy, has returned home from South Africa, where he went for the purpose of joining the British forces. He shipped on an American vessel from New Orleans. When he arrived at Cape Town the captain of the boat refused to give him his discharge papers, and he was obliged to return to America.

In a Soldier's Memory.

Ottawa, Jan. 2.—On Sunday afternoon Major-General O'Grady-Haly will unveil a brass tablet in St. Alban's Church, presented by Hon. C. H. Mackintosh, in memory of his gallant son, Edward Compton Allen Mackintosh, who, while serving with Strathcona's Horse in South Africa died on Jan. 28.

Medical Science Advances.

It is not more than half a century ago that physicians considered a surgical operation with its risk, expense and pain as the only cure for piles. To-day it is only the out of date doctors that think of such treatment. It is cruel and extravagant to operate for a disease which is far more certainly cured by the application of Dr. Chase's Ointment. You may be skeptical, but for proof you are referred to tens of thousands of cases that have been cured by this famous preparation.

THE POPULAR SECRETARY.

Mr. G. H. Williamson Received Some Well Merited Gifts Yesterday.

General Secretary G. H. Williamson, of the Y.M.C.A. may have in his life met with many surprises, but the one which came to him yesterday morning in the parlour of the rooms was, no doubt, as he himself said, the greatest one of all.

Mr. Williamson had been invited to attend a business meeting at 11 o'clock, and, taking his seat in the parlour, noticed around him a number of the directors, and a representative from each of the several departments. Everyone wore a happy smile, and the secretary grew suspicious and then arrived at a conclusion as Mr. Pringle stepped out and presented a nicely worded address to him. A table bearing the several articles with which Mr. Williamson was presented, was then brought into view, and the secretary gasped as he beheld a pair of Persian lamb gauntlets and cap, an overcoat, gold watch and chain, and a purse containing over $30.

The speech that he endeavoured to make in acknowledging the kindness of the directors was a failure, as far as words went, but in expression of his feelings conveyed the right impression. He took his seat amid the hearty applause of the gathering.

Speeches bearing upon the ability of Mr. Williamson, and the appreciation of his work in managing the affairs of the Association in such a skilful manner, were then made by a number of those present, and all joined in wishing the secretary the most happy and prosperous New Year he had ever known.

The address was as follows:

Dear Mr. Williamson,—At this season of the year, when we are all inclined to thoughtfully review the past and hopefully look forward for blessings in the future, your many friends in Peterborough wish in a slight way to mark their appreciation of your valuable services among us.

Since coming to our town you have been, by your faithfulness and self-sacrificing devotion to duty, under the guidance of the Almighty, one of the chief instruments in the advancement of our Association to its gratifying and useful position, until to-day it ranks second to none in the Dominion.

Who can estimate the influence for good over the young men of our town, and "the stranger within our gates?" We feel that eternity alone can measure the extent of the beneficient impulses which are irradiated from this and sister institutions.

We ask you to accept these few gifts from some of your many appreciative Peterborough friends, and trust that you may long be spared to enjoy them.

We join in wishing you continued success in the work of the Master during the New Year.

Signed on behalf of the subscribers,
W. W. DALY,
WM. PRINGLE.

A NEW YEAR WEDDING.

Nuptials of Miss Maude Hooper and Mr. Albert A. Fowler Yesterday.

Mr. Albert A. Fowler, Phm. B., and Miss Maude B. Hooper, daughter of Mr. Thos. Hooper, of North Monaghan, were married on Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 1st, by Rev. C. L. Thompson, in Mark street church.

The church was filled with an interested audience, as the contracting parties are well and favourably known.

The bride looked charming in a navy blue going-away dress. She had on a picture hat and carried a bouquet of white carnations. Her sister, Miss Katie Hooper, acted as bridesmaid. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations, and was dressed like the bride.

Mr. J. E. Fowler fulfilled the duties of groomsman in becoming style.

Miss Flora Thompson played the wedding march as a send off to the young couple. The choir of Mark street church also helped in the ceremony by singing an appropriate hymn.

After the ceremony the guests drove to the residence of Mr. T. H. Hooper, brother of the bride, where an elaborate wedding breakfast was served.

Among the many useful and beautiful presents was one from Mr. Fowler's employer, Mr. J. Nugent, of $20 in gold.

The newly married couple went away on the C.P.R. 4.45 train to spend a week in Toronto and other western places. The Examiner joins in congratulations.

THE COUNCIL FOR 1902.

The Board of Aldermen Elected by Acclamation.

Whether the election of the Mayor and Aldermen of Peterborough by acclamation, shows the interest in the management of the affairs of the town that the ratepayers and public spirited citizens should take, the fortunate gentlemen selected are to be congratulated upon the mark of confidence received at the hands of their fellow citizens.

The retirement of seven candidates from the field, within the statutory limit of time, left the required number of aldermen—eleven—to be elected by acclamation. While the election of even the best possible board of aldermen by acclamation, indicates, perhaps, an undesirable public apathy, yet a very gratifying feature of the present result is represented by the fact that the increase of the population of the town required the election of eleven aldermen, instead of nine, as last year.

Mayor,—
T. H. G. Denne.

Aldermen,—
Batten, Joseph.
Best, Henry.
Clinkscale, Robert.
Corkery, John.
Edgcumbe, James.
McGregor, Robert.
Morrison, M. A.
Roger, G. M.
Rush, Henry.
Shortly, Benjamin.
Turner, J. J., Sr.

The retiring member of the council is Mr. John Sawers, and the new members are Messrs. McGregor, Morrison and Turner.

The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. D. O. Crossley. The bride was gowned in a gray dress, with trimmings of white silk and applique, and carried white carnations. She was attended by her cousin, Miss Ella Morton, who was also gowned in grey. Mr. W. Hanbidge acted in the capacity of best man.

The newly married couple will reside in Otonabee.

Mr. W. A. King, of Souris, Manitoba, is in town for a few days. Mr. King left Peterborough for the west 17 years ago, and has been one of the most successful of Manitoba farmers. For many years prior to leaving for the west, Mr. King was engaged in the soda water and sewing machine business. Mr. King's many friends in Peterborough are glad to see him and to know that he is doing well and that his family are also all well and pleased with their new home.

Local interest in the fine Christmas number of the "Farmers Advocate," is deepened by the fact that it contains a capital Christmas story from the pen of Mr. J. McCaig, now of Lethbridge in the North-west, but formerly a member of the Collegiate Institute staff. This story has a clever literary quality, and its aura, as might be expected from the "Farmer's "ovine proclivities, is "all-wool." It is a story of shepherds and sheep, with a little love element, handled in a somewhat canny and cautious way, interwoven, so as to make a very charming little bit of romance. An excellent portrait of the smiling countenance of Mr. "Farmer" McCaig, as his intimates in Peterborough called him, adorns the page containing his story.

A SUCCESSFUL "AT HOME."

Hon. Mr. Stratton and Mrs. Stratton Entertain Their Friends at a Reception in the Opera House.

Last night one of the most pleasant social functions of the season, was represented by the "At Home" given in the Opera House by the Provincial Secretary, and Mrs. Stratton. A large number of citizens, as well as many from a distance, honoured the hosts of the evening with their presence. The first hour or two of the evening were devoted to the reception and welcoming of guests, followed by another hour or two of delightful social intercourse and enjoyment, to which the surroundings greatly contributed. The entire Opera House was free to the guests. The hall was beautifully decorated with flags, bunting, flowers, foliage, and electric light devices. The full band of the 57th Regiment was present, and their excellent music contributed very largely to the cheer and charm of the occasion. Alternating with the band, the Misses Hurley gave a number of their popular and well-executed pianoforte duets, and Mr. Winborne, of Toronto, a baritone, gave, including the encores which his excellent singing evoked, some half a dozen spirited selections. The refreshment rooms, also beautifully decorated with abundance of cut flowers, was under the capable management of Mr. Harry Long. Altogether the occasion was one of the greatest success and enjoyment, to both the hosts and their friends, and will have doubtless an important effect in giving a warmer tone to the social intercourse of the coming season by permitting so many of the citizens to exchange social amenities on the first day of the year.

PETERBOROUGH WATER WORKS.

"To Buy or not to Buy, That is the Question."

A PROBLEM FOR THE RATEPAYERS.

Something to Consider on Both Sides of the Subject—Some Considerations Suggested to Ratepayers—A Few Points Pro and Con.

On January 6th the ratepayers will be called upon to decide perhaps the most important question of its kind that has been presented in the history of the town. The proposal of the bylaw upon which they will then be required to vote, calls for the appropriation of the no inconsiderable sum of $230,000, for the purchase of the works of the Peterborough Water Company. The people may, or may not, recognize the magnitude of the undertaking involved in the purchase of the water works. Whether they do, or not, is not evident by any special display of interest, or warmth of discussion. They may have accepted as satisfactory the favourable view of the purchase involved in the report of the special committee presented to the council, on the occasion of the adoption of the bylaw to be submitted to the people. This, however, is only one side of the question, and it is not good business to enter upon an important undertaking, or make a large purchase of any kind of property, without considering all the possible information both for and against, striking a balance, and taking action, according to the way in which such balance might incline.

The Town Council has collected certain expressions of opinion from municipalities where municipal ownership of water works obtains. This may be given below in the form in which it has already been published, but to arrive at its true value as a factor in helping the ratepayers to a right decision, the Examiner also presents some suggestions for the consideration of the ratepayers that furnish food for thought, and may help to a more intelligent opinion on the subject of water works purchase. The several towns represented in this correspondence, as distinctly favourable to municipal ownership, are as follows:

BELLEVILLE.

The City Clerk of Belleville writes to the effect that there are in that city 165 hydrants, for which the city pays to the Commissioners $8,750 as yearly rental, and get free water for all public buildings, and offices, and three public fountains, and four for street-watering purposes. The free water is estimated at $5,250. The Belleville water works are managed by three commissioners.

BRANTFORD.

Mr. H. F. Leonard, City Clerk, of Brantford, in forwarding rates charged by the Water Commissioners of that city, further states that the Mayor thinks it is desirable for the municipality to own and operate the system of water works. The schedule of rates state that no annua rent shall be less than $1.87. Private dwelling houses, not exceeding five rooms, are rated at $3.13; seven rooms, $3.75; eight rooms, and over, $5.00 each additional faucet when consumption is increased, $1.25. Baths in private houses for first bath, $2.50; each additional bath, $1.25.

KINGSTON.

Mr. L. W. Shannon, City Clerk of Kingston, writes that the water works property there was expropriated by the city in 1887. The Mayor authorizes him to state that there is only one opinion in Kingston as to the desirability of municipal ownership of water works, and that is a favourable one. Figures show that in 1887 the number of hydrants was 42, with a charge to the city for supply of the same of $1,575. The number of water takers was 900, the average annual rate per taker being $26.83. At the end of 1900 the hydrants numbered 225, with a cost of $750, while the water takers had increased to 3,415, and the rate was only $8.64.

GALT.

The City Clerk of Galt, in enclosing bylaw and rates as to the water-works there, statis there cannot be any doubt as to the advisability of the municipality owning its water works, the general feeling there being very favourable. The scale of water rates for dwellings, pisces six rooms and under at $5 per annum; over six rooms, $7 per annum. The water works there have up to the present been operated by a committee of the council, but a commission is soon to be elected for that purpose. Galt has 127 hydrants, 3 fountains, and water in the cemetery and public buildings, for which nothing is paid to the water works department. The system has been to assess the whole town for the water works debenture bill. From the water works in 1900 the city received $8,213.48, out of which was paid for maintenance and running expenses, $5,277.37, leaving a balance of $2,936.11 to apply on interest and sinking fund.

A common practice with the water works commitee in making their annual report is to credit the water works as follows:

127 Hydrants, $40.....	$ 5,080 00
Fountains and parks...	220 00
Water for public buildings... ...	30 00
Cemetery.....	50 00
Street sprinkling...	200 00
Cement walks.....	50 00
1351 water services...	8,213 48
	$13,893 48

BROCKVILLE.

The Mayor of Brockville writes as follows:

Dear Sir,—Our Town Clerk has just handed me a letter from your Town Clerk, which he says he has answered fully, except that in it is is stated, that you wish to have my opinion as to the desirability of a municipality owning its own water works.

It is practically the unanimous opinion of the people of Brockville that the municipal ownership of our water works has been a decided success, and as a matter of fact it could not be otherwise, for in the eight years that we have had it we have equalized consumers' rates, and have lowered them practically 35 per cent., and still have run the department at a large profit. This profit is over and above the payment of interest and providing for sinking fund. In addition to this, the fire services rendered the town is being constantly improved. I may say that we consider our waterworks a valuable franchise, and the business men of this town expect that, even putting our rates down as low as water can be obtained anywhere, we will be able to make a profit, and at some future date will assist in paying the running expenses of the town, or otherwise aid the municipal finances.

So great has been the confidence inspired in municipal ownership by our experience in water works, that a year ago the town purchased the gas and electric lighing plants, paying $100,000 for plants which we knew were old and worn out but believing that it was also a franchise which would be of value to the town, and I may say that we have run our first year at a profit of over $7,000, which will be more than enough to pay interest and sinking fund on the debentures, and we believe that when these two plants are thoroughly modernized and put upon a business basis, they will prove as successful as the water works.

These on the face of them, seem to present strong arguments in favour of municipal ownership of water works, but to furnish adequate grounds of comparison with the proposed step of Peterborough in this direction, some further information might have been given. In these several letters no information is afforded as to whether a frontage water tax is imposed, a very important consideration in the production of a revenue, and particularly affecting ratepayers, and especially, small property owners. Nor is there any information as to what provision, if any, was made in the purchase to provide for expenditures on capital account, for renewal or for extension of the system. These and other data relating to these towns should be given in order to admit of making a fair comparison with the conditions in Peterborough. However, the ratepayers are invited to carefully study and analyze the facts and figures presented, and give them their true value in influencing a decision.

As to the reduction of rates: It is impossible from the information respecting other towns presented above to decide whether the present Peterborough rates are excessive. The rates differ—some items being lower and some higher than those in this town, but it is asserted that the water rates in Peterborough as a whole are as low, and in some cases lower, than the average rates in the province. It will surprise many to know that in one sense Peterborough is paying practically nothing for its hydrant service. We have 126 hydrants costing now at $35 each, $4,410. Last year the free water supplied the town by the Water Company was, (calculated at the ordinary commercial rates as prevailing in the City of Toronto,) worth $8,585.55 — 57,237,000 gallons at 15 cents — that is the Water Company supplied the town with free water for street watering, sewer flushing, water troughs, etc., etc., etc., to the amount of $4,175.55 in excess of what it received on hydrant rental. The question for ratepayers to consider is whether the town can do better itself in this respect than the Company is now doing for the town. Then as to reduction of rates—assuming that the present rates are as low as they can practically be made—can that be effected without a notable increase of consumption and still maintain the revenue. The way some municipalities effect an increase of consumption, or its equivalent, an increase of revenue, is by levying a frontage water tax. In Ottawa "the owner or occupant of any house, tenement, lot or part of lot or both, past which the water pipes shall run, shall pay as water rate or rent, whether such owner or occupant shall use the water or not" certain fixed prices according to assessment. According to this Ottawa arrangement, whether water is taken or not or whether property is vacant or occupied, the following rates are levied: On $300 assessment and under, $6 per year; on property assessed from $300 to $600, the rate is $8 per year; from $600 to $1,000, $10, and for every additional $500 of assessment or part of it, $2 is levied; besides a special rate is levied against vacant lots used as piling grounds for wood, etc. It does not appear whether in the case of the towns mentioned above, this means is adopted to increase the revenue from water works. It is no doubt a very effective way to secure a revenue, especially since, in respect of a large portion of it it is net revenue, there being no deduction for cost of service. It is for the ratepayers to decide as to the possibility of the necessity or desirability of adopting that or a similar system here to increase the revenue of the water works.

And there is little doubt that, in case the works are acquired by the town, the question of water supply will be an active matter for discussion and contention. The consumers of water will be clamouring for reduction of rates, and will contend that those who are not contributing to the revenue for the works, should be made to do so; and those who are not contributing will perhaps feel like saying that those who use the water should pay for their supply, and that others should not be called upon to pay for what they do not use. In other words, is there not a probability that there will be an effort on one hand to bring about a frontage water tax, and on the other hand bitter resistance to such a course?

Another point for consideration is the provision of money for capital expenditure for water works extension or renewals or repairs in case of serious accident such as the breaking of a dam, etc. The $230,000 to be authorized by the bylaw will be wiped out in the purchase of the works and nothing is left for expenditure on capital account. The surplus revenue, after paying interest and sinking fund, of $1,000 or $1,500 as the case may be, would not perhaps provide for half the capital expenditure of a season, even if the commissioners would allow it to be so used. The town would then have to come to the ratepayers for, say, the $3,000, $6,000 or $8,000, that might be required in any year for capital expenditure for extensions or repairs, or add the sum, whatever it might be, to the general tax rate. The failure to specify what is to be done to provide for capital expenditure might lead to complications. The City of Windsor, it is said, has a suit in the Supreme Court to decide whether the commissioners or the city shall be responsible for certain expenditures on capital account, with the possibility that the law costs will exceed the cost of the work.

Another question is, can the town conduct the works as cheaply as a private corporation? It is the opinion of those most favourable to Municipal ownership that it cannot. For instance the City of Ottawa the other day opened a supplementary pumping ing plant and buildings, requiring two and a half years for work that could have been done in one. The cost of this work was $95,000 for an eight million gallon plant or $11,750 per million gallons, the work done under municipal corporation control. The similar plant of the Peterborough Water Works cost $23,000 or $9,511 per million gallons, the work done under private company control. This discrepancy and the conditions it suggests, seem to be a consideration that should be taken into account in deciding the question of purchase and future municipal control of the Water Works.

The information, or suggestions herein presented for consideration, favourable or unfavourable to purchase, are advanced in no disputatious spirit, but merely to set ratepayers to thinking, with perhaps the result that other questions favourable or otherwise, might suggest themselves for the consideration of ratepayers.

The real question seems to be as to the probability or otherwise, of the town successfully managing the the works, assuming that the works are worth the price proposed. $230,000 It seems to be the general feeling that the price, while not excessive, comes pretty close to the value of the works. In addition to the pumping plant, mains and service, the Company will turn over a valuable asset to the town in the shape of the dam and the attached lands—3 acres on the west side of the river and on the east side, 18 or 20 acres capable of being used as valuable sites for manufactories, together with an estimated 500 reserve horse power, which will, however, cost something to develop. There is hardly any question of the excellent and substantial nature of the works themselves. They have been put in with great care by an experienced and conscientious superintendent, and all work, whether below or above ground, may be regarded as first-class. Therefore the works, being of good quality, and with the price assumed as reasonable, the real question to be answered in view of all considerations, is can or will the town conduct the works as cheaply and profitably as the present Company, and maintain or increase the present revenue. Can the town, everything considered, give the people a better and a cheaper service than the present Company, without considerably increasing the rate of taxation? There seems to be the real questions for the people to decide.

LORD MINTO'S LEVEE

The Usual New Year's Reception Held by His Excellency

SIR OLIVER MOWAT AT TORONTO

Premier Ross Assisted the Distinguished Lieutenant-Governor of This Province in the Annual New Year's Social Functions—The German Kaiser Was Good-Humored—President Roosevelt's Reception.

Ottawa, Jan. 2.—The levee of His Excellency the Governor General, held yesterday morning in the Eastern Departmental Building, was the chief social event of New Year's Day in the capital. It was a cheery function, officers of the headquarters staff and of the local regiments appearing in uniforms, and the orchestra of the Governor-General's Foot Guards playing lively airs, while over six hundred citizens paid their respects to the King's representative in Canada. Lord Minto was attended by Major Maude, military secretary, and Capt. Bell, A.D.C.

The members of the Cabinet present were Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Richard Cartwright, Hon. R. W. Scott, Hon. Sydney Fisher, Hon. F. W. Borden and Hon. Clifford Sifton. Among the notables who had the honor of shaking hands with the Governor-General were Mgr. Falconio, the Papal Delegate; Archbishop Duhamel, Vicar-General Routhier, Rev. Dr. Emery, rector of the University of Ottawa; Archbishop Bogert and Signor Marconi, whose card reads: "Chevalier Guiglielmo Marconi," "Officier de LaCarrone d'Italie."

Refreshments were served in an ante-room of the Governor-General's offices.

Sir Oliver Mowat Received.

Toronto, Jan. 2.—His Honor Sir Oliver Mowat received as usual at Government House yesterday. Premier Ross, following out the time-honored custom, assisted him, and Commander Law and Capt. Van Straubenzie were in attendance. Miss Mowat, Miss Margery Mowat and Miss Casey also helped to welcome the guests.

President Roosevelt's New Year's.

Washington, Jan. 2.—President Roosevelt held his first New Year's reception at the White House yesterday, and, surrounded by the Presidental and cabinet circles, he greeted officials in every branch of the public life, as well as great concourse of people from private life. The scene within the historic mansion was one of extraordinary beauty and brilliancy. President Roosevelt's manner of receiving his callers was extremely gracious and happy. Mrs. Roosevelt proved a most charming New Year's host.

Russia and France.

Paris, Jan. 2.—The customary exchange of New Year's greetings between St. Petersburg and Paris occurred yesterday. The Czar telegraphed as follows: To President Loubet: "Tsarskoe-Selo, Jan. 1. On the occasion of the New Year the Empress and myself desire to express to you our best wishes for France and for you personally. Among the most agreeable remembrances of the year just closed, that of the few days passed in the beautiful country, friendly and allied to us, is especially dear. Nicholas."

Gen. Andre, the Minister of War, telegraphed to the Russian Minister of War, Gen. Kouropatkino, the greetings of the French army to the Russian army, and to Their Majesties.

The Day in Berlin.

Berlin, Jan. 2.—The New Year's festivities were marked by the emergency of the court from mourning. There was a service in the morning in the chapel of the Palace in the presence of the Imperial family, Chancellor Von Buelow and other dignitaries. After the ceremony of nailing to their staffs the standards of several new corps, the Emperor and Empress received the diplomats. Later in the afternoon the Emperor returned the calls of the ambassadors. The New Year's reception is a function to which no diplomat of lower rank than an ambassador is invited. His Majesty was especially good-humored yesterday. He conversed with each of the eight ambassadors in their own language, except in the case of the Turkish Ambassador, and, even to him, the Emperor uttered a few happy phrases in Turkish.

Lord Rosslyn had several hours of hard luck, but when he arose at 11 o'clock he was 31,000 francs ($6,200) to the good on the day.

How a Sprain Does Hurt!

But it isn't the pain alone that is dreaded, just think of the loss of time and wages. Sprains without number have been cured by rubbing Polson's Nerviline well into the pores of the skin surrounding the joint. No matter whether it is a sprained wrist, ankle, knee or back, just try Nerviline on it, and see how quickly it will cure. There is only one liniment that can be depended upon to cure sprains, strains and swellings, an dthat is Polson's Nerviline. Large bottle 25 cents.

A Man's Sad Death.

Quebec, Jan. 2.—A well-known stevedore named Charles Murphy, met with a fatal accident about 4 o'clock Tuesday while engaged in removing snow from the yards of the Canadian Pacific Railway. While standing on one of the platform cars with a shovel in his hands, the train started suddenly, and unexpectedly, knocking him off, and throwing him between the cars, one of which passed over his body, cutting one leg off near the hip and the other off below the knee, as well as severing his right arm. He was 40 years old, a widower and the father of a family of seven children.

Years He Is Drowned.

Collingwood, Jan. 2.—The young man, William Green, son of Mr. Charles Green, G.T.R., who wandered from home about a week ago, while suffering from a long illness, has not yet been heard of. It was expected that the heavy northwest wind that prevailed Tuesday would, perhaps, bring some tidings, but, so far, nothing has transpired. All the surrounding districts have been searched for him, and the general opinion, reluctantly come to, by the family, is that the bay has claimed another victim.

Situation Is Critical.

Mexico City, Jan. 2.—The situation in the Pan-American conference continues critical and probably not until to-morrow will the fate of the gathering be known. The Chilian delegation conferred yesterday, and when seen declined to give any intimation as to their ultimate action. If they remain firm and refuse to allow the plan of compulsory arbitration to be reported to the conference, then either they or several of the other South American delegates must withdraw.

A large number of witnesses were examined, and the case occupied the attention of the court all day. At 7.30 o'clock in the evening the court adjourned until 11 o'clock this morning.

Portland, Maine, Jan. 2.—A remarkable increase in live stock shipments is shown in the annual report, which was issued yesterday. In 1900 the grand total of cattle, sheep and horses shipped from Portland to the United Kingdom was 32,636, while the total for the season of 1901 is 100,889. A big increase in Canadian cattle and sheep also is recorded, cattle shipments being 21,433, against 7,898 in 1900, and sheep shipments 15,064, against 5,807 in 1900. The number of horses shipped during the last season was smaller than in 1900, the totals being: American horses 36, against 62 in 1900; Canadian horses 285, against 671 in 1901.

GERMANY YET HOPES

That Venezuela Will Pay Her Claims Without Bloodshed.

ARE ON FRIENDLY TERMS YET

No Truth in the Despatch From Caracas That the German Minister Had Left the Venezuelan Capital After a Heated Exchange of Words With President Castro—Secretary Hay's Answer.

Berlin, Dec. 31.—The German Foreign Office authorizes the Associated Press to announce there is no truth whatever in the despatches from Caracas, saying the German Minister has left the Venezuelan capital after a heated exchange of words with President Castro. The German Charge d'Affaires, Herr Von Pilgrim-Baltazzi, is still at his post, and is continuing negotiations with President Castro. There has not been any question of breaking off diplomatic relations with Venezuela. The German Minister to Venezuela, Dr. O. Schmidt-Leda, who has been on a vacation here, is now on his way to Caracas. The Foreign Office again solemnly reiterates the statement that it does not contemplate territorial acquisition in Venezuela.

Replying to Germany's utterances to the United States regarding the former's plans in connection with Venezuela, the Foreign Office here has received an answer from Secretary Hay, expressing full satisfaction with Germany's position. Germany still hopes to collect her claims peaceably.

FIRE IN VICTORIA, B.C.

The Loss Is Estimated at a Quarter of a Million.

Victoria, B. C. Dec. 31.—David Spencer's "Arcade," the largest dry goods and general furnishing establishment in British Columbia and the most heavily and completely stocked establishment of its kind in the Pacific Northwest, was completely gutted by a fire which started shortly after 10 p.m. on Saturday, and raged angrily for several hours. The loss, chiefly by smoke and water damage, latest information places at a quarter of a million dollars on stock and with insurance of sixty per cent. of this sum, divided among sixteen companies.

HALDIMAND PROHIBITIONISTS.

Provincial Organizer Nicholls Addresses the County Convention.

Cayuga, Dec. 31.—A prohibition convention was held in the Methodist Church, Cayuga, yesterday afternoon. Quite a number of representatives from the County of Haldimand were present. Rev. Mr. Dobson of Caledonia was elected chairman. After devotional exercises, Mr. Nicholls, Provincial organizer, gave an address, pointing out that the present was a critical time in the history of temperance legislation. He further said that the Ontario Government was pledged to introduce a prohibition measure at this next session.

Committees were appointed on the following: Organization, finances, political action. The committee on organization reported, Rev. Mr. Dobson of Caledonia president, Rev. Mr. Kay, of York secretary. Mr. McClung of Decewsville treasurer. Local convenors were also appointed.

The committee on finance reported the raising of money for campaign purposes and organization work, and the committee on Political Action brought in the following resolution: That, whereas, the Privy Council has upheld the Manitoba Act; resolved that we, the temperance workers of the County of Haldimand, in convention, humbly pray the Provincial Government will redeem its pledge by introducing a prohibitory act at its next session."

Mr. Nicholls addressed a mass meeting last evening.

Whitby, Dec. 31.—John Blow, who settled here in 1845, died last night, aged 82 years. Many B. C. Japs Missing.

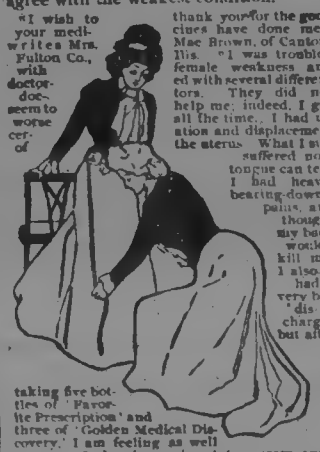
Vancouver, B. C., Dec. 31.—Twenty Japanese are missing from Steveston, and are supposed to have been killed or drowned in the destruction of a Japanese boarding house between Steveston and Point Roberts last Thursday morning.

Women are vastly more patient than men. It is scarcely believable that a woman, suffering past all telling, can attend to business, and bend and stoop with a back whose ache is agony. And beyond all this she smiles as she bends and stoops about her customer. A man might swallow down an oath or keep back a groan, but his face would be like a thundercloud, and his voice scarcely disguise his irritation.

For women who suffer from backache, bearing-down pains, or other pains due to womanly diseases, there is no other medicine equal to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It regulates the womanly functions, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

There is no alcohol in "Favorite Prescription" and it is entirely free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics. A vegetable preparation, it cannot disagree with the weakest condition.



"I wish to thank your doctor for the good your medicines have done me," writes Mrs. Mae Brown, of Canton, Ills. "I was troubled with doctor-doctors seem to female weakness and suffered no end of several different tongue can tell. tors. They did not I had heavy help me; indeed, I got bearing-down all the time. CONSUMPTION IS CURABLE.

French Savants Declare That Pure Air Will Do It.

Washington, D.C., Dec. 31.—Consumption is curable according to the report of a commission of French savants, who made an exhaustive investigation of the disease. A translation of the report has been received by Secretary Hay.

The report declares that consumption is curable at all stages. A Dr. Dartberg is quoted as having said: "During the last ten years I have cured a number of consumptives, who have resumed their active occupations, have married and now have healthy children. I can even say that I myself am the consumptive that I know the best whom I have cured. I am, therefore, able to confirm that consumption is curable."

Pure air, such as is found on the seashore and on high mountains, is the best remedy for consumption. In order that this remedy should be effective it should be continuous—the patient should not only keep his windows and doors open night and day, but should persevere in this air for a long time.

Four Men May Die.

Tiffin, Ohio, Dec. 31.—Four men may die as the result of a collision between freight trains on the Pennsylvania Railway near here yesterday. Engineer Keister and O. J. Chadwick, operator at Warsaw Junction, were buried under debris, and were not rescued for hours. Both were badly injured and nearly frozen. Fireman Belt and Brakeman Cosgrove were thrown 100 feet into a corn field and will probably die.

Motorman Arrested.

Montreal, Dec. 31.—An inquest was held yesterday on the body of Catherine Murphy, who died Sunday morning at 9 o'clock as a result of being struck by an electric car on Thursday evening last. The result of the investigation was that the jury ordered Coroner McMahon to issue a warrant for the arrest of Motorman Hector Aidans, holding him criminally responsible for the death of the deceased. In accordance with the verdict, Coroner McMahon immediately issued the warrant, and the motorman was placed under arrest.

Sudden Death in Berlin.

Berlin, Dec. 31.—Mr. H. J. Hall, for years a prominent lumber dealer and respected citizen, died suddenly last evening. He was driving up King street, when the horse turned in, and Mr. Hall's head was noticed to drop to one side. On running to his assistance, he was unconscious and speechless. He was quickly driven home, and medical aid summoned, but life was extinct. Deceased was about 65 years old, and leaves a widow, one son and a daughter.

MAYORS BY ACCLAMATION.

Fifteen Elected in Ontario Towns Without a Vote of the People—Seven in the Cities.

Toronto, Dec. 31.—Keen interest all over Ontario was taken in nomination of municipal offices yesterday. A rather remarkable showing is made by scanning the nominations in towns and cities. Fifteen mayors of towns were elected by acclamation, most of them being given a second term. The lucky ones were: Capt. Ribble, Dresden; A. Read, Owen Sound; William Ogden, Vankleek Hill; Dr. Hawke, Galt; E. Gaurdet, Sandwich; E. G. Swift, Walkerville; H. S. Cane, Newmarket; J. B. Tudhope, Orillia; R. Vanstone, Wingham; J. H. Broadfoot, Seaforth; Charles Collins, Dundas; G. Forbes, Hespeler; M. C. Cameron, Goderich; C. H. Reilly, Welland, and W. E. Smallfield, Renfrew. In the cities seven chief magistrates went by acclamation. They were to John Kennedy, Guelph; Sperrin Chant, St. Thomas; James Stamp, Stratford; R. J. Graham, Belleville; Fred Cook, Ottawa; D. B. Wood, Brantford; Salmon, Chatham.

The Toronto Fight.

Toronto, Dec. 31.—Yesterday three candidates were nominated for the position of Mayor, which carries with it $4,000 a year salary. They were: Mr. W. F. Maclean, M.P., C. C. Woodley and the present Mayor, O. A. Howland. The speeches of the three candidates were all socialistic, municipal ownership of public franchises getting a great boost in the Queen City. Mr. Woodley is a straight Socialist, the others favoring certain well-defined measures of public ownership, but not going the length of all the means of production and distribution. It is conceded that the fight is between the two Conservatives and that Mr. Woodley's candidature is only educational.

Swallowed Too Much Laudanum.

Toronto, Dec. 31.—Early yesterday morning Mrs. Ann Healey, who lived in the rear of 372 West King street, swallowed a quantity of laudunum, from the effects of which she died last night in St. Michael's Hospital. Deceased was about 45 years of age. She had not been well for some time, and it is thought she took the poison to ease some pain and swallowed too large a quantity.

Suicide at Eighteen.

Charlottetown, P.E.I., Dec. 31.—Neil Matheson, 18 years of age, dispensing clerk in Gourlay's drug store, Summerside, suicided yesterday morning. He came to the city to make application for a position in the Medical Corps for South Africa. He asked the clerk in a drug store for carbolic acid for a sore finger; turned his back and swallowed it.

"SPEAK WHEN YOU'RE SPOKEN TO."

That is the rule of the telephone, and most people consider it binding upon them, even though it may often be at considerable inconvenience to themselves, to answer when the bell rings. One would expect that people filling public and official positions would consider this rule even more strongly binding on them than persons in private life. There is one public office, however, that sets up a different standard—that is the Customs Office. Is there any good reason why the officials who represent His Majesty in the duty of collecting revenue from the common people, should feel so high and mighty that they will not "speak when they are spoken to" over the telephone?

Officials in the departments at Ottawa and Toronto are not above this plain, every day sort of civility, and even Ministers of the Crown will answer you on the telephone. What do the Customs Officers at Peterborough set themselves up to be?

One of Those Who Pay
For That Telephone.

EXPLANATORY.

To the Editor of the Examiner.—

Dear Sir,—It is only fair that more explicit explanation should be made of the relations of the unfortunate girl, Bertha Freeburn, to a local ladies' society. In a paragrahp appearing on Monday, reciting her friendless and destitute condition, it was stated that "the Y.W.C.A. did not feel able to look after her." This would be understood by any person conversant with the circumstances, but to others it might it might be misleading. It appears that the unfortunate creature is subject to epileptic seizures, and that her personal habits and personal requirements make it impossible for the Y.W.C.A. to look after her unless the institution were turned into an infirmary, which is absolutely impracticable. The Y.W.C.A. should no more be asked to accept and maintain or treat a deseased person than the Y.M.C.A., or than a hospital should be asked to provide a temporary home or give assistance, counsel, moral or mental improvement, and entertainment to the class of young women for whose benefit the Y.W.C.A. is established and maintained.

The poor girl in question is certainly in a sadly isolated and unfortunate condition. She does not seem to be a fit subject for a hospital, or any existing organized charity; and the jail—the place for criminals—is certainly no place for a poor afflicted girl, whose only crime is her poverty and helplessness, a "crime," which to the shame of many a Christian community, is often punished, negatively, of course, and without intent, but as surely, with greater severity than the crime of the burglar or thief. The Christian community is too prone, let us hope only by thoughtfulness, to unload its duty upon organized charities. Here is an unfortunate girl, subjected to a terrible affliction, which excludes her from shelter, which she could or would have under other circumstances, and exposed, when outside the jail, to the brutality of brutal men—who could hardly be blame of an outcast were she vicious to the last degree, or stricken with leprosy or small-pox. Within the past month thousands of dollars have been spent, and properly enough, in recognition of the spirit of charity, which came into the world at the Christmas season. Whilst the hearts of the people are opened and softened by the influences of the season, they could be easily brought to respond to the appeal of a few Christian ladies for funds to provide a home, temporary at least—which could be got for money—for the unfortunate girl in question. Think how He whose blessed mother was a woman would smile upon those who would, by practical sympathy, earn His commendation—"I was sick and in prison, and ye visited me."

Yours truly,

NEW YEAR'S FLOWERS.

It is a pretty custom to decorate the house with flowers and plants during the first days of the New Year, and it is not a very expensive custom either if you come to the right place for your decorations. A visit to the West End Greenhouses will show you that we have every flower and plant you want. There are roses, carnations, violets, lilies of the valley, daffodils, hyacinths, and narcissus, vieing with each other in sweetness. And then among the plants you will see pretty azaleas, cyclamens, ferns, of all kinds, and palms. A. Blade, Manager. Phone, 218.

A PRESENTATION.

Mr. George Fitzgerald's Employees Very Kindly Remember Him.

The employees of Mr. George Fitzgerald's carriage factory, very thoughtfully remembered him on New Year's Day, by presenting him with a beautiful easy chair as an evidence of the respect in which they hold their employer. Mr. Thos. Lang read the address and Mr. John Gibbs, sr., made the presentation. The address was as follows:

Dear Mr. Fitzgerald:

We, your employees, feel that we cannot let this opportunity pass without showing our appreciation of your many kindnesses to us. We would ask you to accept this small gift from us, combined with our best wishes towards you, including a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

John Gibbs, Sr., G. R. McCrea, Thos. Lang, Robt. Mein, John Gibbs, Jr., P. Heffernan, Geo. Detcher, Alex. Gibbs, Herbert Fallis.

Mr. Fitzgerald was greatly taken by surprise, but in a few appropriate words, thanked his employees for their beautiful present, which he would ever cherish as a memento of the pleasant relationship existing between himself and his staff.

COASTING ACCIDENT

To Master George Martin on Monday—A Dangerous Sport.

It is about time that an effort was made to prevent the children of the town from coasting down the hills, particularly on the sidewalks. A hill that is very largely patronized in this regard is the Benson street hill, and on Monday an accident occurred there to Master George Martin, son of Mr. G. K. Martin, that will likely prove a warning to others. Master Martin will have the sympathy of the public in his accident although it will, as before stated, only promote action to place some restriction on this dangerous though perhaps enjoyable amusement. Master Martin was coming down on the sidewalk and collided with two pedestrians who were entitled to the right of way, but who attempted to make room for the boy. However, they stepped one to each side and he became confused with the result that a mix-up occurred. A physician was summoned and the little fellow is doing nicely this morning. The risk of breaking the young ladies' limbs was great indeed, and it is fortunate that no further injuries resulted.

If the young people would keep to the road it might not be so bad. It would not be altogether right to debar them of every privilege of coasting but the sidewalks should not be used.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

HOCKEY.

A full practice is called for this evening. The players are asked to turn out regularly from this date, as the first league game of the season will be played in Lindsay on Jan. 10th, and the selection of the team must be made with due regard to the condition of the players.

The students who are home from college for the Christmas vacation would like to make a match with the Pill-pounders or some other of the town teams.

BASKET BALL.

In the afternoon and evening the gymnasium from 4 till 10 proved to be the centre of attraction, when basket ball received a fresh impetus. The new game of volley ball was introduced and was much enjoyed by those who took part and the spectators claim it will be one worth seeing when it has been sufficiently introduced.

The scheduled games last evening were all that could be expected which is saying considerable. The first match between the Brownies and Crescents was indeed a close contest, the play being fast in the extreme. This game proved a victory for the Brownies, their first this season. However, they played clean, fast, basket ball and show great promise of speed and accuracy in shooting. The work of Miller on the forward line was exceptionally good, and that of Maguire for the forwards, who being so closely checked by Hall, was unable to be effective in scoring. The score was 12—6.

The second game of the evening was without doubt the fastest that has been played in the gym. this winter and the teams comprised some of the fastest players in the Association. The teams were the Harriers and Pen-pushers, the latter team proving victors by a score of 11 to 6. The features of the game were scores made by Laing, which deserved all the applause tendered, and one by Merrill from centre field. The Harriers were without their impregnable defence man, Ross Dobbin and the Pen-pushers were minus Robinson at centre. It was seen from the outset the Harriers were playing the combination game, but their eyes were totally blind to the basket which seemed far too small. Their opponents here seemed especially strong, and Hall managed to secure a good lead early in the game. For the Pen-pushers, the defence was exceeding strong. Merrill and Smith being so tall that the little balloon could not pass them at any point. It will be casting no reflection on others to say Will Campbell, on the Harriers' defence played the hardest and most effective game on the floor, and only of three months experience. Capt. Richardson may well feel proud of his aggregation, and after the effects of the season's festivities are over, he claims that they will be able to retrieve their loss. Following is a list of the teams and players:

Brownies—G. Miller, Capt., Daly, N. Miller, Hall and Boucher.

ICE RACES.

A meeting of the Race Club will be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the Clunan House. All those interested are asked to attend.

RUGBY.

A meeting of the Rugby Team for the election of a captain will be held on Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the Y.M.C.A.

The Peterborough Rugby Team will be photographed at Roy's at 2.30 o'clock on Saturday afternoon.

THE PUBLIC INSTITUTIONS.

The Inmates Were the Recipients of Much Cheer.

The Interior of the Buildings Were Handsomely Decorated.

Yesterday being New Year's day, the various public institutions were visited by many and evidences of many acts of kindness towards the inmates were to be seen.

HOUSE OF PROVIDENCE.

Perhaps no institution presented a happier appearance than the House of Providence. Mother St. Edward was everywhere about the building with words of cheer for the inmates. There consisted of 47 grown up people and 18 children. The decorations were ample and many donations were received in the form of money and provisions. A remarkable feature about the House of Providence is the presence of Mr. Quigley, one of the inmates, who is 102 years of age, and who is in excellent health for his advanced years. He is still quite conversable and though slightly paralyzed is well able to look after himself. The House of Providence presented a highly creditable appearance.

NICHOLLS HOSPITAL.

New Year's passed off very enjoyably at the Nicholls Hospital, where 23 patients in all greeted the coming of January 1st, 1902. The decorations which had been put in position for Christmas, still remained. They consisted of evergreens, bunting and flags, and presented a charming appearance. There were the usual number of New Years callers, all of whom were in the absence of the Lady Superintendent, Miss Bolster, received very cordially by Miss Wilmot, the nurse in charge.

ST. JOSEPH'S HOSPITAL.

New Years brought to the inmates of St. Joseph's, a great deal of cheer. The handsome and comfortable institution was, as in former years, appropriately decorated. The words, "Happy New Year!" were in evidence throughout the corridors, and many pretty effects were produced. Sister Clotilde, Lady Superior, received a number of donations of New Year's cheer from various gentlemen of the town for her 20 patients, and needless to say, they were highly appreciated.

BARNARDO HOME.

The little ones at the Barnardo Home had their principal festivities on Christmas, but New Year's was also fittingly observed. Miss Woodgate has in charge 40 little ones, all of whom were made happy. In the morning the little ones attended St. John's church in a body.

PROTESTANT HOME.

The 18 inmates of the Protestant Home were not forgotten by the friends of the institution. The snug old quarters, which were profusely decorated for Christmas with evergreens, looked exceptionally cheerful. The Sons of England kindly sent $5 with which to purchase New Year's cheer, and a number of turkeys, as well as a quantity of clothing were also received.

ELECTION OF A SEPARATE SCHOOL TRUSTEE.

Mr. G. W. Powell, Deputy Returning Officer in No. 4 Ward, for the election of a Separate School trustee, closed the poll at 5 minutes after 3 this afternoon, as one hour had passed without a vote being polled. Mr. Joseph Hickey was elected, polling 27 votes, as against Mr. Daniel Hennessey's 11.

THE W. F. M. S. CONCERT.

The concert with Mr. Galletley last Monday night in St. Andrew's hall was an unprecedented success. A host of Mr. Galletley's old friends gathered, and were greatly delighted and enthused by his vigorous Scotch songs. His agility and great power of expression made such songs as "Hunting Tower," and "Rueben and Rachael," living incidents. In this he was very ably assisted by Mrs. Robert Mein. Mr. Galletley has lost none of his old time vigor, and as the evening wore on there was an increasing freshness in the singer. While his rendering of "Afton Water" was charming, his closing piece "Excelsior" was very captivating.

The programme also included well-rendered solos by Misses Maggie Weddell and Nellie Davies, a most acceptable duet by Misses Lila Tully and Nellie Barber, while Miss Aggie Paterson, whose work in Peterborough is always highly appreciated, gave two humorous readings.

The evening, which seemed all too short, though lasting till 10.15, came to a close by all singing "Auld Lang Syne."

How to get up an Appetite.

Distaste for food often follows Grippe, and fevers, and is associated with a general weakness of the system. To impart a real zest for food, and give power to the stomach to digest and assimilate, no remedy can equal Ferrozone. This is a new and startling discovery. It strikes at the root of disease and by removing the cause, cures quickly and permanently. Ferrozone will quickly enable you to eat and digest anything. Ormond & Walsh, druggists, can tell you a great deal more about Ferrozone, how it cures and why it cures. Call to-day and see them.

NEW YEAR'S RECEPTION

For Young Men at the Y. M. C. A.—Largely Attended.

A splendid start was made for the New Year at the Y.M.C.A. yesterday, at the annual reception which was a success from every standpoint, particularly in point of numbers and social interest.

The building was, in the interior, very nicely decorated with bunting and evergreens, the reception taking place on the first floor of the building. The Ladies' Auxiliary served refreshments during the afternoon in the reading room, this part being in charge of Mesdames Hall, Mason, Brown, Dobbin, Hunter, Whiten and Miss Brown.

The Social Committee of the Association, of which Mr. R. Merrill is chairman, had their work well in hand, every one feeling very much at home. Messrs. Barrie and Galley had charge of the decorations, Mr. W. S. Robinson had charge of the games, in which such industrious interest was centred. Many new features were here introduced, including parlor bowling, parlor tennis, hockey, croquet, ring toss and a number of others. Mr. Seymour gave many a pleasing shock with his electrical appliances. Mr. Robert Harding's art gallery was another feature which received more than a passing notice. A number of pictures adorned the walls of the library, and art folios were to be found on the tables. The musical features were never better. The music boxes loaned by Mrs. Kendrey and Mr. A. Gibson rendered good service. Mr. W. W. Daly had charge of the musical department. The piano was situated in the reception hall, at which Mr. W. Staples presided in a very able manner. The programme was informal, and Mr. Daly was assisted by Messrs. Mulligan and others. Mr. H. Milne sang a selection.

In the afternoon an exhibition of the new game of volley ball was given in the gymnasium.

The day was a most pleasant one, and many attended who were never in the building before.

MR. WHITNEY IS RIGHT.

Stony Lake Should not be Misrepresented Abroad.

Mr. W. A. Whitney, of Chicago, a representative of the American Cereal Company, writes the Examiner as follows:

Kansas City, Mo., Dec. 27.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear sir,—During a recent visit to Chicago I saw in a window of the Grand Trunk Railway's city ticket office an enlarged photographic view of the rapids near the mouth of Eels' Creek, Stony Lake, showing your esteemed fellow-townsman Dave Breeze and a youngster to me unknown, in the act of putting a canoe into the water at the foot of the portage.

The margin underneath bore this inscription: "Scenes in the Muskoka Lake District" — not a word about Stony Lake or the Kawartha Group.

While appreciating the compliment paid to the region where once I pitched my tents, I feel to protest against this filching of its natural attractions for the profit of its passe rival and the corporation with decaying summer resorts on its hands.

Yours, very truly,
W. A. WHITNEY.

FIRE LOSS $100,000

Portage la Prairie Severely Scorched Thursday Morning.

SWEPT E. SASKATCHEWAN AVE

One Side of Street Almost Wiped Out by the Rapidly Running Blaze—Fire Soon Got Beyond Control of the Fire Brigade—Citizens Hurt—Many Lose Clothes—Some of the Insurances.

Portage la Prairie, Man., Jan. 3.—Thursday morning about 1.30 o'clock fire broke out in the basement of the Grand Central Hotel on East Saskatchewan avenue, and, owing to a high northwest wind, soon got beyond the control of the fire brigade and swept with terrible rapidity. In a few moments the boot and shoe store of A. W. Bailey, next to the hotel, was in flames, and almost immediately afterwards J. Costigan's confectionery store was blazing. The next place the flames attacked was the brick block of C. A. Newman & Bros., who had a wholesale liquor store on the corner. Fire then took the building and auction rooms of H. G. Alton and quickly spread to a number of smaller stores and buildings. The buildings burned are: Grand Central Hotel and contents, A. W. Bailey, shoe and harness store; J. Costigan, confectioner; B. A. St. John, jeweler; C. A. Newman & Bros., block and wholesale liquor and grocery store; H. G. Alton, auction rooms; George Hart, tailor; J. Miller, barber; J. S. Rowe, photographer, only partially burned. The loss will amount to close on $60,000. Many of the firemen were badly burned and bruised, and Mr. Ward, who was in charge of the hotel, was also seriously hurt and bruised.

A Later Report.

Several well-known citizens lost all their clothes, and narrowly escaped with their lives. J. Ward, manager of the Central Hotel, was severely hurt, and Archie Shaw of the Albion had his face badly bruised while trying to save the stock at the Central. Dr. Lundy saved his books, but Dr. Kaake has lost his instruments and books. Dan Supiur, well known in Winnipeg, has lost all his clothes, and from what can be gathered, personal insurances are in a most unsatisfactory condition.

The town is full of the fire, and nothing else is heard of. It will be some time before the excitement settles down, and it may safely be said that $100,000 will not cover the loss. The firemen worked hard, and deserve all praise.

Very few of the burned-out men carried heavy insurance, and some of them are badly hit. In the Western Insurance, W. Laurens, owner of the Newman block, carried $1,750, and J. F. Rowe carried $750. In the Queen Insurance Co., W. Laurens carried $2,000, and $500 in the Phoenix Insurance Co. of Brooklyn. The Canadian Fire Insurance Co. is interested to the extent of $6,000.

CANADIANS DISSATISFIED.

Daily Express Says Col. Steele Once Tendered His Resignation.

London, Jan. 3.—The Daily Express says: It was understood when Col. Steele left Canada that he would command all of the 1,200 Canadians that went with him, but instead he was given command of B division only, one which had no Canadians in it. He was refused three Canadian troops that were in A division, and soon after, the colonel being ordered north, tendered his resignation rather than go away with unreliable recruits, instead of his own reliable Canadians.

One letter declares that a storm is brewing and will come before long, and either Col. Steele and a good few of the Canadians will go back to Canada inside of six months, or Col. Steele will have his own way and get control over the men from the Dominion.

War Will Soon Be Over.

London, Jan. 3.—The Daily Mail's correspondent at Madeira, wires: "I have just had a talk with General Baden-Powell on board the Saxon. The general thinks that the war will soon be over. He considers that his police will be the backbone of the Transvaal, and he wants married men to join in order to help fill the country with Englishmen."

A Big Order From England.

Montreal, Jan. 3.—A large order has been received by the Lake of the Woods Company for Manitoba flour from the British Government. The President, Mr. Robert Meighen, said: "Yes, it's quite true, we received from the War Office, through the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, an order for 12,500 barrels. Half of the order is now loaded on board the steamer Quentin for South Africa, sailing from St. John, and the other 500 tons will arrive at St. John, N.B., for shipment, by Jan. 10. The flour is all shipped from our Keewatin mill."

MAYOR SILVER STRICKEN.

After a Warm Argument With His Opponent His Heart Fails.

Collingwood, Ont., Jan. 2.— On Monday night, Mayor Silver and Mr. William Haggart, the two aspirants for the civic chair, had a very hot argument in the opera house. On leaving the hall, Mayor Silver was suddenly seized with heart failure, and Dr. McFaul was called in. It is understood the Mayor is very ill, and it will be a miracle if he manages to pull through. As yet he has not retired from the contest, but his friends and Dr. McFaul are very anxious that he should do so, as this will be a very exciting contest here, and they are afraid he will not be equal to the strain. The citizens are very sorry for the turn things have taken, as Mayor Silver is a great favorite with all, and, during the last year, has shown himself a hard worker for the town's interest.

An Advance of 50 Cents.

Winnipeg, Jan. 3.—From yesterday all provincial lands along the Manitoba and Northwestern Railway and along the line as projected west of Yorkton will sell for $4 per acre. This is an advance of 50 cents per acre.

BIGGER AND BETTER

Not enough room to show it on the ground floor—had to again make use of our manufacturing and work rooms for the display of this excellent lingerie. A space 30 feet wide by 45 feet long, splendidly lighted by three large windows and a skylight, is the space bedecked with these beautiful garments of whitewear. Not afraid to show these undermuslins in a strong light—fact is, there is a great advantage, as then the qualities are allowed to speak for themselves. They talk loudly, but then you won't mind "loudness" of this kind. NOT ON SABLE ISLAND

AUSTRALIAN TARIFF DUTIES

Some Changes Have Been Made and More Are Expected—Only One or Two Which Affects Imports From Canada—The Principal Changes—Inland Freight Struck Out—Mr. Larke's Report.

Ottawa, Jan. 3.—Signor Marconi is still in the city, and does not expect to leave for two or three days yet. He has seen several of the Ministers individually, but has had no formal interview with the Cabinet. Signor Marconi has been favored with a second invitation to dine at Government House this evening. The young inventor is not enamored with the idea of locating a station for trans-Atlantic messages on Sable Island, but expects, as already stated, to establish one at Cape Breton, which will cost between $60,000 and $70,000. Asked yesterday whether wireless telegraphy was just as practicable on land as on sea, Signor Marconi replied in the affirmative, but explained that on land more power was required. He stated that wireless telegraphy was being introduced in the Congo, where messages would be sent for a distance of one hundred miles.

Up to the present his tests indicate that aerial transmission can be carried on over a greater distance on sea than on land.

The Australian Tariff.

Under date of December 3rd, Mr. J. S. Larke, Commercial Agent for Canada at Sydney, New South Wales, reports that the new Australian tariff is in committee in the House of Representatives, and some changes have been made, and more are expected. So far but one or two affect imports from Canada. The Labor party, which holds a strong position in the Federal Parliament, has announced its intention to demand a reduction on the proposed duties which, it is estimated, will amount to £1,168,000, or about one-eighth of the revenue anticipated from the tariff as brought down. Already some reductions have been made by the Government, and as more are expected, importers hesitate to give import orders until there are better grounds for judging what the tariff is likely to be. The resolutions are not likely to pass both Houses before Christmas.

The Principal Changes.

Mr. Larke gives the changes made. A concession has been allowed on underproof spirits imported prior to the introduction of the tariff and remaining in bond; tobacco is reduced from 3s 6d per pound to 3s 3d; cigars are changed from 3s 6d per pound and 15 per cent. ad valorem to 6s 3d per pound and 15 per cent. ad valorem. Cattle, sheep, pigs and poultry, originally 20 per cent., ad valorem, are now free. Biscuits are reduced from 1½d to 1d per pound. Cocoa, chocolate and cocoa butter are reduced from 2d per pound and 15 per cent. ad valorem to 1d per pound. Confectionery, originally 3d per pound and 15 per cent. ad valorem, in now 2d per pound. Vegetables, dried and concentrated, are reduced from 20 per cent. to 15 per cent. Oatmeal, rolled oats, wheat meal, pearl barley, Scotch barley, maizina and corn flour are reduced from 1d per pound to 1½d per pound. Apparel and attire increased from 20 to 25 per cent.; fancy shirtings, reduced from 15 to 20 per cent. to 10 per cent.; cotton and linen, piece goods, n.e.s., reduced from 15 to 10 per cent.; timber for butter boxes free, honey, jams and jellies reduced 2d per pound to 1½d per pound; meats or fish, poultry and game, fresh or preserved by cold process, originally 1d per pound; frozen meats now exempt; salt reduced from 20s to 10s per ton. Consideration of the duties on matches, preserved milk, rice, soap, starch and tea postponed.

Inland Freight Struck Out.

Mr. Larke succeeded in having a customs regulation removed which would have favored American as against Canadian ports. It had been intended to add the cost of "inland freight" to the value of goods for duty; so that goods from Toronto, if shipped via New York, would pay less duty in Australia than if shipped via Vancouver. When it was brought to the attention of the Australian Government that this was an unfair discrimination against the Canadian route, the regulation was abandoned and duty charged on fair market value in all cases, with 10 per cent. added.

International Socialist Convention.

London, Jan. 3.—The International Convention of Socialists, says the Brussels correspondent of The Times, has denounced the Germanization of Poland by Prussia. Barbarous methods are alleged, and the resolution points out the hypocrisy and duplicity of the governing classes, who show indignation at British barbarism in South Africa, and yet improve and encourage the scandalous oppression of the Poles. The latter are exhorted to seek protection and economic independence in Social Democracy. The South African war, Agrarian laws, French Caesarism and the American trusts are equally denounced by the convention, and the inadequacy of trades unionism in England as a social force is deplored.

CITY CLOTHING STORE.

Our Entire $40,000 Stock of High Class Ready-to-Wear Clothing, Ordered Tailoring Suitings, Overcoatings, Trimmings, Gents' Furnishings, Hats, Caps, etc., Must be Sold

REGARDLESS OF COST!

This is our first Clearing Sale. We have been in business for nearly 29 years, and this is the only time we have announced a General Reduction Sale of such importance and it must be and will be a bona-fide one. The sale has been forced upon us because our present store has been sold and the building passed into other hands. For this reason we are compelled to begin preparations at once for moving into new premises. Our present stock on hand amounts to about $40,000, principally winter goods. We have, therefore, decided to re-mark every thing down to prices that ought to effect a general clearance and save moving the stock. On SATURDAY, JAN. 4th the Sale starts. Remember, everything in every department will share in this Red Letter Reduction Sale. We don't expect any profits. Nothing will be sold at regular prices. Buyers will reap the profits. What we say you know we mean. This will be a genuine sale—a sale that will be remembered in Peterborough for buying good goods cheap.

The Store will be closed on Friday, January 3rd, for the purpose of marking down the goods. The reduced prices will be all marked in red figures.

SOME WEATHER NOTES.

Though we had some very cold weather in December, and the general impression was that the month was colder than usual, such, however, was not the case. December had an average temperature almost identical with the same month for five or six years past. The coldest day was the 21st, with 12 deg. below zero; the warmest day, the 14th, 52 deg. The day with the greatest range of temperature was the 31st, from 32 deg. to zero. The day with the least range was the 29th, from 35 to 32 deg. The total precipitation was 3 inches and 70-100 of an inch, made up of 21 inches of snow and 1 inch and 60-100 rainfall. There was rain on 3 days; snow on 11 days. With the exception of the first ten days, there was sleighing, though generally poor, during the whole of the month.

The following are a few facts and figures concerning the year as a whole—

The winter of 1900-01 was a very steady one, with no thaw worthy of the name. There was good sleighing nearly all the time, though the snowfall was not heavy. No low temperatures were reached. Crows, robins and blackbirds made their appearance about March 21st, and the snow was all gone by the end of the month. Watering carts were out for the first time on April 11th, and some warm weather followed, but a period of continual showers occurred during the balance of April, and the whole of May, and, in fact, till the first week in June. Better weather then followed, and raised the spirits of the discouraged agriculturists.

The fall months on the contrary, showed a marked deficiency as regards the usual rainfall, and the year is minus 4 inches. The greatest precipitation on any one day was on Dec. 14th, with 1 inch and 70-100. There were only three other days during the year with over one inch.

The heaviest snowfall was on Feb. 4th, with 15 inches. The first snow flurries in the fall were noticed on Oct. 14th, and the first time down to freezing point was on the 4th of the same month.

The lowest temperature during the year was Jan. 3rd, with 19 deg. below zero. The highest temperature was July 1st, 96 deg.

July had the heaviest rainfall of any one month, viz., 5 inches and 16-100. October was the dryest month, having only 85-100 of an inch.

A PRESENTATION.

On Monday evening, December 23, a large number of friends entered the home of Mr. John Smyth, Fraserville, taking him completely by surprise, and presenting him with a valuable fur coat as a mark of esteem and appreciation of the unselfish devotion he has shown to the church and congregation for so many years. The following address was read by Rev. T. P. Steele:

To Mr. John Smyth,—

Dear Friend and Brother, — You will be no doubt surprised to see so many of us invade the quietude of your home at this hour; but be assured that we are all your friends—we come to greet you at this happy season. We bring you Christmas cheer. We are all your brothers, sisters and friends of the church and congregation. We have long appreciated your humble, faithful and willing service to the church and community. We also honour you for the devotion you have shown to your aged and now sainted mother. We sympathize with you in your bereavement and loneliness; and being desirous of giving some more tangible evidence of our deep regard for you than words can express, we ask you to accept this fur coat as an expression of the exalted position you hold in our affections; and the high estimation in which you are held by us all.

We pray that you may long be spared to be our associate in every good work, and that finally the choicest blessings of Heaven may be the portion of your lot. We wish you all the compliments of the season, and assure you our love and friendship are of such an undying nature that time will only serve to strengthen and death will never sever.

Mr. Smyth was much affected, but made a very suitable reply. Refreshments were served and a very enjoyable evening was spent. At a late hour the company sang—

"Blest be the tie that binds
Our hearts in Christian love,
The fellowship of kindred minds

After prayer by the pastor, the happy company retired to their homes realizing it is much more blessed to give than receive.

Unless a radical cure is obtained the Throat, Bronchial Tubes, and finally the lungs become affected. Nothing cures colds so quickly and pleasantly as Catarrhozone. The Inspector of Mines of Nova Scotia, Mr. Neville, says, "Catarrhozone is the best remedy I have ever used. It cured me of catarrh of the head and throat, and I am pleased to recommend such a satisfactory remedy." Catarrhozone is a safeguard against Colds, Coughs, and Catarrh. It can be used while at work, in the church, theatre or street cars. Simply inhale Catarrhozone and it cures. Price $1; small size 25c. Sold by Ormond & Walsh, or will be supplied by N. C. A ONE-SIDED BATTLE.

If attacked by a wild beast a man would try and defend himself. If afflicted with rheumatism fight the disease. With Dr. Hall's Rheumatic Cure the battle is all one-sided. Eight bottles of Dr. Hall's with Climax Iron Tonic Pills, effected a permanent cure. This great blood purifier is put up in bottles containing ten days treatment. Two Americans Arrested.

Constantinople, Jan. 3.—The arrest of two naturalized Americans at Tripoli, Syria, for refusal to pay the tax providing for exemption from military service recently led to sharp representations on the part of the United States Minister to Turkey, John G. A. Leishman, to the Porte. The latter promptly ordered the release of the men arrested, and instructed the authorities not to molest American citizens.

Breach is Dreibund.

London, Jan. 3.—The Vienna correspondent of The Times refers to an article in The Neue Freie Presse, which journal, hitherto a supporter of the Triple Alliance, now reluctantly admits that there is a slight crevice perceptible in the framework of the Dreibund. The alliance is spoken of by The Neue Freie Presse as forming "the foundation of our foreign policy."

How to get up an Appetite.

Distaste for food often follows Grippe, and fevers, and is associated with a general weakness of the system. To impart a real zest for food, and give power to the stomach to digest and assimilate, no remedy can equal Ferrozone. This is a new and startling discovery. It strikes at the root of disease and by removing the cause, cures quickly and permanently. Ferrozone will quickly enable you to eat and digest anything. Ormond & Walsh, druggists, can tell you a great deal more about Ferrozone, how it cures and why it cures. Call to-day and see them.

CONSUMPTIVES' CURE

SANITARIUM FOR 100 PATIENTS

Prizes Offered For Essays on Plans of Construction—Sir Wm. Broadbent Interviewed on the Use of Sir Ernest Cassel's Gift to His Majesty—Papers Applaud King's Purpose.

London, Jan. 3.—Two hundred thousand pounds has been placed at King Edward's disposal for charitable or utilitarian purposes, according to The Daily Mail, by Sir Ernest Cassel, a merchant and financier, who was prominent in Egyptian finances, and who was made a Knight Commander of St. Michael and St. George for his services in that field.

King Edward has decided to devote this gift to a sanitarium, which will accommodate 100 patients. Twelve of the beds are to be reserved for wealthy sufferers, while the remainder will be for those who can only afford a small fee.

King Edward has appointed an advisory committee in this matter. Three prizes of £500, £200 and £100 respectively have been offered in connection with this scheme for the best essays on the plans for the construction of the sanitarium, and the advisory committee will be guided by the results of this competition in the execution of His Majesty's wishes. The competition is open to medical men of all nationalities.

Sir William Henry Broadbent, when interviewed on this subject, explained that it was intended to employ the open-air treatment for consumptives, the success of which, he said, was now absolutely established. Sir William was unable to give details, but said he believed the sanitarium would be within easy reach of London, for it had been shown that the open-air treatment could be conducted almost as successfully in England as in Switzerland.

The papers this morning all published editorials applauding King Edward's purpose and the noble gift which has enabled His Majesty to carry out the idea which he has so much at heart.

COL. BOULTON DEAD.

Passed Away at Cobourg at the Age of 88 Years.

Toronto, Jan. 3.—Word was received in the city yesterday of the death at Cobourg of Col. D'Arcy Edward Boulton, at the advanced age of 88 years. The deceased was last summer thrown from his horse and injured, but was thought to have recovered. Internal troubles are given as the cause of death.

Col. Boulton was born on February 3, 1814, and was the surviving son of the late D'Arcy Boulton and Sarah Robinson, nephew of Sir John Beverley Robinson, and grandson of the late D'Arcy Boulton. He was educated under the late Bishop Strachan, and in 1829 went to complete his education in England. He returned to Canada in 1832 and adopted the profession of law. In 1837 he was made a barrister, and practised at Cobourg, his place of residence. In 1853 and the three following years he filled the position of Mayor of Cobourg. For a time he was president of the Midland Railway Company, in which he was largely interested. Mr. Boulton contested West Northumberland in the Conservative interests in 1854, but was defeated. He was a staunch Conservative throughout his career, and was for several years president of the Liberal-Conservative Association. Col. Boulton's later days were occupied in the pursuit of agriculture. He organized the first Farmers' Institute in his riding.

COPYRIGHT QUESTION.

A Toronto Deputation of Publishers Told Hon. David Mills Their Grievances—What the Minister of Justice Said.

Toronto, Jan. 3.—A deputation of the Wholesale Booksellers' Section of the Board of Trade, Paper Makers' and Master Printers' and Bookbinders' Association, waited upon the Hon. David Mills at the Walker House Thursday afternoon, with reference to the copyright question.

Mr. Mills explained that he had recently met the Colonial Secretary of Great Britain in conjunction with several specialists who had dealt with the copyright question, and had discussed the situation of copyright in Great Britain and her colonies with them. He put the present status of affairs in a nutshell by saying that Canada was being treated as a part of the United States, as far as the copyright was concerned. The action of the British authors, he continued, and the arrangement between the United States and the British Government, simply meant, that books copyrighted in Great Britain and for sale in all parts of the British Empire by the American publishers, were set up in plates and then sent to England, Canada or other colonies to be printed. Thus the only workmen who derives a benefit from this system is the pressmen and binders; all others connected with the trade gain neither direct nor indirect employment. After the question had been discussed with Mr. Chamberlain, the Colonial Secretary, he (Chamberlain), suggested that the Canadian publishers should institute proceedings against outside publishers and make a test case to determine their right to publish the books to be sold in this country. Mr. Mills, however, does not favor this course of procedure, and although he had not as yet consulted his colleagues, he believed that a law should be passed and then leave it to the Imperial Government to decide the validity of this legislation.

Mr. J. Ross Robertson followed. He said that he entirely agreed with what Mr. Mills had said, and pointed out the disadvantages that the publishers of newspapers were laboring under. He regretted that letters and cable messages could not be copyrighted unless sent to Ottawa.

A vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Mills.

The Kidneys and Uric Acid.

Uric acid is the name given by medical men for the poisonous matter which the kidneys filter from the blood. When the kidneys are weak, inactive or diseased they fail to perform their functions as filters, and the uric acid poison remains in the blood to find lodgment in the weaker organs, and produce the most painful and fatal results.

The symptoms of kidney disease, such as backache, frequent and painful urination, deposits in the urine, pains in the sides and limbs, and headaches, are so familiar that it seems unnecessary for anyone to be ignorant of the approach of this dreaded malady. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are ever at hand as a thoroughly effective remedy, as they are for sale by nearly every dealer who pretends to keep any family medicines.

Not only the kidneys themselves become diseased, but the uric acid forms crystals in the joints and muscles, causing the most extreme pain, and what is known as rheumatism, a disease which can never be cured until the kidneys are made healthful and vigourous.

Another form of kidney disease is dropsy and heart failure. In such cases the uric acid turns the blood to water, and causes dropsical swellings, which, when in the region of the heart, produce heart failure.

In view of the frightful risks which you run in neglecting kidney derangements, and the undoubted efficiency of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills as a cure for weak, inactive, diseased kidneys, it remains as a duty for you to apply the remedy and be cured. You can be certain of beneficial results, for Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have stood the test of time, and proven their right to first place as a kidney medicine.

In every town, village and township of Canada there are people who can testify to the extraordinary merits of this great remedy. Ask your friends and neighbours about it, or, better still, try it for yourself, and join the ranks of Dr. Chase's admirers. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box. At all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Company, Toronto. 2

STRENGTHENS THE STATE.

Life Insurance is for the protection of those dependent on a man's life; their dependence makes it an unavoidable duty. Those dependent we assume to protect by our contract, at his personal cost; our duty to them is to make that contract as large, as secure, and as certainly available to them as possible; thus every Policy written conserves the interest of the State. A man with a Life Insurance Policy is apt to be a good citizen. Anarchists have no use for Life Insurance, and the state has no use for anarchists. The State should encourage every citizen to carry insurance. This Strengthens the State, abolishes alms-houses, and creates property that can be taxed. Further, the income from Your labour ends with Your life. The cost of living to the family continues. Take measures to have the income continue also. The Life Insurance Policy Does It.

The most enterprising and progressive of all the Canadian Life Offices to-day is the Sun Life of Canada. Ten years ago the Company had Life Assurance in force to the extent of $16,759,355.92. On the 31st of December last, this amount had been increased to $57,980,634.68. The increase, therefore, of Life Assurance in force during the last ten years amounted to the tremendous sum of $41,221,278.76.

RUSSIA THE INTRIGUER.

Documents That Hint That Russia Fomented Boxer Trouble.

London, Jan. 3.—The Times this morning publishes three alleged secret documents, communicated by Dr. Ular, a prominent student of Chinese affairs, who recently returned to Europe from Manchuria and Mongolia, which go to prove the existence of a bargain negotiated between the late Li Hung Chang and Russia, through the medium of the Russian Prince Ukhtomsky. Under the terms of this bargain the Boxer movement, which it is hinted, was fomented by Russia, was to be turned against the foreigners, Russia engaging to protect the Dowager Empress against the western powers in return for permission to occupy Manchuria and a very free hand in Mongolia.

Commenting editorially on this matter, The Times says it sees nothing in the recent history of Russian action in the far east inconsistent with the story contained in the documents supplied by Dr. Ular.

WINTER RACE MEET.

An Effort is Being Made to Hold one in Peterborough.

An effort is being made by a number of gentlemen in town to form a Track Association and hold a winter race meet here some time during the next month. A meeting of those interested in the scheme was called at the Clunan House last night, but for various reasons, was not very largely attended. It is safe to say however, that the poor attendance did not represent the enthusiasm in the matter, and there is reason to believe that this winter will see some excellent horse racing in Peterborough.

A committee was appointed last night to make a canvas of the town in order to see what encouragement the citizens will offer. Further action will be taken upon the report of the committee.

It is proposed to hold the meet on Little Lake which affords splendid facilities.

TURKEY SHOOT

That Took Place at Riverside Park Yesterday.

A shooting match was held on Wednesday afternoon at Riverside Park for turkeys, geese and pork, and was quite a success, there being some 28 marksmen taking part. The lucky one were as follows: A. Head, 1; Jones, 1; Gunsolus, 1; R. Brown, 1; Brooks, 1; Westlake, 1; Curtis, 2; G. Fitzgerald, 3. R. Brown, of the Peterborough Hardware Co., as a new comer, shot very well, and chased the experts. Mr. Tooley has shown great improvement since the last shoot. More practice and then the centre. Sam Fitzgerald, of the bear hunt fame, failed to win, but his mark was in view of the centre. The sling strap should be barred, and make the shooting more of the sporting kind.

THE LATE DAVID KNOX.

His Demise Occurred This Morning After a Lingering Illness.

After an illness extending over 12 months or more, David Knox passed away this morning at his late residence, No. 26 Queen street. The deceased's ailment was a complication of diseases from which he was a great sufferer until the end came.

The late David Knox was 48 years of age, having been born in the township of Otonabee in the year 1853. He was the youngest son of the late William Knox of that township. About 15 years ago he entered into the manufacture of soda water in Peterborough, and by virtue of his thorough business ability he was most successful in his venture. While Mr. Knox did not identify himself in any way with public affairs, or seek to create a very wide circle of friends, he was known throughout the district as an honest straightforward business man, genial and kind, and a devoted husband and parent. He was an adherent of St. Paul's Presbyterian church. There are left to mourn his demise, a wife, three daughters, a son, a brother and one sister. The daughters are Miss Carrie, Miss Jessie, and Miss Estella, and the son, John, who is about seventeen years of age, all residing at home. Mr. John Knox of Otonabee, is a brother, and Miss Bessie Knox of the same township, is a sister of the deceased.

The funeral will take place from the family residence, at 1.30 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, to the Little Lake cemetery.

Mrs. Knox and her family will have the sincere sympathy of a very wide circle of friends in their sad bereavement.

OBITUARY.

THE TRADING STAMPS.

The Company has Ceased Doing Business in Peterborough.

The Dominion Trading Stamp Company at No. 203 George street, has, for the present, gone out of business. This is as a result of the town bylaw which was adopted last summer, prohibiting the use of trading stamps within the town after Jan. 1st. A notice in the window of the Company's premises states that they have closed pending the decision of an appeal case now before the courts. They feel certain that the judgment will be in their favour when they will re-open their place of business.

WEDDING BELLS.

Marriage of Miss Lila Solitt and Mr. Geo. S. Mattice, Wednesday.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. James Solitt, Downie street, was the scene of a very interesting event, on Wednesday, it being the occasion of the marriage of their only daughter, Miss Lila, to Mr. George S. Mattice, of Cornwall.

The house was very tastefully decorated with evergreens and garlands of pink and white bunting. The wedding was very quiet, only the family and most intimate friends being present.

The dainty little bride looked very sweet in a travelling suit of grey, with hat to match. Miss Belle Solitt, cousin of the bride, was brides maid, and looked charming in a suit of dark grey with black picture hat. Mr. Mattice was assisted by his brother, Mr. Euart Mattice, also of Cornwall.

The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a handsome gold watch and chain and to the bridesmaid a pearl necklace.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. C. Davidson, rector of St. John's church. The many presents of which the bride was the recipient, showed that her many pleasing attributes of character are fully appreciated by her large circle of friends, who wish her not only the usual wishes of happiness and prosperity, but also that her future life may be as bright and unclouded as was her marriage day. Mr. and Mrs. Mattice left on the 11.40 train for their future home in Cornwall.

PAYNE—WILMORE.

A Wedding of Local Interest Took Place in Chatham.

The Chatham Banner-News contains the following account of the marriage of Mr. Georg Y. Payne, son of Mr. Israel Payne, Aylmer street:

"A pretty event took place at noon on Christmas day at the home of the bride's parents, Head street, when Hester, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Willmore, was united in marriage to George Y. Payne, of Detroit.

The bride looked charming in a dress of pale green albatross, with point lace trimmings. She was attended by her sister Sarah, who was prettily attired in pink silk organdy, trimmed with applique and baby ribbon.

The spacious drawing rooms were tastefully decorated with palms and other plants.

After the ceremony the guests to the number of about fifty sat down to a sumptuous repast. The presents were costly and numerous, showing the high esteem in which the young couple are held.

NEW YEAR'S FLOWERS.

It is a pretty custom to decorate the house with flowers and plants during the first days of the New Year, and it is not a very expensive custom either if you come to the right place for your decorations. A visit to the West End Greenhouses will show you that we have every flower and plant you want. There are roses, carnations, violets, lilies of the valley, daffodils, hyacinths, and narcissus, vieing with each other in sweetness. And then among the plants you will see pretty azaleas, cyclamens, ferns, of all kinds, and palms. A. Blade, Manager. Phone, 21B.

WATER WORKS PURCHASE.

To the Editor of the Examiner,—

Sir,—I was surprised a day or two ago to hear that it was said, although I had had convictions in favour of the acquirement by the Town of the Water Company's plant, I had changed my mind and was now opposed to it. If there is any change in my opinions, the change is the more emphatic that the Town should own and operate the Works as it also should the public lighting. For since the illustrations I was able to give a year ago, of the entire satisfaction public ownership had proved to be to cities and towns that had acquired such works, that feeling has continued to increase all over Ontario, with no expression of regret on the part of any Corporation or of the ratepayers, that such works were their property and under their control.

I confidently assert it as incapable of serious dispute, that a Municipal body should not part with franchises of the streets to a few individuals for the purpose of supplying benefits which are common to and required by all, whether rich or poor, for thereby a tax is necessarily placed upon the people equal to the profits made by the Company out of the very necessaries of life, of which water is a fair illustration. And not only are the people taxed to the extent of these profits but also to the amount of the difference between the rate of interest the Municipality has to pay for money invested as against the Company equal in the case we are interested in, to the sum of probably not less than $2,000 per year. The parting with such a franchise by the Town to a private Company, is simply legislating for the few at the expense of many, and it can be readily understood why the stockholders of the Company are so extremely averse to and see danger of losing a fine investment and good dividends which are being assessed against every taker of water in Town, and are ready to forgive 20 per cent. of their rates if we will let them keep their monopoly. The water mains now extend over many miles, and what is most needed are more hydrants and private services. A hydrant costs about $65.00, which sum is more than repaid to the Company by the Town in two years, yet they continue to charge $35.00 per year for each hydrant for ever. The same condition of things, with even greater relative charges, applies to private services. I take it the ratepayers will not stand this much longer.

The difficulty of obtaining good Commissioners, of which so much has been said, is only a bugbear set up by interested parties. Peterborough has as much good material of the kind required as any Town in Canada. Three are sufficient and their services can be obtained at $100.00 per year each, a saving of $200.00 over the sum taken by the Water Company's directors.

An anonymous letter appeared a few days ago in an evening paper from, probably, a stockholder of the Company, urging that the bylaw should not pass, but I believe it will have no influence with taxpayers. The writer of it said: "Don't load up the Town with more debt. There is enough against it already." Thereby intending to deceive others as to the real position of the matter. The $230,000 to be paid the Company will be no debt, but will represent a live asset for the Town which not only will not require any increase of the Town's rate, but produce a large surplus besides providing the required sinking fund and interest. The earnings of the Works if continued at the present charges, would pay the entire price, with interest, in thirty years, but if these charges are reduced say one-third and the term extended to forty years, the same result will follow, namely that the Town will have the Works without a dollar against them.

Your obedient servant,
W. H. MOORE.

MISS SMITH REMEMBERED

By Her Fellow Workers in Mark Street Sunday School, Thursday Evening.

Miss Annie M. Smith, who has been a very active worker in connection with Mark street church, was, on Thursday evening presented with a purse by her many friends in the different departments of the church work, who assembled for the purpose in large numbers at Miss Smith's home.

After some time had been spent in social intercourse, games, etc., the S. S. superintendent, Mr. M. W. Matchett, called the gathering to order, and read an address to Miss Smith, and at the proper time, Mrs. Wand, president of the W. M. S., presented her with a purse.

Short addresses were made by the pastor, Rev. C. L. Thompson, Mr. S. Taylor, Mr. M. Carton, Mr. E. S. Watson, Mrs. Wand Mr. F. Whatley, Mr. C. Fisher, and others, all expressing regret at Miss Smith's departure.

Afterwards cake and coffee were served by the ladies, and the gathering broke up, after wishing Miss Smith a safe journey to her new home in Detroit.

The address was as follows:

Ashburnham, Jan. 2nd, 1902.

To Miss Annie M. Smith:

Dear Miss Smith,—A short time ago we learned with deep regret that you were soon to sever your connection with us at Mark street, and we felt that we could not let you depart without expressing our appreciation of the excellent services you have rendered in all the departments of our church work—in the church, the choir, the Sabbath School, the Epworth League and the W. M. Society.

We know that He for Whom the work was done will reward you, and we trust you will still be found labouring in another part of His vineyard.

We ask you to accept this purse as a slight token of our regard for you.

In conclusion, we wish you God's blessing, and a most happy and prosperous New Year. Signed:

C. L. THOMPSON, pastor.
M. W. MATCHETT, Supt. S. School.
C. J. WAND, president W. M. S.
E. S. WATSON, Choir Leader.
J. SPEER, Pres. Epworth League.

SUCCESSFUL ANNIVERSARY

At Pontypool on New Years Day—Rev. Mr. Potter Present.

The quiet village of Pontypool was all astir on New Year's night, when the Presbyterian church held its annual New Year concert.

An oyster supper was held in the Oddfellows' Hall and the abundant supply of provisions caused everyone to be fully satisfied. The programme was given in the church building, and consisted of solos, duets, quartettes and readings. Besides local help a quartette from St. Andrew's choir, town, Misses A. VanEvery, Maggie Weddell, Geo. Laing, and James Gerrard, greatly assisted in making the entertainment a grand success. Prof. Davies accompanied the singers and did his utmost to make the evening with the Pontypoolians, a pleasurable event.

Rev. J. G. Potter and Mr. J. Gerrard contributed readings to the programme.

Rev. D. P. Oswald expressed himself as deeply appreciating the valuable help rendered by the visitors, and a motion to that effect was heartily carried.

The visitors in turn expressed their gratitude for kindnesses shown, and presented a resolution of thanks to the ladies for the excellent repast of which they had partaken. Quite a number went from town as the C. P. R. arranged to stop coming east.

H. LeBRUN & CO'S GREAT RED-LETTER MOVING SALE.

Messrs. H. LeBrun & Co's Clothing Store was closed all day to-day. The reason for the closing was to afford an opportunity for marking the stock down for the firm's great Red-Letter Moving Sale, which starts to-morrow morning. The salesmen were busy all day labelling the stock with red tickets having the reduced prices marked in plain figures. This, is LeBrun & Co's first great Clothing Sale of a similar importance in the history of their business, and what they do, they intend to do well, and to carry out everything they promise. It has been known for some time that the building which the firm now occupy, has been sold, and that the purchasers require the premises for themselves. This means that LeBrun & Co. are forced to move, and this sale is the first step preparatory to moving. The present stock is a heavy one, amounting to $40,000, principally winter clothing, tailoring cloths, underwear and gents' furnishings. The character of LeBrun & Co's stock is well known to be high class, dependable, and good; and as the firm has enjoyed a large trade, the annual turn-over has been so heavy that there has been little chance for an accumulating of unsaleable goods. Everything in the store has been reduced, some lines, the winter goods, especially, more than others. With such general bona fide reductions of high-class winter clothing, etc., right in the severest part of the season, the public may depend upon securing most unusual chances. See advt. on second page.

LITIGANT REBUKED.

What Mr. Justice Falconbridge Said Regarding a Case Tried Here.

Mr. Justice Falconbridge yesterday morning at Osgoode Hall, delivered one of the most scathing judgments recorded during the year.

Joseph Thorndyke of Durham county, sued his brother, William Thorndyke, at the Fall Assizes, Peterborough, for $2,976, being the amount of a mortgage and interest due the estate of his mother, who died on March 26th, 1901. The mortgage was made in 1899. In March, 1900, when Mrs. Elizabeth Thorndyke, the mother, was 76 years of age, she went to live with William, and while there, it was alleged by Joseph Thorndyke, was persuaded by fraudulent means to sign a release of the mortgage.

Judge Falconbridge dismissed the action without costs. The following is a paragraph from the judgment:

"This is the usual unseemly squabble over the grave of a deceased parent between brothers of alleged respectability. In a family not distinguished, so far as the sons at least are concerned, by any great degree of filial affection, the defendant appears to have behaved more kindly to his mother than Edward, who two years ago last spring gave her to understand that she was in the way at his home, or that of the plaintiff Joseph, who obtained a judgment against her in the county court."—Star.

FARMERS' ADVOCATE HOLIDAY NUMBER.

Every issue of the "Farmer's Advocate" is a sterling one, replete with valuable information in the interests of the farmer in every branch of his calling. While the regular issue thus contributes so largely to the development of the practical side of farming, the Christmas number of the Advocate eloquently testifies to its efforts to develop the aesthetic side of this important industry. The Christmas number is a beauty. While some may, with an ignorant superciliousness regard farming as an humble and somewhat uninteresting occupation, the Christmas Advocate is a proof that its readers demand the best that art can produce, it is without doubt the equal of any Christmas number of more pretentious literary publications. Its beautiful illuminated cover, artistic in conception and execution, is a type of the beauty of its contents, which combine utility and artistic appeal. In addition to the profusely illustrated article on stock raising, it contains a beautiful series of pictures, reproductions of the master pieces of Canadian artists with appreciative letterpress explanations. It also contains an abundance of literary wealth in the form of sensational stories. Altogether the Christmas number of the Advocate is a gem; as clear in sentiment as the dew on a clover bloom and as clear in artistic effect as the limbs of a thoroughbred filly. The publisher has great reason to be proud of it as well as the farming constituency to whose appreciation it so delightfully appeals.

MARRIAGE OF ARMY OFFICERS.

Stringent Rules Issued by the Spanish Minister of War.

Madrid, Jan. 2.—The Minister of War has issued a royal decree, establishing rules for the marriage of army officers.

It is provided that royal licenses are necessary for marriages, and that the minimum age at which marriages is allowed is 25. A subaltern on active service must prove that he possesses private means sufficient to make his total income equivalent to a captain's pay, or be at least 30 years of age, and have seen 12 years' service.

The decree is much discussed, especially a clause requiring the military authorities to make private inquiries regarding the morality of intended wives of officers and the social position of their families.

Medical Science Advances.

It is not more than half a century ago that physicians considered a surgical operation with its risk, expense and pain as the only cure for piles. To-day it is only the out of date doctors that think of such treatment. It is cruel and extravagant to operate for a disease which is far more certainly cured by the application of Dr. Chase's Ointment. You may be skeptical, but for proof you are referred to tens of thousands of cases that have been cured by this famous preparation.

Almost Every Known Color Is Found in the Human Eye—Blue Eyes Are Most Common—The Fascination of Green and Golden Eyes.

"It is strange how few persons notice eyes," said the man of an observing turn of mind reflectively. "I have often asked people to describe some one to me and have been surprised to find that the majority of them really did not know the color of their best friends' eyes. Most people remember faces by the nose, mouth, sometimes the ears, more often by the general expression. Now, the eye itself has no expression, although it is called the most expressive of all the features. If you have ever seen an eye that has been removed from its socket, you know that the fact is as I have said. A glass eye in a showcase illustrates the same fact. The expression that is attributed to the eye really resides in the lids, the eyebrows and the muscles of the adjacent part of the face. It is to this expression that the attention of most people is directed. They see a light coming from the eye and vitalizing the expression of lids and muscles, but the real character of the eye itself they fail to notice.

"Now, I have formed the habit of noting the color of eyes, and I find it very interesting. I could tell you the color of the eyes of any person I had ever met, I believe, not merely whether they are light or dark, blue, gray or brown, according to the conventional classification, but the shades and mixtures, the appreciation of which is the real fascination in the study of eyes. I firmly believe that there is no color recognized that cannot be found in the eyes of some human being. There are red eyes, green eyes, silver eyes, golden eyes, violet eyes, sapphire, baby blue, black, white, yellow eyes and eyes besides in which these tints are mixed. Some kinds are very rare, and if you are a connoisseur in the subject the sudden discovery of a rare specimen—for a moment on the street perhaps—gives you a thrill of pleasure.

"Blue eyes, I suppose, are most common, but of these there are many varieties. The most common kind is that which is really a mixture of dark blue and grayish white. With this kind of an eye sometimes the blue and white are mixed irregularly, in which case the eye lacks brilliance, though it may be lustrous. Sometimes the body of the iris is grayish white, with blue radii extending from the pupil. This marking gives a peculiarly hard expression to the eye. In still another subvariety the central part of the iris is light bluish gray, with a rim of dark blue. Such an eye is often mistaken for black. The dark rim around the iris is not so noticeable in blue eyes as in some other kinds, notably white and golden eyes, in which it produces a strange, startling and fascinating effect.

"The limpid blue eye is comparatively rare. It is of a uniform coloration and appears to be almost liquid. Fine specimens have a certain beauty, but the eye, as a rule, lacks character. Near akin to it is the china blue or robin's egg blue eye, also of uniform coloration, but lacking liquidity. It also is lacking somewhat in character.

"Of brown eyes the varieties are numberless. The deepest shade usually passes for black. Some eyes of this shade suggest a velvety texture, and the whites by contrast have a peculiarly pearly luster. There is always something sinister and unpleasant about the eyes of this sort. Then there are the soft brown eyes that are usually called pleasant and the sharp brown eyes that are called snappy. You may occasionlly find brown eyes of such a light tint as to be called properly orange or yellow. The golden eye is a variety of the brown eye, but a wonderful variety. It is not a yellow eye. It is infinitely more strange, more beautiful, than the yellow eye. I recently saw a woman on the street who had a pair of these eyes. The effect of them was enhanced by a black rim around the iris. They were not exactly like the gold of a coin, but rather like the gold dust that floats and shimmers on a stream. Golden eyes are not ferocious. They suggest the wild creature that has been tamed to gentleness.

"When I speak of red eyes, I do not mean those of the albino, which are merely painful freaks of nature. I am thinking of what is really a variety of the brown eye. It is about the shade of a cinnamon bear's furry coat. In shadow it appears brown, but in bright sunlight it flashes crimson. There is something strangely sinister about these eyes. They flash spite and fury even when they are found in the most smiling face.

"Green eyes are often the most fascinating of all eyes. The shade is rarely found unmixed, but I have seen eyes of a uniform tint resembling that elusive green that may be observed for a moment in a summer sunset. Usually the green tint is mixed with gray or brown or both. The combination with brown or brown and gray is known familiarly as the brown hazel or green hazel eye, which, popular wisdom has it, is always to be trusted. Green in the eye is thought to indicate treachery. I believe more usually it indicates power of fascination. Thackeray, with great felicity, gave Becky Sharp green eyes, and Becky was both treacherous and fascinating. But Becky's eyes, I understand, were pure, unmixed green. Brown neutralizes the bad effects of green in the eye, while detracting not at all from its fascination.

"The white eye may be a very beautiful eye or a terrible eye. I consider it a variety of gray or blue. With the iris rimmed with black this eye has great distinction. In a woman, when its startling effect is modified by beautiful features and gentle expression, it is wonderfully alluring. In a man whose face is coarse or brutal this eye strikes one with horror."

DISAPPEARING WRITING.

The Way a Big Swindle Was Successfully Worked in Paris.

A number of Parisian financiers were recently defrauded of a very considerable sum of money by a swindler who relied for the success of his scheme entirely upon the peculiar properties of iodide of starch. Posing as a man of considerable wealth, whose money was tied up in such a manner that he could not realize without heavy losses and pretending to have the option of some valuable concessions in China, he obtained various large amounts of money in exchange for bills dated to stand for three months.

No one for a moment suspected that there was anything in the least degree shady about the man or his transactions, and when he made it public that he had been successful in selling his Chinese concession at a large profit his creditors felt absolutely certain that he would meet his bills.

To their immense surprise, however, when they came to look through their papers to find the bills they only found bills with blank spaces in the places where the swindler's name should have been and had actually been. They clamored round him for an explanation of the strange affair, but he denied that he had ever given any of them bills and defied them to sue him for repayment of the loans, and the fact that the bills were devoid of the swindler's signature rendered them absolutely worthless.

The matter was put into the hands of the police, who were able to discover that in signing the bills the man had used a solution of iodide of starch, which, when first used for writing, appears much the same as ordinary ink, but completely disappears in the course of a few weeks, and, although traces of the chemical may subsequently be discovered, nothing can make the writing show up again. Finding that his victims had discovered his method, the schemer decamped, despite the fact that the chances of the police obtaining a conviction against him were very remote indeed.

Thought He Was Mad.

The late Count de Lesseps was traveling on one occasion in a French railway train in a compartment with two commercial travelers.

"I beg your pardon, sir," said one of them, fancying that he belonged to their fraternity, "are you not a traveler?"

"Certainly I am," said the count.

"We thought so! What is your line?"

"Isthmuses."

"Wh-wh-what," asked the puzzled commercial—"what are they?"

"I am introducing ship canals," said De Lesseps gravely.

The commercial travelers feared that they had fallen in with a lunatic and were making preparations to escape when the count handed them his card and put them at their ease.

The Happy Home.

Happiness must be founded on health. Where there is ill-health there will surely be unhappiness. The happiness of many a home has received its downfall at the table, spread with rich and dainty foods. The first symptoms of disease of the stomach are ignored as being disagreeable but not dangerous. Presently dyspepsia or some other form of disease fastens on the stomach.

At any stage Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. But the cure is quicker if the "Discovery" is used in the earlier stages of disease. If you have any symptoms of diseased stomach use "Golden Medical Discovery" and be cured.

"I feel that I would be doing an injustice to you if I did not send you a statement of my case," writes Mrs. David W. Guice, of Hamburg, Franklin Co., Miss. "I had liver complaint and indigestion. Everything that I ate disagreed with me. I suffered all the time with swimming in my head, heart beat too fast; my feet and hands were cold all the time. Did not sleep well at all. Was able to get about but very little. I commenced to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets' in May, 1897, and by December I could begin to get about very well. Have been doing my work ever since. Feel better than I have for several years."

WAVES OF WATER.

Slow rivers flow at the rate of three to seven miles an hour.

The amount of water flowing out of the Nile is sixteen times that of the Thames.

The English channel is nowhere more than 900 feet deep. The Irish sea is 2,130 feet deep.

The largest gulf in the world is the gulf of Mexico—800,000 square miles—almost twice as big as the bay of Bengal.

The Parana of Brazil and Argentina is 2,200 miles in length and after the Amazon is the largest river in South America.

The shallowest of all seas are the Baltic and the Adriatic, which average only forty-three and forty-five yards' depth respectively.

Askai Chin, in Tibet, is the lake which lies at a greater height than any other in the world. Its level is 16,000 feet. The lowest is the Dead sea—1,290 feet below sea level.

What Causes Pain?

Most pains and aches come from excess of uric acid poisons in the blood, due to deranged kidneys, rheumatism, backache, lumbago, pains in the sides and limbs accompanied by bladder and urinary troubles, are warnings too serious and painful to be neglected. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills act directly and specifically on the kidneys make them active, vigourous and thoroughly cure these ailments. One 25 cent box of this great Kidney medicine will do you a world of good.

Fainting.

The direct cause of fainting is a diminished circulation of blood through the brain. To revive a person who has fainted it is necessary, therefore, to alter this condition as quickly as possible. In order to do this the individual should be laid quite flat, the head on a level with the body, so that the feebly acting heart will not have to propel the blood upward. The neck and chest should be exposed, fresh air admitted freely, water sprinkled on the face and stimulating vapors, such as ammonia, held at intervals to the nostrils. When there is difficulty in restoring animation, friction over the region of the heart with the hand or a rough cloth should be applied vigorously.

How a Sprain Does Hurt!

But it isn't the pain alone that is dreaded, just think of the loss of time and wages. Sprains without number have been cured by rubbing Polson's Nerviline well into the pores of the skin surrounding the joint. No matter whether it is a sprained wrist, ankle, knee or back, just try Nerviline on it, and see how quickly it will cure. There is only one liniment that can be depended upon to cure sprains, strains and swellings, an dthat is Polson's Nerviline. Large bottle 25 cents.

The Pulpit Versus the Bar.

An eminent American lawyer, now deceased, was sadly given to intoxication. On one occasion he entered a church while a minister was holding forth on the future punishment of the wicked.

Fixing his eye upon the lawyer, who was reeling near the door, the preacher exclaimed, "There stands a sinner against whom I shall bear witness in the day of judgment."

At this the lawyer folded his arms, planted himself as firmly as he could and, addressing the man in the pulpit, electrified the whole congregation after this fashion:

"Sir, I have been practicing in the criminal courts for twenty years, and I have always found that the greatest rascal is the first to give state's evidence."—Scotsman.

HOCKEY.

There will be a practice match at the rink this evening at 8.15 between Norwood and the Colts.

The first League game of the season takes place on Tuesday evening, when the Belleville Juniors will face the Peterborough Colts.

The hockey team had the best practice of the season last night and the boys are fast rounding into shape.

Mr. Lionel King will referee the match this evening.

After the game with Norwood this evening, the 1st team will have a practice.

The Colts will wear their new uniforms to-night.

The most interesting business at last night's meeting of the Ontario Hockey Association Executive, was the consideration of the case of the Royal Military College Team of Kingston, charged with playing in Pittsburg against men disqualified by the Association. Capt. Biggs put in a lengthy statement, and also attended the meeting. He pointed out in his statement that the men had scattered during the holidays, and that as no meeting could be held till next week, what he said could not be taken as actually the club's statement. It was a very able presentation of the case, though it did not prevail.

The committee took the view that the O.H.A. had jurisdiction over its members at home or abroad, that the playing of R. M.C. against men who had been disqualified by their association would have been an act of disloyalty meriting censure even if such a case had not been prohibited in the rules. A motion that in accordance with rule 7, the R. M. C. Club be suspended was carried unanimously, after a long and careful debate of the matter.

President Robertson occupied the chair, and the other members present were Vice-President A. A. Macdonald, Treasurer W. A. Buchanan, W. J. Hanley, A. G. Slaght, F. H. Broder and Francis Nelson. The applications for reinstatement from W. H. Dixon, John Carmichael, P. R. Ashplant and Harry Brown were denied.

Harold Menzies of Parkdale, asked for an opinion respecting his standing, and was told that the committee had no knowledge of anything affecting it. He played a few games in Philadelphia last winter.

Permits were granted to E. Doyle and E. Wilkinson, of Brantford, and D. McBride of Midland, who were outside the time limit of the residence rule.

The Ottawa Capitals wrote that they were unable to play in the series this season on account of the difficulty of securing rink accommodation and the loss of several players, but they promised to be on hand next year in full strength. Their resignation was accepted with an expression of regret.

Huntsville was admitted to membership and added to the farthest north group.

RUGBY.

The Peterborough Rugby team will meet in the Y.M.C.A. at 7.20 o'clock this evening for the purpose of selecting a captain.

The Peterborough Rugby team will be photographed at Roy's at 2.30 o'clock to-morrow afternoon.

HINTS TO SKATERS

Always buy good quality of skates, as they need less care and sharpening.

To become a good skater one needs a skate to project about one half inch longer than the boot at the toe, and the same projection at the heel.

If one wishes to accomplish figure skating with ease and grace, which is the most required attainment in the act, one must not use the hockey skate, as they are only adapted for forward skating and on a large field of ice.

The first figures on the skater's programme are the ones to devote one's attention to, and by accomplishing them, the other part of the skater's programme are made much easier. The programme for one is, plain forward and backward movement with and without roll. The cross roll, forward and backward, and the change of edge roll, forward and backward, by accomplishing these movements places one in a position to make new movements a pleasure and easy to learn, and if one can avoid the using of straps and ankle supports so much better to the skater, leaving the foot very supple.

MOUNT PLEASANT.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Our town was favoured with a visit from Mr. J. D. Thornton, of Omemee, on Tuesday last.

The Methodist and Presbyterian churches have held their entertainments in aid of their Sabbath school funds.

Dr. Keith performed an operation on Stanley Lowe, son of Mr. J. H. Lowe, while under the influence of chloroform. The boy is improving rapidly, which reflects great credit on our local doctor.

A chopper while at work in the swamp cutting cord wood, was visited by an animal about a foot long, of a white colour and with a long snout. It made a raid on his dinner, that was near him. He tried to drive it off but it showed fight, and he became alarmed and left for home. The animal followed him for a long distance. After reporting the case at home, he and another returned fully equipped with firearms, so as to kill the animal. When they arrived at the bush no animal could be seen, but in the meantime it had eaten his dinner, and left for parts unknown. Query—What kind of a beast was it, or was it a vision he saw? He described it as having long slender legs.

Inspector Reazin, of Lindsay, passed through our town last week.

Mr. A. P. McLean, of the Geo. Matthews Co., spent Christmas day with his parents at the homestead in town.

Mr. J. Boyd, who has spent many years in the Northwest Territories, arrived home safely last week, and is staying with his father, Mr. John Boyd, of this town. He gives a glowing account of the N.W.T., and like Horace Gresly, advises all young men to go west who want to get a free homestead where they can very soon, by their industry, accumulate sufficient money to retire from active life.

On the last Sabbath of 1901, Rev Wm. Mounteer's sermon was suitable for the season of the year, his text was, "On the first day of the first month shalt thou set up the tabernacle of the tent of the congregation." The origin of New Year's day was by God's command to Moses. See Exodus 40th chap., 1st verse.

Heart Disease.

Real organic heart trouble is incurable, but scarcely one case in a hundred is organic.

The action of the heart and stomach are both controlled by the same great nerves, the sympathetic and pneumogastric, and when the stomach fails to properly digest the food and it lies in the stomach fermenting, gases are formed which distend the organ causing pressure on the heart and lungs causing palpitation, irregularity and shortness of breath.

The danger from this condition is that, the continued disturbance of the heart sooner or later may cause real organic heart trouble and in fact frequently does so.

Furthermore, poor digestion makes the blood thin and watery and deficient in red corpuscles, and this further irritates and weakens the heart.

The most sensible thing to do for heart trouble is to insure the digestion and assimilation of the food.

This can be done by the regular use after meals of some safe, pleasant and effective digestive preparation, like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets which may be found at most drug stores and which contain the necessary digestive elements in a pleasant, convenient form.

Thousands of people keep well and vigourous by keeping their digestion perfect by observing the rule of taking one or two of these tablets after each meal, or at least after each hearty meal.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain U.S.P. pepsin, diastase from malt and other natural digestives which act only on the food, digesting it perfectly and preventing acidity, gases, and the many diseased conditions which accompany a weak stomach.

When Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are used you may know you are not taking into the system any strong medicine or powerful drug but simply the natural digestive elements which every weak stomach lacks.

So widely known and popular have these tablets become that they are now sold by every druggist in the United States, Canada and Great Britain.

DESIRE PROHIBITION

Large Deputations Wait on the Ontario Government.

ASK THE CABINET'S INTENTIONS

Representative Gathering at the Parliament Buildings—Speeches Made—Premier Assures the Gathering That the Government Will Give the Matter Earnest Consideration —Prohibitionists Organize

Toronto, Jan. 4.—The big reception room in the Parliament buildings was the scene yesterday morning of the interview between the Government of Ontario and the combined deputation from the Dominion Alliance and the Ontario section of the Standing Committee on Temperance and Reform of the General Conference of the Methodist Church. The interview was brief, and has not advanced the discussion of the subject, for the Premier stated to the deputation that the Government will give the subject their most careful consideration. The members of the deputation, for their part, abstained from speaking at any length, simply asking the Government what their intention was.

The interview took place shortly after the noon hour, the Premier and his colleagues entering the reception room in which the members of the deputation had already gathered. The Government were fully represented, those present being Hon. Geo. W. Ross, Hon. J. M. Gibson, Hon. J. R. Stratton, Hon. John Dryden, Hon. E. J. Davis, Hon. Richard Harcourt and Hon. F. R. Latchford. The joint deputation numbered some forty or fifty, among those present being Rev. Dr. Carman, Rev. Dr. Chown, Rev. J. C. Speer, Rev. Dr. W. A. McKay of Woodstock, Rev. W. Kettlewell of Mount Forest, Rev. Solomon Cleaver, Prof. Jas. Bowman of London, Rev. J. A. Macdonald, F. S. Spence, Rev. Wm. Frizzell, A. M. Featherstone of Hamilton, Rev. Dr. Parker, Rev. H. S. Matthews, of Davenport, Jonathan Ellis of Port Dover, Rev. T. M. Campbell of Trenton, Rev. Chas. Deacon of Stoney Creek, Geo. H. Lees of Hamilton, Rev. D. L. Brethour, D.D., T. Dixon Craig, J. T. Shanks of Hamilton, Robt. Rae, J. F. Chapman, George Pim, Rev. Dr. Kennedy, Rev. J. F. Ockley, Rev. L. W. Hill, Rev J. H. Oliver, Rev. M. Anger, T. M. Edmison, Rev. J. W. Cooley of Milton, Mrs. Chamberlain, Mrs. May Thornley, Rev. Walter Rigsby, Dr. B. E. McKenzie, Dr. J. J. Maclaren, J. A. Austin, L. Duncan, J. M. Godfrey, Frank Buchanan, Mr. G. F. Marter, M.P.P., Rev. A. B. Chambers and others.

Rev. Dr. Carman opened the speaking, stating that the Methodist portion of the gathering were present, pursuant to a resolution of the committee appointed by the General Conference, to deal with the subject. He spoke of the organization adopted by the church for dealing with this subject, and stated that he and his colleagues represented the Ontario section of the committee. He then introduced Rev. Mr. Kettlewell.

Rev. Mr. Kettlewell explained that the fact that the deputation expected to meet the Government in the Premier's office had induced it to avoid coming in large numbers. The representation of the committee present was, accordingly, small, but it was representative, containing, as it did, representatives of all the five Conferences in the Province.

Dr. Brethour then read the resolution passed on Dec. 9 by the Ontario section of the Committee on Temperance and Reform of the Methodist General Conference, as follows:

"Whereas the legislature of Ontario has declared in favor of the prohibition of the liquor traffic by memorializing the Dominion government to enact such legislation.

"And whereas the electorate of the province, on two occasions, by very large majorities pronounced in favor of prohibition as the legal remedy for the evils of the drink traffic.

"And whereas Sir Oliver Mowat, on Feb. 6, 1894, declared his government's adoption of the policy of prohibition, in the following words: 'If the decision of the Privy Council should be that the province has the jurisdiction to pass a prohibitory liquor law as to sale, I will introduce such a bill in the following session, if I am at the head of the government. If the decision of the Privy Council is that the province has jurisdiction to pass only a partial prohibitory law, I will introduce such a prohibitory bill as the decision will warrant, unless the partial prohibitory power is so limited as to be ineffective from a temperance standpoint.'

"And whereas on the same date, at a public meeting, the Hon. G. W. Ross, the present Premier of this province, declared his pleasure at Sir Oliver Mowat's declaration, and stated that a government taking such a position was the only kind of government he would be a member of.

"And whereas on Feb. 13, 1901, Hon. G. W. Ross, in reply to a deputation, stated that the government was always prepared to go as far as the law would allow, and had not receded from that position; and a week later said to a deputation representing the Methodist Church: "You know what our past record has been, what our predecessors have agreed to, and what is the general policy of the government upon that question. That need not be repeated over and over again, because you know exactly where we stand. We stand where we always did.'

"And whereas a recent decision of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council has affirmed that a province has power to prohibit transactions in intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes within its own borders.

"And whereas the prohibition of the liquor traffic is admittedly the only right and effective legislative remedy for the evils of intemperance.

"Therefore resolved, that a deputation wait upon the government and request a fulfilment of its promises, by the introduction, at the approaching session of the legislature, of a bill to prohibit the liquor traffic to the extent of its ascertained powers."

Mr. Kettlewell observed that the resolution concisely stated the attitude of the standing committee, which might be taken to represent the church. The committee had very little to ask. It was satisfied with the position of the Government so far as that position had been expressed. The Government having expressed its position with some definiteness, it paid no heed to squibs which might appear in the newspapers. They assumed, as they had a right to assume, and they would insult the Government if they did not assume that they were where they had ever been on this question. They merely asked that the pledges made should be implemented and that at the coming session of the Legislature.

Rev. Dr. Carman said that the Privy Council decision had brought them squarely face to face with the situation. The whole matter was plain. He did not think it expedient to argue or prolong words.

Dr McKay spoke for the Alliance. He introduced, he said, a body who represented a larger circle than the other deputation, which included all the temperance associations of the Dominion, and also many of the churches of the country. They were there with much encouragement and confidence. They were asking for prohibition, which they believed to be the only just and effectual means of dealing with the liquor evil. They were asking for what the people had demanded time and time again by very considerable majorities. They were asking for that which the Government, both themselves and their predecessors, had solemnly pledged themselves to give them. They felt assured that they were coming on an errand which would not prove useless.

Dr. J. J. Maclaren said that the Alliance waited on the Government with a good deal of satisfaction. They were not there to make speeches. They had made their speeches some years before, on the occasion when the Government had given the pledge to which they were alluding. After alluding to the composition and influence of the Alliance, he spoke of the plebiscite victories and of the conviction that prohibition was the only remedy for the evils they opposed. They were there simply to hear the announcement of the Government. They came with pleasure to congratulate the Government on the result of the Privy Council judgment. He spoke of the plebiscite, which had resulted in a majority greater than any that any political party had ever got, greater than the Premier probably hoped to obtain in the coming election.

Prohibitionists Organize.

The Premier, in reply, said: "I have heard with a great deal of pleasure the representations which you have made on behalf of prohibition. I appreciate the earnestness with which you have put your case, and the desire which you have evinced for the improvement of society. I also notice that you are impressed with the gravity of the situation, and I can only say now that all you have said will receive my most careful attention, as well as the consideration of my colleagues in the Government; and the House will meet at an early date. That is as far as I can go to-day."

The Ontario Alliance Executive and the Methodist General Conference Committee on Prohibition held a joint conference at the Alliance offices. Secretary F. S. Spence placed the position before the conference as in view of Premier Ross' reply one for action. He considered the right attitude to assume was, that as the Government did not repudiate their former pledge, prohibitory legislation in accordance with the Government's promises should be looked for.

Rev. Dr. Courtice, editor of the Christian Guardian, argued that the view should be taken that the Government would act in good faith, and it was moved by Rev. Dr. Courtice, seconded by Rev. H. S. Matthews, and carried, that in view of the strong case for prohibition legislation as again presented to the Government to-day, based on the facts of the plebiscite prohibition majority, the Government's promises, and the decision of the Privy Council, and for the purpose of strengthening the hands of the Government in carrying such legislation through the House, this meeting requests prohibitionists to petition the Legislature for the enactment of prohibitory legislation to the limit of its jurisdiction.

Rev. George Washington urged that the hour had arrived for vigorous political action. He moved, seconded by Rev. J. F. Ockley, That this meeting strongly and earnestly urges all friends of temperance in every part of the Province to take immediate steps to secure such thorough organization as will make their influence effective at the coming session of the Legislature, and their votes effective in the approaching election. Carried.

PANAMA COMPANY WILL SELL.

Offer Will Be Made to United States Government to Accept $40,000,000.

Paris, Jan. 4.—Information from the most reliable financial sources authorizes me to state that the Board of Directors of the Panama Canal Compnay has yesterday definitely adopted one of the alternative solutions submitted by M. Bunau Varilla, namely, to offer for sale the property and franchises of the Panama Canal Company at the price named by the United States Isthmian commission, forty million dollars.

To-day (Saturday) a special meeting of the board will be held to draw up cable instructions embodying the above offer, which will be immediately transmitted to the representative of the company at Washington. This formal offer will be officially communicated to the United States Government on Saturday evening or Monday morning.—Barnard's cable to Toronto Globe.

Russia Accused by French Paper.

London, Jan. 4.—The Francais, quoted by the Paris correspondent of The Times, accuses M. Zinovieff, Russian Ambassador at Constantinople, of deliberately meddling to the detriment of France at the time of the recent dispute with Turkey.

It is declared that M. Zinovieff did not maintain either a friendly or a neutral attitude, and that he snubbed M. Bapst, Councillor of the French Embassy.

The Francais also accuses Russia of permitting M. Zinovieff's conduct.

New British Ships.

Glasgow, Jan. 3.—The British Admiralty has invited the Clyde shipyards to tender bids for the construction of two battleships, each of 16,500 tons; five armored first-class cruisers, and two protected cruisers. Work on 20 warships—now in course of construction may be expedited. The new battleships will have greater gun power than any vessels now in the navy.

Explosion at Owen Sound.

Owen Sound, Jan. 4.—The acetylene gas generator at the C. P. R. roundhouse exploded about 7 o'clock last night. Thomas Golden was severely, perhaps fatally, burned. The roundhouse was wrecked, and windows of several buildings, including the Pacific Hotel, broken.

KITCHENER ASKS FOR TRACKERS

War Office Gratefully Accepts Offer of Five Canadian Nurses For General Service—Issue of the Recruiting Order For the Field Hospital Corps—Colonel Steele's Position.

Ottawa, Jan. 4.—The organization of a complete contingent of six squadrons of mounted rifles, with bearer company hospital corps, trained scouts and nurses, has been authorized by the War Office. The scouts, or trackers, as they are termed in South Africa, were specially asked for by Lord Kitchener, but the Minister of Militia had anticipated the request of the general in command, and had already recruited a squadron of trained scouts, raised on the ranching district of the Northwest, and it is now at Halifax waiting to embark for Cape Town with the contingent. Lieut. "Casey" Callaghan is in command of this corps.

"Johannesburg, Dec. 27, 1901.

(Signed) "Kitchener."

To Send Five Nurses.

A few days ago the Government cabled to the War Office an offer to enroll five nurses for service with the third contingent.

The reply received by His Excellency reads:

"London, Jan. 2, 1902.

"Referring to your telegram of Dec. 24, rate of pay, etc., will be same for field hospital as for rest of contingent; offer of five nurses for general service gratefully accepted.

(Signed) "Chamberlain."

The nurses will doubtless be chosen from the following, who have seen service in South Africa: Miss Georgina Pope, Miss Sarah Forbes, Miss Mary Affleck, Miss Elizabeth Russell, Miss Deborah Hurcomb, Miss Margaret Macdonald and Miss W. H. Richardson. Miss Horne, the other nurse who reaped honors in South African service, was recently married.

Surgeon Lt.-Col. Duff of Kingston will be assistant surgeon of the field hospital corps, and Lt. H. Domville of Woodstock, N.B., has been appointed veterinary lieutenant.

Additional Officers.

The following officers will be given commissions in the Second Canadian Mounted Rifles as a result of the addition of two squadrons to the force: Major—Lieut.-Col. Cameron, 5th Royal Scots; Captain— Captain P. E. Thacker, R.C.R.I.; Assistant Surgeon—Surgeon Lieut.-Colonel Duff, Kingston; Lieutenants—Major W. T. Rodden, Montreal. Lieut. R. H. Ryan, King's Canadian Hussars, Canning, N.S., late of Howard's Scouts; Lieut. C. P. B Simpson, Duke of Connaught's Royal Canadian Hussars, Montreal. Lieut. Domville, Woodstock, N.B., Field Battery; Paymaster—Lieut. Moir, Ottawa, late Strathcona's Horse.

Field Hospital Recruiting.

Recruiting for the field hospital corps will take place on Tuesday and Thursday next. Twenty-one drivers and 35 privates are to be enrolled. The recruiting officer will be the same as for the Mounted Rifles. Five drivers and 10 privates will be raised in Toronto. The uniform of the corps will be the same as that of the Mounted Rifles, except that the army medical badge will be worn on the arm, and the men of the transport section will have embroidered above the badge the word "Driver." An X-ray apparatus will be tested by Col. Neilson to-day, and if found satisfactory will be included in the equipment of the hospital corps.

Col. Steele's Position.

A prominent militia officer, who has been in constant communication with Col. Steele ever since he went to South Africa, stated yesterday that he placed no credence in the story published by The London Express that Col. Steele is dissatisfied with his treatment. It is doubtless true enough that Col. Steele would like to command the Canadian section of the South African Constabulary, but it should be borne in mind that he did not go out to South Africa as commandant of the Canadians, but as head of the constabulary in the Lydenburg district. At any rate, his private letters contain no hint of dissatisfaction, and he is not the kind of an officer to set the necessities of discipline at defiance. Col. Steele's friends say the story looks like an attempt to hurt him with the War Office.

Howitzers and Mules.

Liverpool, Jan. 4.—The Post learns that the Government is preparing to take vigorous measures to suppress the Boers in the mountain districts in South Africa. According to the proposed plans the Government will mount small field pieces on mule back, as is now done in and along the Indian frontier.

Rumor of Assassination.

London, Jan. 4.—A rumor was current in this city yesterday to the effect that an attempt had been made to assassinate Lord Milner, the British High Commissioner in South Africa. The rumor, however, was wholly unconfirmed and was entirely discredited in responsible quarters.

"POSTAL TELEGRAPH BY SEA AND LAND."

Sir Sanford Fleming whose associations with Peterborough should secure more lively local attention to his activities in the public and imperial interest, has addressed an open letter under the above heading, to Hon. Mr. Mulock, Post Master General, regarding a state-owned telegraph service girdling the Globe. In connection with a statement made by Mr. Mulock to the Australian Chamber of Commerce, regarding the establishment of a state-owned cable across the Atlantic, and the transfer of the land telegraphs of the Dominion to the Post Office Department, he points out in his letter that this announcement gave a substantial impulse to the Pan Britannic scheme of girdling the globe with a postal-cable service that would bring all the chief units of the empire in close touch; and proceeds to point out that the Atlantic state-owned cable, at a rate of two cents per word, instead of 25 cents as at present, would be self-sustaining and that at 5 cents per word it would yield a handsome revenue. There would not only be an increase of Canadian and United States business, but also of Australian business through the Pacific cable, which is expected to be completed and in operation during the present year. Sir Sanford also points out some interesting things in connection with state-owned land telegraphs and shows how much, in the public interest, would be the nationalization of these lines. It i s pointed out that the working expense of a telegraph line is not governed by distance and that a message can be sent a thousand miles with no more working outlay than one mile. Every European nation has nationalized its telegraph service and that of the United Kingdom is remarkable for its utility and economy. For sixpence (ten cents) communication can be had with ten thousand postal telegraph offices in the three Kingdoms. With a private service the charges for telegraph messages are graduated according to mileage, with a postal telegraph system in operation the charges would be uniform to all parts of the Dominion, so that no subject of the Dominion would be taxed in excess of another, because he lived a long distance from the person with whom he wished to communicate. "If," says Sir Sandford, "in comparatively small countries the policy of state owned telegraphs has proved eminently successful, who will deny that, in view of the geographical conditions of the Dominion, there is any country on the face of the globe where the remarkable qualities of the electric telegraph can be turned to better advantage than here in Canada?" The Imperial Government have proved by thirty years' experience, the wisdom of adopting uniform low telegraphic rates throughout the Kingdom.

If it should come about that the Government and people of Canada should come to share Sir Sandford's opinion, for which he shows cause, that it would be wise for us to adopt a similar policy, it only remains to overcome the difficulties that lie, as they do in the case of all great innovations, in the way of bringing the matter to a practical issue. If it should be shown to be desirable that the telegraph service of the Dominion should be nationalized, we can confidently look to the man who made our letter postal service a success, inaugurated successfully reduced letter postage, and mainly helped to give the boon of Imperial Penny Postage, to bring the matter of a uniform rate postal telegraphic service for the Dominion, to a successful issue.

PROGRESS OF SCIENCE IN THE TREATMENT OF DEAFNESS.

No one at the present day, either in the scientific world, or among the public at large, can be ignorant of the remarkable results attained by the Drouet system of treatment for deafness. Its success has been widely published by the public press, and just lately "The Journal for the Deaf" contained in a special issue an account of upwards of 200 recently cured cases.

One of these is most remarkable: Mr. Silas Bending, 74 years of age, 4, Vine cottage, The Drive, Fishponds, Bristol, had gradually become deaf to such an extent that he had to use an ear-horn. He had already tried different treatments. "I have had ear-drums, also powder to draw up the nose, and oil to drop in the ear. But it all seemed to make the ears worse. Now I am using an ear-horn."

Mr. S. Bending submitted his case to the Drouet Institute and commenced treatment in the beginning of January last. In less than two months a complete cure was attained.

Rose Cottage, The Drive,
Fishponds, Bristol,
March 1, 1901.

It is with great pleasure that I have to inform you that I have received my hearing again. I have not used anything since I used your last treatment. I have been able to hear anything. I can hear the clock tick a good distance off. I went to a place of worship for the first time for three years, and heard everything quite plainly. I feel that I shall never be able to thank you enough for what you have done for me. Yours very truly,

Silas Bending.

That this cure is permanent is shown by the fact that Mr. Bending writes on November 13th, that his hearing still continues in perfect condition, in spite of his advanced age. Out of pure gratitude for the complete restoration of his hearing by the Drouet treatment, Mr. Bending has expressed a desire that the greatest publicity be given to his case; and further intimates perfect willingness to communicate with any fellow-sufferer who may wish to know more of the details of his cure.

Those who are interested in deafness or in any disease of the ear, nose or throat, will be glad to know that the "Journal for the Deaf," which is published monthly at the Drouet Institutes of London, Paris and Brussels, is sent free to any person applying for it. To get the latest English edition they have only to write to the Secretary of the Drouet Institute, 72, Regent's Park-road, London, England. The Journal is always accompanied by a pathological report form, on which the patient can give a complete description of his case that will enable the consulting surgeon to send full information regarding the treatment necessary for a cure.

Met With an Accident.

Montreal, Que., Jan. 3.—The Maritime Express from Halifax to Montreal, which was due here last evening, met with an accident near St. Rosalie, Que. The engine and nearly all the cars were derailed near St. Rosalie, but while the passengers got a severe jolting, nobody was hurt. The engineer succeeded in stopping the engine, and the cars were not overturned. The passengers were brought into Montreal on a special train.

THE VOTE FOR PROHIBITION.

What Proportion Should be Sufficient to Carry it?

AS TO THE REFERENDUM.

Interesting Symposium in the Westminster—Prominent Divines Give Their Views on the Subject.

The Westminster, in its current issue, contains a noteworthy symposium upon the question of the referendum with reference to prohibition. The Westminster says:

It is quite probable that the Ontario Legislature, at its next session, will pass prohibitory legislation similar to the liquor prohibition act of Manitoba, and that such legislation will be submitted to the electors to become law only after a vote in its favour. This course was suggested by the Westminster at the time the the decision of the Privy Council was announced. The question of importance just now touches the conditions of such referendum. One of these conditions is the proportion of the vote favourable to prohibitory legislation necessary for its enforcement. In order to ascertain the views of representative men who have given serious and independent thought to such subjects, the following questions were submitted to the heads of universities and colleges in Toronto, and to others:

"In the event of the referendum being decided upon by the Ontario Government, should a bare majority of the votes cast determine the issue, or should a certain proportion in favour of such legislation be required? If more than a majority is deemed necessary, what, in your judgment, should the proportion be?"

Replies have not yet been received from all to whom these questions were sent, but the following will be read with interest:

PRINCIPAL CAVAN, KNOX COLLEGE.

You ask me whether, in the event of a prohibitory measure being passed by the Legislature and submitted to a referendum, it should become effective by a bare majority of the votes cast, or whether in order to its becoming law it should have more than a mere majority in its favour.

No one, it seems to me, who adequately weighs all that is involved, would wish to have such legislation adopted on a bare majority vote. I am quite aware that in making any definite proportion of votes necessary to validate legislation there will always appear to be something arbitrary, but it is essential that legislation of the character in question should be sustained by such strength of public opinion as to render its enforcement both possible and morally salutary. I should greatly doubt the wisdom of making less than three-fifths of the votes polled necessary to the adoption of the measure. Should four-fifths of the possible vote be polled in the referendum, this, measured by the vote in ordinary Provincial elections, would be counted large. Three-fifths of such a vote would be a little less than half the possible vote. Were less than four-fifths of the whole votes recorded, all the more necessary that a bare majority should not give effect to the measure.

Wm. Caven.

CHANCELLOR O. C. S. WALLACE.

I am of the opinion that if only a bare majority of the people of Ontario should vote for prohibition it would be perilous to enact a prohibitory law—perilous to the morals of the Province at large and perilous to the cause of prohibition. The second question is more difficult. If, for example, two-thirds of the people voted for prohibition and one-third against it, it might then be wise to enact such a law, providing the one-third included for the most part only lawless men. But it would be otherwise if with the one-third there were many godly ministers, upright Judges, unselfish philanthropists and other highly respected leaders of thought and action, and if reputable newspapers also in different parts of the Province sympathized with the minority. Until the people have expressed themselves, and we know who are on the side of prohibition and who against it, and not how many only, no one is in a position to say how large a majority would be necessary to make Provincial prohibitory legislation a wise method of grappling with that monstrous iniquity, the drink traffic in its greedy and conscienceless service of the drink habit.

O. C. S. Wallace.

CHANCELLOR BURWASH.

I am quite sure that any law will fail which has not behind it the moral convictions of the majority of the people. At present I think the referendum should precede the action of the Legislature, for two reasons, as a proof that we are ready for prohibition, and for its educational effect as a part of our preparation. We have perhaps lost ground in the matter of temperance sentiment during the last two or three years. A woman like Mrs. Nation, to say nothing of milder forms of eccentricity, does immense harm to the cause of temperance. The referendum to be satisfactory, should first of all call out a substantial vote, say two-thirds of all the voters, and then give us a clear majority of all the votes cast.

N. Burwash.

PRINCIPAL SHERATON.

(1) Great care should be taken to place the issue carefully and completely before the people and to impress upon them the great responsibility which the plebiscite places upon each individual voter. No man should vote for prohibition unless he is prepared to do his utmost personally to secure the effective administration of the law. Many people are ready enough to vote who afterwards through want of public spirit or moral cowardice, take no steps to see that the law is enforced.

(2) The Government should clearly state in advance what their policy will be. No room must be left for evasion or intrigue. The Legislative Assembly must determine in advance whether a bare majority of votes in favour of prohibition will afford the necessary basis, and if not, how large a vote would be necessary. It seems to me that the vote necessary should not be less than three-fourths. In the Dominion plebiscite, while there was a bare majority in favour of prohibition, that majority was in reality a minority, on account of the large number of voters who through indifference did not go to the polls.

(3) Would it not be well, along with the question as to absolute prohibition, pure and simple, to submit a second issue, namely, whether there should not be a modified prohibitory law, under which the manufacture and use of cider, native wines and similar beverages should be permitted, while the use of strong alcoholic drinks is stringently forbidden. There are many who would support such a modified prohibition who are not in favour of absolute prohibition.

(4) The question of prohibition is a very perplexing one to many persons who are strong and consistent temperance reformers. While they most earnestly desire every restriction to be placed upon the traffic and every protection given to the weak and the young who may be exposed to temptation, and while they admit the validity of prohibitory legislation; yet they doubt whether it is possible to enforce efficiently a prohibitory law, and a law not enforced is worse than useless. If the country is not ripe for prohibition, hasty legislation will only provoke re-action. I have more faith in education and in the power of Christ than in prohibitory legislation. Mere prohibition will not of itself effect radical reformation. Its place must always be secondary. Whatever value it may have must always be dependent upon the existence of a strong public opinion, and this can only be created and maintained by educational and evangelistic agencies. The great danger is lest these be forgotten or depreciated in the agitation for legislation. Are the schools and churches now doing all they ought to do, and all they can do, in this matter? I do not think so, and this to my mind is a matter much more vital than the mere passage of a prohibitory law.

J. P. Sheraton.

REV. JOHN POTTS, D. D.

Prohibitory legislation is not like any other kind of legislation, and it is of the first importance that it be supported by a very decided public opinion. I would regard prohibitory legislation on a bare majority vote as demoralizing to the temperance cause in Ontario. In the event of a referendum the highest interests of temperance would, in my judgment be best served by requiring from sixty to seventy per cent. of the votes polled, as a condition of such legislation being made law.

John Potts.

REV. DR. WARDEN

I understand that by prohibition is meant the prohibition of the sale, by retail, of intoxicating liquors in the Province of Ontario. The manufacture is not to be affected, nor exportation, nor importation, for private use. Under these circumstances, should the Government decide on the referendum there ought, in my judgment, to be in favour of prohibition at least two-thirds of the vote polled, and this two thirds should constitute considerably more than 50 per cent. of the voters of the province. To be effective a law must accord with the conscience of the people; otherwise its violation will almost certainly be winked at, and law itself brought into disrepute.

Robt. H. Warden.

Does Not Disappoint.

The New Discovery for Catarrh Seems to Possess Remarkable Merit.

A new catarrh cure has recently appeared, which so far as tested, has been remarkably successful in curing all forms of catarrh, whether in the head, throat, bronchial tubes, or in stomach and liver.

The remedy is in tablet form, pleasant and convenient to take, and no special secrecy is maintained as to what it contains, the tablet being a scientific combination of Blood root, Red gum, and other similar valuable and harmless antiseptics.

the name of Stuart s Catarrh Tablets.

Whether the catarrh is located in the nose, throat, bronchial tubes, or stomach, the tablets seem to act with equal success, removing the stuffy feeling in head and throat, clearing the mucous membrane of throat and trachea from catarrhal secretions, which cause the tickling, coughing, hawking and gagging so annoying to every catarrh sufferer.

Nasal catarrh generally leads to ulceration, in some cases to such an extent as to destroy the nose entirely and in many old cases of catarrh the bones of the head become diseased. Nasal catarrh gradually extends to the throat and bronchial tubes and very often to the stomach, causing that very obstinate trouble, catarrh of the stomach.

Catarrh is a systemic poison, inherent in the blood, and local washes, douches, salves, inhalers and sprays have no effect on the real cause of the disease. An internal remedy, which acts upon the blood is the only rational treatment and Stuart's Catarrh Tablets is the safest of all internal remedies, as well as the most convenient and satisfactory from a medical standpoint.

Dr. Eaton recently stated that he had successfully used Stuart's Catarrh Tablets in old chronic cases, even where ulceration had extended so far as to destroy the septum of the nose. He says, "I am pleasantly surprised almost every day by the excellent results from Stuart's Catarrh Tablets. It is remarkable how effectually they remove the excessive secretion and bring about a healthy condition of the mucous membranes of the nose, throat and stomach.

All druggists sell complete treatment of the Tablets at 50 cents and a little book, giving the symptoms and causes of the various forms of catarrh, will be mailed free by addressing F. A. Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

FOR OCEAN REFRIGERATOR.

British-American Syndicate Plans to Build Six Big Ships.

London, Jan. 4.—As a result of the recent visit to America of F. B. Girdlestone, manager of Bristol Docks, a powerful British-American syndicate has been formed to establish a weekly ocean refrigerator line between New York, Boston and Bristol. Sir Christopher Furness and Messrs. Howard, Crosby and Cook, who represent various American parties, including the Goulds, are among those interested. Six steamers of 8,000 tons capacity, with every modern improvement, will first be built, probably half in England and half in America. Later on it is proposed to establish a line between New Orleans and Bristol, which, it is claimed, will bring California two days nearer England than by way of New York. Bristol is spending $10,000,000 on new docks, and it is proposed to erect there a $500,000 cold storage plant.

As Mr. Marconi has not definitely decided as to what time will be at his disposal, he was only able to thank Prof. Bell for his courtesy, and promised to inform him later whether or not it would be possible for him to visit the United States capital. Mr. Marconi dined the same evening with His Excellency the Governor-General at Rideau Hall.

Carnegie to St. Catharines.

St. Catharines, Jan. 3.—Andrew Carnegie has made St. Catharines an offer of $20,000 to build a free public library building. The conditions are that the city spend $2,000 per annum in its maintenance and furnish a site. The offer was made public yesterday in a letter received by Mayor McIntyre from Mr. Carnegie, and the public sentiment, as expressed on the streets, is that the offer should be accepted. The city would have to spend about $400 more per annum on the library than the present institution costs. An option on a good site has already been secured.

WALLA WALLA SUNK

Unknown Sailing Vessel Crashes Into a Pacific Steamer.

PROBABLE LOSS OF 20 LIVES

Except Few of Crew on Watch, Passengers and Crew Were Asleep When Crash Came—Some Believed to Have Been Crushed to Death Thirty-five Minutes Afterwards and Steamer Sank.

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 4.— A collision at sea early Thursday morning between the steamship Walla Walla and an unknown sailing vessel, resulted in the sinking of the steamer and the probable loss of at least 20 lives. The Walla Walla is owned by the Pacific Coast Steamship Company and sailed from San Francisco Jan. 1 for Puget Sound ports. She carried 36 first-class passengers, 28 second-class and a crew of 80 men. When off Cape Mendocino on the California coast, at 4.10 o'clock Thursday morning, an iron barque, believed to be French, loomed up in the haze and crashed into the Walla Walla's bow. Then the sailing vessel slid off into the darkness and was seen no more.

All the passengers and crew of the Walla Walla, except the few on watch, were asleep, but were aroused by the crash. The steerage quarters were in the bow and it is believed some of the steerage passengers and crew were crushed to death. A big hole was made in the steamer's bow and she sank in 35 minutes. The officers and crew maintained strict discipline and boats and life rafts were lowered.

All who were not killed in the collision got off, except Captain Hall, who went down with his ship. He was picked up later by one of the boats, uninjured, with the exception of a few bruises. A choppy sea was running, and the small boats could not make a landing on the shore, a few miles distant. They drifted about all day and finally 65 people were picked up by the steamer Dispatch, which took them to Eureka.

Another boat, under command of Engineer Brown and containing 13 persons, attempted to land at Trinidad and was swamped. John Wilkinson, quartermaster; William Martel, fireman; L. Drube, passenger, and three unknown men, were drowned. Those in the boat who were saved, were: Engineer Brown, Fireman John McClellan, Coal Passer William Shinn, Sailor O'Leary, Chief Cook Marshall and Passengers William B. Smith and William Moorehouse.

When the Dispatch reached Eureka yesterday morning with the survivors, tugs were immediately sent out for the missing boats. The tug Ranger picked up one containing 11 passengers and three of the crew.

The Walla Walla was valued at about $250,000. She was formerly used as a collier and about 10 years ago was converted into a passenger vessel at a coast of $175,000. The vessel was insured for about $200,000.

PROGRESS AND SUCCESS.

Medical Science Advances.

It is not more than half a century ago that physicians considered a surgical operation with its risk, expense and pain as the only cure for piles. To-day it is only the out of date doctors that think of such treatment. It is cruel and extravagant to operate for a disease which is far more certainly cured by the application of Dr. Chase's Ointment. You may be skeptical, but for proof you are referred to tens of thousands of cases that have been cured by this famous preparation.

Protest Against Effort to Bar Asiatic Labor on Ships.

London, Jan. 4.—A despatch to The Times from Calcutta says the Bengal Chamber of Commerce has addressed the Government of India regarding the Australian bill prohibiting postal contracts unless only white labor is employed on the mail steamships.

The Chamber points out that 70,000 Lascar seamen and firemen are employed on mail steamships, and that these men are likely to be gravely injured by the bill. The Viceroy is urged to protest against the effort of the Commonwealth to interfere with Asiatic labor beyond its own jurisdiction.

It is intimated that it is possible that the British Government may intervene to secure the modification of the bill.

How to get up an Appetite.

Distaste for food often follows Grippe, and fevers, and is associated with a general weakness of the system. To impart a real zest for food, and give power to the stomach to digest and assimilate, no remedy can equal Ferrozone. This is a new and startling discovery. It strikes at the root of disease and by removing the cause, cures quickly and permanently. Ferrozone will quickly enable you to eat and digest anything. Big Syndicate Fails.

Cleveland, Ohio, Jan. 3.—The financial affairs of the Everett-Moore syndicate, owning or controlling a number of urban and inter-urban electric railways, and an extensive system of local and long-distance telephone lines in Ohio and Michigan, passed into the control of a committee, composed of seven prominent bankers of this city yesterday. This action was taken, it is stated, as the result of temporary financial embarrassment on the part of the syndicate, which has for some time past been affected by the stringency in the money market.

The aggregate capitalization of all the various properties owned or controlled by the syndicate is said to be about $180,000,000.

A bad cold

Indicates a congestion of the membranes—not only of the head, throat and lungs, but of the body. If there's a weak spot it attacks there—just as a prize fighter goes for the solar plexus of his adversary.

A bad cold caused an affection of Matthew Clarks' lungs. He tells how Powley's Liquified Ozone cured him and relieved the chest pains:

"I had a severe cold in my head and pain in my chest, for which I tried several remedies, but could get no relief. I was at your warehouse delivering goods, and complained of my condition. I procured a bottle of Ozone from you, and I am pleased to state I am now entirely free from both pain in the chest and cold in the head.

"A number of my friends are using Ozone, and they think it is the best remedy they ever tried. (Signed)

"MATTHEW CLARK, 148 Peter St., Toronto."

This is the time of year when you have to be most careful of the affections of the throat and lungs. You may neglect a cold, and it will develop into consumption. Take it in time with Ozone; make the tissues healthy, feed the blood with oxygen, and you will have none of the ills so common and so fatal at this season. The next time you have a cold take Ozone two or three times in hot water before retiring; it will cure your cold like magic. You can prevent or cure bronchitis, pneumonia, lung trouble and consumption by its use.

WATER WORKS PURCHASE.

To the Editor of the Examiner,—

Dear Sir,—Below is a letter received by me a year ago, from the secretary of the Water Commissioners of Brantford.

Yours,

W. H. MOORE.

Brantford, January 2nd, 1901.

W. H. Moore, Esq., Peterborough, Ont.

Dear Sir,—Answering your telegram of yesterday's date, addressed to the City Clerk.

The statement of The Water Works operations for the year 1900 has not been printed yet. When I get them I will take pleasure in mailing you one. I give you briefly below a memo. of our receipts and expenditures for the year, which should demonstrate pretty clearly the advantage of municipal ownership;—

Revenue Net	$32,071.67
Operating expenses	8,170.13
Net Earnings of Works ...	$23,901.54

Our interest and sinking fund is between $13,000 and $14,000, roughly speaking, leaving a handsome balance of over $10,000, after paying for everything, and the works will be paid for at the end of debenture time. We have paid over to the City, over and above the amount required for interest and sinking fund in the past nine years over $100,000, which would have gone to swell the dividends of a private corporation, and had we maintained the rates charged by the company or private corporation, our surplus earnings would have been nearly $350,000 in the same space of time.

We laid, during the year, with our own staff, 2 1-3 miles of mains, also added 163 house services (new) making the total number of consumers to date 3810. These are the main points. Of course I cannot furnish details, but I think this will give you the information you desire. I am sir,

Respectfully Yours,

THOS. W. FRANK,

Secretary Board of Works Comrs.

A POPULAR TEACHER REMEMBERED.

(From the Norwood Register.)

Miss M. E. O'Connell, teacher of S.S. No. 6, was agreeably surprised on Friday last when her pupils presented her with a handsome Christmas-box as a slight token of the esteem in which she is held.

On behalf of the pupils, little Miss Flossie Hurley read with excellent taste a beautiful address in which they failed not to sound the praises of their amiable and devoted teacher, making special mention of the delight it gave them to know that their esteemed teacher was not to sever her connection with them for another year. The presentation was very gracefully made by Miss Maggie Hore.

This manifestation of gratitude was so unexpected that Miss O'Connell could scarcely find words adequate to express the pleasure she experienced in being thus appreciated by her pupils.

COMPULSORY VACCINATION

To be Proclaimed by the Town Council To-day.

A PRECAUTIONARY MEASURE.

The Prevalence of Small-pox Throughout the Province and the Existence of one Case in Town Leads to This Action.

There are 450 cases of small-pox reported in the Province of Ontario, so that the prevalence of this dreadful disease may almost be regarded as epidemic, and to call for the most rigid measures of precaution to prevent its spread; and the Board of Health and the Council of Peterborough are not behindhand or neglectful in this regard.

It is generally known that there has been one case of small-pox in immune, that of Miss Frise, No. 176 McDonel street. But the attack was of so mild a form that it was hoped that with the precautions taken to isolate the patient, and place in quarantine those who were in any way exposed, the outbreak could and would be confined to this one case. The attack of Miss Frise was traced to Ottawa, and so mild was its nature in her case that she has made an excellent recovery, and will in a day or two be able to be abroad.

But through no fault of the authorities, or lack of vigilance, from this case the disease was communicated to a resident of the boarding house of Mrs. D. Thornton, No. 344 Aylmer street. He wa taken ill on Sunday, exactly two weeks after exposure—the normal period of incubation — through some clothing handled by the first patient. Mr. William Joyce, the person attacked, an unmarried man, and employed at the Canadian General Electric Works, was removed to the Nicholls Hospital. There his disease was diagnosed as small-pox. The Board of Health was at once notified and took immediate action, by procuring an isolation tent, which was placed in Jackson Park, where the patient is now confined under the professional care of Dr. Bingham, Medical Health Officer, who remains at the tent, Dr. Greer, in the meantime, taking the duties of Medical Health Officer. The tent is also guarded by an orderly and every precaution taken, which, with the isolated character of the situation, will gaurd against any possible spread from this point.

The Nicholls Hospital has been placed in strict quarantine for 14 days, which means that for that time access on the part of the public or egress on the part of those in quarantine will not be permitted.

In addition to the precautions of isolation of the only case in town and of the quaranting of every possible place where infection may have by any possibility been produced, the local Board of Health, at a meeting yesterday, considered the matter thoroughly, and at a meeting held last night the Council decided upon the adoption, on the advice of Dr. Bryce, secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, of general compulsory vaccination, and the proclamation requiring it was issued this evening.

Full particulars as to the regulations governing compulsory vaccination will be promulgated on Monday.

Immediately on being informed of the situation in Peterborough, Hon. J. R. Stratton, Provincial Secretary, despatched Dr. Hodgetts, who has on the part of the Provincial Board of Health, had a large experience with the disease in outbreaks in different parts of the province, to Peterborough. Dr. Hodgetts arrived at noon to-day, and at once proceeded to carry out his instructions from the Provincial Board of Health.

The public should carefully guard against giving heed to alarmist rumours. No reports of the existence of cases should be believed except on the authority of the Health authorities, who will take every means to locate any possible case, and to make the place of its occurrence a marked, placarded and quarantined spot, these being a large part of the precautions indicated under the circumstances.

No Deaths Have Resulted.

MUNICIPAL NOTES.

Electors are reminded of the fact that their opinion will be asked at the polls on Monday, concerning the advisability of the town acquiring the Water Works system. It is to be hoped that the interest in this matter will be such that a large vote will be polled.

The Mayor and Town Council are making a bad start this year in the manner in which they are attempting to conduct the public business. The first meeting of the new Council which was held last evening was "a star chamber session." The press received no notification of the meeting, which was an unwarranted omission. The Peterborough press has in the past jealously guarded the interests of the town and has rigidly suppressed the publication of anything which would be inimical to the welfare of the community, even going so far as to take measures to prevent news of such a nature from being used by the Toronto papers. If this feeling of harmony is to be preserved, the Mayor and Council will have to realize that it can only be done by admitting the press to its fullest confidence, as has been done in the past. An appeal is made to the broad-minded section of the Council to combat to the utmost any effort to exclude the press from the meetings.

The polling places are as follows:—

1. M. H. Halpin's store—D. R. O., A. Williams.
2. L. Spry's store — D. R. O., Jos. Lundy.
3. Town Council Chamber — D.R.O., Chas. Cameron.
4. Green Bros.' store — D.R.O., Mendell Green.

WEDDING BELLS.

Marriage of Mr. A. E. Silverwood of the Dundas-Flavelle Co.

The Lindsay Post contains the following account of the marriage of Mr. A. E. Silverwood, of the Dundas-Flavelle Company, Lindsay, and who is well known in Peterborough:

"A very pretty wedding was solemnized on New Year's day at 3 o'clock, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ferris, Glenelg street, when their daughter, Eva Montrose, was united in marriage to Mr. Albert E. Silverwood, of this town. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. W. Macmillan, of St. Andrew's church, assisted by the Rev. Mr. McCullough, of Newmarket, in the presence of a large company of invited guests. The bride looked charming attired in white silk dimity with tucked chiffon trimmings, and carried a bouquet of white roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Ethel, who looked pretty dressed in pink silkaline and carrying pink roses. The groom was supported by Mr. W. Scott, of Dundas & Flavelle Bros.' staff.

After the ceremony congratulations were extended to the happy young couple and the party sat down to an elaborate wedding dinner. The presents to the bride were handsome and numerous, which is an indication of her popularity among her friends. The happy couple left on the six o'clock train for a honeymoon trip to Toronto and other western points. Their many friends and the Post join in wishing them a long and happy married life."

MARRIED AT WARSAW.

Mr. Harry Henning of Moosejaw, Takes Miss Edith Maude Kidd of Warsaw as his Bride.

One of the most interesting and important events that has taken place in the vicinity for some time, occurred at the residence of Mr. Walter E. Kidd, on the evening of New Year's Day, when his eldest daughter, Edith Maude, was united in marriage to Mr. Harry Henning, of Moosejaw, N. W.T. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Bridgeman, Baptist minister, of Lakefield, assisted by Rev. Mr. Fox, in the drawing room of the residence, which was tastefully decorated with ferns, smilax, and carnations, in the presence of about 70 invited guests. Just before the appointed hour Miss Myrtal Hendren of Lakefield, sang the solo, "O, Promise Me." Promptly at 7 o'clock the bridal party entered the room to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Hendren. The bride was given away by her father, and was attended by Miss Ida Rondeau, of Courtright, Ont, and her sister, Miss Grace, as bridesmaid, and little Eva Kidd, daughter of Mr. Edward Kidd, as maid of honour. The groom was assisted by Mr. J. Herbert Kidd, brother of the bride, of Toronto. The bride was attired in a gown of white silk, entraine, trimmed with embroidered chiffon, and with a veil of white mechlin, and carried a bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid was dressed in white silk and carried bouquets of pink and dark red roses. The little maid of honour was dressed in white and carried a lovely basket of flowers. After the wedding the usual congratulations, an excellent wedding dinner was served. The bride was the recipient of a large array of beautiful presents, showing the high esteem in which she was held by the community. Mr. and Mrs. Henning left on the early train for Cleveland, London and points west on a short tour, prior to their departure for their future home in the Northwest. They will be followed by the best wishes of a host of friends for a very prosperous and happy life, in their new home in the far west.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

Peterborough's Colts Were Defeated Last Night.

NORWOOD'S HUSKY BUNCH.

Other Hockey Notes of Interest Curling Notes of the District.

THE COLTS DEFEATED.

The first hockey match of the season resulted rather disastrously for the local Colts, the Norwood team defeating them on the Charlotte street rink last evening by the decisive score of 15 goals to 2. Quite a number of spectators were present being anxious to get a line on the the new team of Colts, which is replacing the champions of last year, the latter graduating to the intermediate ranks. Naturally great disappointment was felt at the showing which was made, but the fact must be taken into consideration that the Norwood team is an aggregation which would give almost any intermediate O.H.A. team a hard argument. All the players from the eastern village have had the benefit of long experience and besides possessing a speedy, hard-shooting forward line, have a sturdy defence which understands how to use its weight to the best advantage.

The Colts should not be too much discouraged by their defeat. They were playing against a team which would be a tough proposition for the intermediates to handle. But outoutside of this fact a better showing could have been made if the Colts had attempted to introduce a little team work into their play. From start to finish every man scrambled after the puck as though its possession was the single desideratum. The defence men were also too venturesome and left the goal keeper with no protection half of the time. The circumstance of the Colts not having practised together as a team is of course largely accountable for the lack of system in their efforts to score, last evening, and the fact of their faults being pointed out in the first game should have the effect of getting the trainers at work properly on the boys.

The teams last evening were composed as follows:

Peterborough Colts — goal, Cameron; point, Hamilton; cover point, Lee; forwards, W. Robinson, Capt.; Roy Armstrong, Parker and Kennedy.

Mr. Lionel King proved a most satisfactory referee.

The Belleville Juniors play here on Tuesday evening and last night's exhibition match should be of great benefit in posting the Colts as to their weak points with the result that Tuesday's game ought to be an interesting one.

HOCKEY.

The first league game of the season will take place on Tuesday evening next, when the Belleville Juniors will battle for supremacy with the local Colts. The game should prove very interesting inasmuch as the composition of the Colts this year has been so far somewhat doubtful.

An effort should be made on the part of the Y.M.C.A. to have an open air rink to the south of the building. The tennis courts with their cinder filling would make an ideal rink if properly flooded and would afford an immeasurable amount of amusement for the young people.

The opening games in the Trent Valley League will take place next week when ten clubs will start in the race. The comparative strength of the various teams is somewhat doubtful, but there is reason to believe the Fenelon and Norwood teams will dwindle down in the series pretty well. Lindsay has promised, however, to place a pretty swift team in the league.

The Toronto Telegram says that "the O.H.A. is no respecter of persons." Well, if this is the case, why is it that the O.H.A. doesn't sift out that very odd little deal whereby a Newmarket man was counted out of a place on the Executive until he demanded a recount. There is a certain element in the O.H.A. which has to be watched, exactly as such a clique would have to be watched in any other athletic organization. When there is an opportunity like the present of laying hands on the bunch, it seems odd that no steps are taken. It was just such another piece of funny business which resulted year before last in two sets of goal nets being forwarded to Peterborough for the final game against Stratford, and yet when the Stratford match was played there wasn't a net to be had for love or money. The O.H.A. is strict enough concerning its players, but it is time it went after bigger game.

Lionel King may figure on the Intermediate team when it goes to Lindsay.

CURLIANA.

At the rink last night, Skip Neill defeated Skip Ferguson by a score of 16 to 18.

The Lindsay Tankard rinks have been chosen for this year's games. G. F. Blackwell, N. F. A. McSweyn, W. Dundas and W. McLennan form one rink; the other is made up of the following players: R. H. Cuthbert, L. V. O'Connor, G. A. Little, and J. D. Flavelle.

TOBAGGANNING.

A meeting of the Peterborough Tobogan and Snow Shoe Club will be held on Wednesday evening. The indications are that the grand old sport of tobogganning and snowshoeing will be greatly revived in Peterborough this winter and the Peterborough Club which was reorganized last winter intend going into the season's operations on a rather elaborate scale. Officials will be elected for the ensuing year, and arrangements made for the first tramp.

NEW YEAR'S FLOWERS.

It is a pretty custom to decorate the house with flowers and plants during the first days of the New Year, and it is not a very expensive custom either if you come to the right place for your decorations. A visit to the West End Greenhouses will show you that we have every flower and plant you want. There are roses, carnations, violets, lilies of the valley, daffodils, hyacinths, and narcissus vieing with each other in sweetness. And then among the plants you will see pretty azaleas, cyclamens, ferns, of all kinds, and palms. A. Blade, Manager. Phone. 318.

CATTLE TUBERCULOSIS.

A Fine Herd had to be Destroyed in Otonabee.

A very bad case of tuberculosis was discovered in a herd of eight cattle belonging to Mr. R. Fox of Otonabee. Mr. Stubbs, of Calden, Government inspector, and J. H. Hess, V.S., of Hastings, made a thorough test on Tuesday and Wednesday, and after killing one of the herd proved their suspicions were right. Dr. Hess made the discovery last summer, and Mr. Fox, although losing the eight cattle, did everything he could to help the veterinary men. Dr. Hess has the lungs and other organs of the animal killed and intends preserving them. They are badly affected.

HOPEFUL VIEW

The hopeful view consumptives take of their own cases is strongly in their favor. Each year is showing a larger percentage of cures.

One of the best reasons for good hope is the record of Scott's Emulsion as a medicine for consumptives. So long as the system is strong enough to use medicine of any kind it can use Scott's Emulsion.

The reason for its helpfulness in this disease is because of its long tolerance by the patient; one does not tire of it as quickly as other medicines and that is where the great benefit comes.

Can't Afford

GRIPPE

The active business man is just as liable to take cold as anybody—and because he feels he cannot afford to "lay up" with it, he neglects it—and a neglected cold leads only to Grippe—and Grippe to the open grave.

UWANTA GRIPPE CAPSULE

nips a cold in the bud—you feels its good effects in a jiffy, and it cures like magic—no need of laying up—it heals while you work.

F. W. Walsh, a prominent Ottawa business man, says: "I always carry Uwanta Capsules with me, and on the first sign of a cold I take two, and that settles it—I never have a cold, because this little wonder worker wards them off."

A Happy Deliverance From The Agonies of Rheumatism.

Paine's Celery Compound

The Wonderful Victory Over a Terrible Disease Vouched for by One of our Prominent Druggists.

If you are a sufferer from rheumatism in any of its terrible forms—muscular, inflammatory or sciatic, be assured of the glorious truth that Paine's Celery Compound will work for you a permanent and happy cure. The thousands of letters received from people who have thrown off their burdens and agonies prove conclusively that Paine's Celery Compound is the one great specific for this awful disease. The following letter from Mr. J. Leverington, of Virden, Man., and indorsed by Mr. J. W. Higginbotham, druggist, of the same town, should convince all sufferers that the immediate use of Paine's Celery Compound is their only hope. Mr. Leverington says:

"For more than a year I was suffering from the agonising pains of sciatica, and after trying all that medical skill could devise, and using many remedies, patent and otherwise, I concluded to try the Hot Springs at Banff, under the superintendence of a medical man. I took the treatment thoroughly and carefully for six weeks, and came home at the end of that time racked with pain and weighing 43 pounds less. At this juncture, when hope had almost fled, I heard of Paine's Celery Compound. It seemed suited to my case, and I sent to my druggist, Mr. J. W. Higginbotham, of this place, and asked about it. He recommended it to me, and I took a bottle. I soon began to feel better, and after taking the second bottle I was a cured man and threw away my crutches. I have always been a farmer, and am as able to do hard work now as ever I was."

Fear Scots and Hebrews.

Is it true that a Scotchman can never be employed in the Bank of England, London? A gentleman who has traveled in England and Scotland a number of times recently made the following statement:

"No Scotchman has ever been employed in the Bank of England either as a clerk or in any subordinate capacity for the reason that the English controllers of the bank believe that if they once admitted a Scot to the bank he would eventually control its affairs. In fact, it may be said, going in another direction, that no Hebrew can make a livelihood in Scotland for the reason that the Scot is quite as acute in financial and commercial matters as the Hebrew, and even more so. This statement may be a little hazy, but what I wish to say to you is this—the controllers of the Bank of England would not admit a Scot to any place in the bank any more than they would a Hebrew for the reason that the Scot and the Hebrew would eventually control this great bulwark of English finance."—

Looked Worse Than She Felt.

She was richly but inconspicuously dressed and would have attracted no particular attention as she stood on the corner of Tremont and Winter streets had not her face, under a white veil, been writhing in a series of remarkable contortions. Several persons paused to watch her "make faces," and then came a feminine acquaintance.

"Why," exclaimed the newcomer, "what upon earth is the matter?"

The facial contortions ceased and were replaced by a smile.

"With me? Nothing."

"But you looked as if you were suffering terribly."

"Never felt better."

"But your face—you were twisting it into all sorts of shapes."

The lady standing at the corner laughed and held out her hands, in each of which was a parcel.

"I was only trying," she said, "to work the edge of my veil down under my chin."—

Know His Man.

A story about the late James G. Batterson, president of the Travelers' Insurance company of Hartford. Ex-Governor Waller of Connecticut wanted to obtain a charter for a new corporation which he represented, and the opposition called Mr. Batterson as their star witness. He was asked by his own side only two questions.

"You have lived in Hartford a great many years, Mr. Batterson?"

"Yes, sir."

"Are you in favor of granting this charter?"

"No, sir."

Here his lawyers rested, leaving the rest to chance, knowing that Mr. Batterson could keep his end up in any verbal battle with ex-Governor Waller. The latter began by asking:

"Mr. Batterson, you have lived here many years?"

"I have."

"Well, sir," added Governor Waller, "it is my wish that you may live in Hartford many more years. That is all, sir."

Thus was Mr. Batterson's opportunity to talk shelved. Governor Waller knew his man.

LUCKY AND UNLUCKY FALLS.

Distance Is Often Less Important Than the Way of Alighting.

"There is something rather curious to me about the distances that men may fall without getting hurt," observed a New Orleans contractor, "but it is not always the case that a drunken man can fall farther than other men without getting bruised up or killed. In my own experience in construction work I have observed a few instances where perfectly sober men have fallen great distances without getting hurt. Of course, as a general thing, a man whose muscles are thoroughly relaxed on account of the influence of liquor is less liable to injury than the sober man, who will make all kinds of efforts to catch himself and who will in this way endanger his limbs by making them rigid and stiff.

"But I recall the case of a man who was working on a building with me several years ago, and at the time he was engaged on the fifth story. He was working in one of the windows in the side of the building. In some way he lost his balance and went head over heels down the side of the building toward the sidewalk. The sight made me sick, and I was actually afraid to look on the sidewalk below, because I felt certain that my friend had been mashed into pulp by the long fall. We got down to the ground as soon as possible. I was surprised when I failed to see my friend.

"He had not stopped on the sidewalk, but went crashing into the cellar, and you can imagine the surprise I felt when I met my friend with a smile on his face and making his way to the short, dummy steps that led up out of the cellar. I asked him if he was not hurt, and he replied that the fall jolted him a little and that his blood chilled somewhat while he was going through the air, but he was not hurt. He had struck an iron gate that worked rather easily on its hinges, and this apparatus allowed him to slide with ease into the basement, and it was this simple device that saved his life. He was perfectly sober at the time too.

"But now mark what happened to another friend of mine while he was under the influence of whisky. He was not drunk, but he was in that condition called comfortably full. He was walking along a sidewalk that was as smooth and as even as any I ever saw. For some unaccountable reason he fell. His head hit first, and it struck in such a way that it threw him over on his back. The turn was sudden, spasmodic, and seemed to have been caused by a muscular relaxation. He never regained consciousness. His skull was fractured badly, and he died in a few hours. These things go to show that it is not so much a question of how far a man falls. How a fellow hits seems to be far more important than the matter of distance."

Consumption

A cure that cures Consumption and its many kindred ailments is now within the reach of every sufferer. PUL-MO was perfected after many years of study and experimenting by a well-known German scientist, and has effected more cures than any other preparation which has been offered to the public. PUL-MO, while somewhat new in Canada, has been and is curing thousands of cases, and we have on file many testimonials and kindly letters written us by grateful people who have been returned to perfect health.

PUL-MO is the only absolute cure where there is Consumption, Throat and Lung trouble, Coughs, Colds, La Grippe, Bronchitis, Night Sweats, Chills, Fevers, or any other symptoms which may indicate a tendency toward consumption. PUL-MO has cured thousands of cases which had been treated by physicians without success, and finally pronounced by them as hopeless.

PUL-MO stands alone—the use of any other medicine as an assistant is not necessary. Eat good plain nourishing food, get plenty of fresh air and out-door exercise, and use PUL-MO as directed, that is all—Nature will do the rest.

Large Sample FREE

We know positively that it does all we claim, and to demonstrate our implicit faith in the merits of PUL-MO, we will gladly mail a sample bottle free of charge, direct to your post-office address, securely sealed in a patent mailing tube or box; but as we have gone to considerable expense in securing these mailing tubes for the convenience of our patrons, we ask you to send 10 cents to cover the cost of mailing. Only one sample of PUL-MO will be sent to any one person. Give PUL-MO a trial and convince yourself that it cures. All we ask is, that you take it as directed. Remember, we pay the expense of the trial, it will cost you nothing.

PUL-MO is inexpensive, being sold by druggists at $1.00 per large bottle, or you may procure a sample bottle from your druggist at 15 cents.

The GLASGOW WOOLLEN CO.

37 MELINDA ST., TORONTO,

A Pair in 30 Minutes

We want a few more workers in this locality, at once, and in order to secure your co-operation without the delay of correspondence, we herewith explain our full plan in this advertisement. The work is simple, and the Machine is easily operated, and with the Guide, requires no teacher. If you wish to join our staff of Workers let us hear from you promptly with the Contract, order form, and remittance, as a guarantee, and we will send machine and outfit to begin work at once.

OUR METHOD OF DOING BUSINESS

We wish to secure the services of families to do knitting for us in their homes. Our method is the same as adopted in England. We are the introducers of this plan and the largest knitting concern in Canada.

After long experience, we have been able to produce an Automatic Machine by which all kinds of seamless knitting is now done by our Family Machine, thereby enabling anyone of ordinary intelligence to quickly learn to do the work from the Instruction Guide. All we require is that you use the machine according to directions. The Machine being made expressly for this purpose, and the operation so simple, it cannot possibly make a mistake in its work.

The great demand now is for Bicycle Stockings, Woodmen's Socks, and Motormen's Mittens, and as we are unable to supply the demand, have taken this method of advertising for more help.

The large export trade to the North-west Territories, British Columbia, and the British Colonies, furnishes an unlimited demand for our goods, and, with the combined cooperation of the many families we are employing, together with the large amount of knitting we are able to turn out, by which we save rents, insurance, interest on capital, etc., enables us to undersell any manufacturers of this class of goods, and we have sale for all the knitting we can have turned out.

The price we pay for finished bicycle stockings is $10.00 per hundred, or at the rate of 10c per pair; woodmen's socks, 8c. and motormen's mittens, 12c a pair. All other work in proportion to size.

The machine can be operated by any one of a family, and at our prices any energetic family should be able to sustain themselves comfortably, and in time be a source of independent comfort.

Our plan is to send out each machine to beginners with a sock or stocking partially knitted, and remaining in the machine ready to be continued, and also enough yarn to knit one pair of sample socks or stockings and a simple and complete Instruction Guide, showing how the work is to be done. When the samples have been finished and returned to us satisfactory, we send a quantity of yarn, which you knit and return likewise when finished. We prepay charges on all work one way, and our workers pay return charges. The work, as we have stated, is simple and readily done, the machine having a capacity of ten thousand stitches a minute. We have many persons now in our employ who can knit from twenty-five to thirty pairs of socks or stockings a day, and where the time of a family is devoted to the work, you can readily see that $15.00 or $20.00 per week can be easily earned.

We furnish our workers all the materials, yarn, etc., free, and everything that is necessary for the work. We are furnishing the machines only for the exclusive use of those desiring to take employment with us, who must, in order to become a member, send us this Contract Order Form, properly signed by them, and at least one good reference, and remittance accordingly, to give us the necessary assurance that the quantities of valuable yarn we may send from time to time will not be wasted or misappropriated. Our interests are mutual, and this confidence must be established if we are to succeed. We guarantee fair dealing and prompt payment for work, so do not ask us to deviate from our terms, as we cannot make a distinction with one and not another; besides, we are doing an extensive business and must be governed by business principles.

The manufactured price of the machine is $15, and positively will not be sold to any others than those who will agree to do knitting for us.

If at any time after you commence, and have done an amount of work equal to the purchase price, and wish to discontinue, we will take back machine and refund the amount paid for same, after deducting cost of our expense only.

There is a Large Demand by the Trade for this class of work. Our workers can depend upon it year after year, and if you engage with us (whole or spare time) we will keep you supplied with work as long as you do it satisfactorily for us and return it promptly. We entrust our workers with large quantities of valuable yarn, and as we give references as to our honesty and integrity, we must ask you to do the same, in order that we may know with whom we are dealing.

We have, in as brief a manner as possible, endeavored to show you what our work is, and we simply say as to the machine, it is just what we represent it to be, and will positively do everything we claim for it, or refund the money. Each machine, securely packed with an outfit, is set up for work, thoroughly tested, and a sock or stocking partially knitted before boxing and shipping. Should you decide to engage with us, it will be necessary to send us Cash Contract Order Form, properly signed by you, and at least one good reference, together with the remittance, accordingly, upon receipt of which we will forward machine and outfit ready to commence.

Respectfully yours,

GLASGOW WOOLLEN CO., 37 Melinda Street, Toronto

Our References—Express Companies, Banks, or Toronto Business Houses.

If you wish to examine the machine and see the material before undertaking the work, you can do so by sending $3.00 as a guarantee of good faith, and to defray expense of shipping, and we will send everything to your nearest express company, leaving a balance of twelve dollars to pay the agent and 25 cents for the return charges on the money to us.

We are so frequently and unnecessarily asked if one can learn to knit without a teacher. We say, Yes; it requires no teacher; any person of ordinary intelligence who can read the Instruction Guide can learn to knit at once.

EIGHT CONVINCING REASONS...

THE IMPERIAL LIFE ASSURANCE CO'Y OF CANADA.

1. It is a purely Canadian Company, having all its funds invested in Canadian securities, and transacting business only in Canada.

2. It maintains the largest Government Deposit of any Canadian Life Insurance Company.

3. It maintains relatively the strongest policy reserves of any Canadian Life Insurance Company.

4. Its past record — the greatest guarantee of the future — has been unparalleled in Canadian life insurance.

5. Its policy contract is one of the most liberal issued, consistent with safety and equity.

6. It has a Capital of $1,000,000, which makes policy-holders' security unquestionable. At the same time, the assured is practically in the same position regarding profits as if he held a policy in a mutual company, the Imperial's charter providing that at least 90 per cent. of all profits shall be divided amongst policy-holders.

7. For every $100 of liability to policy-holders it holds $180 of securely invested assets. These assets are all of the highest order, and will bear the closest scrutiny.

8. An Imperial policy never depreciates in value, but, on the contrary, is constantly becoming more valuable. It is the most valuable estate you can leave behind you.

HE SAVED THE SCOW

A CLEVER BIT OF STRATEGY IN AN ENGINEERING JOB.

How a Young American Engineer Brought His Spirit of Invention to Aid in Solving a Wreck Problem in South America.

"It is easy enough for an engineer to show ability in New York or in other big towns where he can get about all the tools and conveniences ever devised. It is when an engineer finds himself in the wilds of a jungle or up in the mountains, hundreds of miles from civilization, that his own natural ingenuity and invention count," said a veteran engineer to a youngster who had been admitted to the ranks of the Engineers' club.

"Down in Surinam, Dutch Guiana, where the arrival of a sailing schooner causes a sensation, where a mail steamer enters the muddy harbor once in two weeks to tarry two hours to get rid of its mail and to take on a few passengers, there was once a young American engineer who showed that he had the proper spirit of invention to advance him to the front ranks of the profession. Like all the best inventions, his was the simplest one, and it was one that was widely talked about among the profession to the credit of the inventor.

"To understand the story properly you need a trifling insight into Surinam and its habits. Here Indians may be seen on the streets wearing only a breechcloth. The white population is so scarce that all are thrown together as if in one large family, Englishmen, Americans, Germans, Dutchmen and Frenchmen all combining together and forming clubs and society to keep themselves from dying of sheer lonesomeness.

"In this primitive town there was a man who held the splendid monopoly of owning a large scow. That, up there, seems a remarkably small thing to be proud of, but the value of even a scow depends entirely upon where the scow is and what it will cost to replace it. This particular scow had been built by American ship carpenters sent especially from the United States at great expense. There was not another scow in the entire harbor, and about all of the heavy river work to be done for the city and plantations and mining companies was done by this one vessel. Its loss, therefore, would have been not only a severe one for the owner, who had a monopoly of the business in those days, but it would have been little short of a national calamity.

"One day, while the scow was anchored in midstream, one of those smashing black squalls for which the tropics are famous broke over the river, and for twenty minutes you could not see ten feet away or hear a man shouting at your elbow. When the storm finally abated, the scow was not to be seen, and it was found she had gone down, deck load and all. To most of us there seemed about as much chance of raising the vessel as there would be to raise an ocean steamer sunk in the middle of the Atlantic.

"It was about this time that the young engineer took a hand in the problem. He asked the dimensions of the scow and was told that it was 12 by 60 feet, and then he announced that if the owner would provide him with four men he would raise the scow for a certain sum of money. The bargain was made, though the contractor refused to say how he would go about the job.

"Now, you must know that aside from the ebb and flood tide, which alternate every six hours, there is also what is known as a spring tide. This comes with the full of the moon, and it has the effect of making a higher flood tide than any during the month. The opposite to the spring tide is the neap tide, and that happens at the dark of the moon, with the effect that at no other tide during the month is the ebb tide so low as it is at that time. The difference in the height of water between the ebb at neap tide and the flood at spring tide is considerable.

"The engineer waited until neap tide. On that day he towed a number of logs down the river. These he anchored over the scow and sent men below to fasten chains to one side of the scow, and these he fastened to the logs on the surface. Then he waited patiently. As the spring tide approached he towed other logs down the river until he had enough to make quite a raft, and on the day of the highest tide all the logs were tied together and fastened. The tide rose steadily, and the more it rose the more the raft went down under the strain of the pull on the chains. At last, just as it seemed that the raft was unequal to the occasion, it was seen to boo up violently, and a moment later there was a commotion in the water, and the scow appeared. What had happened, of course, was this: The chains pulling upward on one side of the scow tilted it more and more until the deck load began to slide off, and finally, when all the stones had slid into the river, the scow came up under its own buoyancy. The remainder was simple. The vessel was towed to the shore, where it was hauled up on the sand, and when the water receded holes bored into the hull caused the scow to empty. Later the holes were plugged up again, and the old ship was as fine as silk."

WILD ANIMAL SLEEP.

Heavy, Peaceful Slumber of Lions, Tigers and Bears.

There is nothing odd or peculiar about the sleep of the lions and tigers. In captivity they show the same indifference to danger that they manifest in the jungle and by day or night will slumber through an unusual tumult, unmindful or unconscious of the noise. Their sleep is commonly heavy and peaceful.

Bears are also heavy sleepers, but less disposed than lions and tigers to slumber in the daytime. Grisly bears usually curl up under the rocks, but sometimes they crawl up to the very top of the rocks and, with front paws spread around the iron cage bars, go to sleep in what seems an uncomfortable position. But bears never release their muscular grasp of an object when asleep.

The black bears will curl up among the branches of a tree when they have the opportunity and go to sleep in this peculiar position. The polar bears show a peculiarity in the selection of their sleeping places. They choose one particular corner of the cage for the purpose and invariably seek this out for the night's rest.

The high strung, nervous animals are the most interesting to watch at night. They usually belong to the hunted tribes, whose lives are in constant danger in the forest, and they possess such a highly developed nervous system that they really sleep with one eye open. The slightest noise will instantly awaken them.

The prairie wolves merely seem to close their eyes for an instant and then open them again to see if all is quiet. Many vain attempts have been made to photograph these animals by flashlight, and without exception the camera has revealed the fact that one eye at least was partly open.

The day sleepers in the menageries are for some reason the heaviest slumberers of all, and when they close their eyes in early morning they seem almost as stupid as if drugged. This is in marked contrast to the light night sleepers, who on the approach of danger are instantly awake and on the alert.

Appetite.

It was his first voyage, and he was leaning over the rail in an attitude of reckless abandonment.

"What are you doing?" some one jeeringly asked him.

"I am rendering to the sea, sir, the things that are the sea's, sir!" he gasped as soon as he could speak.

Oldest Secret Trades.

The two oldest secret trade processes now in existence are considered to be the manufacture of Chinese red, or vermilion, and that method of inlaying the hardest steel with gold and silver which seems to have been practiced at Damascus ages ago and is known only to the Syrian smiths and their pupils even to this day.

Resignation.

Tommy—Well, then, all we can do now is to wait until mamma comes home and ask her for something for being good boys.

NOT A SISTER TO HIM.

She Was Willing, Though, to Become One of the Family.

He was past fifty and thought he was in love with a girl of twenty. He should have known better, but somehow some men of that age don't know anything better than a girl of twenty. He was old enough to be her father, for his own son was five years older than the girl. The man had been a widower for only two years and was just beginning to take notice, which may have accounted for his youthful taste.

She was not in love with him a little bit and had no idea that he was loving her until he sprung it upon her in the most unexpected fashion, as elderly men are liable to do in their love affairs. Widows are likely to be that way, too, so that it may be said to be a characteristic common to either sex after a certain age.

The incident was almost tragic.

"My dear Margaret," he said to her one afternoon when he had met her by chance down town and walked home with her, "I have known you since you were a little girl and have always liked you. Since you have grown to womanhood I have talked to you on several occasions, and I think you do not dislike me. I have more than liked you. Indeed I love you, Margaret, and I want you to be my wife."

"W-w-why, Mr. Blank," stuttered the girl, utterly routed by the sudden and unexpected attack, "I—I never thought of such a thing. I have the greatest respect for you, but I do not love you and cannot marry you. I would"—

"I don't know what you are going to say," he interrupted, "but for heaven's sake don't say you'll be a sister to me."

The girl laughed. She was recovering from the first shock.

"I won't, Mr. Blank," she said, "but I do want to be a daughter-in-law to you. Your son asked me to marry him a week ago, and I said 'Yes.' I think he is perfectly dear, don't you?"

"Oh, of course," assented the father, but he wasn't as happy as she was.

What Causes Pain?

Most pains and aches come from excess of uric acid poisons in the blood, due to deranged kidneys, rheumatism, backache, lumbago, pains in the sides and limbs accompanied by bladder and urinary troubles, are warnings too serious and painful to be neglected. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills act directly and specifically on the kidneys make them active, vigorous and thoroughly cure these ailments. One 25 cent box of this great Kidney medicine will do you a world of good.

A Chopped Roast.

A "chopped roast," as it is called, which is frequently served in German households, is somewhat similar to the American veal loaf or beef roll, but sufficiently unlike to offer variety. Get from a butcher whom you can trust a pound each of beef, veal and pork, the meat free from sinews and chopped separately. With this mix fifteen pieces of sweetback rolled very fine, three beaten eggs, one cupful of water, an even tablespoonful of salt, one-half teaspoonful of pepper, a little grated nutmeg and a small onion grated. Mix thoroughly and shape into a loaf. Lay over the top three or four thin strips of salt pork. Bake an hour and a quarter in a quick oven, basting thoroughly. This is specially good served cold with potato salad.

How a Sprain Does Hurt!

But it isn't the pain alone that is dreaded, just think of the loss of time and wages. Sprains without number have been cured by rubbing Polson's Nerviline well into the pores of the skin surrounding the joint. No matter whether it is a sprained wrist, ankle, knee or back, just try Nerviline on it, and see how quickly it will cure. There is only one liniment that can be depended upon to cure sprains, strains and swellings, and that is Polson's Nerviline. Large bottle 25 cents.

Postmortem Eponymics.

"Well, sir, Dr. Blank and I have had a little talk, and we are quite agreed about your case."

"Oh, then you think I shall get better, doctor?"

"On the contrary, we are afraid your condition is very serious, and we think it right to tell you so."

"But, doctor, what is the matter?"

"Well, you are suffering from a hitherto unknown combination of maladies, and when you die and we know more about it we are going to name it after you."—New York Medical Journal.

For His Good.

"Charley, dear," said young Mrs. Torkins, "there is one favor I want to ask you. I hope you will realize it is for your own good and not get angry."

"What is it?"

"I want you to solemnly promise me that you will never bet on a horse that isn't going to win."

"By Jabers!"

An expression which English writers frequently put into the mouths of their Irish peasants is "By jabers." I have lived the greater part of my life in Ireland, both in the north and south, but I have never heard it. "Bedad!" and "Begor!" are quite common, but not "By jabers!" It would be advisable for English writers to leave the Irish dialect severely alone, for they are sure to come to grief when they try to represent it. They generally produce an impossible jargon, built after the conventional stage pattern.

When to Use "Shall" and "Will."

"At what time shall you be at liberty?" is the correct form when you "desire information, not consent or a promise." "At what time will you be at liberty?" is equivalent to "At what time are you willing to be at liberty?" In implies that being at liberty is dependent on the will of the person spoken to. "At what time shall you be at liberty?" is equivalent to "At what time are you going to be at liberty?" Being at liberty is regarded as simply a matter of the future, not dependent on the will of anybody. "Will you?" expects the answer "I will;" it denotes willingness, consent or determination. "Shall you?" expects the answer "I shall;" it denotes futurity and nothing more.—Elizabeth A. Withey in Ladies' Home Journal.

IN "TYPHOID'S" TRAIL

Mr. W. W. Brownell, of Avonmore, Ont., says that a few years ago he had typhoid fever. After recovering was attacked most violently by Rheumatism and Neuralgia, he suffered so he thought he would die. Many a night thought he could not live till morning. Doctors tried to relieve him but could not. After taking three bottles of South American Rheumatic Cure every vestige of pain left him and he was as well as ever. 4

Points of View.

Different people look at marriage according to their occupation in life. A sailor wants to be spliced, a carpenter joined, a coachman hitched, a vesselman mated, a brakeman coupled up and a locksmith united in wedlock.

While philosophy will not prevent a man from failing in love, it is a well known fact that love interferes with a lot of philosophy.

Life is the follower of death, and death is the predecessor of life. But who knows the arranger?

LOVE

Lives only in the present. Nature throws a glamor around youth and maiden, so that although they saw misery and marriage walking hand in hand in every home in the world they would fondly believe that they could marry and defy misery.

Young women should be taught to prepare for marriage. They should understand how to preserve their womanly health through the functional changes of maternity. Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the most effective medicine for the preservation of womanly health and the cure of womanly diseases. It regulates the periods, dries enfeebling drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It prepares the womanly organism for maternity and makes the birth hour practically painless.

"My wife was afflicted with uterine trouble for several years," writes Mr. J. C. Day, of Little Britain, Lancaster Co., Pa., "and in November, 1898, the doctor said she had a miscarriage. He treated her for about two months or so, but there was but little improvement. I wrote you after she had commenced to take 'Favorite Prescription' and you told us to get 'Golden Medical Discovery' also. She took six or seven bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and two of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and got out of bed and was able to attend to her household work."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness.

Reciprocity.

"Mamma," said little Dorothy, "I'm going to be married to Willie Jones when I grow up."

"Indeed, dear," said her mother, "and what will you do for a living?"

"Oh, I'll keep house for him, and he'll keep me."

"But suppose he should lose his money?"

"Then I'll keep him."

"But suppose you should lose your money?"

"Then he'll keep me."

"But suppose you both lose your money?"

"Then we'll keep each other."

CHAPTER XVI.

Next morning there were scarcely enough men available for duty. Some did manage with an effort go down to the stables and perform the duties of that department. The poor horses, as they stood in narrow confines, would tumble against the breast rail or stagger backwards to the rear partition, as the vessel lurched from side to side. Some exhibited a jaded appearance, and the majority didn't care to eat or drink. Those who retained full possession of their normal appetites fared very well, like their masters, for when the majority of the boys were sick, the minority fared sumptuously, but when their health was restored, the reaction came, and we were all on the verge of starvation. There was a sling on board for every horse for emergencies like this, but they only added to the discomfort. Some troops did undertake to sling their mounts, and after the men were almost exhausted from heat and fatigue working in such cramped positions, the fact was proven that the horse, being thus suspended, was swung hither and thither, without any means to avert or diminish the concussion against the obstacles in his way. The labour expended was really worse than wasted, so the animals were unslung and left on their feet to gain their sea legs as quickly as they could, and the sooner the better.

It was beyond the power of man to keep stable utensils in their proper place. Brooms, shovels, forks, hoes, pails, baskets, etc., were always scattered to the four winds of the earth, and the most remarkable feature about it was that nobody ever meddled with them, nor saw anybody else doing so. One time when we came down to clean out the stables, our shovels and forks were missing, and nowhere could be found. It was a simple case of swiping, no doubt. There was a narrow passage in the rear of those horses nearest the side of the vessel, and the manure and other garbage from these must be removed from the stalls with hoes, placed in baskets, passed over the horses' backs, elevated to the upper deck by ropes, and cast into the sea. From the other lines of animals it was not necessary to pass the basket over the horses' backs, and on this particular occasion the work was going on very slowly, apparently a drag, when the troop leader casually dropped down and ordered the boys to hustle up and not be wasting their time. "We have no forks, sir," said the boys. "It doesn't matter a d—m, use your hands" was the thoughtful reply, and this they did, I'm sorry to say.

You may suppose we lived a life of leisure on board the transport, but you would be sadly mistaken. You don't very often find Tommy in total idleness. There is always something to be done, or if there is nothing in the regular routine, the inventive genius of our officers would soon make some duty. We were obliged to furnish guards, watches, stable piquets, sweepers, mess orderlies, waiters for the sergeants, mess and fatigue men to peel the potatoes for the officers' mess, etc. That kept us on duty at least every second day. If you were absented from duty there would be fire drill, medical inspection, kit inspection, ambulance drill, vaccination parade or some other pesky thing to keep you in a constant state of estuation. The guard duty was the same as any other military guard at home, in camp or barracks. The picquet was the same as any other military guard, at home, in camp or barracks. The picquet was similar, I presume, to cavalry stable picquet, and the term of duty was from 8 a.m.—2 p.m., 2 p.m.—8 p.m., 8 p.m.—2 a.m., and 2 a.m.—8 a.m. There were two men detailed to each division in the stables, and they served six hours each alternately twice in twenty-four hours. While acting in this capacity we were expected to keep a close watch over the animals entrusted to our care. At morning, noon and night the troops would come down, and water, feed oats or carrots, and leave the hay in the passage before the horses, for the picquet to feed as soon as they had finished their grain. The hay must be kept in these diminutive mangers until the animals were satisfied, when they were removed from the breast rail, turned upside down on the floor, and the passage swept and left as clean and tidy as labour and good taste could make it. If your second term chanced to be from 8 p.m. till 2 a.m., you had additional work, for at midnight you were required to give each horse water, feed oats, carrots or hay, and then tidy up as usual. If this duty were properly performed it involved considerable arduous work, for you will agree with me in saying that it was no small task to carry water in a pail to thirty or forty horses, not mentioning hanging up boxes, feeding, returning boxes and restoring things to order. Our orders were very exacting, but you can scarcely rival the Tommy in cunning, and some found a means which they considered justified them in shirking their duty, without subjecting their conscience to any serious tension.

The orders from the U. S. read, "The horses to be watered, etc., at midnight," and the boys, to save much labour, of which we were not particularly fond, would make one or two pailfuls do them all. One day when I was performing this picquet duty, I received a sharp rebuke from an officer, and had he been properly sober, in all probability I would have had more details to narrate, but as it was he dismissed me with a reprimand. Every stall in the stables was numbered, but our officers numbered the picquet, and with a blue pencil marked the stalls anew with the number corresponding to that of the man on duty. In this way No. 1 picquet was in charge of all stalls marked No. 1, and so on for each succeeding piquet. After they had gone to all this trouble, somebody happened to discover placards somewhere among the baggage, and since they gave number of men on duty, name of squadron, etc., were forthwith nailed in position. On this particular occasion I was No. 3 picquet, and when posted by the Sergeant, was instructed to look after the welfare of all horses whose stalls were marked No. 3 with Roman numerals. At noon this officer was shouting around for No. 2 picquet, and being over among his horses, he asked me if I was number 2, and received a negative reply. In about an hour afterwards he returned, still in a fury, and observing me putting hay in an oat-box saucily enquired "Are you No. 2 picquet? You're the man I've been shouting for all day!" Just then I replied "I'm not No. 2, sir." This was more than he could endure, and he answered, "If you are not No. 2 get to h—l over into your own quarters, and don't be meddling with my horses." At this juncture I was as wrathy as he, for I'm of Irish descent, and just at that instant I didn't care whether he was the Commander-in-chief or a boot-black, I wouldn't take it off him without returning some and endeavoured to tell him the instructions the Sergeant gave me when I was posted, but he was so crude he wouldn't listen to my explanation, only remarking in a derisive tone, "Can you read?" As I said before, I was just as indignant, and just as sarcastic as he was, and in answer to his enquiry promptly responded, "Yes sir!" as crispy as I could. I had to make an effort to make the "sir" audible, and very reluctly said the word at all. He commanded me to read what was on the card, and I accordingly did so. Not yet satisfied, he ordered me to do so again, and yet a third time. I was in a rage, and indignantly remarked with a most scornful grin, "If you don't yet understand it, sir, I can read it again." He couldn't brook such reflection on his scholarly attainments, and fairly foaming with anger, he stamped his foot and declared he would not take another word off me, nor have any of my insolence. It was a most fortunate thing he was on the deck above beside the hatchway, for had he been on the same deck as me, oh my! There would have been either a fight or a foot race.

Thursday, the 8th day of March, at 5 p.m., we crossed the Equator. I haven't heard any of the boys say for a fact that they heard anything unusual as it grated our keel from bow to stern. As tradition has it, Neptune comes on board at this time, and Innocent pranks of all sorts are played upon the unwary, who may receive a heavy shower bath before the performance reaches a conclusion. It afforded me no little amusement to hear an animated argument of considerable import along geographical lines. One young man contended that the moment crossed the equatorial line we would have two norths and two souths. He was so confirmed in this belief that no amount of philosophical reasoning could raze his pertinacity, and he apparently gave credence to an equally unreasonable tenet of mine, that we would make better time from here to the Cape because we had down grade for it. His knowledge of geography was about as limited as that of two Imperial soldiers I met in my hospital career. It is a customary thing to ascertain from what part of the world your immediate associates hail from, and this Englishman, observing my Maple Leaf badge, conjectured I came from Canada, and opened the dialogue by enquiring "Are you a Canadian?" "Yes sir, that's what I am," I replied. "What part do you come from?" "Ontario." "Ontario? Oh, I have an uncle living there. Let me see! He lives in Cook County." "Cook County?" said I, "You must be mistaken, my dear friend, there is no such county in Ontario." "Yes there is," he insisted. "It's you that's mistaken, for I distinctly remember the last time he wrote he said he was in Cook County, Ontario, a few miles out of New York City." I smothered a smile and said no more.

A few weeks later I went down country and met some new Tommies, and enquiries of much the same nature were in order. I related the above story to one of the party, a fairly intelligent looking fellow, and he was simply thunderstruck at his countryman's illiteracy, remarking, "The d——d fool! if he knew anything at all, he'd know New York was the capital of the United States." This time I couldn't help but laugh, and he laughed too, but his mirth was prompted by his friend's blunder, and mine by that of the two.

Just one, more instance. The first morning after I landed in Woolwich, coming home, a young fellow of the Army Ordance Corps asked me if I came from Canada, and I answered in the affirmative. Then he enquired what particular part, and I said, Ontario. "I have a sister living there," he went on to say, "on Dufferin street. Do you know Dufferin street?" "Yes," I replied; "I believe there is a Dufferin street in Toronto, and in other cities." But he was raving, and said, a little satirically, "This is not Tor—onto nor any other "onto," —it's Ontario." "Well," I confessed, "I don't know the place. It must have been incorporated since I left last January."

"77" FOR GRIP

GRIP is the concentration of Colds, Catarrh, Influenza, Cough, Sore Throat, all rolled into one. Congestion of the Head, running at the eyes; dry, hot, swollen, sore throat; it next creeps down on the chest—cough, hoarseness, difficult breathing, and pain, often down to the stomach and bowels; chills up and down the back, with lumbago and soreness. The prostration caps the climax, and you feel too sick for anything.

If you have all or any of these symptoms, take "77," it restores the circulation, starts the blood coursing through the veins, and "breaks up" the cold.

CULINARY CAPERS.

Eggs will cook much more evenly if the frying pan is covered.

To be just perfect, baking powder biscuit should begin to rise the minute the pan is in the oven.

Baked potatoes make the nicest kind of creamed potatoes, provided they are not baked so long that they turn dark.

When salads are made from vegetables that contain starch, the dressing should be put on while the vegetables are hot.

In using canned corn for corn pudding the latter will be more delicate if the corn is put through a fine chopper before being used.

When making sauces, set the butter in the stewpan first and when bubbling hot add the flour. Stir both together for a few seconds before adding the milk, water or stock.

In cooking custards or in heating anything required to boil quickly do not have the spoon in the liquid, remembering that much of the heat will be conducted away by the spoon.

Almonds are easily blanched at home. Pour boiling water over them, let stand two minutes, shake dry, lay in a coarse towel and rub the skins off. Let them dry before using.

You Need the Best.

If you are rheumatic, neuralgic, dyspeptic, nervous, weak, or run down, you need the best medicine that medical science can suggest. We strongly recommend Paine's Celery Compound for your troubles. It has cured others afflicted as you are; it cannot fail in your case. We sell the kind that makes sick people well.

William Mudill, druggist, Peterborough, Ont.

Very Trying.

"Johnny," said a provincial grocer to the new boy, "what kind of butter did you send over to the Hendersons?"

"Some of the rolls here," said the new boy respectfully.

"Oh, great Cæsar!" groaned the grocer. "Sent 'em some of that good butter just after I have got 'em down to this here in the barrel! Sent 'em the best butter in the shop just as I finish a two years' course of getting 'em down to the barrel butter! Gave 'em a taste of good butter after I have got 'em to think this barrel butter was the best in the world! And still you say you hope to own a grocer's shop some day! The taste of that butter you sent 'em will awaken all their old slumbering desires for good butter, and I'll have to work another two years getting 'em down a little poorer each time before I get 'em where there's any profit on 'em again! You might just as well put on your coat and go. Groceries ain't your line!" —London Tit-Bits.

WHAT ARE PILES.

Ask Scores of People Who Endure the Wretched Itching, Burning Sensations of Piles and do not Know the Nature of Their Disease or the Remedy to Apply.

Piles or hemorrhoids, as they are sometimes called, are small tumors which form in and about the orifice of the rectum. They are caused by an enlarged and inflamed condition of the veins, which are very numerous in this part of the body. Internal piles are situated along the veins which carry blood from the intestines to the liver; external piles, on the veins which surround the rectum.

Piles are of frequent occurrence among people who have a predisposition to rheumatism or gout. Such persons are subject to constipation and to obstruction in the passage of blood from the intestines, the most common form of piles. Congestion of the rectum, bladder and uterine organs, ovarian tumors and nearly all diseases of the liver are followed by piles, and they are very liable to appear during pregnancy and immediately after childbirth.

In bleeding piles the hemorrhage is sometimes so profuse as to cause death, but protruding piles are probably more dreaded because it is believed that nothing short of a surgical operation will cure them. As a rule every form of piles becomes at times acutely inflamed and extremely painful. The itching and burning usually increases at night, and the misery which many people endure is beyond description.

The magical power which Dr. Chase's Ointment has over each and every kind of piles gives it mastery over this disease, even in its chronic form and it is not unusual to hear of it curing where cruel, expensive and dangerous operations have failed.

There is no guesswork about Dr. Chase's Ointment as a cure for piles. It has been tried in the crucible of time, and gradually won its way into favor with the medical profession, as well as with the public in general. It has a wonderful soothing and healing effect, and whenever applied to burning, itching, inflamed skin, it affords almost instant relief, ecoling the fires of disease and healing the raw ulcerous skin.

As your friends and neighbours about Dr. Chase's Ointment. It is recognized by a surprisingly large number of people as the only actual cure for piles. It will not fail you. Sixty cents a box at all dealers, or by mail postpaid on receipt of price, by Edmanson, Bates & Company, Toronto.

Peppered the Natives.

London, Jan. 3.—A despatch to The Times from Wellington, N.Z., says that a French trading vessel, in retaliation for the desertion of a native boy, sailed up and down the coast of one of the islands of the New Hebrides group firing on the natives. Later a landing party from the vessel burned a church and certain mission buildings. The French admiral who adjudicated the case, caused the vessel's license to be forfeited, but refused compensation.

Water Kills Germs.

Chicago, Jan. 3.—According to bacteriologists of the American Society of Naturalists, some kinds of germs have such an antipathy for water that they actually commit suicide to escape the fluid. At yesterday's meeting of the society, it was proclaimed as an established fact, that water is in itself an agent deadly to many kinds of germs, and that milk also has destructive attributes within itself.

Powers to Protest

London, Jan. 3.—The Constantinople correspondent of The Times says that, on the initiative of Great Britain, the embassies are preparing a collective note protesting against the exaction of quay duties at Saleniks without the previous approval of the powers.

SCOTS GREYS SUFFER

Ambushed by Boers Forty Miles East of Pretoria.

SIX MEN KILLED, 13 WOUNDED.

Boer Lagger Captured—Successful Operation of Gen. Bruce Hamilton—Gen. Bruce Hamilton—Gen. Erasmus Among His Prisoners—Indignant With Germany—Libels on Troops Stir Up the People.

Pretoria, Jan. 5.—The Boers ambushed a party of the Scots Greys last Saturday near Bronkhorst Spruit, about 40 miles east of Pretoria, on the railroad. The British casualties were six men killed and thirteen men wounded.

AN IMPORTANT CAPTURE.

Commandant Erasmus in Hands of British Is an Irreconcilable.

London, Jan. 6.—Lord Kitchener cables the War Office from Johannesburg, under Saturday's date, that Gen. Bruce Hamilton, who has been operating east of Ermelo since Dec. 29, has captured 100 prisoners, including Commandant Erasmus. He also has taken much stock and many wagons.

The capture of Erasmus is considered to be an ample offset for the heavy casualty lists reported from the War Office. While not one of the most alert and resourceful Boer leaders, he has exerted a great influence, through sheer force of character, in keeping wavering burghers in the field.

British veterans have been asserting for many months that the war would end as soon as a dozen leaders could be captured. Erasmus is one of the most irreconcilable Boers.

FORCES BEING REDUCED.

Col. Dumaulin Captures Twenty-Eight of Smut's Commando.

Johannesburg, Jan. 5.—Lord Kitchener has organized a new mounted force from the artillery. This command, which will be known as the Artillery Mounted Rifles, took the field to-day, 1,400 strong. It consists chiefly of gunners of the howitzer batteries. The reduced forces of the Boers offer little scope for artillerymen, and it is believed that they can be used with greater effect as a mobile column to crush out the final resistance of the burghers. On Christmas Eve, Col. Dumaulin captured 28 men of Smut's commando in the eastern portion of the Orange River Colony. The reduction of the Boer forces is keeping up to the average rate.

Nearly 20,000 Dead.

London, Jan. 6.—The total reduction of Great Britain's military force in South Africa from the beginning of the war to the end of December, including deaths from disease, men reported missing, etc., amounts to 24,299 men. Of this number 19,430 were actually killed or died. A total of 64,330 men were invalided home, the majority of whom recovered and rejoined their commands.

London, Jan. 6.—The friends of Joseph Chamberlain are confident that he will not change his policy in South Africa, but that he will set his face sternly against a revival of peace negotiations. They credit him with the determination to continue the military compaign until every Boer in arms is a prisoner, and they assert that he will not follow Lord Rosebery's advice, and allow himself to be drawn into negotiations with Mr. Kruger. This is not because he has a hardened heart, but because he considers that everything within reason was done by Lord Kitchener to facilitate the conclusion of an armistice with General Botha, and that any reopening of negotiations with Mr. Kruger is utterly impracticable and will only expose the British cause to ridicule.

The Government is not likely to be influenced in any degree by Lord Rosebery's plain speaking. It takes its South African cue from Mr. Chamberlain, and will not attempt to make peace when there is no peace.

The Public Deeply Stirred.

London, Jan. 6.—Public feeling here has been deeply stirred by the libels on British soldiers in South Africa, circulated on the continent. Lord Roberts' letter, contradicting the stories of the violation of Boer women and the employment of Boer female refugees for immoral purposes, has intensified this feeling, especially as regards the anti-British tendency of the German press. The Pall Mall Gazette declares that a positive duty is incumbent on the German Government to order its military attaches in South Africa to announce what they know regarding the alleged atrocities. In all quarters the keenest determination is evidenced to have authoritative denials issued and have all accusations investigated.

Troopship Manhattan Returns With Some Invalided Canadians.

Halifax, N.S., Jan. 6.—The troopship Manhattan, which is to take the first section of the Canadian Mounted Rifles to South Africa, reached Halifax at noon yesterday from Cape Town, via St. Vincent, C.V., after a passage of about eleven days from the latter port. The steamer made a good run, and experienced fine weather from the Cape to this port.

The steamer brought eight invalided and time-expired men, who have been at the front with the British forces. They were N. W. Kelson of Melita, Manitoba, of the S.A.C. He left here on the Montfort last year, and was invalided.

Robert MacMann of the S.A.C. He belongs to Ottawa. MacMann is but 18 years old, and went from here in the Montfort, having enlisted as a trumpeter. On reaching South Africa, he was put in a division as a trooper, but was unable to stand the work. George McArthur of Westminster, B.C., also of the S.A.C., who was invalided home; V. C. D. Stewart, S.A.C., of Victoria, B.C., invalided; Collins Gumpt (colored) of the West Indies, who was with the Army Service Carps for one year; Samuel Isaacs (colored), of St. Lucia, W.I., who was also with the S.A.C. for 11 months. The other two troopers are Americans, T. Ryan, who served two years with the Duke of Edinburgh's Colonial Corps, belonged to Arizona, and goes from Halifax to New Orleans; Harry Walsh, another American, hailing from Cincinnati, who was with Brabant's Horse for fifteen months, and, his time having expired, he is now on his way home. Mr. Boyce, an American veterinary surgeon, came on the ship from Cape Town.

The Manhattan will likely be ready to sail from here on January 15 or 16.

A CANADIAN KILLED.

Corporal Hilliard Sloan Dies of His Wounds at Roost Kop

Ottawa, Jan. 6.—His Excellency the Governor-General has received from the Colonial Office notice of the death of Private McNaughton of the South African Constabulary, at Heidelberg, Dec. 26.

A cablegram from Cape Town to Lord Minto asks that Thomas Sloan, 282 Farley avenue, Toronto, be notified of the death of his son, Corp. Hilliard Sloan, who died of wounds at Roost Kop, Dec. 31.

BRYAN ON THE BOER WAR.

Says It Is a Disgrace That No Official Expression of Sympathy Has Been Made by U. S.

Cleveland, Jan. 6.—Four thousand people attended a pro-Boer meeting in Gray's Armory Saturday afternoon. An unexpected event in the evening was the appearance of Hon. William Jennings Bryan, who was in this city for the day.

Mr. Bryan spoke for about five minutes, during which time he said: "Sad will be that day, fallen will be the star of our destiny, if the time ever comes when struggling freemen feel that they cannot look upon the people of these States for sympathy."

Mr. Bryan said that he was in entire sympathy with the intent of the meeting, eulogized the fighting South African farmers, and urged them to continue the struggle.

Mr. Bryan said that he considered it a compliment that the Boers looked to the United States for aid and sympathy in their struggle, and that he considered it a disgrace that no official expression of sympathy had yet been made by this Government. Mr. Bryan believed that the English people are opposed to the continuance of the war, as they, too, are suffering because of the unhappy conflict, and are the ones that must bear the burden of the cost.

A resolution of great length was passed, and will be sent to the President of the United States. The President is asked to enforce the treaty of Washington, May 8, 1871, denying to vessels operating under British authorities opportunities for the augmentation of supplies of war from the United States.

Collected $50,000 in U. S.

Brussels, Jan. 6.—The Rev. Mr. Broekhuysen returns as a Boer propagandist to the United States about the middle of January. He will probably be accompanied by Abraham Fischer, the leader of the Boer delegation, who visited the United States in May, 1900. The Rev. Mr. Broekhuysen says he and other propagandists have collected in America $50,000. This is more than the Boers have received from any other source.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

General Kitchener's call for Canadian scouts to serve in South Africa, is a valuable practicable tribute to the shrewdness, alertness and courage of the Canadian soldier. And his confidence is not a theoretical one, but is founded upon Lord Kitchener's observations of the splendid, intelligent and effective way in which the soldiers of the several Canadian contingents performed their duties.

What is called the Mayoralty contest in Toronto, but which is in reality a trial of strength of the representatives of two local factions of the Conservative party, ends to-day. The indications are that Mr. McLean will not be successful. Though he is a bold, energetic, live man, with opinions, he is perhaps handicapped by his late entrance into the field, and by the fact that the people require time to appreciate a new departure, such as Mr. McLean represents. But the proverbial uncertainties of horse races and elections makes it unsafe to confidently forecast any particular result.

The price of a set of text books to take a public school pupil through the course from kindergarten to the institute is $4.95 in Ontario. A contrast might be made between the cost of such books in Ontario and of those required in the Protestant schools of the sister province of Quebec. The Montreal Star's commissioner who has been investigating the system of Protestant education in Quebec, reports among other things a list of text books and price list for class I. and II., the Protestant elementary model schools and academies of Sherbrooke These text books are 52 in number and the total price is $27 with no allowance for the replacement of writing and drawing books, and it is stated that the whole list has been practically changed in the last five years. It is by comparison that one can get a true idea of whether our Provincial expenditure or prices of school books are unduly large or unduly expensive.

STRATHCONA ON CANADA.

Canada's Representative Represents Canada.

In an interview with an English magazine, Lord Strathcona, Canada's High Commissioner, London, shows his fidelity to Canada and her resources.

The interviewer relates that he called upon Lord Strathcona at the latter's house in Grosvenor Square, London. The venerable Canadian statesman had returned from his labours at his office, having performed a heavy day's work, which would, as the writer states, have made many a man thirty years his junior "too tired to be bothered." Yet he listened kindly to the questions and did not exhibit any impatience at being delayed from his well earned rest. The writer describes Lord Strathcona in these words. "His rugged face is of the ruggedness of eighty-one; his head, and beard, too, are white, but his eyes shine from under their large bushy white eyebrows with all the clearness and alertness of twenty. He sat in a restful pose, with his hand to his ear, in order to hear my questions distinctly, and replied as interestedly as if special importance were attached to the interview. But it was about Canada that he insisted on speaking."

The article continues: "You ask me what are the special opportunities which Canada presents to the emigrant," said his Lordship in answer to my question. "Well, in the first place—but I want to get this right before I go any further—people in Canada are not 'frozen to death in winter and roasted in summer,' as one of your writers stated a month or two ago. I know that is putting in a sentence a general impression that used to prevail (I thought it existed no longer) of the extremes of the Canadian climate, but it is a wrong impression. It is true that the summer and winter present wide extremes of temperature when measured by the thermometer, but the fact that the atmosphere is a great deal drier than in this country, makes these extremes less trying than one might suppose."

"But you want to know of the opportunities which Canada offers to the emigrant from this country. There is no other land which presents such chances to the worker. But a worker, the fortune seeker in Canada must be above everything else. One of the advantages which Canada in common with every land on earth, does not possess, is gold-paved streets and fortunes for the picking up. You have to dig pretty hard before you come to the gold; but the gold is there and is to be had for the digging. There are excellent openings for farmers and farm labourers. The conditions are all in their favour. The climate helps them to grow the finest wheat in the world, to grow an enormous amount of fruit, to cultivate extensive vineyards, and to rear cattle, and sheep and pigs, whose size is the wonder of the British farmer. Whether the people of Canada are 'frozen to death in winter and roasted to death in summer,' or not, their crops are not, and it is an interesting fact that the farther north you go, the finer the crops are, and the fatter are the live stock."

THE LARDER OF THE EMPIRE.

"I wonder whether the people of this country know or realize how much they depend on their one colony of Canada for their food supplies," continued his Lordship. "We supply you with bread, you eat the beef, cheese, butter and eggs that we send, you do not get finer apples and pears than we export to you, and each year the quantity of food exports of all kinds from Canada increases, and in a very short time we shall be supplying one-third of the food imported by Great Britain. Canada has done a great deal in horsebreeding, also, and Canadian horses have a good name for cheapness and for serviceable work as light draught horses in London. They are well known in South Africa, where a good many have been employed during the war.

"I don't think the young man who has never made the best of things at home, can hope for much better success by emigrating. I know that it is very often the young man who has never tried at home, who in a desperate moment, in a fit of extra discontent with the drudgery of work, packs and sets sail for the colonies, and for what he ignorantly thinks will be a life of romance and largely of do-as-you-please. The life of a settler in the colonies means hard work, just as at any desk or bench or counter. True, it is drudgery in a different setting, and amid different surroundings, but he will become accustomed to these in a month or so."

OUR NEW PRINCESS OF WALES.

Something Interesting About the Royal Lady Who Visited Canada Last Fall.

When the Duchess of Cornwall and York was told that she would not hold that title much longer—that she was, in fact, for the future to be known as the Princess of Wales—she remarked sadly, to one of her attendants, "I really feel quite miserable! It does seem hard!" "Hard! your royal highness? Hard to be the princess of Wales! Surely not!" "Yes," answered the duchess, thoughtfully; "it will indeed be hard for me to be known as the princess of Wales. I think of the princess of Wales before myself—now our queen. How can I ever make myself so beloved or carry out the duties so magnificently as did the princess of Wales? Oh, dear!"—and and the bonnie lady sighed, as the Americans would say, "genuine bad."

It is this utter disregard for self, this sweet praise of others, that has made the princess so much beloved. As princess May of Teck, when leading a free country life at her parents' home at Richmond, she was respected by the rich and mighty, and worshipped by the poor and humble. The writer well remembers visiting a dying man in his poverty-stricken home just outside Richmond. One day a quietly dressed young lady entered the cottage as the clergyman was reading to the sick man. After he had finished, the lady, with tears in her eyes, asked the sufferer what she could do for him. "Will you please give me that beautiful hymn, 'Lead, Kindly Light?'"

The lady recited the hymn very gently, but so earnestly. Later on she said to clergyman: "If you will wait here, I will go with this lady (the clergyman's wife,) and bring a few things back with me." In about an hour ,back came princess May—for the princess May of Teck it was—laden with parcels filled with luxuries. Until his death princess May saw that the poor man wanted for nothing, and scarcely ever missed a day visiting the humble cottage.

Gentle and tender-hearted as is the princess of Wales to the poor and suffering, considerate and courteous as she is to those placed under her, yet she can be terribly cold and cutting when occasion requires it. "Do you mind me calling you May?" once said a very fashionable and gushing society lady to the young duchess of York; "I love your name so much!" "Not at all," said the duchess in a dangerously quiet tone of voice; "if you do not mind me not answering you!"

OUR WESTERN HERITAGE.

We realize but inadequately the meaning and the extent of the vast foundations that are in that western country now being laid. We will not be many years older before the locomotive will be blowing its whistle on the docks at Athabasca Landing, and be answered by steamers which have come literally from the Arctic Sea. At the landing the railway will be in communication by water with thousands of miles of the north. We do not think that we are under any delusion with regard to the region in which those vast lakes and navigable rivers lie. Granted that most of it is outside the protective belt, it nevertheless remains a fact that, scattered as industry may be in those regions, the very vastness of them, coupled with the accessibility which their waterways impart to them, will in a few years make a large aggregate of business. No one who reads the evidence gathered by the Senate Committe a dozen years ago can doubt that the curtain is just beginning to roll up on a drama of settlement and civilization on a colossal scale.—Globe.

WEST ALGOMA LIBERALS.

Mr. James Conmee, M.P.P., Their Unanimous Choice for the Legislature—The Happiest Day of His Life.

Port Arthur, Jan. 6.—West Algoma Liberal District Association met Saturday in Port Arthur. One hundred delegates assembled from all over the district.

After discussing routine business, Mr. James Conmee was tendered the unanimous nomination, which he accepted, saying this was the happiest day of his life, and that he would leave no stone unturned to help elect and support the best and most progressive Liberal Government that new Ontario has ever had a chance to stand by.

BRIGANDS ATTACKED.

Miss Stone's Captors and the Turkish Inhabitants Clash.

Constantinople, Jan. 6.—The news that the brigands holding Miss Stone captive are being attacked by the inhabitants of the Turkish territory, where they are said to be in hiding, has created considerable of a sensation here. A deadly feud is said to exist between the leaders of the hostile bands, part of whom are reported to have deserted and are attempting to re-enter Bulgaria, and much anxiety is felt here with regard to the outcome of these developments.

The American legation here has not yet received news from M. Gariglio, the dragoman of the legation, who left Salonika for the interior the latter part of last month with the purpose of meeting Miss Stone's captors, and says the rumors of Miss Stone's release are quite unfounded. No direct news has been received from the American captive since Nov. 13, the date of the last letter from Miss Stone to Mr. Dickinson, Consul-General at Constantinople, who was then acting as diplomatic agent of the United States at Sofia.

The Macedonian Committee.

London, Jan. 6.—The Constantinople correspondent of The Times says that, on instructions from the Porte, the Ottoman Commissioner at Sofia expostulated with the Bulgarian Government regarding the actions of the Macedonian Committee.

The Bulgarian Government repudiated responsibility, declaring that the territory in which the committee worked was Turkish and beyond Bulgarian jurisdiction.

N. TEMISCAMINGUE SENDS A STORY.

A Sturdy Farmer Stricken With Rheumatism is Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

This Man was so bad That he was Almost Paralyzed—A Wonderful Case and a Very Happy Cure by This Excellent Remedy.

North Temiscamingue, Que., Jan. 5th. (Special).—At the Douglas Farm near here lives Mr. W. H. Johnston who to-day considers himself a very happy man indeed.

The cause of Mr. Johnston's happiness is his somewhat sudden and very remarkable recovery from the most severe case of Rheumatism ever seen in this country.

For a long time he suffered with the Rheumatism which gradually grew worse till it threatened his life. His principal trouble was in his left side, and it was so bad that his neck stiffened so that he could scarcely move it, and was beginning to fear Paralysis. The pain would go away for a time but return with greater force, and a strange feature of his case was that after the pain would leave any part, it left behind it that prickly "pins and needles" sensation.

He thought that perhaps his smoking tobacco had something to do with it and he gave this up, but received no benefit at all till he used Dodd's Kidney Pills.

This remedy he found to be a complete and absolute cure for his malady, and very soon after commencing its use, the pain began to leave him and now he is strong and well.

That such an extreme case should yield so easily and quickly proves that Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure any case of Rheumatism.

Springlike Now in England.

London, Jan. 6.—After a period of gales which strewed the coasts with wreckage and completely disorganized the telegraphic service, English weather has assumed springlike mildness. In London the temperature on Christmas day was the same as at Cannes, and it has remained far above the average since. Butterflies have been caught in the open in many places, notably in Peterborough, where lilac bushes are budding and hedge violets are blossoming.

THROAT TROUBLE CURED

A STRONG ENDORSEMENT FROM PARENTS

Read Mr. and Mrs. Cooper's description of the manner in which Powley's Liquified Ozone cured their child:—

THE OZONE COMPANY,

Gentlemen: In view of the very satisfactory results obtained in our family by the use of Ozone, "The New System of Curing Disease," we take great pleasure in sending you for publication a short statement of the same.

Our little girl, now 14 years of age, has been troubled from babyhood with a peculiar throat weakness. Her throat would swell up every little while and seemed to be very distressing. Every known remedy was applied and medical skill appealed to in vain.

Each year the trouble grew worse until it became apparent that the swellings were ulcers on the inside of the throat, from which mucous matter would ooze out on the pillow through the night. Twice they broke outright and discharged a quantity of mucous, mingled with blood, and it was at this juncture, when at a loss to know how to cope with the disease, that we heard of Ozone.

Our child has used one small bottle of the remedy, and half a large one, and the ulcerous condition has quite disappeared, while she seems better and stronger in every way.

We cannot recommend Ozone too highly to all sufferers, as we understand it applies alike to all germ disease, and we feel very grateful to the over-ruling Providence that brought it to our notice.

Wishing you much success in London and elsewhere, we are,

Very truly yours,

(Signed) MR. and MRS. CHARLES COOPER, 74 Byron Ave., London, Ont.

THE IMPERIAL LIFE ASSURANCE CO'Y OF CANADA.

1. It is a purely Canadian Company, having all its funds invested in Canadian securities, and transacting business only in Canada.
2. It maintains the largest Government Deposit of any Canadian Life Insurance Company.
3. It maintains relatively the strongest policy reserves of any Canadian Life Insurance Company.
4. Its past record — the greatest guarantee of the future — has been unparalleled in Canadian life insurance.
5. Its policy contract is one of the most liberal issued, consistent with safety and equity.
6. It has a Capital of $1,000,000, which makes policy-holders' security unquestionable. At the same time, the assured is practically in the same position regarding profits as if he held a policy in a mutual company, the Imperial's charter providing that at least 90 per cent. of all profits shall be divided amongst policy-holders.
7. For every $100 of liability to policy-holders it holds $160 of securely invested assets. These assets are all of the highest order, and will bear the closest scrutiny.
8. An Imperial policy never depreciates in value, but, on the contrary, is constantly becoming more valuable. It is the most valuable estate you can leave behind you.

A Siege

The matrons of the Edison Orphanage at Lowell, Mass., U.S.A., wrote they had a siege of whooping-cough in their institution. They said that every case was promptly relieved by Vapo-Cresolene. Its value in coughs and colds was so great they always kept it ready for use. You know how it's used, don't you? 'Tis heated by a vaporizer and you inhale it. Write us for a book that tells all about it.

Vapo-Cresolene is sold by druggists everywhere. The Vaporizer and Lamp, which should last a lifetime, and a bottle of Cresolene complete, $1.50; extra supplies of Cresolene 25 cents and 50 cents. Illustrated booklet containing physicians' testimonials free upon request. VAPO-CRESOLENE CO., 180 Fulton St., New York, U.S.A.

Recommended and sold in Peterborough by H. H. Edmison, druggist.

COUNTING THE MISSING.

92 Survivors of the Walla Walla Arrive At San Francisco.

San Francisco, Jan. 6.—The French barque Max, which collided with the steamship Walla Walla early Thursday morning, is being towed to this city in a badly disabled condition. The Max's bowsprit was carried away and her bow was stove in, both above and below the water line. Her water-tight compartments alone are keeping her afloat.

Ninety-two survivors of the Walla Walla arrived here yesterday from Eureka on the steamer Pomona. There is still some discrepancy in the list of dead and missing. This discrepancy in the list of dead and missing is due to the fact that several passengers boarded the vessel just as she was leaving port. Others who were traveling second-class gave assumed names in order to hide their identity. By striking out what are possible duplicates, the number of loss stands at 42, classed as follows: Known dead 9, missing passengers 13, crew 20.

Heart Disease.

Real organic heart trouble is incurable, but scarcely one case in a hundred is organic.

The action of the heart and stomach are both controlled by the same great nerves, the sympathetic and pneumogastric, and when the stomach fails to properly digest the food and it lies in the stomach fermenting, gases are formed which distend the organ causing pressure on the heart and lungs causing palpitation, irregularity and shortness of breath.

The danger from this condition is that, the continued disturbance of the heart sooner or later may cause real organic heart trouble and in fact frequently does so.

Furthermore, poor digestion makes the blood thin and watery and deficient in red corpuscles, and this further irritates and weakens the heart.

The most sensible thing to do for heart trouble is to insure the digestion and assimilation of the food.

This can be done by the regular use after meals of some safe, pleasant and effective digestive preparation, like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets which may be found at most drug stores and which contain the necessary digestive elements in a pleasant, convenient form.

Thousands of people keep well and vigourous by keeping their digestion perfect by observing the rule of taking one or two of these tablets after each meal, or at least after each hearty meal.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain U.S.P. pepsin, diastase from malt and other natural digestives which act only on the food, digesting it perfectly and preventing acidity, gases, and the many diseased conditions which accompany a weak stomach.

When Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are used you may know you are not taking into the system any strong medicine or powerful drug but simply the natural digestive elements which every weak stomach lacks.

So widely known and popular have these tablets become that they are now sold by every druggist in the United States, Canada and Great Britain

P. Cuffe, J. N. Ackerman, and Fred Fry, who were declared elected. For trustees the three retiring members, Messrs. F. Fraser, P. W. Stevenson, and R. W. Waters, were returned.

A wedding in which many Norwood people are interested, took place at "Pine Grove," Bass Lake, the residence of Mr. Jos. Martin, on Xmas Day, when his daughter, Mamie, was united in marriage to Mr. S. B. Gerven of this place. The bride, who was at one time the popular saleslady in the Arcade store here, was the recipient of many beautiful and costly gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Girven arrived in Norwood on Monday, and will take up their residence on Queen street, opposite the residence of Mr. Thos. Fraser.

THE HOUSE'S OPENING

Parliament Not Likely to Meet Until February 13.

A SESSION OF SEVEN WEEKS.

Signor Marconi's Plans—His Stay at the Capital Will Likely Terminate on Tuesday—Goes Direct to New York—Trading Stamp Question—Recruiting For the Field Hospital Company.

Ottawa, Jan. 6.—The Premier returned from a visit to Quebec and Montreal last evening. It is likely that the date for the opening of Parliament will be fixed at a Cabinet meeting this week. At one time it looked as though Feb. 6 might be chosen, but it now seems probable that the House will not be summoned until Feb. 13. As before stated, the legislative program will be light, and if Mr. W. F. Maclean could control the loquacity on his side of the House there would be some probability of his realizing his prediction of a seven weeks' session.

Signor Marconi's Plans.

Signor Marconi has not yet made up his mind when he will leave for England, but states that his further stay here will be limited to a couple of days. He had an interview with Hon. Mr. Tarte Saturday, and will see the Minister of Public Works again to-day. From here Signor Marconi will go to New York. He stated yesterday that he was not so much interested in the question of establishing Marconi stations in the Gulf of St. Lawrence for the protection of shipping as in the much more important project of trans-oceanic telegraphy. There would certainly, he said, be a station established for this purpose at Cape Breton, the cost of which would be between sixty and seventy thousand dollars.

Trading Stamp Question.

The offices of the Dominion Trading Stamp Company in Hamilton and some other western cities are being closed, in accordance with by-laws prohibiting them from doing business. The company, however, states that it is closing only temporarily, till judgment is given on the validity of the statute upon which the adverse bylaws are based. The concern works under a Dominion charter, and it is claimed that the enactment of the Legislature does not warrant its being put out of business. In Ottawa recently the City Council was petitioned to pass a by-law abolishing the trading stamp business, but when it came before the Finance Committee it was abandoned, pending judgment in the test case above referred to, which will establish the powers of the municipalities to make such an enactment.

Field Hospital Recruiting.

Recruiting for the Field Hospital Company in Toronto, London, Hamilton, Kingston, Ottawa and Montreal will take place on Wednesday. Surgeon-Lieutenant Tremayne of Lambton Mills, who has been here assisting Col. Neilson and Col. Worthington in details of organization, will pay a flying visit to Toronto this week to close up his affairs preparatory to leaving for South Africa. The Ontario recruits will likely travel to Halifax under the command of Surgeon-Lieutenant Roberts.

No Room For Nurses.

Ottawa, Jan. 6.—There is no room on the troopships for the nurses going to South Africa, and therefore it is very doubtful if they will go. If they do, they will have to go by one of the regular liners.

To a Soldier's Memory.

Ottawa, Jan. 6.—Major - General O'Grady-Haly yesterday, in the Church of St. Alban the Martyr, performed the solemn ceremony of unveiling a brass eagle lectern, presented to the church by ex-Lieutenant-Governor Mackintosh and Mrs. Mackintosh, in memory of their young son, E. C. A. Mackintosh, trumpeter in Strathcona's Horse, who died of fever at Bloemfontein a year ago. There was a distinguished attendance at the service.

TAPS FROM THE WIRES.

La Liberte has published a report to the effect that the Rockefellers intend to apply for a concession to supply gas to the city of Paris.

Mr. Walter S. Lee, known as an active director for the Toronto Industrial Exhibition, passed away at about 11.30 Saturday night, at the age of 65 years, at the family residence, Toronto.

Saturday evening, as two sons of Thomas Robinson, the oldest 10, the other 8 or 4 years of age, were crossing the G.T.R. track at Queen street, Brampton, driving one horse, the 4.50 express from Toronto struck the animal, killing him instantly. The two children miraculously escaped unhurt.

The Crew Was Saved.

Gloucester, Mass., Jan. 6.— The schooner Lizzie M. Stanley arrived Saturday night, having on board the shipwrecked crew of the schooner Eva L. Ferris, comprising Capt. C. W. Clarke of Calais, Me., with Mrs. Clarke and her seven-year-old nephew and seven men.

Moré Trouble at Koweit.

London, Jan. 6.—The Sheikh of Koweit, says a despatch from Bombay to The Times, is hourly expecting an attack from the Sultan of Nejd, who is now on the march. The capital of Koweit is in a state of defence, the Sheikh having borrowed several light field pieces from British gun-boats.

Virchow Injured.

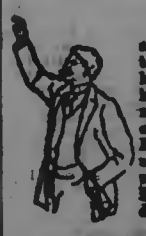
Professional Men.



It's the constant strain and worry under which the professional man labors, the irregularity of habits and loss of rest that makes him peculiarly susceptible to kidney troubles. First it's backache, then urinary difficulties, then—unless it's attended to—Bright's Disease and—death.

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

Strengthen and invigorate the kidneys—never fail to give quick relief and cure the most obstinate cases.

Rev. M. P. Campbell, pastor of the Baptist Church, Essex, Ont., says: "From my personal use of Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at Sharon's drug store, I can say they are a most excellent remedy for kidney troubles, and I recommend them to sufferers from such complaints."

ZIONISTS WORKED HARD.

London, Jan. 6.—The more than a thousand delegates who attended the Zionist Conference at Basle were composed of all sorts and conditions of Jews and Jewesses—Polish rabbis, Russian university students, youths, bankers, doctors, poets, artists and authors—from all over Europe. Dr. Herzl's inaugural address, which lasted for over an hour, created a deep impression.

"For five days," says a British delegate, "apart from the public deliberations, committees sat continuously day and night. Day and night were one in that little world of restless activity. For five days Dr. Herzl and the other leaders could scarcely find time to eat, much less to sleep. Saturday and Sunday there were practically night sittings. There was not a delegate who thought anything of working eighteen hours a day. They may be called dreamers, visionaries and idealists, but they worked like men who were wide awake."

Just a Cold in the Head!

But if it is followed by another cold, or some extra exposure, is liable to result in Nasal Catarrh. Unless a radical cure is obtained the Throat, Bronchial Tubes, and finally the lungs become affected. Nothing cures colds so quickly and pleasantly as Catarrhozone. The Inspector of Mines of Nova Scotia, Mr. Neville, says, "Catarrhozone is the best remedy I have ever used. It cured me of catarrh of the head and throat, and I am pleased to recommend such a satisfactory remedy." Catarrhozone is a safeguard against Colds, Coughs, and Catarrh. It can be used while at work, in the church, theatre or street cars. Simply inhale Catarrhozone and it cures. Price $1; small size 25c. Sold by Ormond & Walsh, or will be supplied by N. C. Polson, Kingston, Ont.

Bomb Exploded in Caracas.

Willemstad, Curacao, Jan. 6.—Via Haytien Cable.—A report has reached here that last evening a bomb exploded at the residence in Caracas of the Venezuelan Minister of Finance, Tello Mendoza. The explosion wrecked a considerable portion of the house, but no one was injured. The attempt has caused considerable excitement in Caracas.

Gen. Guan Pietri (who has been active in the present revolution against President Castro), and who was arrested Friday at Antimano, was yesterday paraded as a prisoner on the Plaza Bolivar at Caracas. Gen. Pietri is still hostile to Gen. Castro, and he is also opposed to Gen. Matos.

Medical Science Advances.

It is not more than half a century ago that physicians considered a surgical operation with its risk, expense and pain as the only cure for piles. To-day it is only the out of date doctors that think of such treatment. It is cruel and extravagant to operate for a disease which is far more certainly cured by the application of Dr. Chase's Ointment. You may be skeptical, but for proof you are referred to tens of thousands of cases that have been cured by this famous preparation.

Trade With Colonies.

London, Jan. 6.—Statistics just issued, showing that of the total trade with her colonies, Great Britain possesses 42 per cent., while the United States has 12 per cent. and that the latter is rapidly increasing her trade, not only with Canada but with Australia, caused some disquietude.

The Standard, in an editorial, expresses its disappointment in this regard and insists upon the necessity of the country bestirring itself.

Largest in the World.

New York, Jan. 6.—Details of plans for the largest building in the world devoted exclusively to Young Men's Christian Association work were announced Saturday by Henry M. Orne, general secretary. The building will be located on West 23rd street, and through to and on West 24th street, and the cost entire is estimated at $675,000. It is to be a Young Men's Christian Association Hotel.

Produce Its Own Coal.

Pittsburg, Jan. 6.—The United States Steel Corporation has arranged to produce its own supply of coal in the Pittsburg district by the development of 50,000 acres, worth approximately $10,000,000.

Retires From Command.

Sarnia, Ont., Jan. 6.—Lieut.-Col. Charles S. Ellis will retire from the command of the 27th Regiment on the 24th inst., his term as commanding officer expiring on that date.

A Good Big Yield.

Mr. S. F. Redmond, of Elm Grove Farm, Otonabee, proves the value of good tillage to the farmer. The meeting on Saturday was a sort of caucus of the cheesemakers who feel that the rules of the Peterborough Cheese Board can stand certain amendments. There was a good attendance of farmers, and the discussion was free and easy.

O'BOYLE'S TROUBLES.

Said to Have Defrauded Mr. H. P. Kennedy of $1,500—Now Under Arrest.

James O'Boyle, who is well known around Peterborough, particularly amongst the cattle merchants, is now in trouble. O'Boyle has been wanted for some time and it was only on Saturday last that he was run down. The charge against him is that of obtaining $1,500 from Mr. H. P. Kennedy, of Peterborough, under false pretences.

O'Boyle had been acting in the capacity of purchasing agent for Mr. Kennedy and it is alleged that on Dec. 11th, last, Mr. Kennedy forwarded to the prisoner at Claremont $1,500 to pay for a car load of hogs, that prisoner alleged he had ready for shipment. The money was sent with Mr. Kincaid of Bethany, and handed over to O'Boyle at Claremont. Then, it is said O'Boyle left the vicinity without giving any consideration for his money, and further that he had no hogs ready for shipment.

The authorities have in the meantime been keeping a lookout for him and on Saturday he was arrested at the house of his brother near Claremont. He comes up for hearing on Tuesday at Whitby.

PRECAUTIONARY MEASURES.

The Isolation Hospital at Jackson Park —There is Only the one Case— Full Particulars.

There are no new developments in the small-pox case in town. The hospital which has been erected in Jackson Park is now fully equipped and is proving a comfortable spot for the patient and his attendants. The tent is of the same style as Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons have been sending out to the other towns and villages throughout the Province where small-pox has broken out. It is of double canvas and capable of retaining the heat that is obtained from the stoves inside. The temporary hospital has been supplied with a telephone, a direct line from the central office having been run out. Every possible step is being taken to make the quarters comfortable and to prevent the spread of the disease.

The proclamation for compulsory vaccination was issued to-day and may be seen conspicuously displayed throughout the town. The proclamation is printed in red ink. At a meeting of the medical men of the town and representatives of the Board of Health, arrangements for the vaccination were decided upon. The public vaccination must be done on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week. Two physicians will be on duty between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. at the town buildings and as the list of physicians and their respective hours will be published, each person will have an opportunity of being vaccinated by the physician he may choose. The town will supply the vaccine and every patient will pay the sum of 25 cents. Should any one feel unable to pay this amount, they will be vaccinated free upon their producing a certificate from the relief officer of the Charity Board. On the seventh day after the vaccination those vaccinated will return to their respective physicians and receive a certificate from them stating that they have been vaccinated.

Any persons not desiring to be vaccinated in the manner above recited may be vaccinated in any other manner they choose, but they must produce a certificate stating that they have obeyed the law in that regard.

The following is the schedule for vaccination for Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday:

Tuesday and Thursday—10 a.m. to 11 a.m.—Dr. Boucher and Dr. Halliday. 11 a.m. to 12 noon—Dr. Moss Clelland and Dr. McNulty. 2 p.m. to 3 p.m.—Dr. Grey and Dr. McCullough. 3 p.m. to 4 p.m.—Dr. Great and Dr. Eastwood. 4 p.m. to 5 p.m.—Dr. Scott and Dr. Carmichael.

Wednesday and Friday—10 a.m. to 11 a.m.—Dr. Pigeon and Dr. Young; 11 a.m. to 12 noon—Dr. McGrath and Dr. Burnham. 2 p.m. to 3 p.m.—Dr. Brown and Dr. Caldwell. 3 p.m. to 4 p.m.—Dr. Moher and Dr. Bradd. 4 p.m. to 5 p.m.—Dr. McFall and Dr. Jessie Burnie.

THE PRECAUTIONS.

There can be no doubt that the authorities here took every possible step when the first case appeared to prevent the spread of the disease and it might be of interest to quote a portion of the report of the meeting of the local Board of Health at which Dr. Hodgetts of Toronto, was present after making an investigation into the Frize case.

After preliminaries Dr. Hodgetts said:—

Dr. Hodgetts—I saw Mr. Parker last night and made arrangements for beginning the work of disinfecting the laundry premises this morning. This has been done. Every particle of laundry in the establishment has been put through a process of disinfectment, and the woodwork, tables, etc., have been scrubbed and painted and gone over with the greatest care, whilst the building, including the office, has been fumigated. All the soiled laundry was put through an exceptionally careful course of disinfectment and I will issue Mr. Parker a certificate to-morrow stating that everything is all right.

The nurse arrived at noon and I took her up to the Frise house and instructed her as to her duties. I thought that a trained nurse would suit much better than a physician in view of the fact that it is a lady patient. I think that a telephone should be placed in the house, as it would be of much advantage.

Question—You are sure that the case is smallpox?

Dr. H.—There is no doubt about the matter. It is now quite well developed. I visited the other house where there are a number in quarantine and explained to them what they are required to do. Mr. Miller objected a little, but I pointed out that he must submit to the orders of the Board of Health. It would not do to draw a line around a few only—the line must be a straight one. The eight inmates of the house have been vaccinated. Their own physician or the Medical Health Officer will report daily as to their condition. Regarding the statement that is being made concerning Miss Marks, a school teacher, that she was in the Frise house on Sunday night, I find that such is not the case. She merely went to the door to get a book. She has since been vaccinated. I have procured a list of the parties who received laundry from Mr. Parker on Saturday and I would recommend that as far as possible this laundry be disinfected. There is not the slightest danger, I think, in this regard, but I would take all possible precautions so as to protect the Board. There should be no fear as to the goods that are in the dye works. It is a separate institution. I might say that I found Mr. Parker ready and willing to do all he could in carrying out my instructions.

Discussion then took place as to the kind of isolation hospital that should be prepared in case of emergency, and Dr. Hoggetts advocated the purchasing of a tent such as other towns had procured. Continuing he said—

You can't get a traveller to go near Ottawa, owing to the manner in which that city allowed the disease to get the better of them. They were very slack in their measures to prevent the spread of small-pox. Why, out of 150 cases not one of those who had it had been vaccinated, which goes to show that vaccination is a preventive. Small-pox in any town is ruinous to trade and has a disastrous effect upon the merchants. Some years ago Montreal lost millions of dollars through the sickness of the measures employed to prevent the spread of the disease; but they learned a lesson. Ottawa is learning its lesson now. I know business houses that tell their travellers to not go near Ottawa under any circumstances, farmers refuse to enter the town and trade is tied up.

It has been my orders to advise compulsory vaccination. Down in Cornwall some time ago all the doctors were engaged and each physician was on duty for two hours. From 9 a.m. until 9 p.m. there was a steady stream of townspeople to the Town Hall to be vaccinated. Rich and poor were vaccinated at twenty-five cents each. The municipality bought the vaccine. There were no means of compulsion used. The people for the greater part came when requested to do so by the authorities. Infancy is the proper time to vaccinate children. In Toronto the School Boards will not allow the pupils to attend until they have been vaccinated.

Dr. Moher.—I don't think that ten per cent. of the children of Peterborough are vaccinated.

Mr. Armstrong, Town Clerk—I would say that there is not five per cent. vaccinated.

After a general discussion of the matter, in which all present at the Board meeting took part, Dr. Hoggetts said—

When I came to Peterborough I found everything being done that could be done under the circumstances. I have only continued the work that was mapped out by the Board and I may say that it has been a pleasure for me to meet with the people of Peterborough, though under unfortunate circumstances. They have treated me very kindly, which I may say is quite frequently not the case in other towns, but the reception I got in Peterborough was very kind and made my work quite easy. I have visited some houses in my time that treated me coolly, but Mr. and Mrs. Frise could not have acted more kindly towards me.

NEWS NUGGETS.

—The regular monthly meeting of the Peterborough Board of Education will be held to-morrow night at 7.45 o'clock.

Prizes and presents will be given to the little ones and a programme will be rendered. No admission fee will be charged but a plate for free will offerings will be found at the door.

THE VOTING.

The voting on the bylaw providing for the purchase of the Peterborough waterworks, is not exciting a great amount of interest. The fact that there is no voting for municipal candidates has had a tendency to cause the ratepayers to hold back, and consequently only a small vote will be polled.

DIOCESE OF PETERBOROUGH.

Translation of Priests Affecting Several Parishes—Ven. Archdeacon Casey Becomes Rector of Lindsay—Other Parochial Changes.

Consequent upon the lamented death of Mgr. Laurent, V. G., and Rector of the Parish of Lindsay, certain changes have been made in adjusting the cures of several parishes in the Diocese of Peterborough.

These changes were announced at 10 o'clock mass yesterday in St. Peter's Cathedral by His Lordship Bishop O'Connor. In referring to the cause that made these changes necessary, the death of Mgr. Laurent, His Lordship's emotions at times almost choked his utterance.

Ven. Archdeacon Casey has been appointed Rector of the Parish of Lindsay, Rev. Father McColl, parish priest of Ennismore, taking his place as Rector of the Cathedral. Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, of Young's Point, becomes parish priest of Ennismore, and Rev. Father Phelan, late curate at Lindsay, and since the death of Mgr. Laurent, administrator of that parish, becomes parish priest of Young's Point, Lakefield and Keene.

These translations may generally be regarded in the light of promotions. Ven. Archdeacon Casey succeeds to a parish where long feigned one of the most pious and successful priests in the diocese, and his being chosen as successor to Mgr. Laurent is a tribute to his fitness for so important and difficult a position, and to the lay mind a suggestion of the possibility of his succeeding to the full honours and responsibilities of the priest whom he has followed. Ven. Archdeacon Casey was ordained on May 24th, 1872. For the first two years of his priesthood, he was curate in Peterborough — from 1872 to 1874. After a brief curacy in Kingston he became parish priest of Gananoque. Afterwards he was advanced to Campbellford, where, after fifteen years' faithful ministry, he was translated to Peterborough, becoming Rector of the Cathedral, and being elevated to the dignity of Archdeacon. Ven. Archdeacon Casey has been thirty years in the priesthood, and it will be remembered that in 1897 his silver jubilee was celebrated, the priests of the diocese presenting him with valuable gifts and an illuminated address. From a secular point of view, the removal of Ven. Archdeacon Casey is a subject of general regret. During his eight years in Peterborough, he has won the high respect of all citizens. His parishioners who have learned to venerate and love him, will naturally very deeply regret the severence of the ties that have bound them for eight years to their beloved rector.

But Rev. Father McColl, parish priest of Ennismore, who has earned by his piety and zeal for the interests of Holy Church, the promotion to the important position of rector of the Cathedral will, by virtue of his many splendid qualities of mind and character, speedily gain in the hearts of his new parishoners, the warm place he has gained in the hearts of the people of Ennismore. He has been in the priesthood for eleven years, and has been in Ennismore eight years, going to that parish from Lindsay. Peterborough will warmly welcome the coming as it warmly speeds the parting rector. The successor of Rev. Father McColl in Ennismore, Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, of Young's Point, has been seven years a priest. After his ordination in 1894, he spent a time at the Cathedral and three years ago was appointed parish priest at Young's Point, where by a faithful discharge of his priestly duties and by his bearing as a citizen, he has become extremely popular, not only with his own flock, but with the entire community.

He is succeeded as parish priest at Young's Point, etc., by Rev. Father Phelan. The latter was ordained in Peterborough on Feb. 16th, 1896. His first field of ministry was Trout Creek. For nine months he was locum tenens in Douro during the illness of Rev. Father Keilty. He was afterwards made curate of St. Mary's Lindsay. There he developed qualities that made him greatly beloved and esteemed by his flock. On the occasion of his being brought to the Cathedral as Curate some time ago, he was parted with, with regret, a deputation waiting upon the Bishop asking that the change be not made, and when it was made, Rev. Father Phelan, on his departure for Lindsay, was presented with a substantial purse of money. On the death of Mgr. Laurent, Rev. Father Phelan was sent to Lindsay as administrator, and he is now promoted to be parish priest of Young's Point.

The changes above recounted take place practically at once, the priests having to be in their respective parishes on Sunday, January 19th.

THE SAD CASE OF BERTHA FREEBURN.

To those interested in the fate of this epileptic orphan, it will be welcome news that she is to be taken charge of by the King's Daughters.

It will be remembered that this unfortunate girl, of illegitimate parentage, and born in gaol, was recently sent back to gaol by the Magistrate, who expressed the wish that someone would try and find a proper place of refuge for her. Her history is one long tale of woe, being largely made up of cruel treatment and callous neglect. That this callous neglect should have continued to so late a day is so strange that it may be reckoned almost as a phenomenon. Without a friend in the world, she was finally taken in at the Children's Shelter, at the request of the police, and cared for by Mrs. Miller in a way that does Mrs. Miller infinite credit. The various existing organizations for the security and improvement of adults, would have nothing to do with her. She was not in their class, it seems. At last after two years in gaol, where she received the kindest possible treatment from Mr. Nesbitt and the matron, her time having expired, she was brought up again for sentence. Mr. Nesbitt expressed the decided opinion that the gaol was no place for the poor girl. Not only was she deprived of freedom but it was impossible to treat her there with any prospect of improving her physical condition. Her further incarceration would be a reproach to the public at large.

In response to this statement of her case, the King's Daughters came forward and offered aid, and as a consequence the outlook is bright. They have secured accommodation at St. Joseph's House of Providence, Ashburnham, and when the Minister of Justice gives Bertha Freeburn her freedom once more, she will meet with the treatment which long ago should have been accorded her. We are informed further that the King's Daughters are making provision for the temporary shelter of women who falling into the hands of the police are deemed by them victims of unmerited misfortune, and as such deserving of better housing than a criminal's cell.

This will mark a distinct advance in the treatment of the destitute poor in Peterborough. We shall then have in addition to the Children's Shelter for poor children, the Women's Temporary Shelter for destitute women, and thus equipped, our consciences will at last be relieved of a most uncomfortable burden. Before all things Christ thought of the poor and if we be for Him we must not sacrifice charity to comfort. To our minds the true test of a Christian as of a man or woman is the impulse of self-sacrifice. The man or woman who can "eat and be merry" while some poor creature is wandering in the cold may in a future state find the positions reversed, for we may rest assured that whoever else may be, "God is not mocked," nor can we do better in closing than quote the words of the old philospher "in charity lies the seed of all the virtues. If we would reap virtue we must sow charity." When we think of how we enjoy ourselves in the open air and revel in the loveliness of summer we are the better able to sympathize with poor Bertha Freeburn, who hitherto in addition to her other misfortunes has been consigned to a lonely imprisonment. We are inclined to think that it is less urgent and less requisite to care for the well-to-do than for those to whom comfort is a stranger. Being less trouble it is of course easier to look after the former than the latter. But the fact is borne in upon us that in some way this is a serious failing. However, the King's Daughters are teaching us all a lesson which in the end will no doubt bear fruit.

The First Curling Bonspeil of the Season Takes Place This Evening — Other Interesting Notes.

HOCKEY.

The first League match of the season takes place to-morrow evening between Belleville Juniors and the Peterborough Colts. The Colts may spring a surprise on the Quinte men and the public in general.

The following team will represent the Colts in their game against Belleville to-morrow night; Goal, Bob Davidson; point, I. Hamilton; cover point, H. Armstrong; forwards, Whitcroft, R. Armstrong, W. Robinson and Bert Cameron.

The Lindsay Club has been debating for some time as to whether they would forsake the O.H.A. entirely or devote all their energies towards the Trent Valley team. After due deliberation they have decided to play out the O.H.A. schedule as well as the schedule of the Trent Valley League.

The first Intermediate game in which the Peterborough team will figure will take place on Friday night in Lindsay.

Fenelon Falls defeated Omemee on Friday in the northern village by a score of 13-8. The game was exciting from start to finish and the Omemecites put a hard game against the Trent Valley League champions.

Huntsville has formed a hockey club.

The Norwood team which played here on Friday night surprised a few. They are for the greater part a junior aggregation and with the exception of two players would be elgible to play in the junior O.H.A. series. Norwood may well feel proud of its husky little team.

Mr. Will Cavanah, the well-known point player of the Colts' team of last year, is taking matters easy this winter. He is at his home in Lethbridge. "Bill" played lacrosse all summer and took a trip with the Medicine Hat team to the Coast.

The Campbellford Team has dropped out of the Trent Valley League Series. The game is not flourishing in Campbellford this season and they felt that they could not do much against Norwood when they would meet them in the first round.

Bobcaygeon has one of the most flourishing ladies' hockey teams in the province. An effort should be made to have them visit Peterborough this winter.

There will be no practice to-night, owing to the curlers using the ice.

On Tuesday and Wednesday evenings the full number of Intermediate players are invited to turn out. Wednesday's practice at 6.30 p.m., and Tuesday's to be announced in the evening papers to-morrow.

TOBAGGANNING.

A meeting of the Peterborough Toboggan and Snow Shoe Club will be held on Wednesday evening. The indications are that the grand old sport of tobogganning and snowshoeing will be greatly revived in Peterborough this winter and the Peterborough Club which was reorganized last winter intend going into the season's operations on a rather elaborate scale. Officials will be elected for the ensuing year, and arrangements made for the first tramp.

A LAKEHURST WEDDING.

Marriage of Miss Alberta Coons and Mr. G. Melville Cundal.

A very enjoyable event took place at the residence of Mr. Jas. Coons, Lakehurst, on Wednesday evening of this week. The event was the marriage of his daughter, Alberta, to Mr. G. Melville Cundal, of Cameron, formerly teacher at the Lakehurst school.

The ceremony took place at six o'clock and was performed by Rev. R. A. Delve in his usual happy manner. About sixty guests witnessed the pretty function. Miss Jennie Shaw, cousin of the bride, played the wedding march. The bride was dressed in white cashmere, trimmed with white chiffon and white satin ribbon, and carried a bouquet of white carnations and myrtle, and wore the customary bridal veil. She was assisted by her sister, Miss Ethel, who wore white nun's veiling, and carried pink carnations. The groom was assisted by his brother, Mr. William Cundal.

After congratulations had been tendered the party sat down to a bountiful repast of fowl and other palatable viands. After the usual toasts had been drunk and speeches delivered, the company spent a very pleasant evening in various amusements till a late hour. The young couple will reside in Cameron.

CHURCH CHIMES.

ALL SAINTS' CHURCH.

Special mission services were inaugurated with a short prayer service on Saturday evening in All Saints' church. There were large congregations at both services yesterday, and a most encouraging attendance of men at the 4.15 service in the afternoon. Rev. Arthur Murphy delivered the addresses.

Morning Service. — Subject, "Holy Spirit." The speaker pointed out the different characteristics of the Holy Spirit's office, showing his personality, character and work. The congregation was large.

Afternoon service for men.—A large number of men were present when Mr. Murphy spoke upon the subject of personal purity.

Evening Service. — Subject, "Belshazzar's Feast." The speaker gave a description of Babylon and the destruction of that city and the King. God's dealings with Belshazzar in weighing him in the balances were compared to God judging all out of Christ. Four classes were illustrated—viz., the infidel, worlding, hypocrit and moralist. Several questions were then asked and answered. Two historical events, such as the Americans signing their declaration of independence, and the veterans of the Crimean War receiving medals, were used to illustrate the importance of the sinner's immediate acceptance of Christ, and the rewards for so doing. The church was well filled. Services will be held each day at 4.15 and 8 p.m. during the week.

ST. LUKE'S CHURCH.

The first Sunday of the New Year saw large congregations present at St. Luke's at both services. The Rector preached sermons appropriate to the season both morning and evening. His text in the morning was from St. Luke's xix, 13, "Occupy till I come." The word "occupy" meant "to use," "to improve," but it is the negative to possession. The occupier is not the proprietor, and thus the Rector urged his congregation to occupy the many gifts of God to His glory. "Occupy moments," do not fritter them away by sentimental nonentities. "Occupy thoughts," "occupy your special endowment and talents, and the strong features of your character," occupy, i.e., use such for Christ till He comes. Again, Mr. Langfeldt urged his congregation to occupy well the mercy sent; let prayer be a familiarity, not life's accident, not life's parenthesis, but life's essence, life's action. Above all, he said, occupy Christ as a man occupies his home; live in the very heart and wounds of Jesus. He exhorted his congregation to be ready at any moment for the coming of the Lord. He did not know which was the best place for Christ to find us at His coming, whether in prayer, or praise, or in church, or in one's proper work, done properly, but he knew this that it would please the Lord when His children were ready for and loved His second coming at any moment. Mr. Langfeldt left his text, "Occupy till I come," as a New Year's motto with his congregation.

Dr. M. McClelland will occupy the chair at Prof. O'Brien's Lecture on Scientific Palmistry on Wednesday evening in Sons of England Hall. The Misses Hurley will preside at the piano.

A Genuine Triumph

In the medical line is made by a Brantford druggist, called Merrill's System Tonic. It embodies an idea long thought of but just recently made chemically possible. When System Tonic is taken the old blood is purified and new rich blood is made, while all the principal organs of the body are toned, and new tissue constructed. The result is perfect health. I tried several medicines, but got no relief until I used one and a half bottles of Norway Pine Syrup, which completely cured me."

POULTRY POINTERS.

A safe rule in feeding is to give enough to satisfy and no more.

Droppings should not be allowed to accumulate in the poultry house longer than a week.

Bone dust supplies an abundance of bonemaking material and counteracts any tendency to diarrhea.

When possible, give the poultry house a southern exposure and furnish that side with an abundance of light.

While wheat is one of the best grains to feed to fowls, it should not be fed to excess or it may cause diarrhea. Feed it with other grains.

Loss of feathers is generally caused by want of green food or want of a dust bath. Supply both, and, as a local application, use mercurial ointment.

Breed the best flesh formers for market; then feed them up to as great a weight as possible. Well fattened, well dressed poultry bring the best prices.

THE DANGER OF LOW VITALITY.

Severe Colds, Pneumonia, Consumption Find Easy Victims in Persons Whose Health is in Poor Condition—Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

At no season of the year is a low condition of health more likely to lead to serious results than at the present time. With vitality running low, the blood thin and nerves exhausted, one is made susceptible to colds and catarrhs on the slightest exposure. Gradually a persistent cough, hawking and spitting, is established, and each severe cold is accompanied by chills, fever, pains in the chest, and sometimes spitting of blood.

This is the short and deadly road that leads to pneumonia, consumption and other deadly lung troubles, and the only sure method of avoiding them is to keep the general health just as near to the high-water mark as possible all the time. It is because of its remarkable influence as a system-builder that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has come to be so universally used as a means of increasing vitality and raising the standard of health.

There is no lesson which experience more strongly emphasizes than the importance of keeping the body well filled with health-giving vitality. When a weakened, run-down system is attacked by pneumonia, consumption, or even a heavy cold, there is small chance of ever shaking it off. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food instills into the blood the most potent blood-forming and nerve-invigourating elements which have ever been found in nature. You cannot possibly help but be benefited by this preparation, and even in long-standing cases of extreme debility and prostration there is good hope for recovery by the persistent use of this great food cure.

It is not wise to neglect the health at any time. Do not wait until you are completely exhausted and worn out before appealing to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Build up the system while yet there is some foundation to build on. Put new, rich blood in the shrivelled arteries, new vital energy into the nerves, and add firm flesh and solid muscles to the body, in order that in the day of trial, when attacked by disease, there may be some chance for fighting the great foe to human happiness.

Should you find yourself suffering from a cough, bronchitis, asthma, or any similar trouble, we can recommend you to use Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, believing it to be the most thoroughly effective treatment that you can possibly obtain. It has time and again proven its power over asthma, and affords the greatest relief even in the most serious cases of pneumonia and consumption.

While Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is aiding expectoration, clearing the choked-up air passages, healing and soothing the torn and ulcerated linings of the throat and bronchial tubes, do not lose sight of the value of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food as a means of restoring lost strength and vigour. It is a unique preparation of surprising effect as a blood and nerve restorative. Fifty cents a box, six boxes for $2.50. At all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

HE WAS A BLUFFER.

How a Maine Man Got Money For College Expenses.

A successful Auburn man tells the following story of his own experiences: "I wanted to get some money to go to college, and the only way was to earn it. I had no trade, which made it bad. I resolved that I would try what bluffing would do. I went to Boston, and after awhile I struck a job as a meat cutter. When I went into the store, the proprietor asked me what I could do, and I told him I could cut meat. He wanted a good meat cutter, and I hired out with him. I had seen men cut meat, but had never cut any myself.

"So when I took up a knife and went to work it was not to be wondered at that my employer called me to account. He was on his ear, as they say, and I can't say I blame him. 'Look here, young man,' he said, 'that ain't the way to cut meat.' 'Well,' said I, 'that's the way they cut meat up in Vermont.' 'I don't care,' he replied; 'this is not Vermont. I want you to understand that if you are going to cut meat in Boston you've got to cut it the way we cut it.' And with this he took the knife and the saw and showed me how they cut meat in Boston. I detained him as long as I could, and I never tried to remember anything half so hard.

"I guess I grasped the situation, for I remained there as meat cutter several months. When I struck Auburn, I had an idea I would go to work in the shoe factories. I went to every factory save one and stated my desire. I didn't know any part of the business, and I got the cold shoulder. Many of the foremen took my name and address and said when they wanted a man they would send for me. I guess they haven't wanted a man since. At any rate they haven't sent for me. When I entered the last shop, I was desperate, and I resolved to try my old game of bluff.

"They asked me what I could do, and I told them I was a cutter, adding that I was very sure I could please them. They set me to work. I went slow at first, for I was watching to see how the fellows did it. By good luck I got on to the cutting without spoiling much leather, and before many days I could cut uppers with the best of them. I worked there two years, and when I left to enter college they seemed sorry to have me go. Since then I have graduated from college, and here I am following my profession, able to hoe my row with my liveliest competitor."

A Point of Order.

One of the conspicuous features in the decorations of a certain official building is a full length portrait of George Washington. Being just behind the speaker's chair, it is in full sight of everybody who rises to speak. During a heated discussion, which involved the honor of the state and nation, a member rose and, pointing to the portrait, began in oratorical style. "By those eyes that never quailed before an enemy, by that nose"—

Then he was interrupted by a member in the rear, who rose to a point of order.

"Mr. Chairman," said the objector, "I claim it is out of order under parliamentary rules to call the ayes and noes in committee of the whole."

A Sin Against Nature

The Oldest Tree on Earth.

The oldest tree on earth, at least as far as any one knows, is the boo tree in the sacred city of Amarapoora, Burma. It was planted, the record says, in the year 288 B. C. Its great age is proved according to historic documents, says Sir James Emerson, who adds: "To it kings have dedicated their dominions in testimony of a belief that it is a branch of the identical fig tree under which Buddah reclined at Urumelva when he underwent his apotheosis." Its leaves are carried away by pilgrims as relics; but, as it is too sacred to touch with a knife, these leaves can only be gathered after they have fallen.

A Boston Rake.

Bertha—Tell me, Harry, do you think George is dissipated? I smelled cloves on his breath last evening, and I am afraid he drinks.

Harry—No, Bertha; he isn't dissipated. He's only just an ass; nothing more. He eats cloves to make people think he drinks liquor. He wants to be regarded as a deuce of a fellow, you know.

How to get up an Appetite.

Distaste for food often follows Grippe, and fevers, and is associated with a general weakness of the system. To impart a real zest for food, and give power to the stomach to digest and assimilate, no remedy can equal Ferrozone. This is a new and startling discovery. It strikes at the root of disease and by removing the cause, cures quickly and permanently. Ferrozone will quickly enable you to eat and digest anything. Ormond & Walsh, druggists, can tell you a great deal more about Ferrozone, how it cures and why it cures. Call to-day and see them.

China's Enormous Wealth of Coal.

Among the great undeveloped resources of China are its coal beds. In the province of Shansi the coalfields cover an area of 14,000 square miles and contain, it is estimated, more than 600,000,000,000 tons of anthracite, "enough," says The Engineer, "to suffice for the wants of the world at the present rate of consumption for over 2,000 years." With this great coal formation is associated a rich deposit of iron ore. Large coalfields exist also in Hunan and other provinces, none of which has been worked by the Chinese in a scientific manner. In short, coal is said to be, as far as yet ascertained, the most plentiful mineral in China, but iron is also abundant.

STRENGTHENS THE STATE.

Life Insurance is for the protection of those dependent on a man's life; their dependence makes it an unavoidable duty Those dependent we assume to protect by our contract, at his personal cost; our duty to them is to make that contract as large, as secure, and as certainly available to them as possible; thus every Policy written conserves the interest of the State. A man with a Life Insurance Policy is apt to be a good citizen. Anarchists have no use for Life Insurance, and the state has no use for anarchists. The State should encourage every citizen to carry insurance. This Strengthens the State, abolishes alms-houses, and creates property that can be taxed. Further, the income from Your labour ends with Your life. The cost of living to the family continues. Take measures to have the income continue also. The Life Insurance Policy Does It.

The most enterprising and progressive of all the Canadian Life Offices to-day is the Sun Life of Canada. Ten years ago the Company had Life Assurance in force to the extent of $16,759,355,-92. On the 31st of December last, this amount had been increased to $57,980,634.68. The increase, therefore, of Life Assurance in force during the last ten years amounted to the tremendous sum of $41,221,278.76.

NAPOLEON'S ORDER.

THE LEGION OF HONOR AND HOW IT WAS FOUNDED.

Despite the Ridicule the Project at First Invited Its Inauguration Proved That Napoleon Knew French Human Nature.

France owes the Legion of Honor to Napoleon. All orders of chivalry had been abolished by the revolution and had left a gap which it was not easy to fill. "They are mere geegaws," said Monge, the chemist, who had taught the revolutionists how to make gunpowder out of plaster of paris. "Geegaws, if you will," the first consul answered, "but people like them. Let us approach the question frankly. All men are enamored of decorations—the French more than any. They positively hunger for them, and they have always done so."

This was at Malmaison in 1802. In May the conseil d'etat was invited to consider the project of the institution of the Legion of Honor. It was ridiculed by many, notably by Moreau, who as victor of Hohenlinden was bitterly jealous of the victor of Marengo. At a dinner party he sent for his cook and said to him in the presence of his guests: "Michel, I am pleased with your dinner. You have indeed distinguished yourself. I will award you a saucepan of honor."—Mme. de Stael was also satirical upon the subject. "Ah, one of the decorated?" she used to ask each guest who was shown into her salon.

But Napoleon had gauged human nature correctly. His Legion of Honor did meet a felt want, and it was definitely inaugurated on July 14, 1804. Among the eminent men of science and men of letters on whom it was then bestowed were included Laplace, the mathematician; Lalande, the astronomer; Cuvier, the naturalist, and Legouve, the poet. The most notable name omitted was that of Bernardin de St. Pierre, just then in disgrace for championing Mme. de Stael, whom Napoleon had banished, but he got the decoration later on the entreaty of Queen Hortense.

After Jena Goethe was decorated. A little later high promotion in the order was given to General Lamarque, to whom Sir Hudson Lowe had surrendered at Capri. "What did you do with him?" asked Napoleon. "The king of Naples had him exchanged for a Neapolitan general who was a prisoner in Sicily." "Very well; there is no harm in letting this English colonel go. He is not dangerous." It seems not unlikely that Sir Hudson Lowe remembered this sarcasm when he was Napoleon's jailer a few years afterward.

After Napoleon's downfall the question of suppressing the Legion of Honor arose. Chateaubriand, whom Napoleon had not decorated, strongly urged its abolition. So did Puzzo di Borgo. Marshals Victor, Marmont and Macdonald opposed. After debate it was decided to recognize and retain the order, not on any high moral or patriotic grounds, but because Louis XVIII. could not afford to make himself more unpopular than he was already by stripping people of their decorations. Chateaubriand and Lamartine consented to accept the red ribbon, but it was also conferred upon a great number of worthless personages and so brought into contempt.

There have been many Legion of Honor scandals since those days, but one of them surpasses all the others in magnitude. This is, of course, the Wilson scandal, the history of which, though intricate, is worth recalling.

The trouble may be said to have begun on the day on which Mlle. Alice Grevy fell in love with an opera singer who need not be mentioned here. He wanted to marry her, and she wanted to marry him, and the papers were beginning to couple the two names in a manner most embarrassing to the president of the republic. The president, however, sent the opera singer about his business and found his daughter another husband, not a very good husband, but the best husband he could procure on the spur of the moment. His choice fell upon M. Daniel Wilson, who had long been one of M. Grevy's political supporters and was a financier of some mark.

No sooner was M. Wilson established at the Elysee than he proceeded to enrich himself by various means. Among other things, he founded a paper called Le Moniteur de l'Exposition Universelle, which really covered a traffic in decorations. The whole story came out in a state trial toward the end of 1887. It was proved that Wilson had made a regular practice of selling the Legion of Honor, or, rather, of inviting people who wanted it to bribe him to use his influence to obtain it for them. His overtures were presented through his jackals, Generals d'Andlau and Caffarel and Mmes. Limousin and Ratazzi, and the whole party had to stand in the dock together.

Wilson was sentenced to two years' imprisonment, a fine of 3,000 francs and five years' deprivation of civil rights. He appealed, and the court of cassation annulled the judgment. The accused, said the judges, was obviously guilty of everything that he was charged with, but as his offenses were not anticipated by any punitive law he could not be punished. So he retired to the country and tried to live down his bad name. As he ultimately got himself elected conseiller general, one must suppose that he succeeded in this object.

His Mission.

A lawyer was passing along the street carrying under his arm a law-book when he was accosted by a self righteous individual: "Ha, Mr. Blank! And where are you going to preach today?"

"I don't preach, I practice," replied the lawyer.

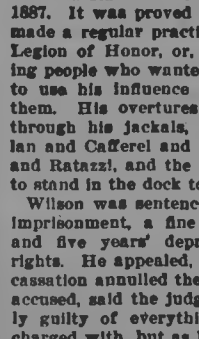
THE GHOST

Of course boyhood resolved itself to an old tree when we had courage to examine it. Manhood has its ghosts, which, to the man who has courage to confront them, prove to be as harmless as the ghosts of boyhood. One of the ghosts which scare a great many people is the ghost of lung disease. But experience shows this ghost to be very harmless. In cases almost innumerable "weak" lungs have been made strong, obstinate coughs stopped, and bronchial affections cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. And these cures have been wrought in many cases after the doctor had said—"There is no help for you." Don't give in to the superstition of a past age. Give the "Golden Medical Discovery" a fair and faithful trial. It always helps. It almost always cures.



"When I commenced taking your medicine eighteen months ago, my health was completely broken down," writes Mrs. Cora L. Sunderland, of Chaneyville, Calvert Co., Md. "At times I could not even walk across the room without pains in my chest. The doctor who attended me said I had lung trouble, and that I would never be well again. At last I concluded to try Dr. Pierce's medicines. I bought a bottle of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' took it, and soon commenced to feel a little better; then you directed me to take both the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and the 'Favorite Prescription,' which I did. Altogether I have taken eighteen bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' twelve of the 'Favorite Prescription,' and five vials of 'Pellets.' I am now almost entirely well, and do all my work without any pain whatever, and can run with more ease than I could formerly walk."

CARE OF THE CANARY.

A Dealer Tells How the Bird Should Be Handled.

A Sixth avenue bird dealer when asked how to care for the frail claws of the canary said: "In handling a bird it is always well to use a silk handkerchief or you will find after a few moments that the bird will rest limp in the hand. This is not because it is tame, but you have drained its vitality by contact with the hand. A silk glove on the hand is even better than the handkerchief. While the bird is lying on his back in the hand the claw can be inspected by holding it between the thumb and forefinger, and the nails can be carefully trimmed with sharp scissors. Care must be taken to hold the nail up to the light and avoid cutting near the little vein line that extends some way down. If the claws are allowed to get too long, they will curl up and trip the bird and probably cause sore feet.

"To provide salt and keep the bill sharp and prevent it from becoming too long a piece of cuttlefish should always be kept in the cage. Care must be taken not to hang a canary's cage too high, especially in a room where the gas will be lighted at night, as the air in the upper part of the room becomes exhausted, and the bird is weakened. Even in summer weather the cage should be covered at night, as birds are sensitive to drafts. If a bird catches a slight cold, this can usually be remedied by hanging a piece of fat pork in the cage. The bird will peck at it, and unless the trouble is serious the pork will cure it.

"Do not have birds sleep in a lighted room. They are accustomed to the darkness at night. The cage, perches, etc., should be cleaned every morning. While the bird may enjoy a bath every other day during the summer, there is danger in too much bathing during the cold months. Twice a week will be sufficient then. If a bird is not inclined to take a bath after the perches have been removed and the bath put in, it shows if he has been in the habit of bathing that he does not need it, so let the bath pass for that day. Under favorable conditions a canary should live for twelve or fifteen years."

His Foot Was In the Way.

A gentlemanly chap riding in an elevated car permitted the sight of a man's foot in the middle of the aisle to exasperate him to a most unreasonable degree. Women tripped over it. Men stepped over it. A few folk purposely dragged their feet against it as a hint. But its owner calmly read his paper and moved not. Finally, "I beg your pardon, my friend," said the gentlemanly chap, leaning down, his face set and teeth clinched, "but don't you think you are taking up more room than you are entitled to? Your foot has been in every one's way for half an hour. I protest, sir!"

The man folded his paper, remarking without the least show of anger: "Ah, thank you. I had not noticed it." With that he reached down, picked up his foot, gave it a violent twist and pushed it partly under the seat. To accomplish this he had to move his body to the edge of the seat.

On discovering that the leg and foot were wooden our gentlemanlike chap blushed in confusion, muttered a sort of apology and hurried off at the next station, while the car tittered.

NAMES OF CLOTHES.

France Was the Birthplace of Many Universal Designations.

Some people occasionally feel bewildered by the names the articles of feminine apparel bear and will be interested in learning their origin and derivation. The word "costume" comes from the French word signifying custom and dress from the French verb dresser, to make straight, and this is derived from deriger, to direct. Petticoat comes from the Anglo-Norman outdoor garment which was called a "cotte" and was subsequently modified into coat.

Petticoat, or small coat, is due to petty, signifying small. Skirt is from the Anglo-Saxon word scyrtan, to shorten. We have come to consider that which covers the lower part of the body as a skirt and the upper part the bodice, the word bodice being the plural of body, for more than one bodice is mostly worn.

The word "gown" comes from the Welsh "gwn." "Corset" is a French word, from "corps," the body, and the diminutive "ette"—namely, a little body. "Stays" express support, from the French word "estai." "Trousseau" comes from the French "trousse," a bundle. "Hose" is an Anglo-Saxon German word, derived from the Icelandic "hsa." "Stocc" is the Anglo-Saxon for stocking, which means a trunk. "Garter" comes from "jarretiers," the French word, and "garetto," the Italian, which denotes the bend of the knee.

"Pocket" means "poke," a bag or pouch, with the diminutive, the pocket being only a little bag inserted in a garment of any other article. We derive "polonaise" from the Poles, who call their surtout the polonie, but "pelisse" comes from the Latin "pelicea," which was generally made of fur. Mackintosh is the name of its inventor, and "umbrella" is from "umbra," a little shade.

What Causes Pain?

Most pains and aches come from excess of uric acid poisons in the blood, due to deranged kidneys, rheumatism, backache, lumbago, pains in the sides and limbs accompanied by bladder and urinary troubles, are warnings too serious and painful to be neglected. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills act directly and specifically on the kidneys make them active, vigourous and thoroughly cure these ailments. One 25 cent box of this great Kidney medicine will do you a world of good.

Snakes.

Snakes have never appealed to me greatly. It seems to require a woman to handle them. Nearly all of them will strike at a stranger, but after you get familiar with them and they understand that you mean no harm the most dangerous snakes are not vicious. I have a Hindoo girl who seems to be able to do anything with them that a mother could do with a child, and it is really weird and uncanny to see her late at night sitting with her bare feet in their box, while they crawl all about her and she talks to them in her strange soft dialect. She has a nasty temper and is disliked by most of the people about her, but none dare offend her, for they remember the time when a brute of a porter struck her, and she went directly to her snake box, returning with a boa constrictor, which made every effort to get itself fastened about him at her bidding. He fled ignominiously.—Frank C. Bostock in Leslie's Monthly.

How a Sprain Does Hurt!

But it isn't the pain alone that is dreaded, just think of the loss of time and wages. Sprains without number have been cured by rubbing Polson's Nerviline well into the pores of the skin surrounding the joint. No matter whether it is a sprained wrist, ankle, knee or back, just try Nerviline on it, and see how quickly it will cure. There is only one liniment that can be depended upon to cure sprains, strains and swellings, and that is Polson's Nerviline. Large bottle 25 cents.

Intentional.

The caller had a grievance.

"That communication I sent you yesterday," he said, "was signed 'More Anon' as plainly as the words could be written. You printed it in your paper this morning 'Omega.'"

"I know it," replied the editor. "We didn't intend there should be any more anon."

On Her Own Head.

Mrs. Buggins—Well, the crime is on my own head.

H. LeBRUN & CO'S GREAT RED-LETTER MOVING SALE.

Messrs. H. LeBrun & Co's Clothing Store was unusually crowded all day Saturday It was the first day of this Red-Letter Moving Sale. This is LeBrun & Co's first great Clothing Sale of a similar importance in the history of their business, and what they do, they intend to do well, and to carry out everything they promise. It has been known for some time that the building which the firm now occupy, has been sold, and that the purchasers require the premises for themselves. This means that LeBrun & Co are forced to move, and this sale is the first step preparatory to moving The present stock is a heavy one, amounting to $40,000, principally winter clothing, tailoring cloths, underwear and gents' furnishings The character of LeBrun & Co's stock is well known to be high class, dependable, and good; and as the firm has enjoyed a large trade, the annual turn-over has been so heavy that there has been little chance for an accumulating of unsaleable goods. Everything in the store has been reduced, some lines, of winter goods, especially, more than others. With such general bona fide reductions of high-class winter clothing, etc., right in the severest part of the season, the public may depend upon securing most unusual chances.

NEW YEAR'S FLOWERS.

It is a pretty custom to decorate the house with flowers and plants during the first days of the New Year, and it is not a very expensive custom either if you come to the right place for your decorations. A visit to the West End Greenhouses will show you that we have every flower and plant you want. There are roses, carnations, violets, lilies of the valley, daffodils, hyacinths, and narcissus, vieing with each other in sweetness. And then among the plants you will see pretty azaleas, cyclamens, ferns, of all kinds, and palms. A. Blade, Manager. Phone. 21B.

NEW ASYLUM AT COBOURG.

Old Victoria Buildings no Longer Lie Vacant.

FORMAL ORENING SATURDAY.

Premier and Provincial Secretary Present- Mr. Ross on the Province's Work For Charity—Mr. Stratton's Figures —Particulars of the Building.

Cobourg, Jan. 4.—To-day another charitable institution was added to the long list of agencies for the alleviation of human suffering which the Province of Ontario maintains. The old Victoria University buildings, which for some years have stood vacant have been re-modelled and extended to form an asylum for the insane, the eighth institution of the sort maintained by the province. Not a large asylum as such institutions go, the new building—for new, it practically is—will relieve much of the pressure on the others; it is designed to accommodate women only, and is specialized so as to be devoted to senile and chronic cases. At present accommodation is provided for 150 patients.

The premier of the Province, Hon. G. W. Ross, and the Provincial Secretary, Hon. J. R. Stratton, who is charged with the oversight of the charitable institutions, came from Toronto to attend the opening, the Commissioner of Public Works, Hon. F. R. Latchford, in the charge of whose department the actual work of reconstruction fell, was prevented from being present. A luncheon was tendered the distinguished guests, a number of representative gentlemen of the Town of Cobourg, and the United Counties of Durham and Northumberland, being present, and in the afternoon a public reception was held at which the Premier and the Provincial Secretary met many of the prominent inhabitants of Cobourg and the vicinity.

THE CHANGES MADE.

The old college buildings have been greatly altered, the interior having been completely reconstructed and two extensions having been thrown out to the rear. On the ground floor there are the usual offices and quarters — the bursar's office, Medical Superintendent's office, matron's rooms, assistant physician's quarters, dispensary, etc. Two dormitories, each provided with twelve beds, are also on this floor. On the first floor are five dormitories, with accommodation for about fifty-five patients. There are also two dining rooms on this floor. The second floor has six dormitories, accommodating sixty-five to seventy patients. All these floors are provided with attendants' rooms, bathrooms, etc. The basement contains workshops, engineers' working rooms, employees' quarters, storerooms, refrigerators, etc. The heating, ventilating arrangements, etc., are modern and complete. It is in contemplation to erect a residence for the Superintendent on the grounds which have been purchased directly in front of the building and across the street from it; it will be followed by residences for the farm steward and the gardener and messenger. The grounds comprise about ten acres and will be so laid out as to afford recreation and solace to the unfortunate inmates.

The building will be filled at once, as 150 patients will be transferred during the coming week from London Mimico and Toronto.

THE STAFF EMPLOYED.

The Medical Superintendent is Dr. E C. McNicholl, an old and highly esteemed resident of Cobourg; the bursar is Mr. J. W. Smith, formerly of the Crown Lands Department, Toronto; the matron is Miss A. Nelles, who is promoted from the post of matron of the Brantford Institute for the Blind, formerly she was assistant matron at the Brockville Asylum; the assistant physician is Dr (Miss) Cockburn of Toronto; the chief attendant is Miss Cathcart, formerly of the Toronto Asylum. Attendants will be employed on the basis of one for each ten patients, about twenty employees being needed. Mr. Way, bursar of the Hamilton Asylum, is spending some time starting things running.

The reception of the visitors, Hon. Geo. and Mrs. Ross and Hon. J. R. and Mrs. Stratton, was undertaken by a committee, which included Mr Sam Clarke, M.P.P.; Mr. J. B. McColl, M. P.; Senator Kerr, Mayor Huycke, Mr. J. D. Hayden, Mr. W. F. Kerr, Mr. J. T. Field and Dr. McNicholl. Invitations were issued to a luncheon to the members of the Council of the United Councils of the Town Council, and of the Township Councils of the riding, the town officials, the Judges and the clergy. The luncheon took place in one of the dining rooms of the institution, and, was most successful. After the loyal toast had been honoured, that of the "Ontario Legislature" elicited a reply from Hon. Geo. W. Ross.

HON. GEO. W. ROSS' SPEECH.

The Premier congratulated the people of Cobourg on the opening of this institution. As Minister of Education he had favoured the removal of Victoria University to Toronto, but he always had had in mind the replacing of the college in Cobourg by some other public institution at the first opportunity. That opportunity came when they were able to purchase this building from the Methodist church, and when, owing to the crowded state of their asylums, it appeared to be a public necessity to provide additional accomodation. Mr. Ross alluded to the satisfactory way in which the building had been fitted up, and went on to remark on the size of the asylums and the numbers confined in them. The Government contributed from the public treasury over $1,000,000 annually for charitable purposes; that meant that 25 cents out of every dollar of revenue in Ontario went to the maintenance of asylums or hospitals and other charities. No State in the United States, no country contributed so largely in the same proportion of its income for such purposes as does Ontario. The annual expenditure in connection with this institution exceed $30,000 This would be of some local advantage to the town, and it was an additional satisfaction that property which had been lying idle would be usefully employed. Mr. Ross hoped the people of Cobourg would appreciate their efforts to deal fairly with them in the establishment of this asylum in lieu of any disappointment incurred by the removal of the university. He also congratulated Mr. Sam Clarke, M.P.P., on his efforts to advance the interests of his constituency, and on his watchfulness in promoting every local improvement that could add to its prosperity.

THE PROVINCIAL SECRETARY.

Hon. Mr. Stratton, who answered to the toast of "Provincial Institutions," remarked that Mr. Ross had given instructions for the completion of this asylum shortly after he had assumed the reins of power. He referred to the measure of compensation thus given to the people of Cobourg for the financial loss sustained in the removal of Victoria University, and went on to say that he presided over the spending department of the Government. The expenditure was large but the public were interested in knowing that the inmates were maintained more cheapiy than, and as well as, in similar institutions in other countries. In 1872 there were 79 institutions of a philanthropic nature in the Province; to-day they had about 214, including 8 asylums, 54 hospitals, 72 refuges for old people and orphanages, and 19 county houses of industry. The asylums contained 5,949 patients. The cost of maintenance in 1871 was $140,000, and in 1901, was in the neighbourhood of $700,000. In the period 1867-1871, the cost per patient was $134. In 1897 it had been $123, and last year it had been $122. This was $54 per patient less than the average cost in any other country, and this represented a saving to the Province of over $250,000 a year. This was brought about by careful buying of supplies, by the employment of capable men, and by avoiding waste wherever possible. He referred in this connection to the careful and efficient construction and equipment of the building in which they met.

THE GOVERNMENT'S WORK.

Continuing, Mr. Stratton said that he did not know of any other State or Government that stood in as close touch with movements to provide for the infirm and diseased elements in the population as does the Government of Ontario. The result was that every town of importance in the Province, or, at least, every county, had one or more public institutions. Had the building of hospitals and kindred institutions been ignored by the Government the result would have been that, instead of these institutions being scattered all over Ontario, they would have been most likely centred in the cities and erected by the gifts of a few men of wealth. The growth of Government institutions had kept pace with the growth of the needs of the Province, and he was certain that in the future, as in the past, the Government would keep pace with the requirements of the public. He hoped that Premier Ross would crown his progressive administration by, in the very near future, erecting another much-needed institution, one which Mr. Stratton was sure he fully appreciated—an institution for the care of epileptics. He did not know of anything that was more required in the Province in the shape of public institutions than a able place for the apparently-increasing number of epileptics, many of whom were in public institutions, being sheltered and cared for, because there was no suitable place for them. He did not think the Premier could crown his long and successful career with a greater monument to his philanthropic spirit than the erection of an institution of this kind. He congratulated the people of Cobourg upon the practical completion of the building, and hoped that the buildings yet to be erected would be completed in such a way as to merit the approval of the public generally. He referred to the unavoidable absence of Mr. Latchford, and in conclusion thanked the citizens for the opportunity of meeting with them.

Speeches were also made by Judge Benson, Warden Rickard, ex-Warden George Spence, Mayor Huycke, Rev. Dr. Saunders, Father Murray, Rev. Dr. Beatty, Rev. Dr. Marshall and Dr. McNicholl. Following the luncheon a reception was held from 3 to 5 o'clock, Hon. Mr. Ross and Mrs. Ross and Hon. Mr. Stratton and Mrs. Stratton receiving in a room on the first floor. Upwards of a thousand people from Cobourg and the vicinity attended. The Ministers, Mrs. Ross and Mrs. Stratton and Dr. and Mrs. McNicholl were entertained at dinner by Mr. Sam Clarke, M.P.P., and the Ministerial party returned to Toronto on the evening train.

DEATH OF A JURIST

JUDGE GWYNNE DIES AT OTTAWA

A Man of Dignified But Affable Manners Whose Demise Will Be Greatly Regretted—Signor Marconi's Plans—No Inkling of What Is Transpiring Between the Italian Inventor and the Government.

Ottawa, Jan. 7. — Mr. Justice Gwynne of the Supreme Court died at 12.45 this morning. The deceased gentleman was in good health until about up to a fortnight ago, when he was obliged to take to his bed. He was attended by Dr. R. W. Powell, one of the most skillful practitioners at the capital, but at his advanced age, he being in his 88th year, recuperative power was lacking. This morning Judge Gwynne was pronounced to be very low, and as the day wore on he gradually sank, and passed away at the hour stated. The late Judge Gwynne was quite energetic, despite his extreme age, and occupied his usual place on the bench of the Supreme Court during the last term, which concluded late in November last. His mind was bright and active, and his thorough knowledge of law and great experience rendered him one of the most valued members of the highest court in Canada. He was a man of dignified but affable manners, and his demise will be deeply regretted.

Sig. Marconi's Movements.

Signor Marconi proposes to leave here on Wednesday for Montreal. He will spend a day there, presumably in order to interview the C.P.R. authorities concerning land connections for his transoceanic system, and will then go on to New York. It is not yet known how far the negotiations between Signor Marconi and the Government have progressed, but they are believed to have reference to the terms upon which a station could be established at Cape Breton for the transmission of messages across the Atlantic. There are some people who believe that the Government might properly establish the station itself, and pay royalties to the company controlling the Marconi patents, but no inkling as to what is transpiring has been allowed to escape, and no authoritative statement will be given out until a definite conclusion one way or the other has been reached. Of course, Signor Marconi has a station at Cape Cod, but it remains to be seen whether the Postal Telegraph Company and the Western Union will be favorable to his getting telegraph connection in the United States for his wireless system across the ocean.

NEWFOUNDLAND'S HOPE.

That Britain Does Not Expect a Renewal of Modus Vivendi.

St. John's, Nfld., Jan. 7.— The colonial authorities entertain the hope that the British Government does not expect a renewal of the French shore modus vivendi, which expired Dec. 31, 1901, for the current year. They consider that this arrangement has proved a very great drawback to the welfare of the colony, and that its renewal would prolong the vexatious phases of the French shore question for a further period. Were it not for the Boer war, there is little doubt but that the colony would refuse to renew this measure. Even as it is, there is a strong element in the upper house of the colonial legislature which is opposed to the renewal of this arrangement under any circumstances.

Venezuelan Gunboat Captured.

Willemstad, Island of Curacao, Jan. 7.—(Via Haytien Cable.)—Later in the day it became definitely known that Gen. Rier, the Venezuelan insurgent leader and all the other insurgents who had assembled here, embarked on board the Libertador during the night, and landed on Venezuelan soil this morning near Vela de Coro, with arms and ammunition. It is reported here this afternoon that the Libertador has captured the Venezuelan gunboat Zumbador.

Beresford Defeats Boers in the Orange River Colony.

ELEVEN KILLED AND 35 TAKEN.

A False Despatch Concerning the Boers Denied—Accidents to Members of the New Contingent at Halifax—Two of Them Are Dangerously, Probably Fatally Injured—Murders of Natives.

Bloemfontein, Orange River Colony, Jan. 6.—Beresford's force of constabulary encountered a force of Boers Jan. 4 in the central part of the Orange River Colony, killed Field Cornet Pretorius and 10 men and captured 35 burghers, including Field Cornets Leroux and Erasmus.

Report Is Denied.

London, Jan. 7.—The War Office, on the authority of Lord Kitchener, last evening denies the report, telegraphed from Pretoria Jan. 1, that two officers of the Intelligence Department, who were sent to parley with Boers who desired to surrender, near Warm Baths, were treacherously shot by concealed Boers.

Famous Scots Greys.

London, Jan. 7.—The Royal Scots Greys, who were recently ambushed by the Boers, is the popular name of the Second Dragoons, acquired from the custom of mounting the regiment on gray troop horses. The battle honors borne by the regiment begin with Blenheim, where it served with the Duke of Marlborough. At Waterloo it made a famous charge, as also at Balaclava. The Emperor Nicholas II. of Russia is its colonel in chief.

ACCIDENTS AT HALIFAX.

Lt. Woodside and Tpr. McLennan Probably Fatally Injured.

Halifax, Jan. 7.—There were a number of casualties at the Exhibition Grounds yesterday afternoon. Several officers and men of the Second Canadian Mounted Rifles were thrown from their horses and two of them received serious injuries.

Lieut. Woodsides of Dawson City, who was the Canadian census commissioner in the Yukon, was thrown from his horse and had his skull fractured. He is at the Military Hospital. Up to a late hour last night he had not regained consciousness, and fears are entertained for his recovery.

Lieut. Richards, formerly of Strathcona's Horse, and Lieut. Lambkin of Quebec, were also thrown from their horses, receiving slight injuries.

Farmer Shoots One Whom He Accuses of Supplying Cattle.

London, Jan. 7.—A special statement from Lord Kitchener specifying several cases of shooting of natives by the Boers was issued from the War Office last night.

On Monday, Oct. 15, 1900, party of Boers came to Houtkop, about six miles northwest of Vereeniging. One of them, a farmer well known to the natives in the kraal, fired at and killed a native called Jacob, whom he accused of supplying cattle to the British forces.

At the same time another Boer, Phanie Cronje by name, proceeded to the house of a native, Johannes, whom he shot dead in the presence of both his sons as he came outside.

In November or December, 1900, a certain number of wagons belonging to a convoy proceeding from Pretoria to Rustenburg were captured by the enemy. A native driver of one of the wagons appears to have been rolled up in a buck sail by two men called Willem Barnard and Jan Van Rensburg; bags of oats were piled on the top of the sail. These were then sprinkled with paraffin, and the whole set on fire. The witnesses in this case are all natives from Kimberley.

The total number of natives reported murdered is thirty-seven. Details not yet to hand.

Basutos and the War.

Pietermaritzburg, Jan. 6.— Sir Godfrey Lagden, British resident in Zululand, is here discussing the native labor question with the Government, with particular reference to the excessive wages paid by the military in the Transvaal and elsewhere. The Basutos, says Sir Godfrey, have watched the latter stages of the war in a manner, and, convinced as they now are of the overwhelming power of Great Britain, are regarding the struggle being fought out as a test of our endurance and determination. The moral effect of the great campaign, which has been carried on under their eyes, will be complete only when they see the last Boer commando driven from the field.

A Fair at Cape Town.

London, Jan. 7.—An exhibition is to be held in Cape Town in 1903, says a despatch from that city to The Times. It will be organized from England and its main object will be the promotion of trade. There will be no appeal for colonial funds.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Hamilton Spectator makes this concession. It says:—"We take it for granted that there is something wrong with the Conservative party in Ottawa." And we take it for granted that there is something wrong with the Conservative party in Hamilton when the party is represented by a newspaper so vituperative and with such anti-national and discord sowing a record and practice as the Spectator.

The London Morning Post is amazed at the evidences of Canada's wealth which the banking returns furnish. The British too are surprised at the fact that the people of Canada have four hundred million dollars loose change in the form of savings of the Dominion. It looks forward to the time when the Dominion will solve the problem of British food supply. If Britain would take the Post's advice and send here her surplus men and millions, the problem would very soon be solved.

The appeal made by The Cosmopolitan Magazine for signatures to a petition praying for intervention by President Roosevelt in the Boer war has not always met with a cordial reception. For example, a clergyman in Maine, who had been asked to circulate the petition among his congregation, replied:

"In the light of our own policy in the Philippines, it takes a great amount of Christian gall to send out such documents in dead earnest. Every sentence in plea and petition might, with even greater force, be directed against ourselves. Might not the English people answer such a petition by another couched in identical words, ending with a prayer that the King of England and the Queen of Holland be appointed to arbitrate between us and the Filipinos, and that during negotiations hostilities cease? Perhaps Mr. Walker and The Cosmopolitan are not in earnest, after all. Maybe this is all just a grim joke, or roaring farce comedy. Yours for 'peace on earth,' beginning at home."

It is pretty hard, as everyone knows, for Uncle Sam to mind his own business, and yet in this matter this is the very best possible thing for him to do.

The members of the Government who invited Signor Marconi to Ottawa and offered to facilitate his operations by practical assistance, are much to be commended. Such recognition of the honour due to science, and of the encouragement due to a distinguished inventor and experimenter, have very rarely indeed been manifested by governments, which have a dark record in these respects. Mr. Marconi—he is now too British to be known any longer as "Signor"—will erect a signal station on the coast of Canada with the necessary apparatus for long distance telegraphing. Should his sanguine ideas be realized, Canada will be forever distinguished as the land from whence telegraphic messages were first sent across the ocean, and the land where the inventor was welcomed, honoured and helped by the Government in the name of the people of Canada. These are not the days to doubt the powers of electricity. We can only regret that the advice given in 1770 by a great Irish dramatist, poet and novelist, was so long despised. He, 132 years ago, urged that electricity should be studied in the English colleges, but was laughed at for his advice.—Financial Chronicle.

THE GREATEST AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

Sir William McDonald has donated $125,000 for a school of instruction in the elements of plant life in connection with the College of Agriculture, and for the teaching of domestic science to women as applicable to agricultural pursuits. It will be remembered that the late Mr. Massey made a generous donation for a library in connection with the same college, and I am delighted to think that this important institution to which I referred a few weeks ago as having been neglected by the newspapers, is liable to make such advancement as a place of popular education. The splendid donations which it has received, the hundreds of students who crowd its lecture rooms, and its high reputation abroad, have now brought it to the front where the Province of Ontario can easily make it the greatest agricultural college in the world. Why not? What greater advertisement could Canada have as an agricultural country than the presence in its chief province of the greatest institution the world has ever known the teaching theoretically, experimentally and practically of all those delightful branches of study relating to the plant and animal life connected with the farm?—Saturday Night.

PROPOSED NEW CANAL.

Details of the proposed Lake St. Clair-Lake Erie Canal are given in The Engineering News. As at present outlined the canal will be thirteen and one-half miles long, through low-lying land, with the underlying rock more than 20 feet below the bottom of the deepest cut. A uniform depth of 21 feet is proposed, with a canal 156 feet wide on the surface and 72 feet wide on the bottom. This canal would enable vessels to avoid the fogs, shoals and rapid current of the Detroit River, and would afford a straight course from the St. Clair flats canal through Lake St. Clair to Lake Erie. The course would be unimpeded by locks, and a speed of six miles per hour could be maintained. The saving in distance by the canal would be 79 miles, between the foot of the St. Clair flats canal and an offing in Lake Erie. In time the saving would be six or seven hours. No estimate of cost is given, but the promoters of the canal claim that there would be a net saving of $1,000,000 per year on the 40,000,000 tons of freight now annually passing through the Detroit River.

CHARGED WITH HORSE STEALING.

Two Oshawa Men Brought to Bowmanville From Buffalo.

Bowmanville, Jan. 7. — Richard Jarvis, chief constable, went to Buffalo on Friday and found Almer Rowe, alias Jumbo Rowe, at 122 Eagle street, and had him arrested on a charge of horse stealing. The night of Nov. 21 Rowe and a chum, Jack Farewell, both well-known characters around Oshawa, took from John M. Martyn's livery stable here, a horse, buggy and harness, and at Cobourg traded the mare for another horse, which they hitched to the buggy and drove eastward. The property was discovered at Colborne later, but Rowe and Farewell escaped. Farewell returned to his home, near Oshawa, where he was arrested on Saturday. Both prisoners were brought before the Police Magistrate yesterday and remanded to Cobourg jail to await trial. Magistrate Haines was called to Detroit yesterday by the death of his only daughter.

Must Maintain Splendid Isolation.

London, Jan. 7.—Speaking at Birmingham last night, Joseph Chamberlain, the Colonial Secretary, referred to the hatred and jealousy of Great Britain entertained abroad, and denied that this was due to the existence of a particularly wicked Government. "This is no new thing in history," he said, "and we must maintain our splendid isolation, surrounded and supported by our colonial kinsfolk."

Each to Pay Half.

Albany, N.Y., Jan. 7.—A conference was held yesterday between Mr. W. F. King of Ottawa, chief astronomer of the Interior and State Engineer and Surveyor Bond, relative to the re-establishment of the boundary line between New York State and the Dominion of Canada. The State and the Dominion will each pay one-half of the expense of the work.

Why Orders Were Refused.

London, Jan. 7.—The Berlin correspondent of The Daily Express asserts that Lord George Hamilton, Secretary of State for India, in a letter in behalf of the Indian Government, declining German tenders for railway material, gives as his reason for this action the anti-British feeling prevalent in Germany.

Pekin, Jan. 7.—The Chinese officials have requested the ministers of the powers to keep the legation guards within their quarters to-morrow, in order to prevent the possibility of a collision between the Chinese and foreign troops. The ministers will comply.

Sydney, Jan. 7.—Mr. William O'Brien, the Irish Nationalist, who is being feted here, said in the course of a speech that the United Irish party was dreaded by the House of Commons, and the Liberal party was divided on the subject of Lord Rosebery.

PRINCIPAL GRANT TALKS.

Wants Canada Peopled by Its Own Stock—Other Views.

Kingston, Jan. 7.—Principal Grant was able to address the students of Queen's last evening in the Convocation Hall. In his address he discussed his attitude in the past 40 years towards Canadian Confederation, Imperial union and the Presbyterian union. He claimed to have acted on principal and vital truth. In Confederation, he stood with Tupper against his political mentor, Howe. He wanted Canada peopled by its own stock. We had already all the peoples of other languages we can digest. He asked the Government to call off its immigration agents. He saw Imperial union coming nearer, but he took occasion to assail the Government for neglecting to pay its share of the cost of sending men to the South African war. They could give millions in bonuses and for public policy, but none to aid a land giving its best blood and treasure to win a goodly victory. The Empire, he held, must be practically as well as nominally united. The principal rejoiced over the Presbyterian union, and looked for an organized church of Canada, embracing all denominations.

Does Not Disappoint.

The New Discovery for Catarrh Seems to Possess Remarkable Merit.

A new catarrh cure has recently appeared, which so far as tested, has been remarkably successful in curing all forms of catarrh, whether in the head, throat, bronchial tubes, or in stomach and liver.

The remedy is in tablet form, pleasant and convenient to take, and no special secrecy is maintained as to what it contains, the tablet being a scientific combination of Blood root, Red gum, and other similar valuable and harmless antiseptics.

the name of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets.

Whether the catarrh is located in the nose, throat, bronchial tubes, or stomach, the tablets seem to act with equal success, removing the stuffy feeling in head and throat, clearing the mucous membrane of throat and trachea from catarrhal secretions, which cause the tickling, coughing, hawking and gagging so annoying to every catarrh sufferer.

Nasal catarrh generally leads to ulceration, in some cases to such an extent as to destroy the nose entirely and in many old cases of catarrh the bones of the head become diseased. Nasal catarrh gradually extends to the throat and bronchial tubes and very often to the stomach, causing that very obstinate trouble, catarrh of the stomach.

Catarrh is a systemic poison, inherent in the blood, and local washes, douches, salves, inhalers and sprays have no effect on the real cause of the disease. An internal remedy, which acts upon the blood is the only rational treatment and Stuart's Catarrh Tablets is the safest of all internal remedies, as well as the most convenient and satisfactory from a medical standpoint.

Dr. Eaton recently stated that he had successfully used Stuart's Catarrh Tablets in old chronic cases, even where ulceration had extended so far as to destroy the septum of the nose. He says, "I am pleasantly surprised almost every day by the excellent results from Stuart's Catarrh Tablets. It is remarkable how effectually they remove the excessive secretion and bring about a healthy condition of the mucous membranes of the nose, throat and stomach.

All druggists sell complete treatment of the Tablets at 50 cents and a little book, giving the symptoms and causes of the various forms of catarrh, will be mailed free by addressing F. A. Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

North Temiscamingue, Que., Jan. 5th, (Special).—At the Douglas Farm near here lives Mr. W. H. Johnston who to-day considers himself a very happy man indeed.

The cause of Mr. Johnston's happiness is his somewhat sudden and very remarkable recovery from the most severe case of Rheumatism ever seen in this country.

For a long time he suffered with the Rheumatism which gradually grew worse till it threatened his life. His principal trouble was in his left side, and it was so bad that his neck stiffened so that he could scarcely move it, and was beginning to fear Paralysis. The pain would go away for a time but return with greater force, and a strange feature of his case was that after the pain would leave any part, it left behind it that prickly "pins and needles" sensation.

He thought that perhaps his smoking tobacco had something to do with it and he gave this up, but received no benefit at all till he used Dodd's Kidney Pills.

This remedy he found to be a complete and absolute cure for his malady, and very soon after commencing its use, the pain began to leave him and now he is strong and well.

That such an extreme case should yield so easily and quickly proves that Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure any case of Rheumatism.

...as on the Walla Walla.

Winnipeg, Jan. 7.—One of the passengers on the ill-fated steamer Walla Walla, which foundered off Cape Mendotina, California, last Thursday, was Mrs. R. S. Edgar, wife of Robert Edgar, formerly of Brandon, but now of Winnipeg. Mrs. Edgar was on her way to Vancouver. Mr. Edgar received a telegram last night from his wife, to the effect that she was safe and well, having escaped in a boat from the wreck.

Killed on the Track.

Magog, Que., Jan. 7.—A man, horse and rig were found yesterday morning on the C.P.R. track near Castlebrook. The man and horse were dead and the rig smashed. The body has not yet been identified. It is supposed the occupant of the sleigh was under the influence of liquor and drove on the track instead of the road, as the spot where the body was found is a mile away from the main road.

Fatally Hurt.

St. Thomas, Jan. 7.—John Durand, hotelkeeper at Belmont, and for years license inspector for East Middlesex, met with very serious injury at the Atlantic House, London, Saturday night. His injuries are mostly internal, and are such as to make his recovery a matter of doubt. Mr. Durand fell through a trap door to the cellar, and alighted upon his head. He was rendered unconscious by the fall.

Killed by An Avalanche.

Paris, Jan. 7.—News has come to hand of a terrible Alpine accident which has killed several Chasseurs Alpins, the hardy little mountaineers which the late Queen Victoria thought so much of. It should not be confused with a similar mishap which injured many men of the same regiment on the same day— yesterday.

"PUT OUT THE FIRE"

Dr. Agnew's Ointment will relieve and cure any skin disease just as surely as it cured this soldier's Erysipelas—the first application kills the "sting."

Lieut. Bucknam, National Soldiers' Home, in Grant County, Indiana, had a very acute attack of Erysipelas. His face and head were in torment with burning and itching sensations. A druggist recommended Dr. Agnew's Ointment as the quickest relief and cure. He bought a box and found it as good as it promised, and a few applications, to use his own words, "put out the fire and less than a box entirely cured me." Price 35 cts.

PUBLIC VACCINATION.

The Physicians Were Kept Busy all day in the Council Chamber.

The physicians, assisted by two nurses—Miss Maloney and Miss Boucher, were kept busy all day at the Council Chamber vaccinating citizens. There were quite a number present at ten o'clock when Dr. Halliday and Dr. Boucher picked up their lances and called for patients who wished to be operated upon. From this time on there was a steady stream and the doctors were kept busy. The patients were of all sizes and ages and only a few lost their nerve during the day. There was about an equal number of each sex submitting themselves to the surgeon's knife, and it is evident that the majority of the citizens are imbued with sufficient good sence to present themselves for vaccination without putting the officials to any trouble in the matter. The town officials, by the way, have set a good example to the citizens, by all being vaccinated. Due notice will be given the public as to the time when Chief Roszel and his men feel their arms getting sore.

—At Stratford the other day Provincial Road Commissioner Campbell, in the course of an address on good roads, said he had over 600 engagements booked, and if he spent a day and a night in each place it would take him 3 1-2 years to attend them all once. Stratford proposes to borrow $3,0000 to initiate a system of good roads, having figured out that the money at present wasted on patchwork would more than suffice to pay off the loan with interest.

ALL SAINTS' CHURCH.

A most encouraging meeting was held last evening when Rev. Mr. Murphy preached to a large congregation on the question, "What Think Ye of Christ?" St. Matt, xxii, 42. What think ye of Christ as a friend? asked the preacher. He then spoke of Christ as a friend, and in a most interesting and forceful address showed Christ as a Friend in Deed, a Friend in Need, a wise Friend, a powerful Friend, a loving Friend, an unfailing Friend.

The second question was "What think ye of Christ as a Saviour?" and the third question was "What think ye of Christ as a personal Saviour?" Each question was handled in a splendid manner and attentively listened to.

Service to-night at 8 o'clock. His subject will be "Jewels."

THE LATE R. C. McHARRIE.

Universal and most sincere regret will be expressed, not only by the citizens of the town, but by the residents of the entire county, at the announcement of the unexpected death last evening of Mr. R. C. McHarrie, Manager of the Peterborough Branch of the Bank of Commerce.

Mr. McHarrie's business abilities gained for him a very high place in the esteem of the bank authorities, as evidenced by the fact that although only forty-one years of age, he has held for a considerable length of time most important positions of trust in connection with the institution with which he was identified. He had been in the service of the Bank of Commerce for about twenty-one years, and during that period advanced steadily until he was promoted to the position of Manager in which capacity he acted in connection with the Market Branch in Toronto for several years prior to being placed in charge of the Peterborough agency in 1898. During his residence here, he improved the excellent patronage which the bank has always enjoyed in Peterborough, and through his prompt identification with any movement calculated to improve the town's welfare, he became a general favourite. He was a prominent member of the Peterborough Club, the Golf Club, the Curling Club, and the Lawn-Bowling Club, of which latter organization, he was Vice-President.

Mr. McHarrie's last illness was of short duration, as, though feeling a trifle unwell, he was in his office on Saturday last. On Sunday he complained of stomach trouble, and did not again leave his rooms, complications of heart trouble having followed. His demise shortly after six o'clock last evening came as a distinct shock, as his friends did not realize that his condition was at all serious.

He was a native of Stanrarer, Wigmore county, Scotland, where his mother, with other members of the family still reside. In response to a cablegram sent by Mr. E. C. Complin, the family expressed the wish that the remains be interred in Peterborough.

The funeral will take place at 2 o'clock on Thursday, from the rooms on Water street, in the Bank Building, recently occupied by the deceased. Rev. Dr. Torrance will conduct a service, after which the Masonic fraternity, of which Mr. McHarrie was a member, will take the arrangements in hand. Interment will be at the Little Lake Cemetery.

THE TOWN WATERWORKS.

The people of Peterborough have decided unmistakably in favour of the municipal ownership of the Peterborough Waterworks, which are now practically Peterborough Waterworks in the full sense of the term. The town, as the Examiner believes, has come into possession of a good, solidly-constructed, and efficient waterworks system, and assuming that the price paid is reasonable, the question as to whether the investment is a wise one, resolves itself into a simple question of management. Municipal ownership is one thing, and direct municipal control is another, that is, direct control and management by the council, or a committee of the council. All the council should do, judged by the light of experience, is to have a general, and largely academic, supervision. All matters of direct control should, it is the general opinion, based on experiences of other places, be placed in the hands of a properly constituted Commission, and the character and composition of such Commission cannot be decided off-hand; for it seems that such a Commission, its mode of appointment, its character and powers, form an even more serious subject for deliberate and careful consideration than the purchase of the works themselves. Upon such a Commission, and the manner in which it discharges its trust, depend the question of the success or failure of municipal ownership of the Waterworks. One thing about such a Commission which seems to be desirable is permanence, or at least a system of rotation in office that will always retain experienced men upon the board. This will admit of a matured and well considered policy of management, which will not be subject to the vagaries of varying membership and individual policy of councils, changing in personnel and policy from year to year. In a word the desirable thing seems to be the de-municipalization of municipal ownership, so far as practical management is concerned; and, within reasonable limits, upon the effectiveness of management, or otherwise, the success or failure of municipal ownership of the waterworks obviously depends. In connection with good administrative management, a self-evident factor is good and efficient mechanical and practical management. An experienced superintendent, of sufficient skill and knowledge of waterworks and waterworks workings, is needed to successfully carry out the ideas of the Commissioners. A man is needed for this position with sufficient experience, mechanical and expert knowledge to give him confidence in himself and to inspire confidence in the Commissioners. By general consent, such a man is found in the present superintendent, and if his services are retained, there need be no break in the continuity of excellent water service, which we might not have, for a time at least, till a new man, however capable, became accustomed to the (to him) new conditions. A man who did not practically construct the works, who has not had a quarter of a century of experience, whose reliability and efficiency remained to be proved, would require some time before he arrived at the full measure of his usefulness. The town now practically owns the Waterworks, and as before remarked, success all depends upon the way they are managed. With good management, the excellent works we now have can be made of great benefit and, in time, no doubt, a source of profit to the people. With bad, careless slip-shod, management the Waterworks will be quite the reverse, a burden and a disadvantage. But there seems no reason to doubt that we shall be able to find in the town enough public spirited citizens of business ability who will give their services on a commission; and in such an event we may reasonably regard the acquirement of the Water Works by the town as a good thing.

A FILTER NEEDED.

Peterborough, Jan. 7th, 1902.

To the Editor of the Examiner,—

Dear Sir,—Now that we have municipal ownership of waterworks, I would suggest that the subject of a suitable filter be thrashed out, so that work could begin on the same the first thing in the spring. Believing that it would be ahead of vaccination, and that our live Mayor and Council will not overlook such an important matter. Thanking you for valuable space, I beg to remain,

Yours respectfully,

"RATEPAYER."

PETERBOROUGH'S MODERN STORE.

IT'S WINTER IN EARNEST NOW

And you may expect the same thing to continue for the next couple of months. You must be careful of your health these days, and keep yourself comfortably clad. There's many a cold contracted at this time of the year that centres on some weak spot and develops into something more serious later. We have lots of comfortable things that you can buy for little money, particulary at this time of the year, as we are unloading, trying to reduce our stock before Inventory. We find it's much easier to couut money than to measure goods.

FASHIONABLE ULSTERS

Are again the proper thing and we don't know of any garment that is more suitable for this winter weather. We have quite an assortment of ready-made ones that we are offering at big reductions — two-thirds of the regular price, which means a $15 ulster for $10, and other prices at the same reduction, or if you want one made to order we have the cloths and the dressmakers that will make you up one in short order, and we guarantee satisfaction.

A WINTER NECESSITY

For everyone and specially for children it is necessary to provide that which is comfortable and warm in cold weather. We have a specialty in a Warm Woollen Cloth, which is heavy enough to protect the body from cold, and firm enough to stand hard wear. It is all wool and in several pretty warm colours, and we are selling it now at Fifty Cents a yard. The regular price was 65 cents.

HOME COMFORT.

If you want both comfort and enjoyment from your days at home you must have soft, clinging garments, which have body enough to keep you warm and the sort of finish that would make you look well if visitors came. We are offering a line of wrapperettes at 15c a yard that are just the proper thing for you. The regular price was 20c 23c per yard.

THE BEST STOCKINGS

For winter wear are those that will keep the feet warm and which don't pull or shrink. They'll wear better and be a pleasure every cold day. We have them in all sizes from the very smallest ones for boys and girls up to the full sizes for big boys and ladies, made in the very best imported wools. Stockings that we know will give you satisfaction, and the prices are very low when you consider the quality. We have lots of cheap ones, too, but we don't recommend you to buy cheap stockings.

HEAVY UNDERWEAR.

You can't get Underwear that's too warm for this climate, but it's getting late for the selling of them now. We are pushing them for that reason. We are showing nice heavy Wool Underwear in both Vests and Drawers at 50c a garment that ought to interest you if you are wanting anything in that way. They are certainly the best value in this city. See Them.

HOCKEY.

The public is again reminded of the hockey match which will take place this evening in the Charlotte street rink between the Colts and the Belleville Juniors. This will be the first association match of the season and should be well patronised.

The Belleville team to play the Colts to-night will arrive at 5.30. The game will commence at 8 sharp with Mr. E. Wasson as referee. The committee promise the game to start on time and be played without any delays. The Colts team will be strengthened since the last game by Davidson, goal; Harold Armstrong and Fred Whitcroft. The probabilities say milder, so it will be comfortable in the rink. A big crowd is expected.

The Intermediate team is to practice after to-night's game, about 9.15, and the following are particularly asked to be out: Comstock, Armstrong, Watt, Glover, King, Parnell, Lynch, Morgan, Whitcroft, Wasson, Graham, and other Intermediate ticket holders.

The Wellingtons won from the St. George's in a Senior O.H.A. match in Toronto, on Saturday evening, by a score of 8 goals to 2. The game is described as being a poor exhibition of hockey and not one to satisfy the backers of the Wellingtons that the team can annex the Stanley Cup when they go to Winnipeg.

CURLING.

The curling season has formerally opened and last night 12 rinks played off, in a bonspeil, the first draw of the year with the appended result:

The remaining six rinks play off to-morrow evening after which a new draw will be made.

The very large scores which were made on four of the rinks last evening was made the subject of much comment and occasioned no little surprise.

Skip W. G. Morrow was to have played Skip Stanger, on Rink No. 6, but defaulted and Skip Brown played him a friendly game.

THE TOWN BUYS THE WATERWORKS.

THE MAJORITY TOTALS 381.

The Vote Pretty Evenly Distributed—A Majority in Every Ward in the Town.

Yesterday the qualified ratepayers of the town of Peterborough voted upon one of the most important questions that has been submitted to them perhaps in the town's history. The question was the authorization of the expenditure of $230,000 for the purchase of the Peterborough Water Works. The ratepayers decided in favour of the purchase by a majority of 381. There seemed to be a general feeling in favour of the scheme for in no ward was a majority cast against the proposal. The largest vote against the bylaw—18—was in polling subdivision No. 5, and the largest majorities in favour were found in polling subdivisions 1 and 7—each giving a majority of 72.

The vote cast under the circumstances was a pretty large one. The total number of ratepayers of Peterborough qualified to vote on a money bylaw is about 1,300, but considering that many of these are out-of-town property holders and their votes were not available, the total number of electors available for voting was about 1,000. Of these 519 cast their votes a large number in view of the fact that there was little or no solicitation or organized effort to get out the vote on either side apparent. In comparison with other money bylaw votes, the large number is evident. For the Shovel bylaw, voted upon by itself last year, there was a total—for and against—of 285 votes. The total number of votes cast for the Smith street bridge bylaw was 547, and for the Cordage Company bylaw, 576. But the large number of votes cast upon this occasion is no doubt due to a somewhat organized effort to bring out the vote on both sides and as the bridge bylaw was grouped with the Cordage Company bylaw, the large vote in both cases is accounted for. During the summer a committee of the council was preparing for the purchase of the works. Information was collected, the bylaw was prepared and submitted to the people, and the result is that the Town of Peterborough practically owns the Water Works, only formalities being needed to complete the formal transfer.

	For	Ag't	Maj.
No. 1 Sub. Div.	83	11	72
No. 2 Sub. Div.	66	10	56
No. 3 Sub. Div.	44	4	40
No. 4 Sub. Div.	49	9	40
No. 5 Sub. Div.	67	18	49
No. 6 Sub. Div.	59	5	52
No. 7 Sub. Div.	84	12	72

The largest votes polled were in No. 1 and No. 7 sub-division, each giving a majority of 72.

Under the provisions of the agreement between the Town and the Company, the Town will assume the revenue of the waterworks from Jan. 1st, 1902.

Fitzgerald v. Fitzgerald. — Judgment (E.B.B.) in action tried at Peterborough to have a conveyance and mortgage declared null and void so far as same affects plaintiff's right to dower out of the land therein mentioned. The plaintiff is the widow of the late James W. Fitzgerald, deceased, to whom she was married in July, 1884. The defendant is a son of deceased by a former wife, and is his executor. The land in question is block "C" in the Town of Peterborough, according to registered plan 18, and is subject to two mortgages made by deceased and his first wife, to bar her dower. In 1897 deceased conveyed the land to defendant for a nominal consideration of $11,000 subject to the mortgages, and reserving to the grantor a life estate without impeachment of waste, and defendant gave back mortgage for $7,000 without interest. It does not appear that a case is to be found which supports such an action as the present, "and this in spite of the fact that circumstances must frequently have arisen which would invite a decision of the question," per Lord Esher in Finlay v. Chirney in 1888, 20 Q.B.D., at p. 498. The case of re Luckhardt, 1897, 29, O.R. 111, though not exactly in point, seems against the plaintiff's status. The mortgages having been created before the death of the first wife, the legal estate never was in the husband during plaintiff's coverture. Action dismissed without costs. A.B. Aylesworth, K.C., and J. W. Bennet, Peterborough, for plaintiff. G.H. Watson, K.C., and E.B. Edwards, K.C., for defendant.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT

NARROW ESCAPE OF TWO BOYS.

Daniel McEachren of Egg Mountain, N.S., Frozen to Death—Fatal Accident in a Planing Mill at Norwich, Ont.—J. Beattie Dies From His Injuries—Alfred Delorme Killed at Vermillion Bay.

Bothwell, Ont., Jan. 6.—A sad accident occurred near here about 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, whereby one of the citizens of Bothwell lost his life. William Duncan, H. Cross and E. Crate were out rabbit hunting about two miles north of the town when Mr. Duncan, in getting over a fence, accidentally discharged his gun, the full charge entering his left leg, just above the knee, going completely through and coming out in the thigh. His companions secured a rig as quickly as possible and brought him home. Medical aid was summoned, but could not offer any hope. The unfortunate man died from loss of blood in a few minutes after reaching his home. He was a married man, 38 years old. He leaves a wife and three daughters to mourn his sad end.

Killed by a Limb.

Rat Portage, Ont., Jan. 6.—Alfred Delorme, whose home is in Keewatin, was killed Saturday at Mathers' tie camp at Vermillion Bay. He was working in the bush and a limb from a tree fell on him. Deceased was 27 years old and unmarried.

Caught in Machinery.

Norwich, Jan. 6.—Mr. J. Beattie, of Beattie's planing mill, was caught in the machinery whilst operating it yesterday and received injuries from which he died. The sad event has cast a gloom over the whole community, as he was well and favorably known.

Scalded to Death.

Montreal, Jan. 6.—A distressing accident occurred Saturday at 185 Champlain street, and the victim, a little baby girl of four years of age, died at 7.30 Sunday evening at the Notre Dame Hospital, where she had been conveyed by the ambulance immediately after the accident. Bertha Bernard, the victim, was playing around her father, who was reading his papers in a rocker, when suddenly the rocker caused the leg of the stove to fall to the floor. The stove fell on its side, and a large pot containing boiling soup, was dashed over the child, scalding her so badly all over the body that the flesh peeled off her body in long strips.

Frozen to Death.

Halifax, N.S., Jan. 6.—Daniel McEachren, 46 years of age, left Antigonish Saturday night for his home at Egg Mountain. Yesterday his dead body was found on the roadside, a few miles from the town, he having been frozen to death. He had been drinking.

Death of Rev. Jas. Robertson.

Toronto, Jan. 6.—The death occurred on Saturday evening, at his residence, 82 Admiral road, of Rev. James Robertson, superintendent of Presbyterian Home Missions. Deceased had been suffering for a long time from diabetes, but his illness became more aggravated lately owing to a fall. Mr. Robertson was 62 years of age and leaves a widow, two sons and two daughters. He was born in the town of Dull in Perthshire, Scotland, and had been a member of the Presbyterian Church in Canada for more than 20 years, serving for many years in the capacity of superintendent of the Northwest Missions, and latterly as superintendent of Home Missions.

The Scranton Street Car Fight.

Scranton, Pa., Jan. 6.—A final effort was made yesterday to settle the street car strike in Scranton before the return to Philadelphia of President Clark of the Scranton Railroad Company.

The strikers met yesterday morning and appointed a committee to wait upon Mr. Clark and ask that the men be all taken back in a body.

Mr. Clark said he would confer with only one man empowered to settle the trouble: that he would not take them all back in a body and he would not agree to pay a flat rate of nineteen cents an hour.

On Eve of Court's Return.

Pekin, Jan. 5.—The Chinese capital, on the eve of the court's return, presents an animated and gaudy scene not before equalled in its history. All the palaces, pagodas and temples have been repaired and painted, to form a glittering spectacle. The roofs of these buildings, viewed from the city walls, are patches of shining yellow tiles and brick. The wall about the Imperial City is a vivid crimson, and the gates leading to the Imperial City have been repaired and gilded.

"The Fault of the Dutch."

It was to Sir Charles Bagot, minister at The Hague, that Canning in the course of a tariff dispute with Falk, the Dutch premier, addressed his famous dispatch in verse, which, as we have seen it wrongly quoted on several occasions, we venture to append:

In matters of commerce the fault of the Dutch
Is giving too little and asking too much;
With equal advantage the French are content,
So we'll clap on Dutch bottoms at twenty per cent,
Twenty per cent,
Twenty per cent,
Mons frapperons Falk with twenty per cent.

BEAVER TAIL SOUP.

A Michigan Lumber Camp Delicacy That Amazed a Marylander.

"Although I am a Marylander and an Eastern Shore one at that," said an epicure from that state, "and consequently know what good things to eat are, I want to tell you that I'll have to take off my hat to the lumber camp cook of the upper Michigan peninsula as the discoverer, fabricator and dispenser of a dish that knocks the Eastern Shore cuisine silly. And that rare lumber camp dish is beaver tail soup.

"I was with Colonel Park of Columbus, O., deer hunting in the Rainy lake region of Michigan one fall. We lived at a lumber camp boarding shanty.

"There were signs of beaver at the upper end of the lake, and a trapper succeeded in trapping one of the wily dam builders.

"When the beaver was brought into camp, the camp cook went nearly wild, and so did the lumbermen when they heard the news, all because they had been trying to trap a beaver for weeks, not for its fur, but for its tail, as they were pining, they said, for beaver tail soup.

"The cook took that broad appendage of the beaver, mailed like an armadillo, took from it the underlying bone and meat, and from it made such a soup as never came from any other stock at the beck of the most expert and scientific chef that ever put a kettle on.

"We could do the same thing and perhaps better on the Eastern Shore, but we lack one thing. We haven't got the beavers to yield us their tails."

A Throat and Lung Treatment

That Has Been Largely Imitated but Never Successfully Rivalled is Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine.

There is no guesswork about the virtues of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. It has been before the people too long, and withstood too many a battle brunt from aspiring rivals, to be considered an experiment of unknown value.

Year by year, as the fall and winter seasons come and go, the sale of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine increases steadily and certainly. It has proven its remarkable value won its laurels and continues to lead the van as the most popular and most largely used cough and cold medicine of this country.

Children especially are fond of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, because it is sweet and pleasant to the taste, and quickly relieves and cures them when gasping for breath with choked-up air passages, or tearing the linings of the throat and bronchial tubes with a severe and painful cough.

Bronchitis, whooping cough, croup, sore throat, severe chest colds and painful coughs are relieved and cured promptly and thoroughly by this famous preparation. It also frees the asthma sufferer from the dreadful paroxysms which cause him such keen agony and cures asthma, as has been proven in a hundred cases.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine aids expectoration, clears the throat and air passages, soothes and heals the inflamed linings of the bronchial tubes, and cures coughs of every description. But it is far more than a mere cough cure, for its action is far-reaching and it thoroughly removes the cold as well.

You cannot compare Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine with any remedy you ever used. It is unique as a treatment for throat and lung troubles. There are other preparations of linseed and turpentine put up in imitation of Dr. Chase's, and it is therefore important that that you be careful when buying. 25 cents a bottle; family size, three times as much, 00 cents. At all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Stories of Father Taylor, the sailors' friend, are perennial in their warm human interest. He was a man who at all times spoke with an engaging frankness which sometimes became more brusque than was desirable.

A banker from the west end of Boston once visited Father Taylor's church during a fervid revival and varied the usual character of the meeting by a rather pompous address.

Its purport was that the merchant princes of Boston were a very beneficent set of men, whose wealth and enterprise gave employment to thousands of sailors, and that it was, above all, the duty of seamen to show their gratitude to the merchants.

At the close of his speech the banker was somewhat taken aback when Father Taylor rose and asked simply:

"Is there any other sinner from uptown who would like to say a word?"

Infants too young to take medicine may be cured of croup, whooping cough and colds by using Vapo-Cresolene—they breathe it.

HAIR OF THE SLOTH.

It Is Green in Color and For a Peculiar Reason.

It is a very curious fact that certain plants grow and thrive on the hair of sloths. Apart from its extremely coarse and brittle nature, the most striking peculiarity of the outer hair of the sloth is its more or less decidedly green tinge. Now, green is a very rare color among mammals, and there ought, therefore, to be some special reason for its development in the sloth, and, as a matter of fact, the means by which this coloration is produced is one of the most marvelous phenomena in the whole animal kingdom, so marvelous, indeed, that it is at first almost impossible to believe that it is true.

The object of this peculiar type of coloration is, of course, to assimilate the animal to its leafy surroundings and thus to render it as inconspicuous as possible, and when hanging in its usual position from the underside of a bough its long, coarse and green tinged hair is stated to render the sloth almost indistinguishable from the bunches of gray green lichens among which it dwells. In the outer sheath of the hairs of the sloth there are a number of transverse cracks, and in these cracks grows a primitive type of plant—namely, a one celled alga.

And for the benefit of nonbotanical readers it may be well to mention here that algæ, among which seaweeds are included, form a group of floweriess plants related on the one hand to the fungi and on the other to the lichens. In the moist tropical forests forming the home of the sloths the algæ in the cracks of their hairs grow readily and thus communicate to the entire coat that general green tint which, as already said, is reported to render them almost indistinguishable from the clusters of lichen among which they hang suspended.

Providing For a Wayward Son.

Lord Chesterfield gave advice to his son in sundry letters, which might or might not be followed, but in his will he took good care that "my godson, Philip Stanhope," should have strong inducement to follow his advice on at least one point. All the bequests are subject to the condition that if Philip should keep race horses or hounds or stay one night at Newmarket, "that infamous seminary of iniquity and ill manners," during the course of the races there, or should lose on any one day by betting or gaming as much as £500, then in such case he shall forfeit £5,000 to the dean and chapter of Westminster for every such offense.—All the Year Round.

Know Your Own Capacity.

If the people about you are carrying on their business or their benevolence at a pace which draws the life out of you, resolutely take a slower pace; be called a laggard, make less money, accomplish less work than they, but be what you are meant to be and can be. You have your natural limit of power as much as an engine—ten horsepower or twenty or a hundred. You are fit to do certain kinds of work, and you need a certain kind and amount of fuel and a certain kind of handling.

Quackery Versus Science.

Cheating by Mail.

In one of Gail Hamilton's letters is a humorous rebuke to the correspondent who deceives us by his large handwriting and wide spaces. It assails a fault even more prevalent than it was when she wrote. She says:

What is the French for humbug? I want the word, but it seems a little coarse. What I want of it is to apply it to your letters.

One thinks one has such a plump letter! Its sides stand out with fatness. Now, really, one is going to have a half day's talk with you. But before I have got the taste fairly in my mouth I have come to the end of my orange. Now, if you write up close, like me, and if a letter is thin, let it show thin before I open it and not make me think I am going to have a Britea's feast of a whole roast ox when, after all, it is only a morsel of spring veal, mind.

I don't say you shall roast me your ox or even kill me your fatted calf, but you shall not let the fore quarter of a frog make such a mummy of himself a la Weller that we think him an ox when he gets here.

IMPATIENT DYSPEPTICS

Can't cure in a day what has been a chronic ailment for years, but Dr. Von Stan's Pineapple Tablets and a little persistence will cure the severest forms of Dyspepsia as sure as the daylight follows darkness.

And a few doses is all that is needed to convince the most impatient and sceptical of patients. Carry them about with you in your pocket; take them when and where you please; they're harmless and give almost instant relief. A gentle tonic to the whole nervous system 35 cts. for 60 tablets. 8

DEATH IN CLOTHING

MAN'S ATTIRE A VALUABLE AID TO THE GRIM REAPER.

How the Various Articles of Masculine Dress Labor Against Good Health—The Collar Button, Perhaps, May Be an Exception.

Clothes may not make the man, according to the old maxim, but according to a well known Chicago physician they may unmake him with a facility that ought to turn the fool killer green with envy.

"Go into the big, modern furnishing house," said he, "and you can scarcely put your finger upon an article of wearing apparel that isn't either murderously menacing or insistently detrimental to health. In fact, you might arraign all clothing with a good deal of common sense and consistency.

"In the first place, we breathe through our bodies just as truly as we breathe through our nostrils. You may prove this by varnishing a man's body. Not all the work his lungs can do will keep him from smothering to death. Then, just to the extent that clothing interferes with the functions of the skin, to that extent it is detrimental.

"Among all the murderous forms of dress underclothing takes the lead, and of this cotton and linen garments are the chief offenders. The cotton shirt especially is a vicious thing. When it has become damp from perspiration, it is virtually airtight, and a draft striking it converts it into a cold storage lining, which could not be better designed for pneumonia. A garment of genuine wool takes up this perspiration and the warmth of the body under it evaporates the moisture.

"'Flannelette' in this category of underwear is especially vicious. There may be no thread of wool in it, and the careful combing out of the inner cotton fibers of the garment makes only a still further receptacle for clammy moisture from the body. Chronic colds, sore throats and even consumption may result from the continuance of this kind of undergarment.

"The ordinary vest, worn by all male kind, is one of the most insidious of murderous garments. The vest of a winter suit is especially heavy in front and is made of wool; at the back it is cotton, 'farmer's satin' or perhaps thin satin. Such a combination could not better further all lung troubles. Under the shoulder blades a man's lungs are much nearer to the surface than they are in front and much more likely to be attacked by congestions that follow cold. If men had a proper regard for health, they would insist that their tailors make their vests of the same material all the way around.

"The ordinary silk muffler is a particularly vicious thing. It may keep one's collar clean, but likewise it may send one to a place where collars are not needed. Muffling the throat at best is certain to advance the possibility of throat and lung affections. The muffler is something that is easily forgotten, and for a man who is used to it to go out without it between Nov. 1 and April 1 is to invite an almost certain inflammatory attack in the throat or lungs. Indeed, no matter how carefully one may seek to drop the thing in the spring, it nearly always gives him at least a parting cold.

"Footwear always has been detrimental to the general health. No portion of the body is more exacting in the matter of free pores than the feet, yet they are covered often in cheap stockings, colored with poisonous dyes, and then covered into tight, pointed toed shoes that squeeze them out of all semblance to a natural foot. The inside line of the feet, which should be perfectly straight, becomes crooked around an enlarged joint, the big toe is turned in, and half of the natural functions of the feet are strangled. Then when a rubber sandal—or, worse, an arctic overshoe—is drawn on the foot the work is complete.

"Garters as worn by both men and women are bad. By compressing the veins of the leg above or below the knee they hinder the return of the blood to the heart and lungs, and at times this congestion is such as to congeal the blood in the limbs, with fatal results. Such garters at the best are conducive to varicose veins, and at all times they tend to cold feet. The wise person who would hold up his stockings uses the suspender garter, hanging from the waist.

"The ordinary suspender, on the face of things, should be quite harmless, but it isn't. If the braces are narrow and of inferior rubber, they often induce deformities in the back and shoulders of the young. They may prevent a free expansion of the chest, and if one's back is weak they tend to bring about spinal curvatures. You may get a suggestion of the hampering effect of suspenders in general by attempting some active out of door exercise. You have to throw your suspenders off your shoulders for the necessary freedom.

"Even the stiff hat has a hard reputation; by compressing the blood vessels supplying nutriment to the hair this blood supply is cut off and baldness is one of the results.

"To a man working at a desk a high collar may affect the eyesight or bring about stooped shoulders. If the man insists upon sitting up straight at his work, he has to look down at the pen or book at such an angle as to strain his eyes; if he stoops over, his spinal column may be bent permanently out of shape. In any case, too, the collar interferes with the supply of blood to the brain.

"The ordinary shirt cuff is one of the most murderous of all man's apparel. Our grandmothers knew something when they knitted the yarn wristers of fifty years ago. A pair of them was worth more than an overcoat pulled on over starched cuffs. The wrist is the most susceptible part of the body to cold, and the flaring cuff invites every blast of winter, chilling all the blood in the body in a few minutes. The cuff is a good thing in hot weather, but a menace to health in winter.

"The glove in cold weather, too, is a vicious interferer in the circulatory system. A man's fingers will freeze in a glove twice as quick as they will uncovered, all because the pressure prevents circulation. For warmth a kid mitten, fleece lined, is the only sensible hand covering.

"What is the one article of dress that can be recommended?" he repeated. "I really don't know—the collar button perhaps!"

THE GHOST

Of our boyhood resolved itself to an old tree when we had courage to examine it. Manhood has its ghosts, which, to the man who has courage to confront them, prove to be as harmless as the ghosts of boyhood. One of the ghosts which scare a great many people is the ghost of lung disease. But experience shows this ghost to be very harmless. In cases almost innumerable "weak" lungs have been made strong, obstinate coughs stopped, and bronchial affections cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. And these cures have been wrought in many cases after the doctor had said—"There is no help for you." Don't give in to the superstition of a past age. Give the "Golden Medical Discovery" a fair and faithful trial. It always helps. It almost always cures.

"When I commenced taking your medicine eighteen months ago, my health was completely broken down," writes Mrs. Cora L. Sunderland, of Chaneyville, Calvert Co., Md. "At times I could not even walk across the room without pains in my chest. The doctor who attended me said I had lung trouble, and that I would never be well again. At last I concluded to try Dr. Pierce's medicines. I bought a bottle of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' took it, and soon commenced to feel a little better; then you directed me to take both the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and the 'Favorite Prescription,' which I did. Altogether I have taken eighteen bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' twelve of the 'Favorite Prescription,' and five vials of 'Pellets.' I am now almost entirely well, and do all my work without any pain whatever, and can run with more ease than I could formerly walk."

Pale blood—pale face—poor health; Scott's Emulsion—red blood—rosy face—good health, that's the order of events.

A STORY OF TWO FLAGS.

How a Man's Life Was Saved at the Very Last Moment.

The following stirring incident of the two flags happened at Valparaiso, Chile, and was related at Montreal in 1881 by the Rev. Dr. J. O. Peck. Dr. Peck said:

"The man who gave me the facts I am about to relate was Mr. Haskins, an American sailor who had sailed to a port in Chile. On going ashore, he said, to enjoy his day of liberty he drank a little and became hilarious. One of the police officers, instead of warning him not to make a noise in the street, drew his sword and, striking him a blow, knocked him down. On that the American sailor got up and knocked the policeman down in return. He was on that arrested and tried and condemned to be shot in the morning of the following day.

"Mr. Loring, the American consul, expostulated with the authorities that it would be monstrous to shoot the man for such an offense, but they paid no attention to him, so he thereupon made a formal protest in the name of the United States government against the barbarous act. Mr. Haskins, the sailor, was in the morning brought out pinioned to be shot.

"As the English consul was preparing to hoist the union jack he saw the crowd in the field opposite, where the execution of the American sailor, of which he had heard, was to take place. Rushing over the American consul, he said, 'Loring, you're not going to let them shoot that man!'

"'What can I do?' he said. 'I have protested against it. I can do no more.'

"Quick as thought the English consul shouted, 'Give me your flag!' And in a trice the stars and stripes were handed to the English representative. At once, taking his own union jack in his hand, he hastened across the field, elbowed his way through the crowd and soldiery, and, running up to the doomed man, he folded the American flag around him and then laid the union jack over it. Standing a few paces back, he faced the officers and soldiers and shouted defiantly, 'Now, shoot, if you dare, through the heart of England and America!'

"And they dared not do it, for they feared the consequences, so the man was at once released. In telling me," said Dr. Peck, "Mr. Haskins said to me, with tears streaming down his cheeks even then, 'They loosed me then, and, oh, how I longed to embrace those two flags!'"

Queer Wedding Customs.

In several provinces of Norway the bride runs away and hides on the day after the marriage, a survival of the marriage by capture. When she is caught, she is carried to her husband's home with much ceremony and installed as the absolute mistress of the house. When this has been done, she fills a glass for each of her friends. Then she brings forth her fine, big wedding cake. But before she cuts it each friend lays on it a coin, when the cake is then cut, and each one drains at least one more glass.—Woman's Home Companion.

Those Boston Girls.

Margaret—Matrimony is not all that it is cracked up to be.

Edith—How can you say such things, Margaret? Why, there is Carrie Wintergreen. She was married only a year ago, and now she is divorced with such a lovely alimony!

ISOLATION OF ACTORS.

Conditions Which Make the Profession a World by Itself.

This condition, which from some important points of view is fortunate, from others unfortunate and from nearly all inevitable, is unique indeed. Here we have the only large class of workers which keeps the world at arm's length. Clergymen, physicians, lawyers, architects, merchants, tradesmen and laborers of all sorts, by the very terms of their toil are brought into constant personal contact with parishioners, patients, clients or customers. Even painters and sculptors must needs be in touch with their patrons.

But that thin, impassable row of blazing lamps which rims the front of the stage accomplishes what the great wall of China was built to accomplish. Behind them is the sole "profession," in front of them the barbarous laity. If the player desired to break down the partition, he would scarcely be able to do so.

From the more important social gatherings which take place in the evening both actress and actor are necessarily absent. The actor may vote if he can acquire a residence and contrive to be in his own city on election day, but it is impossible that he should take any active part in politics or participate in preliminary meetings, caucuses and rallies which are held at night, and as to attendance at church, the player encounters, in the first place, the difficulty, inseparable from his wandering life, of making a connection with a parish and, besides, in recent years, is almost constantly required to travel on Sunday, passing from a Saturday evening's performance in one town to a Monday morning's rehearsal in another.

You Need the Best.

If you are rheumatic, neuralgic, dyspeptic, nervous, weak, or run down, you need the best medicine that medical science can suggest. We strongly recommend Paine's Celery Compound for your troubles. It has cured others afflicted as you are; it cannot fail in your case. We sell the kind that makes sick people well.

Cleaning Jewels.

With the exception of pearls jewels may be washed with warm water and pure soap. They should then be put in boxwood sawdust to dry. If this is done, polishing will be unnecessary. As boxwood sawdust is very fine, it will not scratch, and as it absorbs moisture rapidly it helps to give jewels a high polish. It can be procured from any dealer in jeweler's supplies or ordered through a jeweler.

A Cough Leads to a Coffin.

There's a striking similarity in these two words. Both are to be dreaded. Coffins cost many dollars whereas 25c. buys a bottle of Four T's and cures the cough in 24 hours, making the coffin unnecessary. Four T's is acknowledged by all to be the best lung remedy in existence. Large bottles 25c. at Ormond & Walsh's Drug Storte.

Had Been There Herself.

"Seems to me that the rising generation is rising pretty fast," said the bachelor, who expects soon to become a Benedict, after his friends had given him up as hopeless. "I was out walking with my intended the other day, and her small niece, a girl not over seven years of age, accompanied us. Naturally the conversation, owing to the near approach of our wedding day, took a turn that was interesting to two of us, but not to the third.

"Finally I turned to the young lady who is soon to be my bride and said, with a smile:

"'I suppose all this talk is over the little one's head?'

"Before she could reply the nose of the 'little one' went up several degrees, and she answered icily, her words falling like so many hailstones on a tin roof:

"'Oh, don't mind me. I know what it is. I've been in love myself!'

"It was several minutes before I succeeded in catching my breath."

4. Its past record — the greatest guarantee of the future — has been unparalleled in Canadian life insurance.

5. Its policy contract is one of the most liberal issued, consistent with safety and equity.

6. It has a Capital of $1,000,000, which makes policy-holders' security unquestionable. At the same time, the assured is practically in the same position regarding profits as if he held a policy in a mutual company, the Imperial's charter providing that at least 90 per cent. of all profits shall be divided amongst policy-holders.

7. For every $100 of liability to policy-holders it holds $130 of securely invested assets. These assets are all of the highest order, and will bear the closest scrutiny.

8. An Imperial policy never depreciates in value, but, on the contrary, is constantly becoming more valuable. It is the most valuable estate you can leave behind you.

PORT HOPE KNITTING WORKS

CHASED BY PACK OF WOLVES.

Thrilling Experience of Dr. Giles of Haliburton.

Was Making a Sick Call When he was Scented by the Wolves—He was Saved by his Fast Roadster.

Timber wolves are reported to be numerous in the north country this year, and several have been seen within a short distance of Haliburton and Kinmount villages. Dr. Giles of Haliburton, and little daughter, had a narrow escape of being devoured by these vicious animals one day last week.

The doctor was summoned to Wilberforce, and when he has occasion to take long trips at night he usually takes one of his family for company. The distance from one village to the other is about twenty miles, and the road traverses a dense forest, there being no settlers whatever on the line. When the doctor was within a few miles of Wilberforce, he heard wolves howling, and looking back he saw a pack coming towards him. He immediately whipped up his fast driver, and reached the village before the pack could come up with him.

It is reported that a large timber wolf was seen crossing the Burnt River at Kinmount, near Mr. Mansfield's residence recently.

THE WEEK OF PRAYER.

A Large Attendance at the First Meeting in St. Andrew's.

A very large audience assembled in St. Andrew's church last evening in connection with the week of prayer. Rev. J. G. Potter presided, and Rev. J. Bastow, President of the Ministerial Association, and Rev. G. Yule, assisted in the opening exercises. The meeting was an entirely informal one, and several in the congregation took part in prayer.

The address of Rev. J. H. Hanna, B.A., of the Park street Baptist church, was most forceful, practical and inspiring. Mr. Hanna is a very clear, concise and vigorous speaker, and the opening address of the week of prayer this year ought to help to make the successive meetings a great success and blessing.

The topic arranged, was "The Vision of God in Christ," II Cor. v. 18; "And all things are of God who hath reconciled us to Himself by Jesus Christ, and hath given us the word of reconciliation."

A synopsis of the address is worthy thought and remembrance.

I. Our lesson implies not merely to look to Christ, but to see Christ; not simply to know about Christ, but to know Him. "He that hath seen Me," said Christ, "hath seen the Father."

II. If such is our condition then certain things follow—

1. Reconciliation, not for God's benefit, but for man's good and profit. Men were blinded to their own good when they do not come in touch with God.

2. This implies, as the Scripture teaches that man was at variance with God. Sin had separated between man and God.

3. Reconciliation alone through Christ. The speaker had read of a story of the battlefield where all were enthusiastic as they felled their enemies, but one of the soldiers when he saw one poor fellow struggling and gasping with the blood flowing from the wound made by the bullet of his gun, fell at his feet weeping. So when we behold Him wounded for our trangressions and bruised for our iniquities, it will cause us to prostrate ourselves before Him.

4. God's basis of reconciliation. God has the right to lay down the conditions. God's honour and law has been outraged and He will lay down that basis according to law. We received great encouragement in the words of God, "This is My Beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased." In other words, God says, "I am perfectly satisfied with the work of My Son." So that the condition God lays down is acceptance of the work of Christ, as God accepts it, and the consequent union with God.

IV. God is willing for reconciliation.

1. Because He has provided the basis.

2. Because He is represented as entreating and beseeching.

3. In that He has done all He can do.

V. If we are reconciled, He hath committed unto us the word of reconciliation. Thus shall God be revealed in Christ.

The following is the programme for the balance of the week:

Tuesday, Jan. 7th—Charlotte street Methodist church — Subject, "Our Nation." Prov. 14, 34; Luke 12, 48. Speaker, Rev. Dr. Torrance.

Wednesday, Jan. 8th — St. Paul's Presbyterian church — Subject, "Our Churches." John 13, 34, 55; John 15, 1, 2, 7; Luke 19, 10; John 17, 18. Speaker, Rev. D. O. Crossley.

Thursday, Jan. 9th—George street Methodist church — Subject, "Christian Missions." Isa 60, 1-5; Luke 24, 46, 47. Speaker, Rev. J. Bastow.

Friday, Jan. 10th — Murray street Baptist church — Subject, "The Family and the School." Ps. 68, 6; Gen. 17, 7; Ps. 111, 10. Speaker, Rev. J. P. Wilson.

At each meeting the pastor of the church in which the meeting is held will preside, and arrange praise service. The choirs are very cordially invited to assist in making these meetings bright and helpful. The Ministerial Association will feel much gratified if the choir masters can give this their personal interest.

EVERY MOVE CAUSED PAIN.

The Intense Suffering of a Perth Man Relieved and Cured by Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets.

The terrible pain that catches you in the back makes stooping over or rising up, or even moving about, unbearable.

In nine cases out of ten, it is traceable to disordered kidneys.

Go to their assistance with Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets. They will promptly relieve the pain, cure the kidney trouble, and restore your health and strength.

Here is a case worth reading:

Mr. Alexander Montgomery, Peter street, Perth, Ont., when interviewed, made this statement:—"I was suffering acutely in my back when I began using Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets, procured from F. I. Hall, the druggist. I could lift nothing, and every move caused pain. There was neither strength nor energy left in me. The constant aching over my kidneys was most depressing. I started using the Tablets, and the Lumbago quickly began to let up. I am quite over it now. I have found them most satisfactory, and can confidently recommend them for bad backs." Dr. Pitcher's Backage Kidney Tablets are 50c a box, at all druggists. The Dr. Zina Pitcher Co., Toronto, Ont.

A HAVELOCK WEDDING

The Havelock Standard contains the following account of the marriage of Mr. H. C. Kindred, well known in Peterborough:

"There was a doubly merry note in the tone of holiday cheer for a charming young couple in Havelock on Saturday last, when Miss Cora Waller and Mr. Harold C. Kindred decided to double life's joys and divide its sorrows and pledged themselves under the binding and solemn obligation of the marriage rite to be true to each other to the end of life.

The pleasing ceremony was performed at the residence of the bride's father. Mr. A. Waller, at one o'clock, by the Rev. D. A. Hamilton, assisted by Rev. J. C. Bell. The parlour was profusely decorated with flowers and plants of all kinds, very artistically arranged. The bride was attired in cream duchess satin, en train, with pearl trimmings and all-over lace bolero. She wore the customary veil with cream bridal roses in her hair and corsage. After the ceremony the invited guests to the number of about fifty sat down to a dainty wedding dejeuner, at the conclusion of which congratulatory toasts were proposed by Rev D. A. Hamilton, Rev. J. C. Bell and Mr. Jas. Thompson, in which they eulogized the charming personalities of the young couple.

Miss Waller is a most charming young lady and was a great favourite among the young people.

Mr. Kindred, whose home is in Greystock, near Peterborough, is highly esteemed in Havelock, where he was principal of the school for the past two years. He undoubtedly gives promise of becoming a learned and clever disciple of the art that heals and the people, one and all, join with the Standard in wishing him and his handsome bride a happy and prosperous voyage through life."
